

BROOKLYN EDITION OF THE EVENING WORLD--ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION. HOSPITAL SCANDAL. House Physician of Gouverneur Accused of Extorting Money.

Dr. Donovan Admits $9, but Says It Was a Free Gift.

Commissioners of Charities Take Prompt Action in the Case.

There is considerable dissatisfaction among the relatives and friends of the patients taken to Gouverneur Hospital from the scene of yesterday's panic in the Ludlow Street Synagogue building. In one instance particularly this dissatisfaction has been given expression to in the shape of an affidavit made by Samuel Friedman, one of the sons of Rebecca Friedman, of 77 Ludlow street. Here is the affidavit:

Read over to a man, translated to him and sworn to before me Sept. 24, 1922.

Dr. Donovan Admits It. Seen by an EVENING WORLD reporter this morning, Dr. Donovan was at first disposed to treat the matter jokingly, saying: "There is not a word of truth in the charge that young Friedman makes. He is very ungrateful. I treated him and his friends very kindly. The truth is," he added, "I cannot think of any physician here who would be guilty of such a thing."

Afterwards, however, when informed that Friedman had made the foregoing affidavit, Dr. Donovan became very serious, changed color and said: "Well, I did receive $9 from the Friedmans, but it was a voluntary gift and unacknowledged by me."

President Porter, of the Department of Charities and Correction, was inclined to poo-poo the extortion story until shown the copy of Friedman's affidavit printed in THE EVENING WORLD.

Dr. Donovan started to try to explain matters over the telephone, but President Porter told Donovan he did not wish to hear any more than his admission that he took the money.

Mr. Porter at once issued the following order: To Dr. Lawrence Johnson, Chairman Committee of Inspection, Gouverneur Hospital:

I am directed to notify you to call a meeting of the Medical Board of Gouverneur Hospital to investigate and report to this Board at once upon certain charges against House-Surgeon William F. Donovan of having received money from a patient while in that institution.

Three Receivers Appointed. St. Paul, Sept. 24.—Judge Caldwell, of the United States Circuit Court, yesterday appointed receivers for the American Water Works Company of New Jersey, in Colorado, Nebraska and New York. The case involved $20,000, and was over the water works at Denver and Omaha.

Harlem Republican Rally. The Republicans of Harlem will hold a mass-meeting this evening at the club-house of the James G. Blaine Club, 112 East One Hundred and Tenth street. Ex-Congressman William E. Mason will speak.

Friedman Wants His $9 Back. Samuel Friedman, who made the affidavit charging Dr. Donovan with extortion, is about twenty-two years old. He has no knowledge of English, and speaks a jargon composed of Russian, German and Hebrew. To an EVENING WORLD reporter who asks Friedman in reference to his affidavit, the latter said in his dialect: "I have $10 to add to what is expressed in my affidavit except that I intend to recover the $9, and that my brothers will join me in trying to recover it. I really had an idea, from the way in which he demanded it, that the doctor was entitled to this money." One More Man Dies. None of the injured at Gouverneur Hospital are yet dead, and the only one that is in a very critical condition is Annie Cohen.

The Defense Closed. Except for Character Witnesses. The Bookmaker on Trial for Slaying Goodwin Looks Anxious.

The Jurors for the First Time. The New York Refrigerator Man Found Dead in Detroit.

The Millionaire's Son Cannot Account for the Tragedy.

Herchanski, Bernard, sixty-two years old, 65 Forsyth street, fracture of base of skull; taken home.

Cohen, Annie, fifty-eight years old, 25 Essex street, fracture of base of skull; in very critical condition.

Cohen, Herman, fifteen years old, 173 Madison street, contusion of right leg and side; taken home.

Cohen, Ida, twenty-two years old, 222 Madison street; fracture of base of skull; taken home.

Friedman, Rebecca, forty-nine years old, 71 Suffolk street, fracture of base of skull, both hands; taken home.

Spielka, Tillie, thirty-six years old, 34 Norfolk street, fracture of base of skull; will soon become a mother; will recover.

At the Eldridge street station-house it was said that in all likelihood no arrests would be made in connection with yesterday's panic in Ludlow street.

"The man who shouted fire," said Sgt. Koss, who was at the desk for an EVENING WORLD reporter, "was certainly not responsible for his act. It was probably an involuntary exclamation drawn from him by fright."

"Of course," continued the Sergeant, "we shall fully investigate to see whether our supposition was correct, for there is a bare possibility that some knave shouted the fatal word maliciously."

The four bodies of those killed during the panic have been taken to their homes, from where they will be buried.

Loud wailing can be heard in almost every quarter within a radius of three blocks of where the panic occurred.

Most of the families of those who were killed or wounded were inter-related, and the loss of a child or the sorrow of a great many individuals.

One of the saddest places was the home of Mrs. Rebecca Friedman, whose fifteen-year-old daughter Lena was wailing this morning in the midst of many neighbors who were consoling her.

"The girl had read in a morning paper that her mother could not recover. An EVENING WORLD reporter who had just called at the Gouverneur Hospital told Lena that her mother was declared out of danger by the doctors. She at once calmed down."

A great many people were this morning visiting at 27 Ludlow street, where the panic occurred. Few passed by without a shudder.

Civil Justice Henry M. Goldfogel, of the police court, is organizing a committee to take steps for the relief of the injured and for the survivors of those who were killed. The committee will be composed of prominent east side residents, and their meeting will be held at Judge Goldfogel's court room, 134 Clinton street, on Tuesday evening.

Escaped From the Hospital. Bank Clerk Saulters Not on Hand to Prosecute Fawcett.

John W. Fawcett, who on Sept. 8 stabbed Bank Clerk Willie Saulters, the young man who stole his daughter away from her husband, was up for examination in the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning.

Detective Sawyer, of the Prison street station, reported that Saulters had been well and escaped from St. Vincent's hospital. He could not be found.

"Not if you had any right to accept the money," was the reply.

"Do you think, doctor, that you had a right to receive the money?"

"Why not?" answered the doctor. "It was a free gift for the extraordinary pains I had taken with these patients, particularly Mrs. Friedman."

Important to Cigar Smokers. The only difference between a Havana cigar and an idea, from the way in which he demanded

Brought the Baby In. Webster's Infant Before the Jurors for the First Time.

The Defense Closed. Except for Character Witnesses.

The Bookmaker on Trial for Slaying Goodwin Looks Anxious.

In accordance with his custom, Justice Ingraham ordered a morning session of the Court of Oyer and Terminer for the half holiday, and the trial of Burton C. Webster for his life was continued.

His neck was broken. Mr. Wickes, whose main office was at Rochester, N. Y., was a frequent business visitor to Detroit.

He came from New York city yesterday morning and registered at the Russell House. He spent several hours in his room and after lunch settled some matters with the local agent of his company.

He also called to settle a deal with the Michigan Car company, which builds the refrigerator cars bearing his name. This completed his business here and late in the afternoon, with several friends, he began drinking.

The carousal finally wound up with a visit to the home of the Earl woman. The party continued drinking until reaching the report and the last seen by Capt. Billy Hicketts, of the court squad, and Officers Arnold, Howe, Brophy, Lynch, McVeeny and Connors, who stood guard over them during the night.

While a companion went to eat lunch the occupants of the room were started by a crash. It was at once feared that Wickes had fallen out of the window.

Several ran to his room and others to the outside, whence came the noise. Those who went into the next yard were horrified to see the unfortunate man lying dead upon his back.

Dr. Carsens and Patiers were called with haste, but life was extinct; death had been instantaneous. The window from which Wickes fell is about twenty-five feet from the ground.

He probably fell head first, and being a heavy man, weighing more than 200 pounds, he struck the ground with terrific force. His head hit upon a cobblestone and he did not live more than a few seconds.

Wickes was known from one end of the country to the other. Joseph Taylor, secretary of the Michigan Car company, and a close friend of the President, notified the family of the terrible calamity this morning.

"Mr. Wickes was a man of great intellect," said Mr. Taylor, "and his friends never dreamed that he had propensities which the awful calamity has disclosed."

He was a scholar, who spent his time among his books and was widely read. He was able and as good a business man as our corporation deals with.

"His home in New York city was in the Knickerbocker Building, on Fifth avenue, and in Rochester Mr. Wickes lived at the swell Geneva Club. He was about fifty years old, and his family consisted of a wife and two sons."

"Mrs. Wickes is now in the Adirondacks with her youngest son, Arthur. The older son, Walter, is a Chicago man and one of the superintendents of the World's Fair. I wired this morning to Walter Wickes, and George F. Brown, secretary of the Chicago branch of the Wickes company, will reach Detroit this afternoon. They will take the body East for burial."

The injuries which Mr. Wickes received were frightful. His neck was not only broken, but his head all crushed in. The skull was broken in at several places, and in order to get the remains in presentable form a surgeon and a dentist worked upon the head all the morning. It was necessary to put the top of it in a plaster cast.

An EVENING WORLD reporter who called this morning at the offices of the Wickes Refrigerator Company, corner of Eighteenth street and Broadway, found that the news had already reached there through a telegram from Detroit to Walter H. Wickes, the dead man's eldest son, who has left for the western city early this morning to take charge of his father's body.

The trial was adjourned until 10:30 Monday morning, and the jurors were escorted back to their hotel prison.

STATE TAX LAW REVISION. Charges Proposed That Will Do Away with Many Abuses.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—The revision of the Tax laws promises to be an important work of the next Legislature. J. Newton Fiero and Prof. Charles A. Collin are members of the Special Legislative Committee to revise these laws.

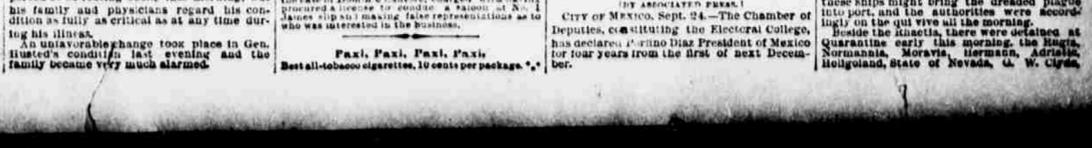

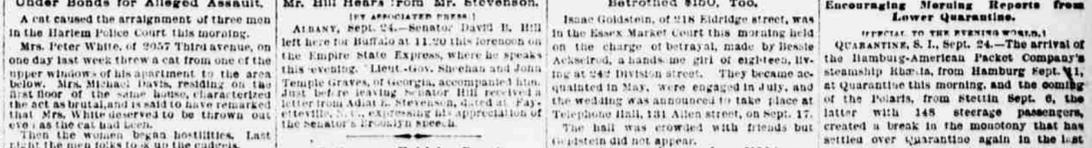

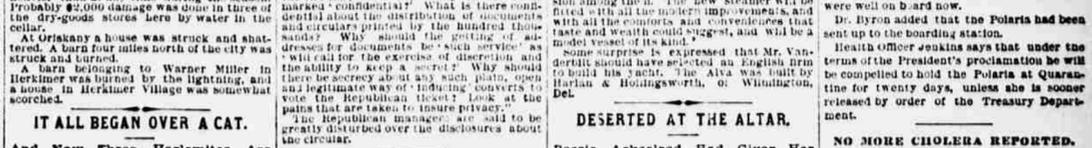

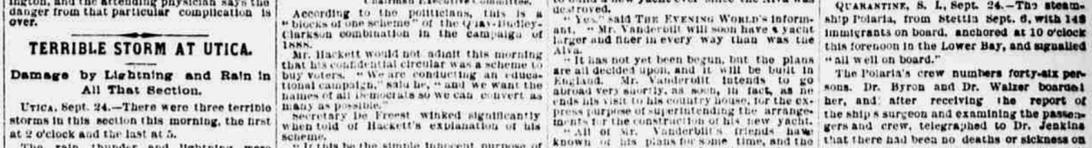

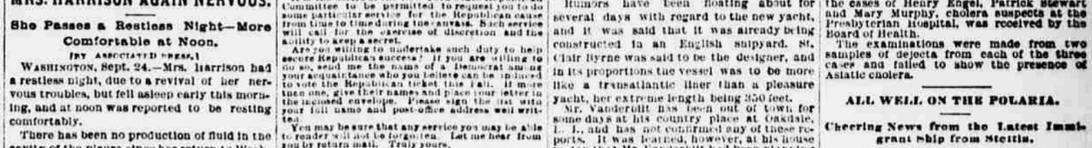

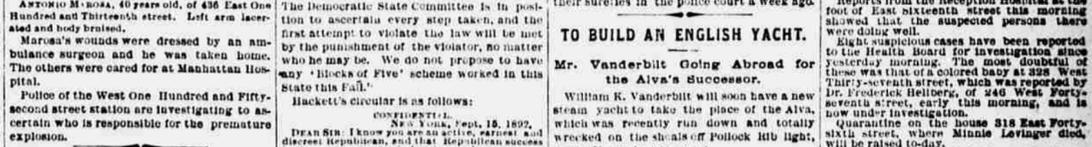

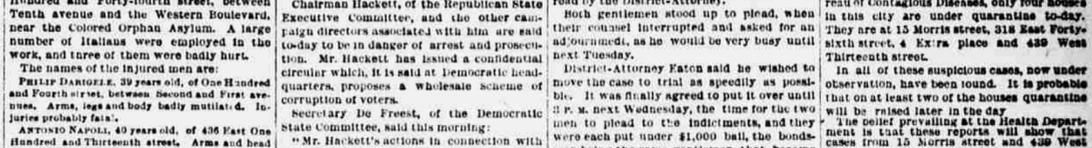

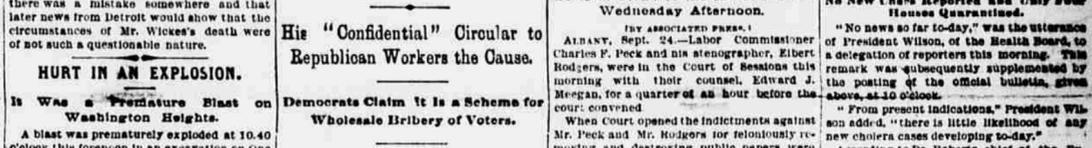

Prof. Collin says: "The logical justice of the situation and that assessments be based on the full market value of property both real and personal and be reduced in either case by the amount of the owners' indebtedness, which is shown by him to be assessed on the basis of the full value of the property and not upon the financial condition at the moment of assessment."

Other proposed law under discussion are: 1. To have the State Assessor assess the entire property of real, personal and intangible, including the right of usufruct, and their appraisement on the basis of the full market value of the property, and not upon the financial condition at the moment of assessment.

Both the young men were in this city when the news of their father's death reached here. Mrs. Wickes is still at Brant Lake, and Alfred, the younger son, left for that place late last night to break the terrible news to his mother.

President Wickes has a brother, Edward A. Wickes, who is Vice-President of the Niagara Power Company and who lives in Rochester.

General regret and surprise were expressed to-day among Mr. Wickes's business and social intimates in this city at the manner in which the unfortunate man met his death.

WILL THE POLITICAL RECORD ALSO BE BROKEN THIS YEAR?

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

It was a premature blast on Washington Heights. A blast was prematurely exploded at 10:40 o'clock this forenoon in an excavation on One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, between Tenth avenue and the Western Boulevard, near the Colored Orphan Asylum.

HACKETT MAY BE ARRESTED.

His "Confidential" Circular to Republican Workers the Cause.

Democrats Claim It is a Scheme for Wholesale Bribery of Voters.

Chairman Hackett, of the Republican State Executive Committee, and the other campaign directors associated with him are said today to be in danger of arrest and prosecution.

Mr. Hackett has issued a confidential circular which, it is said, is a scheme for wholesale bribery of voters.

Secretary De Freest, of the Democratic State Committee, said this morning:

Mr. Hackett's actions in connection with this matter will be very closely watched. The Democratic State Committee is in position to ascertain every step taken, and the first attempt to violate the law will be met by the punishment of the violator, no matter who he may be.

Hackett's circular is as follows: CONFIDENTIAL. DEAR SIR: I know you are an active, energetic and disinterested Republican, and that your success in the coming campaign will be the success of the party.

It is the desire of the New York State Republican Central Committee that you should be a successful candidate for the office of State Representative in the next Legislature.

You will be sure that any service you may be able to render in this connection will be most gratefully appreciated.

Chairman Executive Committee.

According to the politicians, this is a "blackmail scheme" of the G. A. Hackett-Clarkson combination in the campaign of 1922.

Mr. Hackett would not admit this morning that his confidential circular was a scheme of bribery.

It is the simple intention of the circular, said Mr. Hackett, to give the names of all Republicans who can be converted as Republicans.

There has been no production of fluid in the cavity of the pleura since her return to Washington, and the attending physician says the danger from that particular complication is over.

Damage by Lightning and Rain in All That Section.

Utica, Sept. 24.—There were three terrible storms in this section this morning, the first at 2 o'clock and the last at 5.

The rain, thunder and lightning were heavier than at any time during the season. Probably $2,000 damage was done in three of the city's streets, and water in the cellar.

At Oriskany a house was struck and shattered. A barn four miles north of the city was struck and burned.

A barn belonging to Warner Miller in Herkimer was burned by the lightning, and a house in Herkimer village was somewhat scorched.

IT ALL BEGAN OVER A CAT. And Now Three Harlemites Are Under Bonds for Alleged Assault.

A cat caused the arraignment of three men in the Harlem Police Court this morning.

Mrs. Peter White, of 2957 Third avenue, on one day last week threw a cat from one of the upper windows of her apartment to the area below. Mrs. White, residing on the third floor of the same house, characterized the act as brutal, and is said to have remarked: "This morning I hope to see the cat thrown out of the window of the senator's house."

PECK AGAIN UNDER BAIL.

He is to Plead to the Indictment on Wednesday Afternoon.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Labor Commissioner Charles F. Peck and his stenographer, Elbert Rodgers, were in the Court of Sessions this morning with their counsel, Edward J. Morgan, for a quarter of an hour before the court convened.

When Court opened the indictments against Mr. Peck and Mr. Rodgers for feloniously removing and destroying public papers were read by the District Attorney.

Both gentlemen stood up to plead, when they were interrupted and asked for an adjournment, as he would be very busy until next Tuesday.

District Attorney Eaton said he wished to move the case to trial as speedily as possible. It was finally agreed to put it over until 3 P. M. next Wednesday, the time for the two men to plead to the indictments, and they were each put under $1,000 bail, the bonds being the same guarantee that became their sureties in the police court a week ago.

That to Build an English Yacht.

Mr. Vanderbilt Going Abroad for the Alva's Successor.

William K. Vanderbilt will soon have a new steam yacht to take the place of the Alva, which was recently run down and totally wrecked on the shore of Pollock lagoon, on the Massachusetts coast.

It is reported that Mr. Vanderbilt had been planning to build a new yacht ever since the Alva was destroyed.

Mr. Vanderbilt has been out of town for some days at his country place at Ossining, N. Y., and has not confirmed any of these reports.

It was learned, however, at his house to-day that Mr. Vanderbilt had been planning to build a new yacht ever since the Alva was destroyed.

It is not yet been begun, but the plans are all decided upon, and it will be built in England. Mr. Vanderbilt intends to go abroad very shortly, as soon as he is able to do so, to his country house, for the express purpose of superintending the arrangements for the construction of his new yacht.

It is known of his plans for some time, and the project has been a general topic of discussion among his friends. The new steamer will be fitted with all the modern improvements, and with all the comforts and conveniences that taste and wealth could suggest, and will be a model vessel of its kind.

Mr. Vanderbilt should have selected an English firm to build his yacht. The Alva was built by Harlan & Hollingsworth, of Wilmington, Del.

DESERTED AT THE ALTAR. Bessie Ackehrod Had Given Her Betrothed $150,000.

Isaac Goldstein, of 218 Eldridge street, was in the Essex Market Court this morning held on the charge of betrayal, made by Bessie Ackehrod, a handsomely dressed girl of eighteen, living at 242 Division street. They became acquainted in May, were engaged in July, and the wedding was announced to take place at Telephone Hill, 131 Allen street, on Sept. 17.

The girl says she gave Isaac $150,000 to purchase a wedding ring, and that he has not returned it.

A Severe Electrical Storm. WATERBURY, Sept. 24.—A terrific electric storm visited this section last night, accompanied by a flood of rain. The Woodruff house and five residences in this city were struck. A barn was also struck, and a horse killed.

President Diaz's Election Complete. CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 24.—The Chamber of Deputies, constituting the Electoral College, has declared Porfirio Diaz President of Mexico for four years from the first of next December.

Encouraging Harlem Reports from Lower Quarantines. QUANTICO, S. I., Sept. 24.—The arrival of the Hamburg-American Packet Company's steamship Albatros, from Hamburg Sept. 1, at Quantico this morning, and the coming of the Polaris, from Stettin Sept. 6, the latter with 148 steerage passengers, created a break in the monotony that has settled over quarantine again in the last few days. The Albatros brings only sixty-five cabin passengers and none in the steerage.

Other ships found no sickness on board of her, but as she comes from Europe's worst infected ports she will probably be detained for several days.

It was reported here at 8 o'clock that the Polaris was sighted off Fire Island at 7 A. M. Other ships found no sickness on board of her, but as she comes from Europe's worst infected ports she will probably be detained for several days.

LAST EDITION. NO MORE ARE SICK. Signs that the Cholera Is Disappearing from New York.

Polaris Comes in and Reports "All Well on Board."

Normanna's Steerage Passengers Landed at Ellis Island.

Health Department. New York, Sept. 24, 10 A. M. No cases of cholera have appeared in this city since the last bulletin.

CHARLES G. WILSON, President. EDWARD CLARK, Secretary.

The steamship Polaris, from Stettin Sept. 6, with 148 immigrants, whose arrival had been awaited with apprehension, came to port to-day and reported "All well on board." She is subject, however, to twenty days' detention under the President's proclamation.

Quarantine officers are greatly encouraged by the morning reports from the detained ships and the hospital islands, where no new cases of cholera deaths have appeared.

Steerage passengers of the Normanna were to-day brought from Sandy Hook to Ellis Island.

Several steamships from suspected ports are due to-day.

NO NEW CASES REPORTED AND ONLY FOUR FROM QUARANTINE. "No news so far to-day," was the utterance of President Wilson, of the Health Board, a delegation of reporters this morning. This remark was subsequently supplemented by the posting of the official bulletin, given above, at 10 o'clock.

From present indications, President Wilson adds a little likelihood of any new cholera cases developing to-day.

According to Dr. Roberts, chief of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, only four houses in this city are under quarantine to-day. They are at 10 Morris street, 318 East Forty-third street, 414 1/2 1/2 place and 459 West Thirteenth street.

In all of these suspicious cases, now under observation, have been found. It is probable that on at least two of the houses quarantine will be raised later in the day.

The chief prevailing disease Health Department is that these reports will show that cases from 10 Morris street and 459 West Thirteenth street, this morning, and in new cholera cases developing to-day.

Reports from the Reception Hospital at the foot of East Sixteenth street this morning show that the suspicious persons there were doing well.

Eighteen suspicious cases have been reported to the Health Board for investigation since yesterday morning. The most doubtful of these were that of Col. Henry A. West, West Thirteenth street, which was reported by Dr. Frederick Heilberg, of 240 West Forty-third street, and by Dr. Walter Boardman, of 10 Morris street, and in new cholera cases developing to-day.

Quarantine on the house 318 East Forty-third street, this morning, and in new cholera cases developing to-day.

The examinations were made from two rooms in the hospital, and in all of the cases and failed to show the presence of Asiatic cholera.

ALL WELL ON THE POLARIS. Cheering News from the Latest Immigrant Ship from Stettin.

QUANTICO, Sept. 24.—The steamship Polaris, from Stettin Sept. 6, with 148 immigrants on board, anchored at 10 o'clock this forenoon in the Lower Bay, and signalled "all well on board."

The Polaris's crew numbers forty-six persons. Dr. Byron and Dr. Walter Boardman, her and after receiving the report of the ship's surgeon and examining the passengers and crew, telegraphed to Dr. Jenkins that there had been no deaths or sickness on board during the voyage, and that all were well on board.

Dr. Byron added that the Polaris had been sent up to the boarding station.

Health Officer Jenkins says that under the terms of the President's proclamation he will be compelled to hold