

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Tammany, Lamplighter and Banquet Would Make a Great Race.

SUBURBAN BUT WEEK AWAY.

All Efforts to Keep News from Guttenburg Bookies Seem Unavailing.

The Suburban Handicap will be run over the Sheepshead Bay course one week from to-morrow. The present indications are that it will be one of the best contested events of the season.

The wire which supplied Western pool-rooms with information on the Westchester races was ordered from the Morris Park grounds on Saturday. It was believed that information on the races was received by means of a wire from a roundabout way from Western cities.

The bay yearling filly by Himyar out of Maggie Grey, and therefore, a full sister to Dominio, was sold for $10,000 at Tattersall's yesterday morning.

Jockey Jordan, who was fined $1,000 by Starter James McLaughlin at St. Louis, paid the fine to the treasury of the club on Saturday.

His Highness has gone lame and will start in the Suburban.

Lepanto's victory in the handicap at Guttenburg on Saturday was a popular one, and the public placing their money on him as though it were all over. At the last moment the bookies called to the effect that the horse was lame, and the crowd on the outside and got the decision by a head.

M. J. Daly's new acquisition, Nockbarren, was touted after the race as being in the mile race Saturday. He won, but to Suedek's surprise, he was not in the race.

The start in the handicap at Guttenburg was as nearly perfect as can be imagined. The horses all broke in less than a minute after they were in the post, and it was utterly impossible at first to tell who was in front.

President Vanhaum and Jackie Field were the contestants in a spirited little game of football in a park in the city over Saturday. Friends interfered, however, and the game was abandoned, and maybe this interference was done by Jackie, as the big President had blood in his eye.

SONTAG MORTALLY WOUNDED.

The Notorious Train Robber Taken Into Visalia a Captive.

VISALIA, Cal., June 12.—John Sontag, one of the notorious train bandits, was brought to this city at 10.30 this morning. He is mortally wounded.

It was he, and not Chris Evans, his companion, who was wounded in last night's battle. Evans made his escape into the mountains.

Details of the fight with officers, in which Sontag was wounded, are to be found on the last page of "The Evening World."

Deck-Band Worth Drowned. Charles Worth, aged twenty-three, residing on Broadway, Brooklyn, a deck-hand on the ferry-boat Jay Gould, fell overboard from the boat at Erie pier No. 6, Jersey City, last afternoon and was drowned.

GUARD FOR CHOLERA.

Strenuous Efforts to Keep the Plague from This Country.

Steamship Lines Will Discriminate Against Certain Classes.

Health Precautions in Hamburg and Elsewhere.

The consensus of opinion among shipping men in this city engaged in the trans-Atlantic passenger carrying trade seems to be that America, or at least that part of it constituting the United States, will be spared from a visitation of Asiatic cholera this Summer.

These opinions are not based so much on the healthy conditions existing in the countries in Europe that are likely to be affected by cholera, as to the extraordinary sanitary precautions which have been adopted by the big steamship lines and the determination to carry none but desirable immigrants.

The English and American lines are a unit in prohibiting passengers from the Continent travelling on their steamers. On the other hand, the Continental lines have gone to great expense in building barracks and providing fumigating apparatus where passengers may be detained and their personal property disinfected.

At Hamburg, from where the cholera came to this port last year, the greatest precautions have been adopted. Two doctors of the Marine Hospital are stationed there, and the Hamburg-American Packet line maintains their health in the most perfect manner.

"Our orders are very strict to issue no passengers from Russia or Poland or certain parts of Siberia. The cases which have appeared on the Continent are not what we think are anything more than sporadic."

"When we resumed business this year," he said, "we put on three vessels. We found, however, that the only class of passengers we could get to travel on the Arizona, a slow boat, was undesirable, so we took only those who will come from the State of Hamburg. Then, again, the German railways will not carry this class of passengers."

"There was a case of cholera in Hamburg in April, but it was entirely sporadic and the disease has not since appeared in the city. The people no longer drink the water of the Elbe, but have a new water system in working order since Spring."

We found, however, that the only class of passengers we could get to travel on the Arizona, a slow boat, was undesirable, so we took only those who will come from the State of Hamburg. Then, again, the German railways will not carry this class of passengers."

"We have also a fumigating apparatus at Bremen, on which the Marine Hospital doctors have spoken in the highest terms. We bar no one who is in good health, but under any circumstances will be Russian or Polish immigrants or those from sections where cholera is known to exist."

Mr. Lederer, the passenger agent of the Red Star line, said his company discriminated against no class of passengers unless they come from cholera infested areas lacking every precaution," he said, "and our record has always been clean and our ships are the best in the world."

PARIS, June 12.—Nine deaths from a disease of a cholera nature occurred yesterday at Alsas, Department of Gard, Southern France.

Ex-Minister Grant Starts for Home. VIENNA, June 12.—Frederick B. Grant, ex-American Minister, who has been succeeded by Bartlett Trippe, left this city last evening for his home in the United States. Many of the diplomats were at the railway station to bid him farewell.

A Three-Handed Boy Born. QUENICH, Cal., June 12.—In Leeds, recently born, Mrs. Vanklecker recently gave birth to three children, two boys and one girl. One of the boys has three hands, two of them being attached to the same wrist.

MR. HENRY S. FOSTER. I Know That Hood's Cures. And cordially recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all suffering with indigestion, impure blood, humors, loss of appetite or run-down. It will surely help you if there is any help for you. I have used it myself and in our family for at least fifteen years. I have found it of very great benefit for malaria, chills and fever, rheumatism, kidney complaint and general debility. It is a purifier of the blood and a restorer of the system. HENRY S. FOSTER, 110 N. 2d St., New York City.

WHITE WINGS IN THE BAY.

Annual Regatta of the Brooklyn Yacht Club at Gravesend.

Fifty-nine Racers Start in the Contest for the D. Y.'s Honors.

BROOKLYN YACHT CLUB-HOUSE, Gravesend Bay, June 12.—A piping breeze from the southwest this afternoon gladdened the hearts of the yachtsmen, who for weeks have been looking forward to the regatta of the Brooklyn Yacht Club.

The start was made promptly at 10 o'clock from the stakeboat, anchored about two and a half miles from the clubhouse, in Gravesend Bay. There was some delay in starting, caused by several of the yachts grounding on a hidden rock, whose location had been overlooked by the amateur sailors.

The Iron Steamboat Company's Cepheus followed the racers with a big crowd of club members and other New Yorkers on board. They cheered their favorite craft at every opportunity and prayed that the clouds would hold their wet burdens until after the race.

The race was a close one, and the South Channel buoy, two and a half miles east of Sandy Hook light, was the scene of a hot struggle.

SEARCHING FOR A SLASHER. John Doran May Die of the Wound in His Neck.

Ward Detectives Hock and Mallon, of the East Fifth street station, were this morning searching for the slasher who had cut John Doran, a plasterer, forty-three years of age, of 91 First avenue, shortly before midnight last night.

According to Dr. J. P. Fabricius, of ward 14, of Bellevue Hospital, the police of the East Fifth street station may have to arrest a murderer.

The doctor told an "Evening World" reporter this morning that the injured man had received an ugly wound in the left side of his neck, and also a slash across the left shoulder. The wound in the neck was deep and dangerous, but the wound in the shoulder was inflicted by a razor.

Doran said that he was in East Eleventh street, and on the sidewalk in front of No. 33, when a rough-looking man came along. The newcomer immediately started quarrel, and then followed the altercation by producing a shining blade, the nature of which he had no opportunity to determine, because of the unknown's agility and wonderful dexterity in manipulating it.

The first thing that occurred to him was that he was alone and that blood was streaming down his neck and covering his clothes. He started the crimson flow with a handkerchief, and hurried to the East Fifth street station, where he reported the affair as best he could.

Bellevue Hospital, and Doran was sent there.

BIDEFORD, Me., June 12.—The threatened general strike at the Pepperell and Laconia mills came this morning. Fully half of the employees of the two corporations are out. The mill gates were thronged early this morning, but aside from shouting and hissing at those who went to work there was no lawless demonstration.

This forenoon the strikers met on the public square and arranged for a mass meeting at the opera-house late this afternoon, when the committee will report the result of a conference to be held with Agent McArthur at 2 o'clock. The agent is undecided whether to shut down or continue running the mills with half crews.

Dr. S. Breitfeld, of 180 East Seventy-fifth street, notified the coroner's office this morning that he was summoned at 10.30 o'clock last night to attend Thomas Sadio at 1422 Avenue A.

Dr. Breitfeld's examination showed that the poison was obtained, nor could he find the bottle that had contained it. He believes from the symptoms that it was some narcotic poison.
