

WISH YOU COULD SELL THAT HOUSE?

A little advertisement in The World will do it. Repeated free in The Evening World.

About everybody reads either The Morning or The Evening World.

PRICE ONE CENT.

The Evening World

"Circulation Books Open to All." NEW YORK, THURSDAY, AUGUST 10, 1893.

NEED THE MONEY INVESTED IN THOSE HOUSE LOTS?

A little advertisement in The World will bring you buyers with ready money. Repeated free in The Evening World.

About everybody reads either The Morning or The Evening World.

PRICE ONE CENT.

Use Help Wanted Advertisements Blank on 5th Page To-day.

LAST EDITION EIGHT PAGES.

SPLIT IN CONGRESS.

The Free Silver Men Want a Three Weeks' Debate.

Anti-Silver Men Say One Week and Purchase Repeal First.

Meanwhile Nothing is Done and the Senate Adjourns to Monday.

CAPITOL, WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Immediately after the reading of the Journal in the Senate today Mr. Gorman (Dem., Md.) moved that when the Senate adjourn it till Monday next.

The motion was on the point of being declared agreed to when a demand for the yeas and nays came simultaneously from two Republican Senators (Messrs. Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Chandler, of New Hampshire).

The vote was taken by yeas and nays and resulted—yeas, 40; nays, 16.

As soon as the result was announced a motion that the Senate do not adjourn was made by Mr. Cockerell (Dem., Mo.), and the yeas and nays were demanded by Mr. Chandler. The vote resulted—yeas, 21, nays, 18.

The negative votes in both instances were given by Republican Senators, and the affirmative votes by Democratic Senators reinforced by the Senators from the silver-purchasing States and by Mr. Mitchell (Rep., Ore.) and Mr. Peffer (Pop., Kan.).

The Senate then at 12:20 adjourned until Monday at noon.

After the reading and approval of Tuesday's Journal in the House, Mr. Bailey (Dem., Tex.) moved that the House take a recess until 1 o'clock, to be determined by Mr. Chandler.

On a viva voce vote the motion was declared defeated. Mr. Bailey then demanded a division and again met with defeat—the vote standing 76 to 127. On the yeas he was more successful, and the recess was taken for one hour.

The under-act vote last night in that Mr. Hland would be ready to introduce in the House to-day his silver bill, and that the Speaker had agreed to recognize him for that purpose.

Mr. Hland's intended bill, it is said, puts first the free coinage of silver at a ratio which in left blank to be determined by the House, and provides in the second section for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act.

The committee appointed by the chair, in the House silver caucus yesterday, arranged to meet this morning in the Judiciary Committee room, to carry out his instructions and frame a bill to outline a plan of campaign.

It was the failure to perfect this bill which led to the House recess at noon.

Practically the bill was defined in advance by the caucus resolution, saving the right, and in this detail that may receive attention.

There being no rules in the House at present, the silver men intend to get their bill in as early as possible so as to secure whatever advantage may follow from being first on the list of measures before the House.

The President's desk is piled up nearly a foot high with nominations to be sent in to the Senate for offices to which the President made appointments during recess. Each nomination is laid before the Senate on a separate sheet, so that in the one matter the close of the extra session of the Senate, which have also to be acted upon in executive session.

And the postmasters form only a small part of the Executive patronage. There are all the diplomatic and consular changes made since the close of the extra session of the Senate, which have also to be acted upon in executive session.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED.

Decision in the Case of Wife-Poisoner Buchanan.

The Application Was Based on Juror Paradise's Illness.

He Was Said to Be Insane When the Verdict Was Rendered.

Recorder Smyth this afternoon denied a new trial for Dr. Robert Weisford Buchanan, under conviction of murder in the first degree, and now awaiting sentence in the Tombs, under the conviction of poisoning his wife to death in order to get possession of her property, some $20,000 amassed in a long career as the keeper of a disorderly house in Newark, N. J.

DR. ROBERT W. BUCHANAN.

The crime for which Dr. Buchanan was convicted on April 26 was the murder by administering morphine and belladonna, of his wife, Anna B. Buchanan, on April 23, 1892, at their home, 257 West Eleventh street. His first wife was a Miss Anna Bree Patterson, but he secured a divorce from her in November, 1890.

Three weeks after securing the divorce he married Mrs. Anna B. Buchanan, proprietress of a notorious house in Newark, and brought her to New York to live. She had accumulated a fortune, and made a will delivering all her possessions to her husband.

The couple quarrelled frequently, and she constantly upbraided Buchanan for neglecting her interests. On the morning of April 23, 1892, Mrs. Buchanan was taken ill, and Dr. McIntyre was called in to attend to her. She died, and Dr. McIntyre and Watson, a physician who had been employed by her, testified that death resulted from cerebral hemorrhage.

Several friends of Mrs. Buchanan aroused suspicion, and some weeks later the body was examined and given over to Drs. Foreman and Loomis for chemical analysis.

The examination resulted in Dr. Buchanan's arrest in November, 1892, indicted, and on March 25, of the following year, the trial began, several days having been given for the impeachment of a juror.

The trial was the longest in the history of the courts, lasting nearly four weeks, during which time the greatest known medical, pathological and chemical experts testified, and conclusively the presence of morphine and the probable presence of belladonna in the deceased woman's body.

The jury, after deliberating twenty-two days, returned a verdict of guilty on April 27.

While the jury were deliberating Juror Paradise, who had been selected by the Recorder, died, and Dr. Brooke asked Recorder Smyth to discharge the juror. The Recorder heard and granted the request, and the verdict of the jury was received.

Paradise being taken from his bed by the illness of his wife, he was taken to a hospital, where he died on the 10th of the following year. The motion on which the Recorder has granted his decision was for a new trial on the grounds—the illness of Juror Paradise.

ONE DEATH FROM CHOLERA.

Body Incinerated at Swinburne Island To-day.

Two Suspects Removed from Hoffman Island.

There was one death from cholera on Swinburne Island last night, which was not reported until to-day. The victim was Vincenzo Cagliostro. His remains were incinerated this morning.

Two suspects, named Francesco Mola and Mariano Liberati, who had been isolated on Hoffman Island, have been removed to Swinburne Island. Lorenzo Masilla, who had been isolated on Hoffman Island, and will probably be discharged to-day.

The disinfection of the steamship Maessila is being pushed rapidly. Health Officer Jenkins's report, issued at noon to-day, is as follows:

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

Quarantine, Aug. 10. Vincenzo Cagliostro, aged twenty-three years, who was removed to the hospital at Swinburne Island, on the 8th inst., died last night of cholera. His remains were incinerated this morning. Last night, on inspection, two persons were isolated on Hoffman Island, and subsequently they were removed to Swinburne Island Hospital, with choleraic symptoms. They are Francesco Mola, aged twenty-seven years, and Lorenzo Morisco, aged twenty-three years. Lorenzo Morisco, the first patient removed, continues to improve and is expected to be discharged from the hospital to-day. The disinfection of the Maessila is being pushed as rapidly as the steam plant on her can be operated.

BAD FOR MRS. SHANN.

Plenty of Mercury Found in Her Poisoned Son's Viscera.

Toxicologist Wormley Tells the Result of His Examination.

Jersey's Alleged Borgias Taken with Fainting Spells.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 10.—The testimony of the third day of Mrs. Shann's trial was by far the worst of the previous days as far as the details were concerned. The testimony of the witnesses yesterday was better for Mrs. Shann, but to-day's testimony was largely against her.

It was also a bad day for Mrs. Shann, physically. Yesterday afternoon court was adjourned because she felt rather faint, and when she appeared in court this morning it was apparent that she had passed a restless night.

During the progress of the trial she exhibited several signs of faintness, and her daughter, Mrs. Kelly, of Philadelphia, was compelled to visit a drug store and secure some smelling salts.

Mrs. Shann kept her head in her daughter's lap the greater part of the time, keeping her face hid when Prof. Wormley exhibited the jar containing the analysis of John Shann's brain and kidney, found after the viscera had been stolen from the body.

The heat in the court-room was something terrible, and the judge, counsel and witnesses used large patent fans continuously in an effort to keep cool.

The State produced as their first witness Prof. Theodore C. Wormley, Professor of Chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania. Prof. Wormley is a quaker and very methodical. He was not burdened with a load of questions, but his testimony was excellent, and started in on his story of his analysis of the parts sent him, with a lengthy memorandum before him.

During the progress of his story he produced cans containing the analyzed portions of the viscera, and the quantity of mercury in the results obtained.

Prof. Wormley said he had been a chemist for thirty years, and during that time he had made many analyses of parts of the human body.

He also received a portion of the rectum of the deceased, which was analyzed, and the results were obtained.

He also received a portion of the rectum of the deceased, which was analyzed, and the results were obtained.

He also received a portion of the rectum of the deceased, which was analyzed, and the results were obtained.

MISS BARDWELL'S INQUEST.

Witnesses Tell of Finding the Suicide's Body.

Jury Decides She Met Death by Her Own Hand.

Coroner Schultz commenced an investigation to-day into the death by suicide of Miss Maria Bardwell at the United States Hotel eight days ago.

The uncle of Miss Bardwell and Mrs. Murray were present. The latter was represented by Attorney W. A. Sweeter, of 129 Broadway. Attorney John Francis, of Boston, appeared for the family.

Dr. Weston testified that Miss Bardwell was probably been dead ten or twelve hours before her body was found. He said it was evident the wound was self-inflicted.

George P. Herding, proprietor of the United States Hotel, testified that he was present when the body was found, and that the girl had been sitting on the bed when she shot herself and had fallen backward.

Erastus Wake, clerk of the hotel, said Miss Bardwell registered at the hotel between 6 and 7 o'clock on the evening of Aug. 3.

Between 9 and 9:30 o'clock he said a couple of minutes, one of them Mrs. Murray called and asked for Miss Bardwell, saying they had received a telegram to return to the hotel next morning.

They were taken to her room by a bell-boy, and the clerk thought they remained about fifteen minutes.

The next morning he said Mrs. Murray called again, but Miss Bardwell was not in her room. She was out, he said. Later in the day Mr. Wake said he investigated, and finding the door locked he looked in from the fire escape. The body was then found.

He said the sound of the shot might have been heard by the bell-boy, but he did not know.

Mr. May Murray, the friend of Miss Bardwell, at whose house, at 23 Eighth avenue, Mrs. Bardwell had been living, testified that she had known Miss Bardwell three years.

She said she had known Miss Bardwell three years.

NEAL IS NOMINATED.

Ohio Democrats Choose Him for Their Standard-Bearer.

The State Convention Endorses the Chicago Platform.

CONVENTION HALL, CINCINNATI, Aug. 10.—The Democratic State Convention, to select an opponent for Gov. McKinley, was opened at 10:15 o'clock this morning in Music Hall.

The decorations in the hall were elaborate and exceedingly tasteful. Around the balcony, alternated with groups of flags, were the pictures of many of Ohio's best known sons who have distinguished themselves in peace and war.

There was no distinction made as to party in the matter, and portraits of several prominent Republicans—all of them dead—were placed upon the walls beside the sons of Democracy.

At the opening of the Convention there was practically no discussion of the situation. It was Neal against the field, with the field centering on Baker, and struggling in various directions after the other candidates.

Gilbert H. Barger was made temporary chairman, and he bled without introduction into a discussion of National issues.

Applause was especially loud and prolonged when the speaker declared that this country should no longer be dominated by European money standards or by American cities that financially owe too much allegiance to foreign nations.

The report of the Committee on Credentials, seating the Neal contesting delegation from Ross County, went through by acclamation, and so did the proposition that the temporary organization be permanent.

The Convention then cut off a prospective flood of oratory by adopting a resolution that all nominating speeches be kept within five minutes.

The platform, as presented and cheered, was an endorsement of the Chicago platform of 1892, "especially those portions of it referring to the tariff and to currency legislation."

The second plank referred to the present financial situation as "the unfortunate legacy of Republican administration. It is the natural result of the McKinley tariff, the Sherman silver law, extravagance of the party lately in power, and the creation and fostering of trusts and corrupt combinations by that party, all combining to shake credit, to create distrust in the money of the country, and to paralyze its business."

The platform favored allowing National banks to issue currency to the full value of the bonds deposited; endorsed pension reform; expressed confidence in Senator Brier's ability to "materially assist the Democratic majority in the Congress of the United States to extricate the great commercial interests of this country from their present distress; and to restore to the people the country's waning faith in the integrity, patriotism and exalted courage of President Cleveland."

NAVAHOE - FOURTH AGAIN.

She Sails in the Race for the Ryde Town Cup To-day.

The Britannia Wins, with the Satanita Second.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The race for the Ryde Town Cup, under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, of which the Marquis of Exeter is Commodore, took place to-day.

The course sailed over was forty miles long, extending from Ryde, where the club house is located, and around the Warner Lightship, off the eastern end of the Isle of Wight, then westward to a mark boat off Cowes, and back to Ryde. The course was sailed over twice.

The starting gun was fired at 10 o'clock, and the contestants got off in the following order and time:

Table with columns: Name and time. Includes Britannia, Satanita, and other yachts.

The weather was beautiful, but the wind was a light one and from the west. Before the Warner Lightship was reached the Britannia, which was the third to get away, overhauled and passed the Satanita and Navahoe. In the meantime, however, the Navahoe had passed the Satanita, and when the Britannia went to the front the American yacht followed her as a good second.

The first round was finished as below:

Table with columns: Name and time. Includes Britannia, Satanita, and other yachts.

The Pigeon at Newport. NEWPORT, Aug. 10.—Capt. Belder's pigeon arrived here last night and anchored in the outer harbor, her great draught making it undesirable to enter the inner harbor. She was towed from Boston by the tug Ina, which dropped her off the harbor, from which she came in under sail.

LOIE FULLER ARRIVES. She Reached New York with Manager Grau on the Spree. Loie Fuller, the big-bosomed and serpentine dancer, who established the theatre-gods of Europe, arrived here this morning on the Spree. With her was her manager, Robert Grau.

BRITISH CLAIM AGAINST CHILL. For a Ship's Cargo Which Was Not Saved from Coast Millers. PANAMA, Aug. 3.—Advice from Chile states that the English Minister in Santiago has filed a claim for $300,000 damages against the Chilean government on account of the loss of the steamer Blamsted, which was wrecked in Bay Imperial.

Weather Forecast. Forecast for thirty-six hours ending at P.M. Friday, Aug. 11: Fair, except possibly a shower-thunder-storm evening; fair on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

LAST EDITION EIGHT PAGES.

DANFORTH BLAMED.

Judson Says He Precipitated the Madison Square's Failure.

Withdrawal of State Money Weakened the Bank's Resources.

The State Treasurer Says His $50,000 Note Was a Private Affair.

State Treasurer Elliott Danforth was a much sought for man in this city this morning. Political friends, newspaper men and financiers wanted to find him, and every hotel where he was ever known to have stopped was searched for without success. No one seemed to be aware of the fact that he had gone up to Albany last night.

What everybody wanted to know was how he came to deposit $50,000 of the State funds in the banks and leave that large sum of money there, after he knew the institution was in a shaky condition. Also, how it came that he induced the same institution to cash his note for $50,000, without security of any kind, save the indorsement of Geo. B. Church.

It is a singular fact which has hitherto escaped attention that George B. Church is the present deputy State Treasurer. He is not content with having a large amount of money available, nor, in fact, is he reported to be worth very much property of any kind. What use his name is on the State Treasurer's personal note, or notes, rather, is not apparent, unless it may have been for the purpose of satisfying the law, which says there must be two names on the paper.

The note for $50,000 is still in possession of the Madison Square Bank, and forms part of the assets of that institution. The $50,000 belonging to the State, however, has been saved by what some people call a quick piece of financial trickery.

The State Treasurer, as told in "The Evening World" yesterday, learned on Tuesday that the bank was going under. He might have procured a State check for the money lying to the credit of the bank, and that he might have succeeded in running through another bank, and that he might have been able to honor it at the Clearing House.

Under the rules they were obliged to clear for the Madison Square Bank one day after giving notice of their intention to do so. Danforth's personal note for $50,000 was the only note of the bank which was not cashed at the time. It was said yesterday that Treasurer Danforth accomplished this quick piece of financial trickery by making use of a long-distance telephone from this city to Albany, and that he induced the employees of the bank to cash his note and come to New York by train.

It may surprise Mr. Danforth to know that he is held responsible for the failure of the Madison Square Bank, and that he is held responsible for the withdrawal of the State's money in such a manner and at such a time as to precipitate the bank's failure.

They expected yesterday to be able to cash the note, but when they were unable to do so, they were obliged to clear for the Madison Square Bank one day after giving notice of their intention to do so. Danforth's personal note for $50,000 was the only note of the bank which was not cashed at the time. It was said yesterday that Treasurer Danforth accomplished this quick piece of financial trickery by making use of a long-distance telephone from this city to Albany, and that he induced the employees of the bank to cash his note and come to New York by train.

It may surprise Mr. Danforth to know that he is held responsible for the failure of the Madison Square Bank, and that he is held responsible for the withdrawal of the State's money in such a manner and at such a time as to precipitate the bank's failure.

They expected yesterday to be able to cash the note, but when they were unable to do so, they were obliged to clear for the Madison Square Bank one day after giving notice of their intention to do so. Danforth's personal note for $50,000 was the only note of the bank which was not cashed at the time. It was said yesterday that Treasurer Danforth accomplished this quick piece of financial trickery by making use of a long-distance telephone from this city to Albany, and that he induced the employees of the bank to cash his note and come to New York by train.

It may surprise Mr. Danforth to know that he is held responsible for the failure of the Madison Square Bank, and that he is held responsible for the withdrawal of the State's money in such a manner and at such a time as to precipitate the bank's failure.

They expected yesterday to be able to cash the note, but when they were unable to do so, they were obliged to clear for the Madison Square Bank one day after giving notice of their intention to do so. Danforth's personal note for $50,000 was the only note of the bank which was not cashed at the time. It was said yesterday that Treasurer Danforth accomplished this quick piece of financial trickery by making use of a long-distance telephone from this city to Albany, and that he induced the employees of the bank to cash his note and come to New York by train.

It may surprise Mr. Danforth to know that he is held responsible for the failure of the Madison Square Bank, and that he is held responsible for the withdrawal of the State's money in such a manner and at such a time as to precipitate the bank's failure.

They expected yesterday to be able to cash the note, but when they were unable to do so, they were obliged to clear for the Madison Square Bank one day after giving notice of their intention to do so. Danforth's personal note for $50,000 was the only note of the bank which was not cashed at the time. It was said yesterday that Treasurer Danforth accomplished this quick piece of financial trickery by making use of a long-distance telephone from this city to Albany, and that he induced the employees of the bank to cash his note and come to New York by train.

It may surprise Mr. Danforth to know that he is held responsible for the failure of the Madison Square Bank, and that he is held responsible for the withdrawal of the State's money in such a manner and at such a time as to precipitate the bank's failure.