

LAST EDITION FORCED TO SUSPEND.
Receivers Named for the Big Thurber-Whyland Company.
Assets $1,700,000 and Liabilities Said to Be Over $800,000.

HE SCORES BUTLER.
Elihu Root Sums Up in the Uplington-Keenan Suit.
Accuses the Ex-County Clerk of Misappropriating $32,000.

SAVED BY HER SKILL.
Mabel Floss Averts an Accident at the Horse Show.
A Division Is Exacted on Strict Party Lines.

CONGRESS ON HAWAII.
Message from Mr. Cleveland Accusingly Looked For.

SEE-SAW!
The Hawaiian incident is attracting much attention in Congressional circles, and such Representatives as are in the city are discussing the subject with much interest.

UNCLE SAM IN HAWAII.
The work of making an inventory of the contents of the five trunks brought from Paris on La Touraine last Saturday was begun in the morning.

HER GORGEOUS TROUSSEAU.
Miss McEnroe Says the Parisian Dresses Are Here.

LAST EDITION TO CAPTURE EL CID.
Rumors that Mello's Men Are Trying to Ship in Her Crew.
Plans for a Mutiny at Sea and Seizure of the Vessel.

The last day of the trial of the suit of Policy Dealer George P. Uplington against John Keenan, ex-County Clerk and "Bismarck" of the once powerful County Democracy, brought a crowd to Part IV of the Supreme Court this morning. The suit is brought to recover over $40,000, alleged to have been loaned to Keenan, but generally believed to have been paid, for providing protection to the policy dealers of the city. With the compound interest accrued since the alleged protection money was paid the amount now demanded is over $52,000.

The crowd which is still in hopes of hearing something "drop," and who are anxious for the names of the officials to whom it is alleged protection money was paid, listened rather impatiently to Mr. Root's address in support of the suit. He then took the character of the witnesses whom Uplington had presented. He practically stamped Barnes as a perjurer, and showed by affidavits of others that he had given positive answers even of his own life.

Early visitors to the Horse Show this morning were a amply repaid for the loss of their beauty sleep by the exhibition in the ring during the exercising hour. At 9 o'clock the ring gates were thrown open, and five minutes later the tankard-reached the hoof-beats of sturdy hackney stallions, the more elegant prancing of exquisitely moulded saddle horses and the snorting of heavy draft horses.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Hawaiian incident is attracting much attention in Congressional circles, and such Representatives as are in the city are discussing the subject with much interest. It is accepted as inevitable that the matter will receive Congressional attention immediately after the opening of the session, and all the indications point to a division on strict party lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Hawaiian incident is attracting much attention in Congressional circles, and such Representatives as are in the city are discussing the subject with much interest. It is accepted as inevitable that the matter will receive Congressional attention immediately after the opening of the session, and all the indications point to a division on strict party lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Hawaiian incident is attracting much attention in Congressional circles, and such Representatives as are in the city are discussing the subject with much interest. It is accepted as inevitable that the matter will receive Congressional attention immediately after the opening of the session, and all the indications point to a division on strict party lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Hawaiian incident is attracting much attention in Congressional circles, and such Representatives as are in the city are discussing the subject with much interest. It is accepted as inevitable that the matter will receive Congressional attention immediately after the opening of the session, and all the indications point to a division on strict party lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Hawaiian incident is attracting much attention in Congressional circles, and such Representatives as are in the city are discussing the subject with much interest. It is accepted as inevitable that the matter will receive Congressional attention immediately after the opening of the session, and all the indications point to a division on strict party lines.

The proceedings were taken by Mr. Goodwin, of the law firm of Vanderpool, Cuming & Goodwin, in the name of President E. H. Thurber, as directed by the directors of the company at a meeting held yesterday.

The papers contain an affidavit from Mr. Thurber, in which he admits the insolvency of the company, and states that it will be for the best interests of the creditors to have receivers appointed.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

The assets of the company are estimated at $1,700,000, and its debts exceed $800,000, for $900,000 of which it has given commercial paper, the remainder being in open accounts. A large portion of this is now due and maturing, and warrants of attachment are threatened.

Justice Andrews, of the Supreme Court, to-day appointed Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of 80 Broad street, Newark, N. J., and Thomas Hill, of 123 West Eighty-eighth street, receivers for the firm of Thurber, Whyland & Co., at West Broadway, Hudson and Reade streets.

Each of the receivers have filed a bond in the sum of $100,000, as ordered by the Court, and they are now in charge of the business.

Uncle Sam in Hawaii.