The Best of Mrs. Cleveland's New Pictures.

A Striking Likeness of the Future Lady of the White House.

To Protect Herself from "Snap Shooters" She Sat for Sarony.

The five new pictures of Mrs. Cleveland, which were published exclusively in "The World" this morning...

These are the first pictures of Mrs. Cleveland which have been taken in the studio...

Mr. Sarony himself, is delighted with his success and declares that they are the best photographs he has ever taken.

Mrs. Cleveland went to Sarony's gallery with her maid on the morning after the meeting at Madison square...

Instead of sending proofs, however, Mr. Sarony had finished pictures made from each negative, and those published are the ones selected by Mrs. Cleveland...

Something was said during the visit to the gallery about taking a picture of Baby Ruth, too, and Mrs. Cleveland promised that in the fall she would bring Ruth to have her picture taken.

Mrs. Cleveland's pictures show her to be even a handsomer woman today than when she entered the White House...

NEW HANDS QUITTING.

Homestead Men Say 300 Non-Unionists Have Left the Mills.

Crawford, of the Advisory Committee, Feels Sure of Victory.

Supt. Potter Equally Positive That the Firm Has Already Won.

Homestead, Pa., Aug. 10.—The desertion from the ranks of the non-unionists at work in the Carnegie Mills here continues, to the intense satisfaction of the men who were locked out.

The Advisory Committee claims that thirty-five men left the mill yesterday.

Six pipe-fitters from Baltimore were among the deserters according to acting chairman Crawford.

They were to be paid $2.50 a day, time and half time for night and double pay for Sundays. When they entered the mill the management would only pay them $1.75 per day.

To-day the old hands are claiming that a strike of twenty non-unionists walked out of the mills this morning just after the whistle sounded for work to commence.

It appears to be true beyond doubt that the new men are firing of their tasks and of their prison-like surroundings.

Chairman Crawford feels very much encouraged to-day, and is as positive in his claims for the locked out men as Supt. Potter is in his assertions that the firm has as many men as it needs, and he today:

There is no longer any doubt of it; we have the right almost won. We've got the other side whipped, and notwithstanding the statements of Supt. Potter to the contrary, the stay of the present force of non-union men will be of very short duration.

Since yesterday the majority of the company's recent importations have left the mill.

The Advisory Committee announces that financial aid has been guaranteed sufficient to satisfy the necessities of all the locked-out men for many weeks to come.

In referring to the charges of Gompers's assertion that 500,000 non-unionists are employed by firms using Carnegie steel and iron stood ready to come out, on a strike if necessary, to aid the locked-out Homesteaders in winning their fight, Secretary Lovejoy said he did not believe the story, and therefore did not care to discuss the matter.

The question of liquor in the mill has become a factor in the dispute here. The locked-out men claim that whiskey and beer have been freely given the workmen, and a number of these come out in a state of intoxication, and that they might have been fired by the firm, which alleges that nothing stronger than oatmeal water is given the workmen.

THREATS FROM NEW YORK. Alderman McMasters Warned that He and Frick Are to be Killed.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—An Alderman McMasters's mail yesterday was an anonymous letter which had been posted in New York City at noon on Monday. The letter was written in a cramped hand, probably disguised, it read:

Some time ago I wrote a paper of men will leave here and try to kill you and your Frick again.

Alderman McMasters has been in Michigan for two weeks. His mail is opened by his Constable, Joseph Weir, the anonymous letter was sent to New York by the Constable's attorney, who, after reading it, said:

I suspect that that letter was written by some one who is very much interested in the Homestead case. It is a threat coming from a man who is afraid to sign his name.

In this connection it may be said that other anonymous letters of a threatening character, but they have little if any fear of receiving letters threatening their lives.

Pittsburg Army Guarded. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—A guard is still stationed at the Army of the Eighteenth Regiment of this city to protect property. It will be kept on duty until the Homestead trouble is settled.

Significance of That Flag-Raising. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—The flag raised at the Carnegie Upper Union Mills yesterday, Supt. Dillon says, was floated as an emblem of victory. Every train of rolls in that plant is now in operation on single turn, and before the end of the week, Supt. Dillon claims, the mill will be on a double turn.

Opposed to Beer Selling in the Mills. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has decided to investigate the report that beer is being sold to the non-union men at the Carnegie mill here and to request the Carnegie company to stop it. If the request is refused a mass-meeting will be called to make a protest.

A Non-Union Workman Assaulted. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 10.—John Reams, a non-union workman employed at the Upper Union Mill, was assaulted by two men while on his way to work this morning and badly beaten. His assailants were arrested and taken to the station-house, where they were recognized as Edward Zimmer, a striker, and Thomas Conners, a former employee. Reams's injuries are painful, but not dangerous.

New Castle Iron Company Given In. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—The differences between the New Castle Iron company and workmen have been amicably settled, and the wire mill, rod mill and wire mill will resume operations at once. The strikers will receive an advance of 10 cents per day, and the hundred men are employed in these plants.

These Men Have Not Got Typhus, Says Dr. Hober's. The two men, Patrick Burns and William Kane, who were found sick from some mysterious disease at their boarding-house, No. 7, Tenth avenue, yesterday, and removed to New York Hospital, are not suffering from typhus fever, as reported. At least so says Dr. Robert C. Hober, Chief Inspector of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases. He has not seen the men nor investigated the case, but bases his opinion on what he has read of the symptoms of the men.

AFTER FREDERICK'S SCALP.

A Lawyer Gunning for the Essex Market Court Interpreter.

Counselor, Wagner Says Fredericks Interprets Falsely.

PERSONA. All those who have been deprived of their rights, and desire to complain in the Essex Market Police Court, will appear before August P. Wagner, 52 2d ave.

That advertisement was printed in a morning paper to-day, and when an Evening World reporter saw Lawyer Wagner he said: "My object is to show that people who go to Essex Market Court with complaints to make sidon see the Judge, but are hustled out of the place by clerks or officers. I will use again the case of Horvick, Surkovska, a Polish girl, who could not get a warrant for the arrest of Charles and Rebecca Jordan, of 331 Sixth street, for an assault committed July 16. The girl says they owe her $100 for wages."

It was Judge Duffly occupied the bench that the Surkovska girl applied for the warrant, and it was necessary for her to have an interpreter.

Charles Fredericks is the official interpreter at Essex Market Court, and he comes freely hearing the court, at least when Judge Duffly sits there. He interprets not only client's language, and by his conduct, he caused her in the presentation of her legal rights.

Because of Fredericks's action in the matter Judge Duffly refused to grant a warrant. The matter was decided in Judge Duffly's favor today for a writ of mandamus, directing that Judge Duffly grant those warrants for the arrest of the Jordans.

"The clause in my own affidavit states this: 'The whole proceedings before Judge Duffly were a farce and utterly devoid of any dignity or the sanctity of legal proceedings.' The matter was decided in Judge Duffly's favor today for a writ of mandamus, directing that Judge Duffly grant those warrants for the arrest of the Jordans."

"Now, I know of a dozen cases like that of the Surkovska girl. When some people go into that court with complaints and ask for warrants they are told to go home. I want to get a hundred such cases to take before the court, and I don't think I'll have much trouble getting them now that Judge Duffly has granted those warrants for the arrest of the Jordans."

Severe Shocks at Emz, Coblenz and Other German Towns.

Cholera Gaining in Teheran.—General News by Cable.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—At 8.30 o'clock this morning an earthquake was felt at Emz, Coblenz, Valender Nassau and Neider Lahnstein. The movement lasted for ten seconds.

The schoolhouses at this place were damaged and the scholars were panic-stricken. Wild rushes were made for the doors and windows, and some of the smaller children were hurt in the scramble to escape from the building, which, it was thought, would fall.

At Coblenz the people precipitately left their dwellings and made their way to the open spaces.

At Emz a large number of houses were badly shaken.

Many of the people who are visiting the place for their health were taking their early morning bath at the time of the shock.

The hastily thrown about themselves scanty coverings and left the bathing houses as quickly as possible. By the time they reached the street, however, the movement had ceased.

So far no report of any serious damage has been received.

Indian Government Urged to Stop Free Coinage of Silver. LONDON, Aug. 10.—A special despatch to the Times from Calcutta says that the leading papers there, in view of the alarming rate in the rates of exchange, urge the Government to immediately close the mints to the free coinage of silver.

THE FABLED PHOENIX. The ancient tradition concerning the phoenix has introduced into almost all languages the custom of applying that name to whatever is changed or renewed among its kind, says a writer in the Atlantic.

According to Herodotus and other ancient writers, the phoenix was a bird of great beauty, and was about the size of an eagle.

A shining and most beautiful crest adorned the head; the feathers on the neck were the bright golden color, while those on the body were a rich purple, and the tail was white intermixed with red, and the eyes sparkled like diamonds.

Only once in every hundred years it was said to be born, and it lived five or six hundred years. When that period drew to an end it built for itself a funeral pile of wood and aromatic spices, with rare incense, and then perched on it, and with its wings it fanned the pile into a blaze and therein consumed itself.

From its ashes a worm was produced, and this was a magnificent temple, dedicated to the sun. After making the egg-shaped ball as heavy as it could possibly carry, the phoenix then took the ball on its shoulders, and flying to the temple at Heliopolis, burnt it on the altar of the sun.

The priests then inspected the register, and if a magnificent temple, dedicated to the sun, after making the egg-shaped ball as heavy as it could possibly carry, the phoenix then took the ball on its shoulders, and flying to the temple at Heliopolis, burnt it on the altar of the sun.
