LAST EDITION. ESCAPED ABDUCTION.

Attempt to Carry Off Ex-Roundsmen Daily's Alleged Victim.

Decoyed to a Lonely Spot by a Forged Letter.

Mamie Hannan and Her Mother Terrorized by Threatening Letters.

According to Mrs. Hannan, the mother of sixteen-year-old Mamie Hannan, who accuses ex-Roundsmen Daily of the abduction of her daughter, with having assaulted her in a saloon in March last, she and her daughter are being subjected to increased persecution.

Since the charges were preferred against Daily he has been suspended from the police force, and is now under bail awaiting trial in the Court of General Sessions.

Both Mrs. Hannan and her daughter have received many letters threatening them with dire consequences if the case against the ex-roundsmen is prosecuted, and they have received visits from strange men and have been followed in the street and insulted repeatedly by men whom they had never seen before.

On one occasion, Mrs. Hannan says, an attempt was made to abduct Mamie. She received a letter from "John Hickey," who is a brother-in-law of Lizzie Lawlor, the young woman who corroborated the girl's story of the assault, asking her to meet him at 8:30 o'clock on the evening of June 2 at Stanton and Columbia streets, when she would hear something of interest.

Mamie went to the place, accompanied by her mother. They did not find Hickey, but saw two strange men at the corner. When the men saw Mrs. Hannan they got into the cab and drove off.

The man that the woman saw Hickey, who said he had never written the letter.

Another young man, named Thomas Kelly, who knows the Hannan family well, was approached not long ago by a man who offered him $100 and a suit of clothes if he would help him to get a bad character. This he refused to do, and now somebody is making this implication against him.

"Several men have called here," said Mrs. Hannan to an Evening World reporter this morning, "and all sorts of threats, but simply, I think, to get my daughter and get a chance to talk to her."

The girl corroborates these statements of her mother. She seemed to be very nervous and excited, and her face was red and had a great deal, and in such a way as to appear that when she was in the room.

She told her story to Justice Taitor, who is a family friend, and in the meantime she has been working at 318 West Street, Mrs. Hannan goes out working and scrubbing to earn a livelihood for her family, and she has a son nineteen years old who contributes to their support. There are two other children who are young.

The case against Daily is in the hands of Assistant District Attorney Weeks, who is now out of town, and it is said, some time next month.

PIPING TIMES IN GRAIN.

A Project to Shoot It from Chicago East Through Tubes.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 15.—Mrs. N. E. Beasley, of this city, is the inventor of a grain pipe line for carrying small grain through tubes. The project is still in its infancy, but Mrs. Beasley is confident of its final success.

The scheme is to lay pipes from Chicago to the Atlantic coast. The grain is to be carried in a continuous ventilated shaft, it is claimed, without friction. A continuous stream of grain is supposed to move twelve miles an hour. The power stations are to be twenty-five miles apart.

The estimated cost of this transportation is three cents a bushel. A working model is to be erected in Chicago this fall. The cost estimated is $1,000,000 for a line from Buffalo to the coast.

THIRTY HORSES IN PERIL.

Fire in the Upper Floors of a Big East-Street Stable.

Fire broke out shortly before 7 o'clock this morning in the stable in the rear of John Mathew's soda-water factory at 339 East Twenty-sixth street. It started in the third story, which is used as a storeroom.

The flames were burning so fiercely when the firemen were called that it was necessary to break down the roof. The fire was confined, however, to the floor where it originated and it was soon extinguished.

Thirty horses were taken out of their stalls on the ground floor and removed to a place of safety. Not over $500 damage was done. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

LOVE FEAST PUT OFF.

Republican Clubs' Convention Date Set Back Two Weeks.

Clarkson Says It is to Accommodate the Busy Farmers.

Others Declare that He Waits Till Platt and Miller Are Placated.

It looked out this morning that President James S. Clarkson, of the National League of Republican Clubs, had sent out notices all over the State that the convention of the State League of Republican Clubs, which was to have been held at Buffalo Sept. 1, had been postponed until Sept. 15.

It is understood that the Republican managers had a "tip" that the clubs up the State whose members were tattered with Platism had refused to take part in the convention.

As the convention was to have been the grand opening chorus to the campaign in this State, they changed the programme temporarily to prevent a fizzle at the start.

The reason given by Mr. Clarkson for the postponement is that Sept. 1 is a little too early for the opening of a campaign up the country, the farmers being too busy to leave field and plough for politics.

Gen. Clarkson says he feared, therefore, that there would not be an attendance of delegates as was desired, and he thought best to change the date and to give it a wider publicity than he had intended to give it.

The date of the convention was changed from Sept. 1 to Sept. 15, and the time of meeting to two weeks later.

If this was the real reason for the postponement, politicians who know something about farming say that the laugh would be on Clarkson, as the middle of September is one of the busiest times of the year for Atlantic coast agriculturists, they being then engaged in cutting corn, digging potatoes and harvesting oats.

The latest Platt hasn't given the nod, and the following are not so enthusiastic about joining the Administration procession as President Harrison's managers thought they were.

The Millerites, it is reported, show similar apathy, and the winners of a large and successful campaign, which they hope to win, would hardly be in a mood to take part in the convention.

Clarkson, J. S. McKim, James S. Clarkson, J. S. McKim, Senator Leiland and the other managers who are advertising the convention are all in a state of indecision.

He now has another month in which to do his bidding, and he will be regarded by Republicans as the official High King in which peace must be declared. By that time they will have had a chance to see what the intention of the President's managers in keeping secret the change of date and to give it a wider publicity than he had intended to give it.

Several men have called here, and all sorts of threats, but simply, I think, to get my daughter and get a chance to talk to her.

FIGHTING GLANDERS. MANY CARS BURNED.

Third Avenue Stables and Horses Under Strict Supervision.

Health Board and Bergh Society Agents at Work.

Rigid Precautions to Prevent the Spread of the Disease.

The Board of Health is causing a thorough examination of the horses and stables of the Third Avenue Surface Railroad to be made today in consequence of the discovery last Saturday that one of the company's horses was suffering from glanders.

Glanders is a frightfully infectious disease, and very apt to be communicated to human beings brought in contact with an animal suffering from it.

Dr. Roberts, Chief Inspector of the Infectious Disease Department of the Board of Health, said to an Evening World reporter this morning:

"Glanders is very easily caught by man, and in that case is known as a very serious species of blood-poisoning. It generally proves fatal, although by prompt and proper treatment a patient may be enabled to recover from it."

"The only thing to be done when a horse suffers from glanders is to shoot it, and to disinfect everything that came in contact with it."

Last Saturday the Third Avenue Company sent out from its stable at Sixty-fifth street a car with a team of horses attached which at once excited the city and indignation of all passengers who saw them.

The horses were literally covered with sores and were scarcely able to hobble along. At Sixth street they were unhitched and given a breathing spell until the return of their car, when they were again coupled to it and driven back to the stable. They only got as far as Twenty-third street, however, where they fell in a heap and were unable to rise.

Agent John Corney, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, saw the horses in this plight and ordered one of them, which was found to be suffering from glanders, to be shot. He had the other, which had bruises on the forelegs and an abscess on the right foot, taken to the Society's hospital.

The car-driver was arrested. Several other drivers of the same company sent in, in reference to this arrest:

"It is in vain to try to lay the blame of the horses' condition to the drivers. They, of course, know the state their horses are in, but if they were to make a protest their discharge from the company's employ would quickly follow."

"The regulation that no driver shall take out a horse in bad condition is a dead letter. We pity the poor beast that are hitched to cars, but soon to us if we refuse to take them on a trip."

The Third Avenue Company has about three thousand horses and only one veterinary surgeon to attend to them.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will, in all likelihood, proceed against the Third Avenue Company under Section 300 of the Sanitary Code which provides that "no person shall keep, retain or allow to be kept or retained at any place within or adjacent to the built-up portions of New York City, any horse or other animal having the disease known as glanders."

Officials of the car company say that glanders is quite frequent occurrence and is strictly watched by the company's veterinary surgeon, as it is to the company's interest not to allow a spread of the disease among its horses. The company's officers also say that it has done everything in its power to prevent a spread of a recurrence of the disease among the horses.

"The public," say they, "need not be apprehensive at all. No case of infection has yet been reported in all the years we have worked the cars, notwithstanding that cases of glanders are reported to the Health Department from various parts of the city on an average of twice a week."

BUT BUFFALO RAILWAY STRIKERS DENY STARTING THE FIRES.

The Incendiarism Denounced by Grand Master Sweeney.

Men Quiet To-Day, but Say They Will Win the Fight.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) BUFFALO, Aug. 15.—In an interview today Grand Master Sweeney emphatically condemned the acts of lawlessness and incendiarism in the Erie and Lehigh Valley yards, and stated that he has assurances from the strikers on strike that they were not responsible for what was done, but it was the work of irresponsible individuals who could not be controlled.

The number of Erie and Lehigh Valley freight cars destroyed by fire in the last day and night is variously estimated at from 100 to 200.

Master Moriarty, of the local lodge of the Switchmen's Union, states that the strikers were not responsible for the fires. He attributes them to a "lot of tramps and bums that are always around when there is any excitement."

Everything has been quiet in the yards since daylight and up to noon today. The incendiarism, whoever they are, will probably keep well under cover during the day.

It was reported this morning that the strike would be likely to spread to the Erie yards at Hersheyville.

The Police Commissioners have been busy today wearing special policemen on account of the strike. The Sheriff was also busy wearing in special deputies for duty in the yards at Cheektowick, which is outside the city limits and beyond the jurisdiction of the city police. The Sheriff will not call upon the military, except as a last resort.

"I suppose so, but I am not sure. I believe the same system prevails throughout the State. Then it is possible that your men may have the same grievance as the Buffalo strikers."

"I do not understand the Buffalo situation well enough to answer," replied Mr. Hudis. "I do know, however, that the probability of a strike among Valley switchmen here is very remote. Our employees are intelligent men and would not act hastily."

Mr. Hudis said that he had received no private notices from Buffalo, and only knew what he read in the newspapers.

Asked if he believed the fires in the Buffalo yards to be of incendiary origin, he answered in the affirmative, but was loth to believe that the strikers were the perpetrators.

"None of my men," he said, "would be guilty of such a deed, and I prefer to believe the same of the Buffalo men until the crime is proved to them."

P. H. Wyckoff, General Freight Agent of the Jersey Central, of the New York Central Railroad, refused to be interviewed on the subject.

ANARCHIST KNOWS HIS NEW TONE.

His Fraternity Does Not Believe in Dynamiting Capitalists.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—Anarchist Knoll, who was released on bail Saturday night, does not feel very sanguine as to the outcome of the case against him. Speaking on this subject last night, he said:

"I am almost positive that I will be convicted, but because I am in any way guilty of planning the assassination of Frick, or because I was in any way implicated in the attempted assassination, but merely because I admit that I am an Anarchist and say I am proud of it."

"The Anarchists do not believe in the murder of capitalists. What possible good would be accomplished by the killing of Frick? It would only help to bring about a more general strike, and it would do far more harm than good to our cause."

ARMED MINERS IN CONTROL.

Far from Pleasing Situation at the Tennessee Coal Camps.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 15.—Gov. Buchanan announces his determination to use every lawful means in his power to preserve order at Tracy City where the application is made by the coal miners.

The situation at all the mines and coke ovens where convicts work is not a pleasing one, and a spirit of resistance seems prevalent in all the mining districts. Neither the convict lessees nor the authorities have decided upon a plan of action, and the miners at Tracy City are in control with plenty of arms.

BRICK-HANDLERS GO BACK.

This Makes the Building Trades' Strike a Think of the Past.

The brick-handlers, who insisted on continuing the building trades strike, went back to work this morning, having declared their strike off.

Every workman here finished on the continuation of the strike, but it was seen that for the brick-handlers to stay out while all the other trades were back at work would be of no effect.

PISTOL WITH POISONED BALLS.

Romano Was Caught with a Unique Murderer's Weapon.

Police Officer John Clare, of the Mulberry street station, was at the Tombs Police Court this morning with Angelo Romano, in whose possession had been found a big La Focchetti five-shot and three cartridge, loaded, it is believed, with poisoned balls.

Clare told Justice Brady that he caught Romano, who keeps a grocery store at 17 Prince street, running about with the murderer's weapon hidden for a tardy debtor to kill him.

When the policeman called a halt the grogman snapped the revolver at him.

Luckily for Clare it did not go off, and before the Italian could pull the trigger again he was disarmed.

Romano was held in $300 bail for trial at the Court of Special Sessions.

WAS BRIDGET SULLIVAN DOSED?

Suggestion of Poison in the Borden Murder—Case Revived.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 15.—A Taunton (Globe) reporter learned from Bridget Sullivan on Sunday that the reason she laid down on the day of the Borden murder was that she was troubled with nausea that morning and vomited several times while waiting windows.

Previous statements from the police have been to the effect that she laid down because she was tired with the work.

It is probable that this statement was held back. If made known at the inquest, as bearing upon the theory that the victim may have been dosed.

A GRASS WIDOW THE CAUSE.

Two Brothers Quarrel and One Shot Accidentally.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The reported feud between John and William Segraves proves to have been a shooting in which only one of the brothers was armed with a pistol.

William Segraves is a lawyer, while his brother John keeps a resort known as the "Grass Widow."

Some days ago the two brothers had a fight and John shot William in the arm. William was driving and was John struck at John with a pistol to prevent him from getting into the wagon.

THE WESTERN DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN FUND.

The World asks your subscription to the Western Democratic campaign fund. Its purpose is to make sure the election of Cleveland and Stevenson by waging a vigorous educational campaign in those Western states which have gone Republican in national elections hitherto, but now give the strongest indications of a tendency towards Democracy and tariff reform. Chief among these States are Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. Each have an overwhelming majority against the Republican policy of excessive protection in 1900.

The same issue intensified and better understood is dominant in the present campaign. The temper of the people is unchanged. They are impatient to break the money power in politics and restore the Government to the whole people.

But they need help. They have only begun to win victories. Organization is imperfect. Means are lacking for the advancement of educational work in an educational campaign. They will need men later.

Are you willing to help? If so, send in your subscription for whatever amount you feel able to give, from 10 cents to $10,000. This must be both a national and a popular fund. The larger the number of subscriptions, regardless of their size, the greater will be the moral effect. Let the Democrats of the West understand that the Democrats of the East are ready to strengthen their hands in the great battles yet to be fought, and they will be encouraged to put forth greater energy than ever before, and the Democratic party will win a victory which shall be truly national.

The money raised will be expended by advice of a committee of leading Western Democrats, comprising such men as Gov. Hor
