Brooklyn citizenship is strong. Can it break an iron ring?

There must be a stern prohibition of the skylarking policeman with a revolver.

A compromise on a question of honesty is an unconditional surrender to dishonesty.

Dunraven's health is pledged in flowing wine. But his faith is pinned to a flowing sail.

Bismarck's right hand is paralyzed. But what work that right hand accomplished before it was paralyzed.

Preparations go on finely for Manhattan at the big fair. It must be an occasion to delight the proud heart of Father Knickerbocker.

"Silver Senators surprised." Let them rejoice by surprising the country with a silence long enough to allow a vote on Silver Purchase repeal.

Yellow Jack has leaped the boundaries set at Brunswick. Now may he have an early and decisive meeting with the other Jack, whose name is Frost.

If it is real war that Representative Henderson, of Iowa, is anxious to begin on the Sugar Trust, in the House at Washington he will find himself on very popular fighting ground.

Three Coroners were vigilantly on duty yesterday. The heaven of the county jury presentment was working. But it is too late for the rehabilitation of the outdated system of Crowner's quests.

Borahs has been dealing in learned essays with the cause of crime. Yet it is not to assert that in all that grand staterhood can muster not one expert on train robbery, safe-blowing, nor flat-house burglary.

The nation yesterday received another installment of the legacy bequeathed by the Harrison Administration. It took the shape of a public debt statement showing an increase in the debt of about a million dollars for the month of September. Other instalments will follow.

Columbia College begins its one hundred and fourth year with more than one thousand students on its rolls, with a splendidly enlarged library and with its facilities increased in all directions. It is a noble old institution. It deserves to be what metropolitan municipalities will some day make it—a University great among the universities of the world.

It is pleasant to chronicle a move on the part of a street railway company which makes unmistakably for the convenience and benefit of the local traveling public. Such a move the Metropolitan Traction Company has made in causing the Sixth Avenue car to extend their trips through Fifty-ninth street, Ninth and Amsterdam avenues to Eighty-first street. Passengers are thus spared an awkward change of cars and a double fare.

The arraignment of Emma Goldman in court to-morrow will recall an attempted disturbance that would otherwise be wholly forgotten. A careful examination of the foundations of society shows that they have not been shattered by the feeble menaces of this small Anarchist, and if the capitalists are, as she describes them, "trembling in the boots," it is not so much on account of east-side Anarchists in New York as on account of Senatorial Anarchists in Washington.

A DEAD ISSUE. The attempt has been made in some of the counties of the State to revive the Snapper and Anti-Snapper issue. It would be about as sensible to resurrect the issue of our grandfathers over the United States Bank.

Snapperism was a policy sprung upon the State last year to secure a "bold delegation" to the Democratic Presidential Convention. Anti-Snapperism was the uprising of the New York Democracy to prevent that policy from producing its anticipated results.

Snapperism was effectually killed by the nomination of Grover Cleveland. Anti-Snapperism died when its object was accomplished. It has no occasion for prolonged life. Both Snappers and Anti-Snappers worked to elect Grover Cleveland and were merged in the Democratic organization.

Snappers and Anti-Snappers may come and Snappers and Anti-Snappers may go, but the Democracy runs on forever.

The only object in seeking to make the Snapper revival is to impress upon the National Administration the belief that it is proper to bestow the spoils of office on those who claim an Anti-Snapper record.

ELLISON GUILTY. The result of the Ellison-Henriques trial has been a verdict of assault in the second degree against Frank Ellison. As this is the second conviction the penalty is five years' imprisonment.

No other result could have been anticipated. The assault was an aggravated and brutal one, whatever the provocation may have been, and Ellison's habits prove him to be a man of unimpeachable character.

His counsel complained bitterly of the verdict, but had evidently existed against the defendant from the start, but it was a natural result of the difference in the physical powers of the two men, and the trial was fair and impartial.

The discussion in the case do not present a pleasant picture of New York life, and the people are to be congratulated that it is over. The verdict is a just one, and while a new trial is to be moved, there is no reason to believe that the application will be successful.

There are seldom any errors in a trial over which Recorder Smyth presides.

THE COMING RACES. Valkyrie stands the test. She has been spinning along in a stiff breeze and a strong sea, and our best judges pronounce her by far the fastest competitor we have yet had for the America's Cup. She has gone into dry dock, and our most experienced eyes look at her in admiration and pronounce her lines perfect.

Some of the experts at the Erie Basin yesterday did not hesitate to declare her the best yacht they had ever seen hauled out there.

The better Valkyrie proves herself, the better pleased our yachtsmen will be. If we are to succeed in keeping the Cup we want the satisfaction of knowing that we have beaten the best yacht of the world.

The unquestioned champion of the Royal Squadron and an exceptionally distinguished one at that. If we are to lose the Cup, it will be some consolation to know that we have lost it to a boat whose qualities throw all former competitors into the shade.

It gives us the interest in the coming contests to know that both parties are sanguine of success, that both boats are admitted to be beauties; that not an accident has occurred to mar the chances of either, and that the action of both owner has been that of the true sportsman, giving, for the first trial for the coveted prize.

The effect of a few moments of existence in the suffocatingly crowded prisoners' pen at the Butler street police station, Brooklyn, yesterday, was to make 120 unfortunates eagerly plead guilty in a bunch to charges of public intoxication.

Then the Justice administered a job of each, and the coins were such as could pay it went on their way rejoicing. The Justice remarked that the proceeding was a little out of the ordinary, as, indeed, it was, but he added that he was actuated by pity for the wretched people who were jammed into the pen, and that his sympathy is easily appreciated.

If police courts are to serve in any degree as instruments of reformation it is evident that many things about their processes will have to be reformed first. And the prisoners' pen, which serves only to add expense to the country, should be reformed, should be one of the first things to go.

In previous years the people of this country have submitted to the regular annual extortion of the Coal Trust because the party in power was the recognized ally of trusts and monopolies. Here, as in the case of the coal trust, the party in power is put on as relentlessly as ever, and there is neither protest nor prospect of relief, although we have a Democratic administration in power and a Democratic Attorney-General and an Anti-Trust law. As far as a warfare on the trusts is concerned there is as little difference between a Republican and a Democratic administration as there is between the price of coal last October and now.

There are impulses to commit murder which no force of statute and no dread of penalty can restrain. Of this sort was the impulse which led one woman to shoot another in the public hall of an uptown theatre in the city yesterday.

The irony of the murderer was that a fearful lady of a woman who believes she has been wronged. Her crime was frightful; her feeling in its commission no one who cannot stand in her place can ever know how terrible it was.

Now that the new and large uptown hall of the U. S. Theatre is ready for business, the postal train for New York will be somewhat relieved. But the permanent and substantially increased facilities demanded by National and Metropolitan interests will not yet be met.

Business Ups and Downs. Representatives of leading woolen manufacturers of Rhode Island have decided that the Southern textile demands a reduction in wages.

Thurman & Powell, mechanics and engravers, at Monticello, made an assignment yesterday. The liabilities are $26,825; assets, $21,000.

The Kentucky and Indiana Building Company, at Louisville, defaulted payment of its interest amounting to $18,920 on the second mortgage bonds yesterday.

One of the latest contributions to the Sick Babies' Fund is very swell.

It comes from Miss La Loie Fuller as a tribute of sympathy and affection to the babies, and it is worthy of the captivating little artist.

A few weeks ago, when La Loie was asked if she would like to cross the tin hatched of infantile society with an old hag for good health and long life she replied:

"I want to do something better than that. My heart has always been with the poor babies. We women who have no little folks of our own are under obligation to help helpless mothers who have to bring up their children on their own. Now, if I can do anything to help them, I think I can procure salvation for fifty or sixty."

"CHARLEY'S AUNT."

At last we have a farce with doors, and there is at least one farce disciple who does not expect his audience to fall prostrate with new-born merriment at the spectacle of a number of adults being pushed into side rooms.

"Charley's Aunt" is a comedy in three acts, by Thomas, produced for the first time in this city at the Standard Theatre last night, is really encouraging.

We were beginning to get very tired of Charles Frohman and his multitudinous productions, all of the same calibre, full of the same kind of farce and vaudeville. We had just started in rebellion against "Jane" and "The Other Man" and "Settled Out of Court" and other such affairs.

"Charley's Aunt" comes like a douche and sprinkles us into another attack of vivacity. It is a comedy of the fun of which depends upon legitimate humorous situations—not the forced, hot-house wit of the farce writer, who feels that he has got to be amusing for the sake of his royalties.

In other words, "Charley's Aunt" is not a pot-boiler. It is written by a man who has something to say. It is the old farce writers whom we must fear—the Blissons and the Carres, and the Sims and the Raleighs—the men who have got to be laughable for the sake of their reputations.

Even though the comedy is a farce, it is a farce that is really funny. It is a farce that is really funny. It is a farce that is really funny.

The story of "Charley's Aunt" is simply itself. A couple of college chaps are in love with two pretty girls. One of the girls is the daughter of a rich widow from Brooklyn, and the other is the daughter of a rich widow from Brooklyn.

THE SARATOGA CONVENTION.

Gilroy or Sheehan May Be Chosen Its Chairman.

Delegates' Special Train - Other Political Matters.

The opinion among politicians this morning was that either Mayor Gilroy or Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan would be the Chairman of the Democratic Convention at Saratoga on Thursday. The matter will be settled definitely at a meeting of the State Committee at the Adelphi Hotel in Saratoga to-morrow evening.

Both are known as strong machine partisans, and with either one in the chair opposition may be more bitter, and for prudential reasons some one else may be selected.

The delegates will go to the Convention by special train. They will leave for Saratoga at 10 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The train will be composed of the following: First District, twenty-four men; second, twenty-four men; third, twenty-four men; fourth, twenty-four men; fifth, twenty-four men; sixth, twenty-four men; seventh, twenty-four men; eighth, twenty-four men; ninth, twenty-four men; tenth, twenty-four men; eleventh, twenty-four men; twelfth, twenty-four men; thirteenth, twenty-four men; fourteenth, twenty-four men; fifteenth, twenty-four men; sixteenth, twenty-four men; seventeenth, twenty-four men; eighteenth, twenty-four men; nineteenth, twenty-four men; twentieth, twenty-four men; twenty-first, twenty-four men; twenty-second, twenty-four men; twenty-third, twenty-four men; twenty-fourth, twenty-four men; twenty-fifth, twenty-four men; twenty-sixth, twenty-four men; twenty-seventh, twenty-four men; twenty-eighth, twenty-four men; twenty-ninth, twenty-four men; thirtieth, twenty-four men; thirty-first, twenty-four men; thirty-second, twenty-four men; thirty-third, twenty-four men; thirty-fourth, twenty-four men; thirty-fifth, twenty-four men; thirty-sixth, twenty-four men; thirty-seventh, twenty-four men; thirty-eighth, twenty-four men; thirty-ninth, twenty-four men; fortieth, twenty-four men; forty-first, twenty-four men; forty-second, twenty-four men; forty-third, twenty-four men; forty-fourth, twenty-four men; forty-fifth, twenty-four men; forty-sixth, twenty-four men; forty-seventh, twenty-four men; forty-eighth, twenty-four men; forty-ninth, twenty-four men; fiftieth, twenty-four men; fifty-first, twenty-four men; fifty-second, twenty-four men; fifty-third, twenty-four men; fifty-fourth, twenty-four men; fifty-fifth, twenty-four men; fifty-sixth, twenty-four men; fifty-seventh, twenty-four men; fifty-eighth, twenty-four men; fifty-ninth, twenty-four men; sixtieth, twenty-four men; sixty-first, twenty-four men; sixty-second, twenty-four men; sixty-third, twenty-four men; sixty-fourth, twenty-four men; sixty-fifth, twenty-four men; sixty-sixth, twenty-four men; sixty-seventh, twenty-four men; sixty-eighth, twenty-four men; sixty-ninth, twenty-four men; seventieth, twenty-four men; seventy-first, twenty-four men; seventy-second, twenty-four men; seventy-third, twenty-four men; seventy-fourth, twenty-four men; seventy-fifth, twenty-four men; seventy-sixth, twenty-four men; seventy-seventh, twenty-four men; seventy-eighth, twenty-four men; seventy-ninth, twenty-four men; eightieth, twenty-four men; eighty-first, twenty-four men; eighty-second, twenty-four men; eighty-third, twenty-four men; eighty-fourth, twenty-four men; eighty-fifth, twenty-four men; eighty-sixth, twenty-four men; eighty-seventh, twenty-four men; eighty-eighth, twenty-four men; eighty-ninth, twenty-four men; ninetieth, twenty-four men; one hundred, twenty-four men; one hundred and first, twenty-four men; one hundred and second, twenty-four men; one hundred and third, twenty-four men; one hundred and fourth, twenty-four men; one hundred and fifth, twenty-four men; one hundred and sixth, twenty-four men; one hundred and seventh, twenty-four men; one hundred and eighth, twenty-four men; one hundred and ninth, twenty-four men; one hundred and tenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and eleventh, twenty-four men; one hundred and twelfth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirteenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and fourteenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and fifteenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and sixteenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and seventeenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and eighteenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and nineteenth, twenty-four men; one hundred and twentieth, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-first, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-second, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-third, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-fourth, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-fifth, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-sixth, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-seventh, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-eighth, twenty-four men; one hundred and twenty-ninth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirtieth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-first, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-second, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-third, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-fourth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-fifth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-sixth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-seventh, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-eighth, twenty-four men; one hundred and thirty-ninth, twenty-four men; one hundred and fortieth, twenty-four men; one hundred and forty
