

Every advertisement pertaining to Houses, Flats or Apartments in the Morning World is repeated in the Evening World.

PRICE ONE CENT.

Saturday and Sunday

LAST EDITION EIGHT PAGES.

EULALIA'S EXCURSION

The Infanta Shown the Beauty of the American Rhine.

Her Trip to West Point on the Steamer Monmouth.

Mayor Gilroy Is Her Personal Escort To-Day.

There was no postponement of the Infanta Eulalia's trip to West Point today. Like Gen. Horace Porter, of the Committee of One Hundred, she was confident that the fair weather predictions in the New York newspapers, of which she has become a constant reader, would prove correct.

The leader of the Saragossa band suggested breakfast to Gen. Porter, but that gentleman, fearing a possible delay, insisted that the band hurry down to the foot of East Thirty-fourth street, where the fleet Sandy Hook boat Monmouth was awaiting the royal party, with breakfast enough on board for any and every one, to say nothing of other little incidentals that go to make up the complete success of a trip up the Rhine of America.

No PORTLY DISPLAY. There was another motive for this, Gen. Porter desired to eliminate all "circus features," as he called them, from the procession to the steamer, and in this he was entirely successful.

It is doubtful if the Princess has appeared in public per se, and she was so little attracted by the pomp and display during her visit to New York as grating her to-day, and if appearances count for anything, she seemed to enjoy the change.

Not that she greeted any less heartily or enthusiastically by the crowd who saw her depart, but there was very little of the pomp and display about it, and after the trying and tiring experiences of last week, the royal couple must have experienced a sense of plebeian relief.

The feature of this morning's events was the innocuous resuscitation of the Commander Charles H. Davis, U. S. N., retired, by the President of the United States, in attendance upon H. R. 11, 62.

In the words of the Imperial (military) song, slightly altered, "For nearly every minute of his life he has been in the line of duty." Personally, he was in evidence about the hotel corridors, but that was all.

Men, Porter was the ruling spirit of the day. To him came every one, the police, the Signal Corps, the Signal Corps, for orders.

THE INFANTA'S ESCORT. Rejoice! Chamberlain Joseph, Duquesne, Cornelius N. Bliss, Gen. James N. Van Hook, Walter Stanton and Francis Lynde Stant, of the Committee of One Hundred, were at the hotel to escort the royal party to the Monmouth.

Mayor Thomas F. Gilroy arrived at the hotel at 9:30, and after a short conversation with Gen. Porter, he was named as the Princess's escort for the day.

At 8:50 there was quite a commotion in the hotel corridors and fifty women, some hotel guests and some who were not, hustled into chairs along the corridor leading to the Fifty-ninth street entrance.

At 9:55 the Infanta, on the arm of Gen. Porter, descended the stairs, and her suite, preceded by the carriage drawn by two sleek roans.

The Princess wore a close-fitting, navy blue dress, with a red and white striped bodice, with red and white stripes on the sleeves.

She appeared in splendid health, and smiled and bowed pleasantly to the ladies who waved their handkerchiefs and the gentlemen who raised their hats.

In the carriage with the Infanta rode Gen. Porter, the Prince and the Duke of Tamames, Her suite and members of the Committee followed.

The Evening Edition

PRICE ONE CENT.

CHOLERA IN HAMBURG.

One Death Reported to Health Officer Jenkins To-Day.

Deaths of a Choleraic Nature Reported in Franco.

What is Said of the News in This City.

Dr. Nash, the representative of Dr. Jenkins to-day, reports by cable this morning that there was one death from cholera in that city yesterday.

This was supplemented later by a press report from a good source to the effect that the committee on the Prevention and Detection of Cholera constituted by the Senate of Hamburg declared officially today that a clerk, who was supposed to have been suffering the previous week from diarrhoea, died on Saturday last from Asiatic cholera.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

The floral decorations were beautiful. The interior of the steamer was a mass of flowers and foliage.

The trim Monmouth was furnished up inside and out, and was fit to be the state barge of the kings of the earth.

49 Women Convicts

THE NICARAGUA PROTECTORATE.

Hasn't Uncle Sam Got One More Protectorate than He Wants Already?

Foreign News of the Day. Demonstrations in Spain Against the Government Tax Bill.

The Dowager Duchess of Sutherland Finishes Her Term in Jail.

MADRID, May 29.—The Government is quite uneasy regarding the agitation that is being carried on in the Province of Navarre, in Southeastern Spain, against the Government's taxation estimates in the new budget and against the Local Administration bill.

Yesterday in Pamplona, the capital of the Province, and in Tudela, popular manifestations of dissatisfaction and discontent were made, and the demonstrations became quite noisy.

The malcontents were arranged to make manifestations against the Government's taxation estimates in the new budget and against the Local Administration bill.

Among the savings effected in the budget is one item of 1,000,000 pesetas, which sum the Queen Regent voluntarily gave up from her civil list.

DR. BRIGGS'S TRIAL BEGINS. The Defendant Will Have Seven Hours to Present His Case.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—At 10:05 A. M. the trial of Dr. Briggs began in the Presbyterian General Assembly. Four and a half hours were allowed the appellants to open and close the case.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Dr. Briggs was allowed seven hours to reply and the case was closed. The appeal was taken, and was assigned two hours to be used in ten-minute speeches.

Every Single Day

DOUBLE SERVICE.

House and Home Days

Every advertisement pertaining to Houses, Flats or Apartments in the Morning World is repeated in the Evening World.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION EIGHT PAGES.

COOPER ON THE STAND

Investigating Committee Tackles the Appraisers' Stores.

Facts in Connection with the Suspension of Wiswell.

Discrimination Shown in the Valuation of Imported Goods.

As was announced last week, the Fairchild Investigating Committee, which is going to inquire into the charges of fraud and corruption which have been made against various departments of the customs service at this port, began its public sessions this morning at the Barge Office.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild and ex-Collector Daniel Magone who are thoroughly familiar with the operations of the departments will have the assistance of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Spaulding, who called on the committee in Washington yesterday, and it is probable also that Assistant Secretary Hamlin will have been hand in glove with the Commission in its work in the Appraisers' Department, the first to be investigated.

The Committee room was opened at 10 o'clock this morning on the arrival of "Committee" cars from the Post-Office Building, and the members of the committee, including Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Magone, Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Hamlin, Mr. Dunn and Wallace Macfarlane, and reporters were admitted for the first time.

Appraiser Marvella W. Cooper arrived about 10:30 and greeted the Commission members personally. He carried under his arm a large bundle of books and papers, and his appearance was not at all that of a man at all worried or disturbed over the prospect of the ordeal to which he was to be subjected.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild, who is Chairman of the Commission, did not arrive until nearly 11 o'clock, and he was followed by another delay, and Appraiser Cooper was requested to take a seat at the table. It was not until after 11 o'clock that the Commission members finished their consultations with the members of the Appraisers' Department, the first to be investigated.

Mr. Fairchild announced that before taking up the general methods of the customs service, the source of the charges would be disposed of various charges made by the J. R. Simon & Co. and asked the Appraiser to explain the charges in regard to those charges.

I have no information whatever in regard to the source of the charges, replied the Appraiser, "but I am familiar with the facts upon which they were based."

Mr. Macfarlane came in at this point and took the examination of the witness.

Mr. Cooper said the charges affected two officials of the Appraisers' Stores, Mr. Macfarlane and Mr. E. J. Wiswell, who was in the silk goods department, and had special charge of the goods of the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co.

I had been receiving complaints against Wiswell for some time previous to his suspension, and those complaints came from various sources, and in order to ascertain their merits, I had examined them carefully to see if they were justified.

These invoices extended from April 1, 1913, to the present time, and were in the hands of the Appraiser, J. R. Simon & Co., and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co.

The Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods.

In one case Simon & Co.'s goods were valued at $100,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000.

Appraiser Cooper said that after ascertaining these facts he became convinced that the discriminations against the Japanese goods were not justified, and he had voluntarily advanced some of the Japanese goods to the Appraiser, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000.

All the undervaluations for which Wiswell was suspended occurred prior to June 20, 1913.

Commissioner Macfarlane asked the Appraiser to explain the source of the charges, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods.

In answer to Mr. Magone's inquiry in regard to the source of the charges, the Appraiser said that he had personally examined, and of which he had made a memorandum, and after the removal of Wiswell and up to the present time, the Appraiser has not been able to collect the charges, and the Appraiser has not been able to collect the charges, and the Appraiser has not been able to collect the charges.

As was announced last week, the Fairchild Investigating Committee, which is going to inquire into the charges of fraud and corruption which have been made against various departments of the customs service at this port, began its public sessions this morning at the Barge Office.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild and ex-Collector Daniel Magone who are thoroughly familiar with the operations of the departments will have the assistance of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Spaulding, who called on the committee in Washington yesterday, and it is probable also that Assistant Secretary Hamlin will have been hand in glove with the Commission in its work in the Appraisers' Department, the first to be investigated.

The Committee room was opened at 10 o'clock this morning on the arrival of "Committee" cars from the Post-Office Building, and the members of the committee, including Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Magone, Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Hamlin, Mr. Dunn and Wallace Macfarlane, and reporters were admitted for the first time.

Every Single Day

DOUBLE SERVICE.

House and Home Days

Every advertisement pertaining to Houses, Flats or Apartments in the Morning World is repeated in the Evening World.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION EIGHT PAGES.

COOPER ON THE STAND

Investigating Committee Tackles the Appraisers' Stores.

Facts in Connection with the Suspension of Wiswell.

Discrimination Shown in the Valuation of Imported Goods.

As was announced last week, the Fairchild Investigating Committee, which is going to inquire into the charges of fraud and corruption which have been made against various departments of the customs service at this port, began its public sessions this morning at the Barge Office.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild and ex-Collector Daniel Magone who are thoroughly familiar with the operations of the departments will have the assistance of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Spaulding, who called on the committee in Washington yesterday, and it is probable also that Assistant Secretary Hamlin will have been hand in glove with the Commission in its work in the Appraisers' Department, the first to be investigated.

The Committee room was opened at 10 o'clock this morning on the arrival of "Committee" cars from the Post-Office Building, and the members of the committee, including Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Magone, Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Hamlin, Mr. Dunn and Wallace Macfarlane, and reporters were admitted for the first time.

Appraiser Marvella W. Cooper arrived about 10:30 and greeted the Commission members personally. He carried under his arm a large bundle of books and papers, and his appearance was not at all that of a man at all worried or disturbed over the prospect of the ordeal to which he was to be subjected.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild, who is Chairman of the Commission, did not arrive until nearly 11 o'clock, and he was followed by another delay, and Appraiser Cooper was requested to take a seat at the table. It was not until after 11 o'clock that the Commission members finished their consultations with the members of the Appraisers' Department, the first to be investigated.

Mr. Fairchild announced that before taking up the general methods of the customs service, the source of the charges would be disposed of various charges made by the J. R. Simon & Co. and asked the Appraiser to explain the charges in regard to those charges.

I have no information whatever in regard to the source of the charges, replied the Appraiser, "but I am familiar with the facts upon which they were based."

Mr. Macfarlane came in at this point and took the examination of the witness.

Mr. Cooper said the charges affected two officials of the Appraisers' Stores, Mr. Macfarlane and Mr. E. J. Wiswell, who was in the silk goods department, and had special charge of the goods of the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co.

I had been receiving complaints against Wiswell for some time previous to his suspension, and those complaints came from various sources, and in order to ascertain their merits, I had examined them carefully to see if they were justified.

These invoices extended from April 1, 1913, to the present time, and were in the hands of the Appraiser, J. R. Simon & Co., and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co.

The Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods.

In one case Simon & Co.'s goods were valued at $100,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000.

Appraiser Cooper said that after ascertaining these facts he became convinced that the discriminations against the Japanese goods were not justified, and he had voluntarily advanced some of the Japanese goods to the Appraiser, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000, and the Japanese firm of J. R. Simon & Co. was valued at $50,000.

All the undervaluations for which Wiswell was suspended occurred prior to June 20, 1913.

Commissioner Macfarlane asked the Appraiser to explain the source of the charges, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods, and the Appraiser gave a long list of figures, showing the discriminations against the Japanese goods.

In answer to Mr. Magone's inquiry in regard to the source of the charges, the Appraiser said that he had personally examined, and of which he had made a memorandum, and after the removal of Wiswell and up to the present time, the Appraiser has not been able to collect the charges, and the Appraiser has not been able to collect the charges, and the Appraiser has not been able to collect the charges.

As was announced last week, the Fairchild Investigating Committee, which is going to inquire into the charges of fraud and corruption which have been made against various departments of the customs service at this port, began its public sessions this morning at the Barge Office.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild and ex-Collector Daniel Magone who are thoroughly familiar with the operations of the departments will have the assistance of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Spaulding, who called on the committee in Washington yesterday, and it is probable also that Assistant Secretary Hamlin will have been hand in glove with the Commission in its work in the Appraisers' Department, the first to be investigated.

The Committee room was opened at 10 o'clock this morning on the arrival of "Committee" cars from the Post-Office Building, and the members of the committee, including Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Magone, Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Hamlin, Mr. Dunn and Wallace Macfarlane, and reporters were admitted for the first time.

Hasn't Uncle Sam Got One More Protectorate than He Wants Already?

DOCTOR CALLED FOR CASH.

Clear's Slayer Was Badly Beaten the Night of the Shooting.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 29.—Patrick Cash, the Captain of Police of Williamsburgh, who shot and killed James Cleary on Friday night, is in the County Jail suffering from the effects of the beating he received on Friday night.

He claims James Cleary hit him on the head with a brick, and he was beaten by a crowd of Cleary's friends. The doctor called for Cash's services to examine the prisoner.

He is in a bad condition mentally, and he will require the services of a physician's attention as he is suffering from a severe headache.

There were two women in the middle of the street when the shooting took place. They were Mrs. Helene Dietrich, convicted last week of arson, and Mrs. Mary Ann, who was convicted of larceny from a man.

They were brought up from the Tombs by the police, and they were held for twenty and thirty-two months respectively.

One of the women laughed, some wept and some did both hysterically. But those from Blackwell's Island dried their eyes when the Evening World reporter questioned them and said "Oh, no, sir; we are not sorry to get away from the island. God knows that we are better off here than we were in the Tombs."

They were brought up from the Tombs by the police, and they were held for twenty and thirty-two months respectively.

One of the women laughed, some wept and some did both hysterically. But those from Blackwell's Island dried their eyes when the Evening World reporter questioned them and said "Oh, no, sir; we are not sorry to get away from the island. God knows that we are better off here than we were in the Tombs."

They were brought up from the Tombs by the police, and they were held for twenty and thirty-two months respectively.

One of the women laughed, some wept and some did both hysterically. But those from Blackwell's Island dried their eyes when the Evening World reporter questioned them and said "Oh, no, sir; we are not sorry to get away from the island. God knows that we are better off here than we were in the Tombs."

They were brought up from the Tombs by the police, and they were held for twenty and thirty-two months respectively.

One of the women laughed, some wept and some did both hysterically. But those from Blackwell's Island dried their eyes when the Evening World reporter questioned them and said "Oh, no, sir; we are not sorry to get away from the island. God knows that we are better off here than we were in the Tombs."

They were brought up from the Tombs by the police, and they were held for twenty and thirty-two months respectively.

One of the women laughed, some wept and some did both hysterically. But those from Blackwell's Island dried their eyes when the Evening World reporter questioned them and said "Oh, no, sir; we are not sorry to get away from the island. God knows that we are better off here than we were in the Tombs."

They were brought up from the Tombs by the police, and they were held for twenty and thirty-two months respectively.

One of the women laughed, some wept and some did both hysterically. But those from Blackwell's Island dried their eyes when the Evening World reporter questioned them and said "Oh, no, sir; we are not sorry to get away from the island. God knows that we are better off here than we were in the Tombs."

CAR SPRINGS IN A FIRE.

A Newark Company Will Lose About $50,000.

NEWARK, N. J., May 29.—The loss of the National Car Spring Company, which was burned last night, is about $50,000. The works were part of the plant of the Atha & Langworthy Company, the cause of the fire has not yet been learned.

The chief loss is to the stock and machinery. There was a large stock on hand, and it was agreed by purchasers to take all the spring steel that the company could turn out. They defaulted in this and the goods were stored.

About 100 men are out of employment in consequence of the fire.

Friedel Shot Him in the Leg. Justice Watson, in the Ewen Street Court, Williamsburg, to-day issued a warrant for the arrest of John Friedel, of 208 Scholtes street. Yesterday morning Friedel, while returning to his home, was struck in his face by a bullet fired from a revolver.

The bullet entered his forehead, and he was taken to the hospital. He is now recovering from his wounds.

Five Women Arrested and Let Go. Lizette Hauson and four other inmates of the house at 40 Cherry street were arrested today on the complaint of John Harrington, of 40 Cherry street, who said he had been watching and chain in the place.

The women were released after a short hearing. They were charged with disorderly conduct.

Belief for Watch Stealing. James McVeety, of 187 Kent avenue, Williamsburg, was held in the Ewen Street Court today on a charge of grand larceny preferred by William Zimmerman, of 188 Melksham street.

McVeety was charged with stealing a watch worth $100. He was held for trial.

Best Corner Downtown.

Opposite Herald Office. Opposite Post-Office. Opposite Astor House. Opposite St. Paul's.

To lease, from 10 to 30 years, building at northeast corner of Ann Street and Park Row; 40 feet on Park Row; 60 feet on Ann Street. Possession at once. Address: D. Box 343, World Office.

Advertisement for a building site at the corner of Ann Street and Park Row.

Advertisement for a building site at the corner of Ann Street and Park Row.

Advertisement for a building site at the corner of Ann Street and Park Row.

Advertisement for a building site at the corner of Ann Street and Park Row.