

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 17. SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD (including postage): PER MONTH $1.00 PER YEAR $10.00

WORLD TOWN OFFICE—1267 BROADWAY, between 112nd and 113th sts., New York. WORLD MAIL OFFICE—1212 1/2 ST. AND MADISON AVE.

THE EVENING WORLD'S Net paid bona fide actual daily Average Circulation is greater than the combined circulation of the Evening Sun, Mail and Express, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, Evening Telegram.

Who wouldn't be a hero of the Fire Department? It is a hundred and eighteen years today since the battle of Bunker Hill.

The troops at Tonawanda will try the timber of the striking lumber-shovers. The verdict in New York must be that your Uncle Anson can still play baseball.

The greatest strength of the Borden defense lay in the great weakness of the prosecution. This was to have been Farmer Dunn's sizzard day. The prophet of the Equitable Building has played us false.

"Cholera spreading in France." It is the prime business of other nations to keep on from spreading out of France.

On the face of the evidence, the marked characteristic of the Borden case is the overabundance of "a reasonable doubt."

"The President growing heavier." That's what the silver men think since he began to put his weight against the Sherman law.

The Alaskan volcanoes are reported active. Probably they have learned from annexation to this bustling Republic that all must work.

There is a very wide and very tender popular interest in the reports of Joseph Jefferson's sickness. Fate should spare for a long time yet this kind and cheery veteran of the stage.

From now until the afternoon of Tuesday everybody may rest in his own comfortable conviction that he has picked the Suburban winner. Afterwards it may be different.

Mercury's pronounced drop may perhaps be explained on the hypothesis that Nature thought it would be courteous to welcome the Norsemen with a cool breath of the North.

Rapid Transit must wait. The Commissioners are going on their vacations. Never mind. It is, for the larger part, only the people that do not have vacations who suffer by the delay.

So far as observed since her arrival last night, the Duchess of Montpensier retains many of those charming traits which marked the Spanish Infanta Eulalia, whom it was New York's great privilege to entertain of late.

With a surplus of $50,000 poured into its treasury daily, the fair in June, and a promise of yet better times for a long time yet, the World's Fair has nothing to fear from the future—except, possibly, the would-be Sunday closers.

Mayor Boody will not say that he favors the consolidation of New York and Brooklyn. He admits, however, as all men must, that the two cities, for all practical purposes, are one. That being so, as it is, "manifest destiny" will do the rest.

Brooklyn has made up its mind that it doesn't want any more trullies. Here the 100 property owners stormed the City Hall last night to protest against proposed extensions of the overhead wire system through several as yet untouched streets. Such a protest is no ordinary affair. Brooklyn's own people are talking to you, Messrs. Aldermen, over-the-bridge. You will do wisely to heed their words.

Most gratifying was the unanimity with which the British House of Commons last night adopted a resolution to heretofore leave to arbitration all disputes arising between Great Britain and the United States. A hearty reciprocity is the result. A hearty reciprocity is the result. A hearty reciprocity is the result.

entertainment of a Duke and a Princess of Spain. But it was also observed that he mingled with his courtliness the good sound American sense to begin with the smallest member of the delegation, and save for the last and best the sweet girl graduate.

NEARING THE END. The evidence for the defense in the Borden case was closed yesterday, and the verdict of the jury may be expected at any time.

It is a general belief among the politicians that the Federal offices in this city will all be filled next week. Whether there is any good foundation for the belief is not known, but it prevails nevertheless, and has set the prophets to work predicting to whom the plums will fall.

There is a general belief among the politicians that the Federal offices in this city will all be filled next week. Whether there is any good foundation for the belief is not known, but it prevails nevertheless, and has set the prophets to work predicting to whom the plums will fall.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

It is also said that Maurice F. Holohan is to be the next Appraiser in place of the resigned, but not happy, Cooper. Mr. Holohan is not an experiment. He has been tried before, both in Federal and municipal offices, and has good capacity as an executive officer.

ship lines to attempt the imposition of a seceding acquiescence in the rules and regulations of our Government on their regular ships and then pack off hundreds of undesirable emigrants by tramp boats.

Of course, if the Red Sea's passengers are not objectionable, they will be as well entitled to be allowed to land as the passengers of any regular steamer. But the presumption is that they are not an acceptable class, and if this is found to be so they ought to be shipped back to Europe at once. It may be taken for granted that they have not been subjected to any examination or quarantine at the port of departure, and there is the more necessity for a strict scrutiny when they arrive here.

WHAT JUSTICE DEMANDS. The chief done by the dishonesty of officers of banks and savings institutions extends far beyond the loss of the money stolen from a few stockholders or depositors. Public confidence is so shaken that people hesitate to trust the soundest institutions, and only think of getting their money into their own hands, at the sacrifice of the accruing interest. Very frequently a workman who has drawn his last earned money from a bank in public loss forever his disposition to save.

During the recent run on the Irving Savings Institution, while the Banking Superintendent and the lawyer were striving to make the depositors understand that their deposits were entirely safe, one intelligent and well-dressed man in the crowd cried "Cover my mind about the interest statement. The bank may be all right, and the assets may exceed the liabilities a hundred thousand dollars, but, just the same, we'll take our money and be safe."

This is the gravest evil of misconduct and dishonesty on the part of bank officials. The depositors in this instance are safe, but the officers of the Irving Savings Institution, who violated the law by paying their own drafts, and the paying teller, who is alleged to have embezzled the funds, should be indicted and punished. Such frauds and breaches of trust ought to be stamped out.

What pretty, pink bud wants to blossom into a Summer rose and fill the world with the beauty and sweetness of her presence? The Society of the June Roses was formed on May's funeral day. A lot of little Brooklyn girls living in Thirteenth street, just home from a dance on the green, were unbending the dandelion from their curls when some one suggested the organization of a May Club in memory of the late beauty. The idea seemed plausible, but sage Alice Cunningham, who knows the "Pain of Life," suggested letting "The dead past bury its dead," and forming a June party. After further consideration "The June Roses" was elected President by acclamation. When the roses had congratulated and kissed their friends, a lot of queen had returned the reverent of her happy subjects, it was decided that in place of waiting for their sweetens, it should be concentrating on the sick themselves. A cent a month for tea, punch, luncheon, lawn parties, fairs and parlor concerts, and to contribute the proceeds to the care and comfort of the sick and troubled babies and their friends whose constitutions are run down for want of clean, cool air.

Any "nice, young people," the constitution further states, "over fourteen years of age, who are willing to give and befriend the babies, may become members. Application may be made by letter or in person to little Alice Cunningham, 122 Thirteenth street, Brooklyn. Queen Alice is always at home when she is not at school or out jumping the rope with her rosy-checked, cherry-lipped subjects.

All who are desirous of joining "The June Roses" had better avail themselves of the opportunity at once. There are only thirty in June, and many of them are gone. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

HELP THE BABIES! Brooklyn Little Folks Have a Very Pretty Plan.

The "June Roses" Method of Aiding the Sick Babies' Fund.

A Suggestion That Other Children Might Find Valuable.

All letters containing money for the Sick Babies' Fund should be addressed to "Caretaker of WORLD, Pulitzer Building, New York City."

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS. Previously acknowledged $64.45. Julia J. P. 5.00, E. H. Hallack and E. S. Thompson 5.00, Hungarian Ladies' Aid Society 5.00, Dorothy's Donation 5.00, King's Daughters, Laurel Hill, L. I. 5.00, Beatrice Shulman 5.00, T. S. 5.00, Brooklyn M. 5.00, G. D. S. Astoria 5.00, L. W. 25.

Who wants to join "The June Roses"? What pretty, pink bud wants to blossom into a Summer rose and fill the world with the beauty and sweetness of her presence?

The Society of the June Roses was formed on May's funeral day. A lot of little Brooklyn girls living in Thirteenth street, just home from a dance on the green, were unbending the dandelion from their curls when some one suggested the organization of a May Club in memory of the late beauty.

The idea seemed plausible, but sage Alice Cunningham, who knows the "Pain of Life," suggested letting "The dead past bury its dead," and forming a June party.

After further consideration "The June Roses" was elected President by acclamation. When the roses had congratulated and kissed their friends, a lot of queen had returned the reverent of her happy subjects, it was decided that in place of waiting for their sweetens, it should be concentrating on the sick themselves.

A cent a month for tea, punch, luncheon, lawn parties, fairs and parlor concerts, and to contribute the proceeds to the care and comfort of the sick and troubled babies and their friends whose constitutions are run down for want of clean, cool air.

Any "nice, young people," the constitution further states, "over fourteen years of age, who are willing to give and befriend the babies, may become members. Application may be made by letter or in person to little Alice Cunningham, 122 Thirteenth street, Brooklyn.

Queen Alice is always at home when she is not at school or out jumping the rope with her rosy-checked, cherry-lipped subjects.

All who are desirous of joining "The June Roses" had better avail themselves of the opportunity at once. There are only thirty in June, and many of them are gone.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind. They are not only pretty girls, but sweet and kind.

for one bottle of port or sherry wine, for the sick children. Let the doctor sign his name and strike out what is not wanted. MAY any mother follow helping to save the life of a little one. Truly yours, D. HOEXTER, 121 Columbus ave.

T. S. Gives This. Enclosed please find $1 for the Sick Babies' Fund, from T. S.

Beatrice Sends $3. Enclosed find $3 for the Sick Babies' Fund, from BEATRICE BULLMAN, 412 W. 10th St.

Dorothy's Donation. Enclosed please find $5 for the Sick Babies' Fund from DOROTHY.

Friends in Connecticut. Enclosed please find $5 for the Sick Babies' Fund. Yours, A. E. HALLOCK, L. S. THOMPSON, Birmingham, Conn.

Only One Day Old. Enclosed $5 to help along some little baby who is sick and with no papa to take him out. J. L. HAN, 1. 1, aged one day, 103 Prince street.

King's Daughters. Enclosed please find postal note for $3 for the Sick Babies' Fund from King's Daughters of K. K. St. John's Church, in honor of Miss L. GLOCK, Treas., Laurel Hill, L. I.

EX-OFFICER TURNS ROBBER. Former Police Lieutenant Steals a Woman's Prizes in Chicago. CHICAGO, June 17.—While riding on a Cottage Grove avenue car from the World's Fair grounds last night, ex-Lieutenant of Police David C. Ritchie, who for years has been in command of some of the largest police districts in the city, snatched a chateleine bag attached to the corage of Mrs. Annie Murphy, of New York, and jumped from the car.

He was chased up an alley by several bystanders, and a terrific fight ensued. Ritchie was finally captured by four officers and conveyed in a patrol wagon to the station avenue station, kicking like a demon and filling the air with oaths and imprecations. The bag was recovered.

HE FELL THREE STORIES. Tietjen Escaped with a Sprained Ankle and Some Contusions. The sight of a man in midair tumbling from the roof of a building caused considerable excitement among the passengers of the Ninth avenue downtown "L" train which arrived at the Franklin street station at 7:55 this morning.

The man was Henry Tietjen, proprietor of the news room at 189 Franklin street, who, contrary to the expectations of those who witnessed his accident, sustained no more serious injury than a sprained ankle and contusions about the face and head. He was on the roof of the three-story building 300 Greenwich street, adjusting the lines of a clothes-line pole. While pulling at one of the braces the screws broke and he lost his balance and tumbled to the edge of the roof. A wooden awning twenty feet below broke his fall, else he must have been dashed to death upon the sidewalk.

HURLED OUT OF AN ELEVATOR. Mrs. Graham Seriously Hurt in Her Efforts to Save Her Boy. FENDLAY, O., June 17.—Mrs. E. R. Graham was ascending in the elevator of the Argyle Hotel last evening with her two-year-old son, and when between the second and third floors the child was caught between the car and the side of the shaft and was jerked underneath the carriage, the iron netting being torn and the child thrown through the mother grabbed the child and endeavored to hold him by his clothing. The mother grabbed the child and endeavored to hold him by his clothing. The mother grabbed the child and endeavored to hold him by his clothing.

It WAS A SECRET MARRIAGE. Young Royal Moss and Miss Marion H. Drake Wedded. The announcement of the marriage of young Royal Moss and Miss Marion H. Drake is in the nature of a surprise to the friends of the two families. She was graduated from school a few weeks ago, and then went to Europe with her father. Red-headed wedding has not yet been made known.

REPORT THAT THE ARKANSAS CRIMINALS ARE CAMPING IN THE MOUNTAINS. PORT SMITH, Ark., June 17.—United States Deputy Marshal Latberth has related a man named Chaney in the Indian Territory who is believed to be one of the desperadoes who robbed the Bentonville bank.

BEACHED AT COW BAY. City of Richmond Floated from the Port Washington Beach. CITY ISLAND, L. I., June 17.—The steambath City of Richmond, which ran on the rocks at Sands Point during the fog Thursday morning, was beached to-day at the mouth of Cow Bay.

Another Small-Pox Case. A case of small-pox was noted at the Bureau of Contagious Diseases this morning. An inspector last evening discovered John C. (name withheld) aged thirty-nine years, sick with the disease in the tenement-house at 414 West Nineteenth street and sent him to North Brother Island. The house was fumigated.

Took an Overdose of Cocaine. MARTINSVILLE, Ind., June 17.—George Baber, a traveling salesman, was found dead in a faro-parlor at the victim of an overdose of the drug. His father is a very wealthy resident of Brooklyn.

An Astorian Likes the Babies. Enclosed please find $1 for the Sick Babies' Fund. Yours truly, G. D. S. Astoria, L. I.

A Lady of Brooklyn Hilar. Enclosed $2 for the Sick Babies' Fund. Brooklyn Hills, N. Y. Mrs. J. L. D.

A Kind Liqueur Dealer. Enclosed please find $5 tickets, each good for one bottle of port or sherry wine, for the sick children. Let the doctor sign his name and strike out what is not wanted.

Fashions that are New in France. The French fashions illustrated in this picture were sketched by M. Sara, in Paris, for the London Gown. The first selected at the Polo Club. It is a delightful gown (A), made of very pale cafe-au-lait fine guillemotte. The bodice is trimmed with three buckles of old silver, and some small bows of black velvet. The hat is of cafe-au-lait straw, with a trimming of white sea-gull's feathers and black velvet bows. The gloves and the sunshade are both white.

At the Chantilly races, M. Sara sketched a pretty gown (B), made in mauve and yellow shot glace foulard and trimmed with black velvet and white lace. With this gown a hat of black coarse straw is worn, trimmed with yellow rose petals and aigrettes. The sunshade is arranged to match, lined inside with white gauze. The gloves also are white. In the next sketch (C) you see the gown worn by Mlle. Bathys in "Mademoiselle M. Fenne," the newest successful opera at the Menus-Plaisirs Theatre. The gown is of blue foulard spotted with white, and trimmed with white guipure lace, and volants of black silk muslin.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.

At the first night of Saint-Saens's new comedopera "Phryas" the artist sketched a pretty costume (D), worn by one of the actresses. It consists of a shirt of white silk, a bodice in dark red tulle, with a collar of white silk gauze and a trimming of black velvet, a hat of black straw, trimmed with red and white striped straw and gray gloves. You see in the next sketch (E) another costume worn at the Chantilly races. The bodice is of black satin, with insertions of white embroidered tulle, cuffs of black embroidered tulle, and bows of white satin. The skirt is of pale green shot, guillemotte, while the hat is of coarse black straw, trimmed with pale green gauze and white sea-gull's feathers. The gloves are black.

Mlle. Cecil Carron, in "Les Surprises du Divorce," at the Vaudeville, wears a gown (F) and mantle of pinkish-gray silk trimmed with white lace, a hat to match with white feathers, white gloves, and a jacket of black silk gauze.