

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1892.

PRICE ONE CENT.

WORLD POSTAL CARDS ARE AS GOOD AS MONEY.

EXTRA. 2 O'CLOCK. CLEVELAND.

Nominated for President on the First Ballot.

The Result Reached at Chicago at 3.27 This Morning.

Finale of an All-Night Session of the Democratic Convention.

He Will Run on a Platform Calling for Tariff for Revenue Only.

The Ex-President Expresses Himself on the Subject to a "World" Reporter.

Senator Hill Declines to Be Intervened on the Causes of His Defeat by the Delegates.

Great Enthusiasm Developed in This City by the News of Mr. Cleveland's Nomination.

Special to THE EVENING WORLD.

Chicago, June 23.—The Democratic National Convention accomplished its principal work when at 2:27 o'clock this morning...

The platform adopted pledges the Democratic party to the policy of a tariff for revenue only...

Mr. Cleveland's name was presented by Gov. Leon Abbott, of New Jersey, which was seconded by Attorney-General Hensel...

After the ballot and the announcement of the result, motions were made by several delegates that the nomination be made unanimous...

Mr. Cleveland's Statement.

Special to THE EVENING WORLD.

It should certainly be chargeable with gross insensibility if I were not profoundly touched by this new proof of the confidence and trust of the great party to which I belong...

It will certainly be my constant endeavor to deserve the support of every Democrat. Mr. Cleveland was terribly tired when the news of the total of the balloting reached him...

NOMINATION MADE UNANIMOUS.

Chicago, June 23.—When the call of States on the first ballot in the National Democratic Convention was finished at 3:30 this morning, Mr. Upshur, of Maryland, moved that Cleveland's nomination be made unanimous...

Montana cast four votes for Cleveland. Senator Jones, of Virginia, was recognized by the chair, and said in part: "On behalf of the delegation of Virginia, which came here divided but which shall go forth as one..."

The motion to make unanimous vote the nomination of Mr. Cleveland was carried. The chair said: "The ayes have it and the motion is carried."

Some expressions of dissent in the neighborhood of this hall to the motion which was put by the chair as no roll was called. I deem it my duty to state to this convention that, on the motion to make the nomination unanimous, the vote of the State of New York, in full submission to this convention, was cast in the affirmative.

Mr. Dickinson's motion was then carried unanimously, and the convention adjourned until 2 p. m.

THE STORY IN DETAIL.

Chicago, June 23.—Twenty thousand enthusiastic people filed out of the big Wigwam on the lake front about 4 o'clock this morning, their throats hoarse from cheering, their bodies weary from the strain of an unprecedented session of a National Convention...

For an even twenty minutes the demonstration continued. Then the crowd had shrank itself out, and, order being restored, Senator Vilas resumed the reading of the platform.

When Mr. Vilas concluded, ex-President Grant, of Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Democratic State Committee, moved to strike the plank on the tariff and substitute the following: "We denounce the Republican protection system as a failure of the American people for the benefit of the few. We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal Government has no constitutional power to impose and collect a tariff for revenue only, and we demand that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of the Government when honestly and economically administered."

The delegates grasped the significance of these words at once. They committed the strains of patriotic and popular airs rendered by the band.

The latest portrait of GROVER CLEVELAND, and said by Mrs. Cleveland to be only accurate one she has ever seen.

The rumor was buzzed about the hall that the anti-Cleveland men had prepared a big surprise for their opponents, and the belief, soon obtained that it had been determined to consolidate the opposition vote upon ex-Gov. Campbell of Ohio on the second ballot, should Cleveland fail of nomination on the first trial.

Chairman Jones, of St. Louis, entered the hall at 8:15 o'clock, bearing the report of the Platform Committee. He asked Senator Vilas, of Wisconsin, to read the report, and announced that upon completion of the reading he should make the previous question.

At the end of the first paragraph was mentioned the name of the ex-President. This was the signal for an outbreak of cheering all over the great auditorium.

The noise was deafening. After it had continued for about three minutes, and was just beginning to lull a little, one of the Michigan delegates appeared upon the floor with a white silk and gold banner inscribed "Michigan" and with a lithograph portrait of Cleveland pasted on both sides.

There was something infectious in the enthusiasm. The women among the spectators caught the fever and soon everybody in the wigwam, with very few exceptions, was cheering. The clamor ebbed and flowed and waves of cheers swept from side to side over the hall.

For an even twenty minutes the demonstration continued. Then the crowd had shrank itself out, and, order being restored, Senator Vilas resumed the reading of the platform.

When Mr. Vilas concluded, ex-President Grant, of Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Democratic State Committee, moved to strike the plank on the tariff and substitute the following:

Presenting Candidates' Names. Gov. Abbott took the platform and made a speech, presenting the name of Grover Cleveland. There was another demonstration, lasting ten minutes. Mr. Abbott's speech was able and was punctuated by applause.

Democratic party irrevocably to a policy of "tariff for revenue only," and opposition to the policy of protective duties.

New York's delegation and thousands of others were on their feet and the convention again went wild.

After a time the question was put to a vote and the convention adopted Mr. Neal's substitute by a vote of 504 to 342. The announcement was loudly applauded.

The tariff project being occluded, the silver fight began. Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, got the platform to make a free silver speech.

At the end of the first paragraph was mentioned the name of the ex-President. This was the signal for an outbreak of cheering all over the great auditorium.

There was something infectious in the enthusiasm. The women among the spectators caught the fever and soon everybody in the wigwam, with very few exceptions, was cheering.

For an even twenty minutes the demonstration continued. Then the crowd had shrank itself out, and, order being restored, Senator Vilas resumed the reading of the platform.

When Mr. Vilas concluded, ex-President Grant, of Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Democratic State Committee, moved to strike the plank on the tariff and substitute the following:

Presenting Candidates' Names. Gov. Abbott took the platform and made a speech, presenting the name of Grover Cleveland. There was another demonstration, lasting ten minutes. Mr. Abbott's speech was able and was punctuated by applause.

succeeded by John F. Duncombe, of Iowa, who nominated Gov. Boies.

Cleveland's nomination was seconded by Messrs. Fenton, of Kansas, McKenzie, of Kentucky, and others. Hill was supported by Mr. Fellows, Bourke Cockran and Senator Daniel, of Virginia. Henry Watterson spoke in favor of Gov. Boies.

Then the balloting began with the following result:

TABLE SHOWING VOTE.

Table with columns for State, Cleveland, Hill, Boies, and Total. Lists votes for various states including Alabama, Arkansas, California, etc.

Washington, June 23.—The correspondent of THE EVENING WORLD called on Senator Hill this morning and asked him to express some opinion as to the nomination of Mr. Cleveland and as to his own position, now that the Convention had acted.

Mr. Hill asked to be excused from saying anything on either subject at this time. The Senator was looking bright and cheerful.

Waxes Eloquent on the Strength and Weakness of Cleveland.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew was just going to his breakfast this morning when an EVENING WORLD reporter called on him to get his views in reference to Mr. Cleveland's nomination.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

which will be arranged under the word "Victory" on the giant star.

The Harlem Democratic Club will hold a ratification meeting at its magnificent house, 15 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, tomorrow evening, at which the speakers will include Congressman Asabel P. Huch, Charles W. Dayton, Cyrus L. Sulzberger, John C. Tomlinson, John A. Mason and Daniel P. Hays.

The campaign is now fairly open, and Tammanyites seem as enthusiastic as those who have shouted for Cleveland from the beginning.

Among the first New Yorkers to learn the news was ex-President Alexander M. Rankin of the Ex. Co. Board. When he went to his home, 34 East Twenty-second street, his mother, Mrs. Maria Meakin, immediately hung out two Cleveland flags from the windows of her residence. These were the first to be displayed in New York.

HILL SAYS NOTHING AT PRESENT.

Washington, June 23.—The correspondent of THE EVENING WORLD called on Senator Hill this morning and asked him to express some opinion as to the nomination of Mr. Cleveland and as to his own position, now that the Convention had acted.

Mr. Hill asked to be excused from saying anything on either subject at this time. The Senator was looking bright and cheerful.

Waxes Eloquent on the Strength and Weakness of Cleveland.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew was just going to his breakfast this morning when an EVENING WORLD reporter called on him to get his views in reference to Mr. Cleveland's nomination.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

EXTRA. 2 O'CLOCK. BROKER TANGEL A SUICIDE.

Put a Bullet in His Neck in Mrs. Demler's Swell Boarding-House.

He Had Plenty of Money, but Was Not in the Best of Health.

The inmates of the swell boarding-house kept by Mrs. Demler, at 102 East Sixty-first street, were this morning horrified at the deliberate suicide of F. G. Tangel, a wealthy West Indian broker, one of their number, who fired a bullet into his neck, killing himself almost instantly.

Mr. Tangel was about sixty years old, weighed 200 pounds and had a full gray mixed beard.

His home is in St. Thomas, West Indies, and he came to this city on April 25 last to secure treatment for diabetes. It is said that his physician was Dr. Jacob, of Park avenue and sixty-first street.

He engaged board with Mrs. Demler and occupied a back bedroom on the parlor floor. He was well dressed and had plenty of money. He told Mrs. Demler that he had a wife and six children in St. Thomas and that he had come on here for his health.

Mrs. Demler said this morning that although he was an invalid he had an enormous appetite, often eating three or four pounds of meat at a meal. He had never shown dependence in her presence nor acted so, and she could imagine no reason why he should have committed suicide.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.

He declared that Cleveland would be a great success if he could only get the support of the people.