In October, 1893, The World published 91,996 ADVERTISEMENTS, or $512 More than it published in October a year ago.

THE WORLD will not, under any circumstances, hold itself responsible for the return or safe-keeping of any rejected manuscript or picture, of whatever character or value. No exceptions will be made to this rule with regard to either letters or illustrations. Nor will the editor accept any correspondence concerning available manuscripts.

THE EVENING WORLD'S Net paid bona fide actual daily Average Circulation is greater than the combined circulation of the Evening Sun, Mail and Express, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, Evening Telegram.

No letting-up on McKane. This is the day of London's "Lord Mayor's Show." "Greater New York" will be too true for ringsters' rule.

"Tom Reed on the return." McKintley cuts a much bigger figure on them. There are lots of branches to fill on those "Evening World" Christmas trees.

Francis H. Weeks saved the county some little trouble and expense, at the last. As at present defined, our policy in Hawaii is to let Hawaii take care of its own policy.

"Uncle Jerry" Rusk has the kindly wishes of the country that he may recover quickly and fully. Congress having adjourned, it appears that the people decided on a little extraordinary session of their own.

The despotism that was overthrown in Brooklyn was against consolidation. The people are for the "Greater New York."

An inspection of the returns from Buffalo gave Mr. Sheehan an entirely new impression of the strength of the Lake City breeze.

Ohio did not have the only educational campaign that was out. The bosses in the East and the Populists in the South and West learned a thing or two.

The Ferris wheel at the World's Fair earned $728,805.50 in four months, of which $150,000 was clear profit to its owners. It was, indeed, a merry-go-round for the stockholders.

Comptroller-elect Ashbel P. Fitch may rejoice in the enviable distinction of leading the city ticket. His majority is not given at $8,327, the largest majority given to any candidate in the city.

That bomb-throwing in Barcelona theatre has sent a shiver around the world. It is almost incredible that human beings can live in a civilized state and yet hold to a philosophy which justifies the downright and random murder of men, women and children.

nor season. It is not a thorough life-saving service that is not always ready for an emergency. TRUE DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES. Brooklyn can claim the credit of having won the great Democratic victory of the present year. Last year the city gave a Democratic plurality to the candidates averaging 20,000. This year against the most vigorous efforts of the Democratic Party, the Mayor and his party secured a majority of 200,000.

The Democrats of New York City did well as far as opportunity was afforded. They ran down the Democratic ticket in 1895 the majority of the State to 50,000 in the City of New York. In 1896 they were defeated by the Republicans in the City of New York, but they were not defeated in the State. They were defeated in the City of New York, but they were not defeated in the State.

THE CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS TREE. "The Evening World's" Christmas Tree Fund appeals again for the charitable people of New York and its sister cities. It asks a small donation from each person who can afford to give, that thousands of poor children whose Christmas will be joyous if humane hearts and liberal hands do not go to their assistance, may have of the bliss and happiness of the season whose enjoyment may be universal.

LOUIS FLOYD REMANDED. He Confesses His Share in the $90,000 Bank Robbery. His Brother and Sheik Will Be Arrested at Southampton.

Louis Floyd, one of the trio accused of robbing the bank of Minneapolis, at Minneapolis, Minn., of $90,000 on Sept. 2, was arraigned before Justice Meade in the Tombs Police Court this morning and remanded to await re-arrest. The prisoner is only twenty-five years old. He is a handsome man with a blond mustache, large, penetrating blue eyes, finely developed physique and the dash and abandon of a dime-novel hero.

WHAT DID IT? Gov. Flower says it was "full times." It must be attributed to the business depression and the thousands of men out of work, says the Executive. "It was entirely due to the naming of Maynard at the Saratoga Convention," says Mayor Gilroy.

It is singular that none of these shrewd politicians recognizes the fact that the only thing that has done more to the uprisings of the People against the autocratic rule and dictation of the Bosses; that it was a notice given by the free and independent voters of the State of New York, as well as of other States, that they would no longer allow themselves to be ruled by a few men, or a single autocratic boss to dictate to them for whom they shall cast their votes, whether it be for Governor, for Mayor or for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

THE FERRIS WHEEL AT THE WORLD'S FAIR earned $728,805.50 in four months, of which $150,000 was clear profit to its owners. It was, indeed, a merry-go-round for the stockholders.

It was an Occasion with the largest O you can find, please it was perhaps more than an occasion. It was several of them. Don't pretend to be ignorant of that to which I am referring. I allude to the trial-event of yesterday, all political barred out, and that was the opening of Abbey's new theatre at Thirty-third street, between Broadway and Avenue C. Henry Irving and Ellen Terry, and the production of the late Lord Tennyson's tragedy, "Becket." It is not every day that a theatre in New York is opened—though there would be a new one every day if managers kept their eyes open. CHICAGO GIRLS WANT TO BE ANGELS. Thirty-five girls who wanted all day Sunday in a "chapel" church to go to heaven are still on earth. We are glad that for that planet is the place for girls, particularly if they are good-looking and have gentle dispositions and kind hearts.

HOUSE AND HOME
There is no word more worried and more misused at the present time than "artistic." People who have no eye for color, no primary knowledge in the laws of governing taste and discrimination will talk about their artistic frocks and drawing-rooms, and what-not? They will wrap an easel up in pumpkin-colored silk, or wear a lackadaisical, flimsy gown of "greenery valley" hue, and call the effect artistic, forthwith! Any one cannot have the trained discretion of a painter in these matters. But any one can seek refuge in the safe boundaries of simplicity.

THE HUSBAND TO PICK. The Editor: In your column I read of young wives asking for advice how to get their selfish husbands. This is very hard to do, but I will give you a few hints. First, do not be too young to get married. A man who has a wife who is too young to get married will not be a good husband. Second, do not be too old to get married. A man who has a wife who is too old to get married will not be a good husband.

lace; the bodice is a shirred blouse with a very short basque and wide balloon sleeves with fitting cuffs. It is completed by a short cape edged by a frilling of lace which is very stylish and very convenient in this season.

fish, properly of shellfish, boiled and strained. La poule de prairie rotte—Prairie chicken roasted. English mutton Anglaise—Saddle of mutton with English sauce. Omelette aux fines herbes—An omelet made with parsley, &c. Omelette aux confitures—Omelet with jelly, or other sweets. Poulet de printemps—Spring chicken.

Scald one pint of milk; when lukewarm, add one teaspoonful of salt and one-half cupful of yeast. Add sufficient gluten flour to make a thick batter, and beat thoroughly. Beat the whites of two eggs light, and add them to the batter with enough flour to make a soft dough. Knead without adding any more flour, which makes it impossible to knead long. Stand away until light, then turn into greased bread-pans and let rise again. When light, bake for three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven.

All kinds of garments are even more profusely trimmed with fur than gowns, the same combinations of velvet and silk being shown. Capes and collarettes are fur and often with long fringes of black fur, or are headed by black fur and black satin or felt gimps. Lynx opossum are contrasted with green cloth and velvet.

The great Napoleon Bonaparte had disgusting table manners. Bonaparte, his secretary, and Sir George Cockburn, Admiral of the vessel that carried him to St. Helena, confirm other authorities who described him as eating with his fingers. He was a small eater, getting the nourishment his system required from milk and wine rather than solid foods. He rarely ever used his knife, we are told, and instead of picking up the morsels of food with a fork or spoon he slipped his fingers in his plate and picked up bits that dripped sauce or gravy on his waistcoat.

Take one peck of thoroughly ripe red tomatoes, scald and peel by rubbing the skin off. Chop fine, then mix with eight whites of eggs, chopped. Put over the fire and stir until thick. When thick begin to boil add one pint of good cider vinegar. Mix together one tablespoonful each of ground cinnamon, allspice, cloves and black pepper. Tie in cheese cloth bags, and add to the mixture. Simmer slowly for five hours, or until the liquid is reduced to one-half. Strain, burning. When sufficiently thick, take out the bags of spice, add one teaspoonful of mustard wet to a paste with some of the sauce, and ginger, cayenne pepper and salt to taste. When this is well seasoned and mixed, bottle and seal. Keep in a cool, dark place.
