AFTER HER SAM AGAIN
Emily F. Van Vleck Claims Lawyer Peck as Husband.
She Says His Mother Has Her Pawns Diamonds.
For Years She Has Unrelentingly Pursued Him.

Emily F. Van Vleck, who claims to be the lawful wife of Samuel S. Peck, a young lawyer, of 25 West Eighteenth street, and who alleges that her husband was spirited away from her by his wealthy parents five years ago, is again after her Sam.

Lawyer Peck is the son of Alonso R. and Lydia Peck. Mr. Peck was formerly in the paper-collar business and amassed a considerable fortune. His wife, also shrewd in business, now conducts three stylish boarding-houses in West Eighteenth street, and is wealthy to her own name.

Samuel S. is the only child and consequently sole heir to his parents' wealth. He is thirty years old and what the ladies would term a handsome fellow.

THE STATE SHE IS MRS. PECK.
He has been absent from New York the major portion of the time since 1882, since when, it is claimed, he had had no communication with his alleged wife.

Miss Van Vleck, or Mrs. Samuel S. Peck, is a brunette, and apparently about forty years old. According to her story she came from an old and honored family, and first met young Peck about twelve years ago. She was at that time housekeeper in a furnished room house on Broadway.

AGREE THAT TRYON ERRED.
But London Papers Ask the Public to Suspend Judgment.
The Vice-Admiral Was Just Recovering from Sickness.

LONDON, July 3.—All the newspapers to-day publish long editorials on the subject of the Victoria disaster, based upon the official reports of Rear-Admiral Markham and Capt. Bourke, and all of them warn the public to suspend judgment on the matter until the result of the court-martial to be held in the case shall have been made known.

The relatives of the survivors are getting letters in which the story of the disaster is told in these despatches is repeated with little variation. Some of the survivors hint that Vice-Admiral Tryon realized his blunder when too late, and did not utter a word to his crew.

Amid the general blame of the Vice-Admiral some unfavorable comments are made upon the conduct of other officers in obeying an order that was certain to result in collision, as a rule in force in the navy provides that a subordinate is not bound to obey an order from a superior officer if the execution of the order is certain to involve an accident.

SILVER MARKET STRONGER.
But Money Is Still Tight and Stock Trading Opens Weak.
Manhattan Elevated Drops from Saturday's Closing.

As the prospects of the speedy repeal of the Sherman silver bill brighten the market for silver seems to improve in equal ratio.

President's announcement of the call for an extra session confirms many in the opinion that in the vicinity of the affairs which prevailed last week, the silver market will be materially depressed, and that the repeal of the silver act of 1890 would not cause such a late decline in the price of the white metal as was at first anticipated.

WHERE TO SPEND IT.
Take Your Choice for the Fourth of July Outing.
Here Are Any Number of Near-By Resorts and Excursions.

THEY INCLUDE NEAR-AND QUIET PLACES TO YOUR LIKING.
The problem of how and where to spend the Fourth is difficult for New Yorkers, Brooklynites and the residents of the other cities which go to make up the great metropolis, not because of a paucity, but because of the multiplicity of inviting places to go to, each appealing to the pleasure-lover in its own special fashion.

THEY INCLUDE NEAR-AND QUIET PLACES TO YOUR LIKING.
The racket of the fire-cracker and its small boy attachment may be escaped by a short and pleasant journey out to either of a hundred cheerful resorts or hillsides or lakeside resorts, or he may go to noisier places than the city close by, on the seashore. It may cost little or much, according to taste and purse, and the "outer" will return to the city and to Wednesday's business refreshed in body and mind.

THEY INCLUDE NEAR-AND QUIET PLACES TO YOUR LIKING.
A statement to this effect appeared in one of the local newspapers recently and the fact has been the subject of more or less facetious comment in other newspapers the country over. And the most astonishing thing about it all is the amount of misinformation concerning New York and its environs that is harbored among the good people of the "interior" States.

WHERE ALL ARE DEMOCRATIC.
There are always new fields to try, new experiences to enjoy, new scenes to visit, new sights to see, and those who seek an outing for the Nation's great holiday may find in the interior as little as they like without discredit, thanks to the supreme industrial revolution of the metropolis, in the affairs of his neighbor.
