

BANK ROBBERS KILL.

Two Masked Men Shoot a Citizen at Waverly, Kan.

They Are Captured and Bound After an Exciting Pursuit.

Bravery of the Cashier Results in Driving Them Away.

Waverly, Kan., Jan. 22.—A desperate attempt was made to rob the bank of Waverly yesterday. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon two masked men entered the front door of the bank and covering Cashier Duvall and Assistant Cashier Converse with their revolvers proceeded to rob the vault and cash drawer.

While they were thus engaged Mr. O'Neil, a merchant, entered the bank for the purpose of making a deposit. At the risk of his life Cashier Duvall called out to him to run and alarm the citizens.

The robbers ran for their horses, which were in the alley behind the bank, closely pursued by a number of citizens. Foremost in the pursuit was A. P. Ingelman. As the first of the robbers leaped into the saddle he turned quickly and fired at Ingelman and sent a ball through his heart, death being instantaneous.

A fusillade of shots followed, but the robbers succeeded in getting out of the town unharmed. A posse of citizens followed in pursuit and were joined by others from Lebo and Malvern.

About two miles from Lebo the robbers were caught and surrounded, and after some more firing, in which both of their horses were shot dead, they surrendered, their ammunition being exhausted.

Many shots were fired on both sides, but strange to say with the exception of the killing of horses no damage was done. The robbers were taken to Lebo, where they were bound hand and foot and left in custody of a constable.

The sheriff will soon take charge of the men. It is thought there will be no effort to lynch them.

The amount of money the robbers got is not known exactly, but it was small, and they were frightened away before they had time to secure much.

They have been identified as Billy Vannerman and Frank Lewis, both of Malvern, a town in Franklin, the adjoining county. Vannerman was raised in Waverly and was known to a hard character.

The citizen who was shot down, leaves a widow and several children, and was in rather poor circumstances.

DOUBLEDAY TO LIE IN STATE. Military Honors to Be Paid to the Famous General.

Arrangements have been made by Gen. Roy Stone and Commander A. G. Mills, of Lafayette, Mo., for military honors to be paid to the memory of Gen. Abner Doubleday, who died at his home in Menhaden, N. J., Thursday, when his body passes through this city next Monday on its way to the final burial place in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va., near Washington.

After the preliminary funeral services at the General's home in Menhaden, his body will be brought to New York over the Delaware and Lackawanna road and will arrive here about noon on Monday.

It will be met by a detail from Fort Lafayette Post, G. A. R.; United States troops from Governors Island, and a detachment from the Union League Club, of which Gen. Doubleday was a member, and escorted to the City Hall, where it will lie in state in the Governor's Room from noon until 5 P. M.

When the body is placed in the casket, it will be taken to the City Hall, where it will lie in state in the Governor's Room from noon until 5 P. M.

It will then be escorted back to the ferry and placed on the train for Washington, when the War Department will take charge of it.

The old commander of the First Corps will be buried at the National cemetery with military honors.

TO EMULATE THE SPARROWS.

Mrs. Bishop Would Teach Policemen to Sing Sweet Songs.

It Is Said the Repertoire Only Lacks a Drinking Song.

She wore a cream-colored camel-hair cloth robe, with black hair trimmings and red leather mules, and she was eating green grapes—a pretense for her breakfast.

She admitted that she was interested in "a vocal system of instruction for the policemen, poor fellows!" but refused to talk for publication.

She believed in the moral influence of music and thought that there would be less profanity if the men knew some tuneful songs to sing.

"Singing is good for the lungs and good chorals; I never have a cold when I keep up my music and eat green grapes; the practice and the fruit keep the voice in condition."

"Look at that poor fellow, now, how he is coughing!" indicating a strapping bluecoat over in Madison square, striding along the peaceful walk with the air of a monarch.

"Shall you give your police pupils green grapes with the singing lesson?" "No, don't make me seem ridiculous."

"What system will you use—the do re mi?" "Hardly. Teach by rote as they do in the kindergarten. It's much quicker, but will mean to select good music—old ballads, old hymns, National airs and two and three part songs."

"I don't know whether 'Promp-Be-Be' is on the list or not. 'The Breeze Blow'—'America,' 'The Bonny Blue Flag,' 'Work as You Would Be Served,' 'The Star Spangled Banner,' 'Night is Coming on Lead, Kindly Light,' 'We are hunting for a nation that will give us liberty and a watchman's farwell—something appropriate for solemn occasions.'"

"The details in Mrs. Bishop, over at 13 Madison square, east. She has the largest and best collection of music in the city. See her, and please remember how I do adore publicity."

But the "Inquirer" is not so easily won. Mrs. Van Courtland Bishop, President of the Society for the Promotion of Vocal Culture in Police Circles, who sent a petition to the Police Board a week ago, is the mistress of the handsome residence in Madison square, east, and he is so loudly heard that he also may die.

When the lamp was upset and exploded the blazing oil splattered over the children. Burnett, aged six years, and his brother, aged five, were unable to quench the flames until all had been extinguished three weeks ago.

They were all taken to St. Catherine's Hospital, where their burns were treated. Little Burnett passed away at midnight, and the faithful mother died a few days later.

Schulmann was removed to the home of his brother, at 67 West street. His face and arms were terribly burned, and he has not yet been told of the death of his wife and child.

Schulmann and his wife, in their efforts to save their children, were attracted to the scene of the tragedy by the cries of the children and the mother's screams in the highest terms of the heroism of Schulmann and his wife, in their efforts to save their children.

The mother was very poor, but Schulmann is said to be a very industrious, honest man, and his sad plight excites great sympathy.

RAIN OR SNOW TO-MORROW. Mr. Dunn Says There is Nasty Weather Ahead.

The freeze-up in New York to-day afforded a most welcome relief from the mud and slush which the people have been obliged to wade through for several days.

CONQUEROR'S WINTER CRUISE.

Mr. F. W. Vanderbilt's Yacht to Sail South To-Day.

Her Guests Go Aboard at Brunswick, Ga., for a West Indian Voyage.

Black smoke curling away from a big yellow smokestack several men busily engaged in unloading wagons of meat, vegetables and ice, bristling brass trimmings, painting and varnishing, unrolling carpets and piling up cases of wine, were indications that the steamer yacht Conqueror, owned by Mr. F. W. Vanderbilt, was about to start on a cruise.

The time set for the Conqueror's departure from her moorings at the Erie Bay Dock, Brooklyn, is 6 o'clock this afternoon, but it will probably be to-morrow morning before she steams away.

There is a busy crew at Eighty-sixth street. Sleep embankments are on both sides of the river. Some slight obstruction was on the track, and as the car made the curve it was unable to get on the right side of the track.

Walsh tried to jump off, but he was not quick enough, and went down the declivity with his car.

Many of the friends of Mr. White were talking of another suicide Monday. "Whiskey was feverish. It sold down to 46 3/4, rose to 48 3/4, and reacted to 47. Rumors were again current that the bill of Congress will not be granted."

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

ROLLED DOWN TWENTY FEET.

A Brooklyn Trolley Car Thrown Over an Embankment.

The Motorman Severely Hurt—Other Trolley Accidents.

An unusual trolley accident occurred at Thirtieth avenue and Eighty-sixth street, just outside the Brooklyn city line, at 2 o'clock this morning.

The car was running along at a very rapid rate on Thirtieth avenue, as it completely overturned, dropping to the bottom of the embankment.

The motorman, John Walsh, was severely hurt, and was taken to the hospital.

Other trolley accidents have occurred in the city, but none so serious as the one at Thirtieth avenue.

The car was badly wrecked, but it was not taken fire in the stove, the car did not take fire.

The car was without a passenger. The accident occurred on the line of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

The car was badly wrecked, but it was not taken fire in the stove, the car did not take fire.

The car was without a passenger. The accident occurred on the line of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

The car was badly wrecked, but it was not taken fire in the stove, the car did not take fire.

The car was without a passenger. The accident occurred on the line of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

The car was badly wrecked, but it was not taken fire in the stove, the car did not take fire.

The car was without a passenger. The accident occurred on the line of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

The car was badly wrecked, but it was not taken fire in the stove, the car did not take fire.

The car was without a passenger. The accident occurred on the line of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

The car was badly wrecked, but it was not taken fire in the stove, the car did not take fire.

The car was without a passenger. The accident occurred on the line of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company at 8 o'clock this morning.

EXCITING DAY IN WALL STREET.

Sensational Trading in the Industrial Stocks.

Talk of Another Sugar Squeeze for Monday.

WALL STREET, Saturday, Jan. 22.—The activity in the market was completely overshadowed by the dealings in the general market to-day. The trouble with railroad stocks was that many holders became dissatisfied with their sluggishness, and sold out for the purpose of getting a slice of the profits afforded by the big changes in the industrials.

An idea of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

The stock subsequently dropped to 116 1/2, but again rallied to 118, with unaltered activity, up to the close.

Some of the excitement in the fact that fully 6,000 shares of American Tobacco changed hands at 117 1/2 and 118 during the first five minutes of business.

M'DOUGALL'S PET OYSTERS.

He Feeds Them with a Spoon in Their Dank, Cellar Kennel.

He Says They Get Drunk, Chew Tobacco and Sing and Talk.

plained Mr. McDougall: "They invariably welcome me in that way, with a sort of opening chorus."

By this time the party had reached the oyster. Mr. McDougall had written that the mollusks came wriggling towards him, perhaps for the purpose of eating him, but he was not to be frightened.

At least, Mr. McDougall said he did. The report, however, was suspicious of a big colored man in the next yard.

Mr. McDougall promptly rewarded the man with a dollar, and the mollusk mixture in the pail, and was obliged to serve another one of the same kind.

"Altogether, I have about four bushels of oysters," continued Mr. McDougall, "and I have been feeding them for some time. They have become dearer to me, but in an entirely different way. I am particularly fond of them that I cannot eat them."

Paradoxical, isn't it? You know that an oyster is like some men. Well, he is. You can't appeal to his logic, but you can appeal to his emotions. They have some men's vices, too. See that wrinkled old fellow over there? He is a perfect specimen of a man who has been brought here by accident.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

Mr. McDougall said he had been perched on a rock about that moment when he saw the man who had apparently impelled him to wriggle nearer to it, for he suddenly popped his head over the side of the oyster.

THE SUNDAY PRESS

guarantees to every purchaser $4.00 A DAY

Indemnity for injuries received while working. Gives a $1,000 (Insurance Policy) WITH EVERY COPY.

Those who work in factories or in places where they are used will appreciate this liberal offer.

THE SUNDAY PRESS

will send the MOST POPULAR School Teachers

To the WORLD'S FAIR, and pay all expenses for the 400 names now voted in the contest.

Vote early FOR YOUR FAVORITE.

Then Among Other Features: In War Lies

Europe's a master review of a unique article. A new and original world's salvation. greatest conflict is likely to begin.

How One Man's History Changed a Nation's History.

The Dry Ditch in Which French Honor Drowned.

First of a notable series of letters from a Press correspondent sent to the public.

Wanted—Experienced messengers and boys for city and country work. Apply at No. 15

65 to 65 PER DAY at home selling Lightning

Lighting and plating jewelry, watches, tabernacles, etc. Also the finest jewelry goods as new as any kind of metal with gold, silver or nickel; so expertly made by H. K. Deane & Co., Columbus, O.

Pennyroyal Pills

These tiny capsules are the best for all cases of indigestion, flatulence, biliousness, headache, neuralgia, and all the ailments of the stomach and bowels.

Do you wish to save and get the largest profit on a sale of 100,000? You can do so by one small investment each month. Send for our plan.

THODORE SANDER, 127 N. 7th St., bet. 32nd and 33rd Sts., dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry.

MISCELLANEOUS. DEPARTMENT OF STREET CLEANING, 250 Broadway, N. Y. Terms $1 per week. Call or write.

LOGGERS, SOCIETIES AND MEETINGS. SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS OF THE NASSAU ELECTRIC COMPANY will be held at the company's office, 112 West 4th St., at 8 o'clock Monday, Jan. 30, to elect directors for the ensuing year.

SPORTING. HUDSON COUNTY JOCKEY CLUB.—Races at Hudson County Jockey Club, bet. 32nd and 33rd Sts., dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry.

INSTRUCTION. TENOGRAPHY and typewriting lessons at 816 Broadway, N. Y. Terms $1 per week. Call or write.

FURNITURE. CARPETS and furniture sold nothing down; long credit; large variety. Agents for factories. 342 W. 23rd St.

MISS LE MONDE OUT OF DANGER. Mystery Surrounds the Woman who Took Landman at Newark.

NEWARK, Jan. 22.—Florence Le Monde, aged twenty-two, who swallowed Landman at the Morris and Essex depot last night, will recover, she was better this morning, and the physicians at St. Michael's Hospital said she was out of danger.

Her life is more or less of a mystery, as she had no relatives in Newark, and her antecedents. About six months ago she came from Buffalo and told people that her husband had deserted her in that city.

She left Mrs. Barker's boarding-house two months ago, and was seen by a printer named Hamilton, who cannot now be found.

WILSON AND THE CASINO. Report that the Aronsons Have Offered Him the House.

It was reported on the Rialto this afternoon that the privilege of renting the Casino has been offered to Francis Wilson by the Aronsons.

Wilson is playing in Boston this week.

Old Game; New Victim. Philip McDonald, alias Pat Malloy, of 304 East 100th and Eighth streets, and "Electric Ben" Coburn, of 295 Elizabeth street, were committed at Jefferson Market court, to-day, for selling bogus tickets to the City Hall club's ball, at Asenmacher Hall, to David Kotschinsky, of 741 Broadway, for $10.

Mayor Warner Signs the Pay Roll. JERSEY CITY, Jan. 22.—The pay roll of the employees at the Belleville High Service Water works for October and November and also the pay roll of the men employed at the regular water works for December have been signed by Mayor Warner. The men will probably receive their money next Tuesday.

Mr. Frank Missed Valet and Jewelry. Frank Schroeder, a boyish-looking young man of twenty-seven, of 415 East Seventy-eighth street, was remanded at Yorkville Court today, and further credit on $1,000 worth of jewelry and diamonds from Frank, of 116 West 11th street, who was taken to the City Hall, last. He has been in hiding since.

He Is Not an Ex-Convict. Will you please correct the statement that William Monahan, an ex-convict, who is employed by the Diamond Match company, as it is a mistake? EDWARD THOMPSON, Diamond Match company.

Fell Off a Car, Froze His Leg. William Monahan, an ex-convict, who fell off a Third Avenue car at 100th and Twenty-ninth streets this morning, and broke his leg. He was removed to Harlem Hospital.

WHAT THE DOCTORS SAY. DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liment

Will be found INVALUABLE to persons suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. It is a powerful and reliable remedy for all these ailments.

DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liment

Will be found INVALUABLE to persons suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. It is a powerful and reliable remedy for all these ailments.

DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liment

Will be found INVALUABLE to persons suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. It is a powerful and reliable remedy for all these ailments.

DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liment

Will be found INVALUABLE to persons suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. It is a powerful and reliable remedy for all these ailments.

DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liment

Will be found INVALUABLE to persons suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. It is a powerful and reliable remedy for all these ailments.

DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liment

THE SUNDAY PRESS

guarantees to every purchaser $4.00 A DAY

Indemnity for injuries received while working. Gives a $1,000 (Insurance Policy) WITH EVERY COPY.

Those who work in factories or in places where they are used will appreciate this liberal offer.

THE SUNDAY PRESS

will send the MOST POPULAR School Teachers

To the WORLD'S FAIR, and pay all expenses for the 400 names now voted in the contest.

Vote early FOR YOUR FAVORITE.

Then Among Other Features: In War Lies

Europe's a master review of a unique article. A new and original world's salvation. greatest conflict is likely to begin.

How One Man's History Changed a Nation's History.

The Dry Ditch in Which French Honor Drowned.

First of a notable series of letters from a Press correspondent sent to the public.

Wanted—Experienced messengers and boys for city and country work. Apply at No. 15

65 to 65 PER DAY at home selling Lightning

Lighting and plating jewelry, watches, tabernacles, etc. Also the finest jewelry goods as new as any kind of metal with gold, silver or nickel; so expertly made by H. K. Deane & Co., Columbus, O.

Pennyroyal Pills

These tiny capsules are the best for all cases of indigestion, flatulence, biliousness, headache, neuralgia, and all the ailments of the stomach and bowels.

Do you wish to save and get the largest profit on a sale of 100,000? You can do so by one small investment each month. Send for our plan.

THODORE SANDER, 127 N. 7th St., bet. 32nd and 33rd Sts., dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry.

MISCELLANEOUS. DEPARTMENT OF STREET CLEANING, 250 Broadway, N. Y. Terms $1 per week. Call or write.

LOGGERS, SOCIETIES AND MEETINGS. SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS OF THE NASSAU ELECTRIC COMPANY will be held at the company's office, 112 West 4th St., at 8 o'clock Monday, Jan. 30, to elect directors for the ensuing year.

SPORTING. HUDSON COUNTY JOCKEY CLUB.—Races at Hudson County Jockey Club, bet. 32nd and 33rd Sts., dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry