

SERVIA'S REAL KING.

Alexander Proclaims His Majesty at a Midnight Festal Board.

Regents and Ministers Under Guard in the Palace at Belgrade.

17-Year-Old Ruler Takes the Reins and Forms a Cabinet.

BELGRADE, April 14.—A bloodless coup d'etat was effected here last night, and King Alexander I., the youthful ruler of Serbia, who has heretofore governed the country through Regents, today rules in his own name.

ALEXANDER OF SERBIA.

A grand banquet was given at the palace last night to celebrate King Alexander's success in passing the examination prescribed for Serbian students, M. Ristic and Gen. Belmarkovic, the Regents, and all the Ministers of State were present, as were also a large number of the friends and supporters of the Regents.

For many months past the situation in Serbia has been critical, owing to the abuse of their power by the Regents and State officials. Affairs had become so bad that the King determined to take the reins in his own hands.

In accordance with this determination plans were secretly laid by means of which the Regents and the Ministry would be ousted without opportunity for opposition.

Unexpectantly the Regents and Ministers attended the banquet, and while they were enjoying themselves at the palace, detachments of soldiers and bodies of police took possession of the Ministers' houses and occupied the Government buildings.

At midnight, while the festivities were still in progress, King Alexander proclaimed that he had obtained his majority and that he had assumed, with the exception of the government of the country.

As a matter of fact, the King, according to the Serbian law, does not become of age until he is eighteen years old, and as he was born Aug. 14, 1876, he will not be eighteen for considerably over a year.

When the deposed regents and ministers heard the proclamation they were dumfounded. The King and his advisers acted with great promptitude, and soldiers, who were in waiting, at once placed the regents and ministers under arrest and they were sent to rooms which had been prepared for them in the palace, where they are under guard.

The Serbian army is loyal to the King. Had it not been the coup d'etat would not have been possible. After the issuing of the proclamation and long before daybreak the troops proceeded to the barracks where the troops were under arms, and were received with joyous acclamations and many expressions of loyalty.

The proclamation, which will be issued everywhere in the country to-day, bears the King's signature. In it Alexander declares that the Constitution has been lately in sore jeopardy, the rights of citizens imperilled, and the constitutional position of Parliament so abused that the King is compelled to end the unhappy condition of affairs.

He, therefore, declares that he has come of age, and has assumed kingly power. Henceforth, the proclamation adds, the Serbian constitution acquires its full significance. The regents have been deposed, the Cabinet dismissed, and a new Ministry appointed. M. Dokitch is the new Prime Minister.

This morning the King issued a decree dissolving the skupshtina, and writes for new elections have been sent to the various constituencies. The new elections will be held on April 30.

At 11 o'clock this morning the King, accompanied by many military and State officials, went to the Cathedral, where a "Te Deum" was sung in celebration of His Majesty's accession to the throne.

As the royal party, were proceeding to the Cathedral a salute of 101 guns was fired from the ramparts.

So far the act of Alexander appears to meet with the approval of the people. The shops are closed in honor of the event and the streets are thronged with people discussing the situation. Upon the conclusion of the religious services at the Cathedral King Alexander returned to the palace. The people on the streets gave him an ovation, and many of them followed him to the palace.

Here they cheered until His Majesty appeared upon a balcony and thanked them for their demonstrations of loyalty. He promised to guard the Constitution and to secure to the people the full enjoyment of their rights.

VIENNA, April 14.—The receipt of the intelligence that King Alexander, of Serbia, had deposed the regents and taken upon himself the full reins of a king caused a sharp fall in Serbian and other European securities on the Bourse here.

JESSE SELIGMAN INDIGNANT.

His Resignation Sent to the Union League Club.

The Rejection of His Son May Lead to Other Withdrawals.

17-Year-Old Ruler Takes the Reins and Forms a Cabinet.

The rejection of Theodore Seligman, son of Jesse Seligman, the banker, by the Union League Club at its meeting last night has caused much talk in club circles.

Among the Union Leaguers themselves the incident has created a great deal of ill-feeling, especially as it has resulted in the resignation of Jesse Seligman from the Club, of which he has been a member since 1908 and for several years was its Vice-President.

The young man, who is well known and has his office in the Mills Building. He is a member of the Groller, Lawyers, Lotus and Harvard clubs, and so on has raised any objection against him personally.

But from the time that he was proposed as a member a certain clique in the Union League Club opposed him because of his rejection of the matter, was finally overcome and then the recommendation came before the Club. It requires a two-thirds vote to elect a member favorably reported upon, and in the present case a larger number of members voted against than at any previous meeting.

In general the habitual frequenters of the Club are in favor of the candidate, but a number about two hundred. Bunker Seligman when the result was announced immediately declared that he would resign from the Club, but his verbal resignation was not accepted.

Another prominent member of the Club said in an "Evening World" reporter: "I believe Mr. Seligman has been a worthy member of the club, and that they made a mistake in rejecting him."

It is the first time in years that a candidate who has been favorably reported upon has been rejected. The last man who suffered this fate was Russell Sage.

LIKE TO CIVIL WAR.

Belgium's Great Strikes Assume More Threatening Phases.

Several Towns Practically in Possession of the Strikers.

Troops Hurdled Despatched—The Government Seriously Alarmed.

BRUXELLES, April 14.—Notwithstanding the precautions of the authorities, and the decree of the Burgomaster prohibiting parades, disorderly demonstrations were renewed in Brussels to-day.

The strikers who have left work as a protest against the action of the Chamber of Representatives in rejecting universal suffrage, paraded the streets, and twice came into conflict with the police. The strikers threw stones and bottles at the police, and resisted the orders to disperse. Several persons were hurt.

The strike is gaining ground in the district of Mons, in the province of Hainaut, and more trouble is fermenting there. A battalion of infantry has been sent to the town of Dour, nine miles from Mons, where there is a considerable population of workers in coal and iron, who are showing a disposition to violence.

At Quaregnon, four miles from Mons, the strikers are again becoming violent and are marching through the streets, armed with spades and picks and have attacked and plundered a number of houses and wrecked the works of a colliery.

At the latest advices they were threatening to cut the telegraph wires, and thus prevent the news of their depredations and outrages from being carried at once to Brussels. The greatest anxiety prevailed, and the Government is making active preparations to meet the crisis.

ACCUSED OF A BIG ROBBERY.

Trying to Trace $2,800 Worth of Gold Watch Cases.

Inspector McLaughlin and Detectives McCaffery and Robinson, of the Central Office, have been quietly working on a robbery of gold watch cases, which occurred on Nov. 21 last.

They have now arrested three men named Edward O'Brien, a saloon-keeper at 231 East Twenty-ninth street; William McCarthy, an engineer at the Morton House, and Owen Harney, a wood polisher at 204 East Twenty-ninth st.

Two cases containing $2,800 worth of gold watch cases were stolen on Nov. 21 by the two men named and by Owen Harney at the factory, at Sag Harbor, to the New York Arm at 41 Maiden lane. The boxes arrived at the depot in Long Island City at 5 o'clock that evening, but at 8 o'clock the next morning they were missing.

They were missing at 8 o'clock the next morning. The record to see if they were thereabouts, and the detectives were baffled for a long time. Inspector McLaughlin heard that a gold watch case was stolen at O'Brien's saloon on the 8th of Patrick's Day last, who died in the hospital on April 10, and was buried in a pauper's grave.

The officers examined the watch and found it a simple description of powders which she made up herself. O'Brien said he got it from Owen Harney, who is a saloon-keeper at 231 East Twenty-ninth street. When Harney was arrested he said he got half a dozen cases from McCarthy, who he got them from a man named James Conlon, whom the police so far have been unable to find.

Conlon was arrested on April 4 and was in custody of Judge White held the men in $300 each for examination on Tuesday next at the Tombs court this morning.

Dr. Cleveland W. Goff, of 55 West Ninety-sixth street, and Dr. James Cook, of 36 West Twenty-ninth street, were held for examination in Jefferson Market Court this morning on a charge of grand larceny.

The complainant was Mrs. Mary A. Kien, proprietress of a boarding-house at 45 West Twenty-fifth street, she alleges that the two men named and John D. Kogawski, who is now in Nebraska, entered into a conspiracy by which she was defrauded out of $2,000. The men were held for examination on April 4 and were in custody of Judge White held the men in $300 each for examination on Tuesday next at the Tombs court this morning.

Several bystanders separated the contestants, and the way they hurried out in the street made it appear that they were glad to get away.

SOME HINTS ON SONGWRITING.

James Thornton Tells of His Success in That Line.

Bettina Girard to Appear in Adonis—Other Stage News.

James Thornton, of comic-song reputation, has just issued his two latest, "But That Was Long Ago" and "Before Columbus Landed Here." Said Mr. Thornton yesterday: "Writing comic songs is not as easy as people suppose. During the past fourteen weeks I have been at Koster & Bial's, and my contract called for two new songs every week. Well, I fulfilled the contract, because when I feared that I couldn't compose a song I delivered a monologue, which answered the purpose. My most successful song? Well, it was 'My Sweetheart's Man in the Moon.' I wrote it in desperation. I was dead broke, and standing on Broadway one night I looked up and saw the moon shining in the sky. The lyrics of the song immediately struck me. I took a brisk walk up to Central Park, and by the time I returned I had the air. I took the song to a publisher and offered it to him for $5. He refused. Later I sold it for $25 and a royalty.

In four months my royalties from 'The Man in the Moon' and seven other songs were amounting to $10,000. The Man Who Wrote Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay' was also a financial success. The great secret of writing a successful comic song is to get a very simple air—one that unimpaired by the words of the song be as catchy as possible. Look at the success of 'My Sweetheart's Man in the Moon.' It was due simply to the fact that his song is childishly simple and easy to remember.

Bumors on the subject of Dimply's new theatre in London are numerous. Some say that it cannot possibly be ready before September. Others declare that it will certainly open in June. Mr. Dimply announces that his company will sail from New York June 19 to open 'The Merry Handmaid' at once in the great metropolis of the world.

Miss Bettina Girard will make her appearance in 'Adonis' at the Casino Monday night, playing the part of Aitor, in place of Miss Helen Tomford, who goes to Chicago.

The plot of Sims and Raleigh's new play, 'Uncle John,' just produced in London, sounds somewhat trite. It is a Yorkshire contractor, who has a virago-like sister and a pretty niece. He is chummy with a girl who is really very close. Apparently he was saved by Mr. Gardemudde's indulgence. He is a simpleton, but he will handle the 'cauligs' this afternoon.

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES.

The N. Y. A. C. Nine Plays the Giants This Afternoon.

The Results of the Twenty-second Regiment Games.

In this column the other day the suggestion was promulgated that if the New York Athletic Club could secure the services of Higher Westcott as pitcher, Doc Curry as catcher and 'Brook' Carey in the infield they would have a team that could certainly force any of our professional nines to strike a mighty lively gait. Well, the Winged-Foot Association has secured the above-named trio, but it is for one game only. Westcott, Carey and Curry will play against the Giants this afternoon at the Polo Grounds, where the New York Athletic Club's contingent will stick up against Johnny Ward's contingent. The big Athletic Club on Fifty-ninth street did make a hustle to capture the three players already referred to, and they would undoubtedly have agreed to play for the N. Y. A. C. if they hadn't already made other arrangements. Westcott, Carey and Curry had picked themselves a play for the New Jersey Athletic Club for this season. So the winged-foot people have lost them, and interest in the amateur baseball championships of these parts will be transferred in a great measure to New Jersey and Staten Island. The real contest will now be between the Staten Island Baseball Club, the cricket club of Staten Island and the Hawks of New Jersey and the New Jersey Athletic Club. When the schedule now arranged between these four clubs is completed, say about Aug. 10, Westcott, Carey and Curry will be at liberty to play wherever they see fit. The N. Y. A. C. will then have an excellent opportunity of putting the trio on its staff. Yesterday morning Mr. J. J. 'Tooker' was 'cherry-barked' by those of 'Huyler,' 'Doc' and 'Brook' and their presence in any of our professional nines is a thing to be avoided. Eddie Jaicott gave the Athletic Club a pretty good line on Westcott, Huyler, a couple of weeks ago, he never saw Huyler's signature to an agreement that it would be with any professional baseball club that he would make his debut.

Young Hollis H. Hunsweil, of Boston, who is now in New York, is a victim of the winged-foot. He is a victim of the winged-foot. He is a victim of the winged-foot.
