

BRENNAN WANTS $2,500,000.

Board of Estimate Figuring on Street Cleaning.
Vast Expense Entailed by the Adoption of the Block System.

At the meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment today the first estimates for the street cleaning and fire departments were considered.

The writ of mandamus to compel the board to pay the Washington Bridge Commissioners $13,000 for services was referred to the Corporation Counsel. The writ is returnable before Justice Lawrence in the supreme court tomorrow.

Committee of the Board of Estimate, headed by Mr. Brennan, is in the process of preparing a report on the proposed block system of street cleaning.

A committee of the West End Citizens' Association asked the board to be liberal to Mr. Brennan in the matter of funds for carrying out the block system.

Mr. Charles F. Chandler, of Columbia College, one of the Mayor's Advisory Committee which recommended the block system of sweeping, was also there, as was Mayor-elect Quinn.

Comptroller Myers said there had been some comment on the provisional estimate for the street cleaning. He thought that the provisions were only a rough estimate of the needs.

Mr. Chandler declared that the block system had not been introduced. The law provided for 1,500 sweepers and carts to follow the street cleaners. There were only 1,225. There was a lack of carts.

TEUTONIC'S ROUGH PASSAGE.

Pierce Gale and Heavy Seas Keep the Passengers Below.
The Teutonic reached her dock at 10.30 this morning, after a rough voyage out from Liverpool. She made the trip in 10 days, 18 hours and 21 minutes.

She left Liverpool on Thursday and on Saturday encountered a gale that did not abate until she was within a few hours run of this port.

Friday she had strong southerly winds and a heavy sea. Some of the passengers went out on deck for a moment, but the wind blew so hard that they were obliged to seek the shelter of the cabin.

The next day the winds kept increasing in force, and before noon a terrific gale was blowing.

Moultain Ice was broken over her bow and stern. Some of the passengers were out on deck, which was constantly flooded.

The boat No. 2 was crushed by a wave and carried away.

Among the passengers were Frederick W. Byrnes, J. S. Piza, of New York, who invited himself into the room by climbing the rigging and ladders to catch the big steamer at Queensboro, and Gen. E. W. Wilson.

Others were J. H. Carnegie, T. C. McGrain, S. W. Fairbank, J. S. Hill, Col. Roland H. Allen, W. R. Garrison and E. D. Morgan.

Mr. Byrnes was a "Sun" man. The story printed in the Sun this morning to the effect that President-elect Cleveland came down to his office yesterday accompanied by Supt. Byrnes, and that the latter had offered to place one of his detectives at the service of Mr. Cleveland from now till the 4th of March next, was pronounced to be entirely without foundation at Mr. Cleveland's office in the Mills building today.

Mr. Byrnes had not been seen there yesterday, nor any previous day, but Mr. Cleveland had come down to his office alone, as he usually does.

The fact that Mr. Cleveland needed police protection from stray cranks was ridiculed by his friends. No detectives or special policemen could be observed anywhere in the vicinity of his office this morning.

Two Verdicts on Mrs. Paton. One Exonerates, the Other Censures the Staten Island Railroad.

Two verdicts were accepted by Coroner Martin Hughes, of Staten Island, as a result of the inquest in the case of aged Mrs. Mary Paton.

Mrs. Paton was struck by a train on the Amboy division of the Staten Island Rapid Transit railroad on the morning of Dec. 6, at Grassmere station.

As the jury were unable to agree, they rendered two verdicts. One verdict exonerated the railroad company and recommended that a flagman be stationed at the crossing.

Christian Werthamer insisted that the company was to blame for Mrs. Paton's death, and he alone signed a verdict censuring the company.

Publisher Nostrand a Benefactor. Frederick William Nostrand, a well-known publisher and member of the New York Press Club, with his bride, Mrs. Martha Morris, is on his way south today on his honeymoon.

The couple were married at St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal Church, 150 Ave. C, yesterday, and a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 535 Clinton avenue.

Mrs. McGowan Died of Her Injuries. Newark, N. J., Dec. 22.—Mrs. McGowan, the sixty-year-old widow of Harrison, who was struck by a piece of timber which fell from the Harrison Street bridge this morning. An inquest will be held.

BANKER WARD DENIES IT ALL.

His Firm Didn't Have Any of the Field Securities.
Field Securities.

He Says There is Nothing in Detective Palmer's Story.

The story told by Detective Frank Palmer in regard to the discovery of missing securities in the vault of a bank containing $120,000 in Field Securities, was denied today by the firm of Clark, Ward & Co., bankers of 70 Broadway.

When Palmer told his story to an Evening World reporter last summer he was very mysterious, and refused to tell any one where he had found the missing securities. He now says they were deposited with Clark, Ward & Co., and the amount is $100,000.

His denial, which is made upon information and belief, forms the main ground for the order issued by Justice Pratt, of Brooklyn, yesterday on the application of Birdseye, Lloyd & Baylis, who represent Robert E. Wiley, one of the creators of the firm, compelling banker Frederick Ward to appear before the grand jury at 11 o'clock this afternoon and to tell what he knows about the missing bonds.

Mr. Ward says he knows nothing whatever about any securities alleged to have been deposited with his firm, and that that fact is positively all he can tell the grand jury.

This entire story is useless from beginning to end, he said, because it is a mere repetition of what he has said in his previous statements. "I never had any dealings with Field or with any member of his firm," he said.

This detective claims that a letter written to him in the summer of 1911 by Field was discovered in his office yesterday afternoon and that he knows about the missing bonds.

"I never received such a letter and certainly never had any securities from him," he said. "The whole account seems to be based on this wild story."

I remember the man Palmer came to me several times last summer and talked about some securities, and I told him then that I knew nothing of them. He acted in a very suspicious way and wanted me to keep the matter quiet. Afterwards he dropped it, and I have never seen him since.

Lawyer (to wit) who is counsel for Charles W. Gould, assignee of the Field firm, says that Field came to him about the same time and wanted to get an advance on the securities which he claimed to have discovered and was able to recover.

I investigated the matter," said Mr. Gould, "and soon came to the conclusion that there was nothing in Palmer's story."

Another lawyer who was led to take an interest in the matter after being approached by Palmer, was Joseph E. Green, of the New York Building.

Palmer would tell me nothing definite about his discovery, and refused to make a sworn statement as to where the bonds were, so although I had taken some trouble in the matter, and had communicated, with a number of the creditors of the firm, I told him I would have nothing more to do with him. I don't believe there is anything in his story."

Mexican Soldiers Unable to Prevent Their Depredations.

CHICUAUTLA, MEX., Dec. 22.—The Mexican troops sent to the Sierra Madre country to suppress the Yaqui and Mayo Indian uprising are unable to put down the rebellion.

The Indians to the number of about eight thousand have taken position in an inaccessible canyon of the Sierra Madre and continue to make frequent raids upon the white and Mexican settlers. Dozens of families have been murdered in a week, and the country has been powerless to prevent the depredations.

The Yaqui number about twenty thousand. They have never been conquered by the Mexican Government and have never paid taxes.

HERE'S A GIRL FOOTPAD.

Maggie Snatched a Pocketbook and Ran Away.
Policeman Schneider, of the Park police, brought to Justice Magner court this morning a young girl of fifteen years and charged her with highway robbery in daylight yesterday.

The prisoner was Maggie Cullough, who lives at 812 Washington street. A complaint of snatching a pocketbook containing $120 from Agnes McGuirk, seventeen years old, living at 72 South street, Hoboken, N. J., was made against her.

Miss McGuirk said that she was walking in the Fourteenth street, near Seventh avenue, when the prisoner came up and snatched the pocketbook from her hand and ran away.

Maggie admitted that she took the pocketbook, as she thought it belonged to her. She was walking in Fourteenth street, she said, when she lost her pocketbook, and there was no one near her to complain.

When she saw the pocketbook in her hand, she thought it was hers, and she went up to the complainant and said: "It is mine."

Policeman Schneider arrested Maggie at the little park junction of Eighth avenue and Greenview street. The pocketbook was still in her hand.

Justice White gave the young girl into the care of the city society. She lived with her widowed mother and was employed in Herk's hatbox factory, Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Security His Pardon, and the Postponed Wedding Will Take Place.
DEPRESSION, N. J., Dec. 22.—The wedding of Miss Jennie Barker and Dick Mack, which was rudely interrupted last September through the alleged machinations of a jealous rival in love, will take place in a few days. The crime of which he was found guilty was the murder of Joseph Little Appleton.

Miss Barker was entering in her efforts to secure a divorce from her husband, who was in the state of New Jersey. The jealous lover in the case is a man named Van Hagen, of Little Falls. It is now doubtful if Little Appleton was assaulted.

Two Men, One Accused as a Thief, the Other as a Receiver.
Hugo Adler, alias Lewis Allen, who was arrested in Philadelphia yesterday for New York detectives, was brought to this city this morning and arraigned in the Tombs court on the charge of obtaining $250 worth of silk goods from the Skinner Manufacturing Company, 505 Broadway, Dec. 3.

Adler was arrested in Philadelphia, having served one term of five years in the Auburn prison and another in the Elmira Reformatory for similar offenses.

Justice Grady retained Adler for examination to-morrow, when a Philadelphia named Henry Van Hagen, who is said to have sold the goods, will also be examined.

TROOPS NO MATCH FOR YAQUIS.
CHICUAUTLA, MEX., Dec. 22.—The Mexican troops sent to the Sierra Madre country to suppress the Yaqui and Mayo Indian uprising are unable to put down the rebellion.

TWO MEXICAN GENERALS GONE.

Rocho and Estrad Thought to Have Joined the Rebels.
One Missing from the Military School, the Other from His Post.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 22.—A dispatch from the city of Mexico says: "A searching investigation failed to find any trace of Gen. Natividad Rocho, the instructor of the National military academy at Chapultepec, although the Minister of Foreign Affairs and other officials of the government yesterday asserted that the general was here. It is ten days since Rocho left the Military Academy, and according to reliable information he has been traced to Monterey."

"If the common report is true that Gen. Rocho has gone to join in the revolutionary movement inaugurated on the 20th of October, he is identified as the general who is reported to have joined the rebels in the state of Nueva Leon. Troops have been sent out from Monterey to disperse and capture the insurgents."

LARROTEA, TEX., Dec. 22.—It is reported here that Gen. Estrada, a prominent Mexican officer, stationed near Mer, is missing from his post, and is thought to be with the revolutionists.

NEW LAREDO FEARS AN ATTACK.
Mexican Bandits Said to Be Making for the Small Interior Towns.
LAREDO, TEX., Dec. 22.—It is said that the revolutionists are making for the small interior towns on the railroads north of Guerrero, and some say that even New Laredo may be attacked at any moment, and that a fight may be expected at Cerro, a rich mining town.

The strength of the forces at Languasco, by eight carloads of cavalry indicates that the government fears an attack from that point by the revolutionists. Parties here who are in touch with the authorities wear long faces and are evidently looking for serious trouble.

MORRIS AND LEO GO HOME.
Mr. Levine Has Probably Convinced Them That He Is Their Father.
Morris and Leo Seidenman, who gave their name as Levine, when picked up by the Brooklyn police last Friday night and who were taken to the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, have been turned over to their father, James Seidenman, of 587 Lexington avenue, New York.

When the boys' father went to the asylum for them the boys denied him as their father and said that they had never seen him before. This father took the matter to the police and he said: "Wait till I get you home and I will convince you that I am your father."

No doubt Mr. Seidenman kept his word, and today Morris and Leo are probably eating their meals with satisfaction.

Excelsior Club Reception.
The Excelsior Club of Brooklyn, will hold its annual reception to-night at 75 South Eighth street, and the officers for 1913 will be installed.

MR. PIZA'S BIG HURRY.

The New York Hustler Who Surprised Englishmen is Here.
Mr. J. S. Piza, of the firm of Piza & Nephews, 18 Broadway, is probably the most hurried man in a modern-day. He has been in that condition ever since the Teutonic's ganglank was in place at her pier this morning.

At that time Mr. Piza, enveloped in the folds of a big checked cape, rushed down the incline and shouted: "Where's my luggage?"

He was told that it would not be ready for him until 10 o'clock. Mr. Piza walked up and down the pier until 10 o'clock. He was told that it would not be ready for him until 10 o'clock.

Habeas Corpus Hearing Adjourned by Justice Lawrence.
Carlyle W. All of Our Boys' Cape Coats, this season's make, priced at 7 to 8 dollars, we've combined at $4.50. We cannot carry over. They wouldn't do—for us—to offer next year. That's why—and it's your opportunity.

For materials, we've used plain blue chinchillas and fancy Scotch overcoatings. For style—and warmth—the skirts are cut extra long. So are the capes, but they're detachable—come off whenever you like, easily. They'll take boys that happened to be born between '78 and '88.
