

THE WORLD'S HISTORICAL EDITION NEXT SUNDAY.

LAST EDITION. FIVE SUFFOCATED. Fatal Fire in a Henry Street Double Tenement This Morning. DUE TO OIL-STOVE EXPLOSION.

All the Children in One Family Killed by the Smoke. THEY WERE LOCKED IN A ROOM. Pitiful Anguish of the Parents Who Lost Their Little Ones.

Five children were suffocated in a $5,000 tenement-house fire at 104 Henry street this morning. Four of the children were one family. These are the dead: BERNSTEIN, ADLER, eleven years. BERNSTEIN, HEIDECHE, nine years. BERNSTEIN, HEYMAN, six years. BERNSTEIN, RACHAEL, six months. ROSEN, FANNIE, seven years. The house is one of the kind known as "double deckers." It is six stories high and sixteen families live in it. Two stories on the ground floor are occupied by P. Jacobs as a bakery and by Jacob Levy as a butcher shop. This morning was the second fatal fire in the house. April 20, 1891, there was a fire on the first floor, in which two children were suffocated.

When the firemen got there some smoke was pouring from the top story windows, and the fire escapes in front of the building were crowded with men, women and children, who were frantic and panic-stricken. The firemen found her body in the bedroom. She had been banded her burden down to the next escape, where she had been sitting when the smoke allowed her to escape. She was carried down a ladder to the street.

fourth story, and soon the fifth and sixth story stairways were ablaze. Some of the people on the top floor escaped by going up to the roof. The firemen found two or three children, and in many cases their parents were at home alone with the children, their fashions being away at work.

Butcher Levy's Good Work. Butcher Levy's good work. He heard the cry of the tenants. The police and firemen rescued a number of women and children down from the fire-escapes and down the stairs to the building.

At the time of the outbreak the children of various families were asleep and there was no time to dress them. Many of them were taken out naked and others with nothing but their undershirts on them. They were taken into neighbors' houses and provided with clothing.

At 7:45 this morning she was engaged in cooking breakfast, when the oil stove which she was using caught fire. She tried to extinguish the flames, and suddenly the blazing stove exploded, setting fire to the apartments. Hastily seizing their sleeping children, Mr. and Mrs. Naylor fled to the street, their cries alarming the other tenants.

When the firemen got there some smoke was pouring from the top story windows, and the fire escapes in front of the building were crowded with men, women and children, who were frantic and panic-stricken. The firemen found her body in the bedroom. She had been banded her burden down to the next escape, where she had been sitting when the smoke allowed her to escape. She was carried down a ladder to the street.

O'BRIENITES IN LINE. The Famous Organization Goes to the Inauguration. Marched to the Depot While Snow Was Falling Upon them.

Mr. Cleveland's Effort of Honor Leaves To-day for Washington. The second section of the 10,000 Pennsylvania Railroad's Washington train this morning carried 350 members of the John J. O'Brien Association, who will march in the inaugural procession to-morrow. They will arrive at the capital at 8 o'clock this evening.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

GAY CAPITAL CITY. Washington Puts On Its Brightest Hues for the Inauguration. CROWDED TO ITS OUTER DOORS. Cleveland Warmly Welcomed—He Calls on Mr. Harrison To-Day.

Weather Prospects, Gloomy in the Morning, Brighten as Noon Comes On. WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Capital City is in the midst of the preliminary hurly-burly of inauguration time. There are no formal ceremonies to-day, but what with trying to see all the city's sights and catch a glimpse at least of all the celebrities gathered here, the great crowds of visitors are kept very busy.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

Washing Puts On Its Brightest Hues for the Inauguration. CROWDED TO ITS OUTER DOORS. Cleveland Warmly Welcomed—He Calls on Mr. Harrison To-Day.

Weather Prospects, Gloomy in the Morning, Brighten as Noon Comes On. WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Capital City is in the midst of the preliminary hurly-burly of inauguration time. There are no formal ceremonies to-day, but what with trying to see all the city's sights and catch a glimpse at least of all the celebrities gathered here, the great crowds of visitors are kept very busy.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

Washing Puts On Its Brightest Hues for the Inauguration. CROWDED TO ITS OUTER DOORS. Cleveland Warmly Welcomed—He Calls on Mr. Harrison To-Day.

Weather Prospects, Gloomy in the Morning, Brighten as Noon Comes On. WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Capital City is in the midst of the preliminary hurly-burly of inauguration time. There are no formal ceremonies to-day, but what with trying to see all the city's sights and catch a glimpse at least of all the celebrities gathered here, the great crowds of visitors are kept very busy.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

Washing Puts On Its Brightest Hues for the Inauguration. CROWDED TO ITS OUTER DOORS. Cleveland Warmly Welcomed—He Calls on Mr. Harrison To-Day.

Weather Prospects, Gloomy in the Morning, Brighten as Noon Comes On. WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Capital City is in the midst of the preliminary hurly-burly of inauguration time. There are no formal ceremonies to-day, but what with trying to see all the city's sights and catch a glimpse at least of all the celebrities gathered here, the great crowds of visitors are kept very busy.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

LAST EDITION. NARONIC NOT SEEN. Ships Arriving To-Day Bring No Tidings of Her. Considered Almost Certain that She Has Foundered.

She is Now 21 Days Out and Nearly 11 Days Overdue. The belief is growing that the White Star line steamer Naronic has gone to the bottom. She is now eleven days overdue, and it is almost twenty-one days since she steamed out of Liverpool.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

At the City Hall the procession drew up in line and was photographed on the steps of the building. The O'Brienites were, however, omitted from the picture. Each man wore the regulation silk hat, a black divisional frock overcoat and carried a cane containing a silk flag. The trip, including the outfit, costs each man $50.

"SUNSET." EIGHT YEARS FOR COL. HAYES. GOT TREADWELL AGAIN. EACH STOLE A BARREL. BOUGHT BY MANHATTAN. THIRTEEN LIVES PROBABLY LOST. BOY CAUGHT STEALING COAL. BUXOM MIDWIFE SEEKS SEPARATION. DON'T LOSE MERRYBY.

Col. William B. Hayes, convicted for perjury after a long trial, and whose name was said to have been struck from the list of living persons, was sentenced to a term of eight years in Sing Sing Prison this morning by Judge Martine in Part III of General Session.

John Perry Treadwell, an alleged green goods operator and a "fin-jan" expert, was arrested this morning by an agent of the Customs Society on a bench warrant. He was brought before United States Commissioner Shields and remanded to Ludlow street jail to stand trial on an old charge of sending green goods circulars through the mails.

Edward Nolan, of 410 East Twenty-third street, was arrested today while riding a barrel of sugar, valued at $18, on the sidewalk at Thirtieth street and Third avenue. Nolan admitted that he had stolen the sugar at 125 East Thirtieth street, in Essex Market, on the 21st inst.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.

John Kelly, aged twenty-two, of 439 West Thirtieth street, was a prisoner in the Jefferson County Jail, where he was charged with stealing a barrel of sugar from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night. Justice O'Donnell said that it would cost the county $400 to hold the boy for standing trial on a charge of stealing coal from the Jersey Central Railroad cars last night.