

to the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot. The strike was directed against the Pennsylvania Railroad. They were arrested there by Special Police Officer Ryerson, who charged them with being suspicious persons. This morning Judge O'Donnell freed each one.

Supt. O'Brien, of the Jersey Central, said that the strike of the Central road, which he said was the Lehigh Valley Company had made no attempt to ship any of its freight over the Central road.

If it did so the Central road, he said, would have to pay the law, as they have to pay for their own cars.

Should this be done, the Central road's cars would have to be freighted or discharged. As they are brotherhood men, this would not doubt precipitate a strike.

MEETING IN 17TH AMBOY.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Nov. 21.—At 8 o'clock this morning a meeting of the Lehigh Valley Brotherhood was held in the Smith street, fully 200 were present. The meeting was presided over by Grand Master William O'Brien of the O'Brien Hall, West Philadelphia.

Mr. Wilkinson arrived from Philadelphia this morning, and after the adjournment of the meeting at 10 o'clock left for Easton, Pa., by the Central road.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one. Mr. Wilkinson assured the men that they had right on their side, and that he was not a few days away when victory would be theirs upon their banners.

At the yards of the Lehigh road this morning eight men, who were at work yesterday, quit. They were freight conductors, brakemen, engineers and firemen.

This further crippled the facilities of the Lehigh road, but one locomotive running in the yard.

Mr. O'Brien denied emphatically that he had ordered the switchmen at Philadelphia to be struck.

There is general feeling among the New Jersey Central officials that the Lehigh could force the Central into the trouble by offering freight to the Lehigh. It was thought, however, that this course will not be pursued.

There were three or four passenger trains over the Lehigh up to date. The local from South Plainfield, due at 7:30, arrived on time. The train from the Kingston Falls, due at 7:34, arrived at 8:13, and the Eastern local, which left that place at 8:13, arrived at 8:30, due in Jersey City at 8:30, got in at 10:35.

A passenger who came on from Easton, Pa., said that the train, which he could see, was quiet there this morning. No effort, he said, had been made by the strikers to stop the train. The delay, he said, was caused by an accident to the engine.

The feeling among the employees of the New Jersey Central was voiced today by one of them: "I am prepared for anything that may happen. There is no more thoroughly organized body of railroad men in this country than the Lehigh employed by the Central."

We are better prepared for any contingency which may arise than is generally supposed. The whole subject has been discussed among ourselves, and we have decided to stand firm at a point of Lehigh Valley freight.

The first Central freight train which hauled on the Central's tracks will be the signal for us to quit work. That is absolutely true, and we will not want to go on strike unless forced to do so.

"There is perfect harmony among the strikers, engineers and firemen in this respect. The switchmen do not belong to the railroad, but they are working with them, and will follow our lead in any step which may be taken that is absolutely true, and we will not want to go on strike unless forced to do so."

His name was withheld, but it is said that he has two sons who are on strike. There is considerable feeling against this man among the employees in the yard, but it has not reached a point where any opposition is offered to his taking out the train.

At 12:40 the Buffalo express went out on time with the Lehigh Valley. In charge of six coaches, Mr. Riddle said there had been no call for either the coaches or the train on this side of Easton to go out on strike.

SITUATION AT MAUCH CHUNK.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Nov. 21.—The Lehigh Valley situation here continues in favor of the strikers. A meeting of the Brotherhood was held this morning when a committee was named to remain firm. Committees were appointed to wait upon non-union men and urge them to join the Brotherhood. The strikers are maintaining the organization under promise of being mailed for.

Arrangements have been made for the payment of certain sums regularly, while the strike lasts. Engineers and conductors are being paid $100 a month, firemen $40, trainmen $35 and operators $30.

The Brotherhood men on the coal branches centering here, have been ordered out and are responding. The trains are moving in the line of branches. Some local freight has been moved, passenger trains are running behind time.

Thus far there has been no violence here, and no damage has been done with the men at work.

Railroad Men in Secret Meeting.

HUNTINGTON, N. J., Nov. 21.—A meeting of railroad men was held here last evening. The representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Trainmen, as well as representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, were present. The most profound secrecy is maintained regarding the proceedings.

Genesee Sheriff Appealed To.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Nov. 21.—The Lehigh strikers have called on the Genesee sheriff to assist in protecting their property. Everything is quiet. No freight is moving. Passenger trains are being run, but they are being held up at Batavia, which officials are watching closely.

TAKING ON NEW HANDS.

Railroad Men Out of Employment Asked to Replace Strikers.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—The strike on the Lehigh Valley Railroad is a chief topic in railroad and financial circles in this city. It is thought that the Railroad Company will eventually win, as the number of non-union men employed far exceeds those working.

Applications by men who are conversant with the handling of cars and other rolling stock of a railroad company are now being made to the offices of the Company in this city, but they are being turned down.

President Garrigue seemed not to be any way disgraced this morning. He said: "Our passenger trains are moving in all times of day, and this situation is unchanged."

Acting General Manager Voorhees left the city this morning for Bethlehem, where he will have a consultation with President Wilbur.

STABBED BY HIS STEPFATHER.

Young Russell May Die and His Mother Will Recover.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 21.—The early hour this morning, Russell May, 10 years old, was killed by his stepfather, George May, who was charged with the murder of the child. The body of the young boy was found in a pool of blood in the back of the house. The police were notified, and an ambulance was called, which took the wounded man to the City Hospital. There the wound was found to be a very dangerous character, the knife having penetrated one of his lungs. It is doubtful whether he will recover.

"UNCLE JERRY" RUSK DEAD.

Ex-Secretary of Agriculture Passes Away at Viroqua.

A Man with a Career Before He Was Called to Harrison's Cabinet.

(By Associated Press.)

VIROQUA, Wis., Nov. 21.—Ex-Secretary of Agriculture Rusk died at 5 o'clock this morning.

James Melvin Rusk was a man with a career long before he entered the Cabinet of President Benjamin Harrison. His elevation to the Secretaryship of Agriculture, however, served to immortalize his name and brought to him the highest honor of the country, which he never enjoyed until his death.

"Uncle Jerry" was a typical Westerner. He had been born in Missouri, Ohio, in 1828, and lived there until he became a voter. Meanwhile his father had died, and the young man was left with a family to support. The farm would not do it alone, and he turned stage driver to get along the township where Garfield traveled, and the two struck up a friendship which never ended until death.

In 1861 he moved into Wisconsin, where he prospered as a farmer and won some popularity as Sheriff of Vernon County. At the outbreak of the war he was a volunteer, and entered the field as Major of the Twenty-fifth Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers.

He served through the war, was frequently rewarded for gallantry, and came out at the close with the brevet rank of brigadier-general. The next year he was elected Bank Controller of Wisconsin, retaining that office for four years. Then he entered Congress and served six years, distinguishing himself in pension legislation.

In 1881 President Garfield offered to send him to Paraguay and Uruguay as Charge d'Affaires and offered him the post of Public Printer. He declined these offers, and then, in 1882, the Wisconsin Republicans made him Governor of that State. In that office he gave such general satisfaction that he was twice re-elected.

Although his party rejected the liquor question, he faced it manfully, and by his order won the Germans to his support. He was the only man in the State who prevented a railroad riot by sending in his own men to take the place of troops, and this and similar acts inspired for him the love of the working class, which was frequently expressed by "Uncle Jerry" was by no means least among the Republican Presidential possibilities before the Convention of 1880.

Death of One of the London Times Proprietors.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Henry Francis Walter, one of the proprietors of the Times, is dead. Mr. Walter was a grandson of the founder of the great English newspaper, and was a great traveler and sportsman. The deceased visited the United States upon a hunting trip.

Charles Mapleson Dies of Rheumatic Gout.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Charles Mapleson died here last evening of rheumatic gout.

Charles Mapleson was the second son of an innkeeper, and the operations of a manager, and was interested in the management of his father's London company. He was married to the daughter of the ballet dancer Cavalazzi.

PUNCHED HER LANDLORD'S NOSE.

Mrs. Victoria Goes Insane as Did Her Husband.

Mrs. Marie Victoria, whose husband was killed in an insane asylum for twelve years, went insane herself this morning at her home, 82 Avenue B. She lives on the third floor there with her married daughter and two sons.

She started in about 10 o'clock by thrashing light blows at her husband. Landlord Rathglen, a confectioner who lives on the first floor, came up to quiet her. She struck him on the nose with her fist. She then ran, screaming all the while, to the third floor, where she was found by her husband as he came to the door in like a rage.

Police officers were called from the asylum and is going to murder me," she yelled.

Police Officer Bisset tried to pacify her, but she first fought with the officer, and then told him how pretty he was. He took her to Bellevue Hospital, and she laughed and prayed all the way to the hospital.

ROBBED HIS FATHER.

Young Son of a Merchant Arraigned for Grand Larceny.

Frank Mariani, the eighteen-year-old son of John M. Mariani, the wholesale dry-goods merchant of 37 Leonard street, was remanded in Jefferson Market Police Court this morning for examination Thursday, on a charge of having stolen $500 worth of linen from his father's establishment.

Police Officer McConerty and Gilbohy arrested Mariani at his home on the night. They say he is insignificant. He was discharged by his father three years ago to the East Fifth street station. Sergeant McConerty is a first-class constable.

Since then he has frequented the Tenderloin, and has been arrested several times for disorderly conduct. He is now in the hospital, and is unable to appear in court.

His father, John M. Mariani, is a well-known linen merchant, and his establishment is one of the largest in the city.

Ringing Noises

Bellevue Hospital, where he will have a consultation with President Wilbur.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cure

Hood's Pills cure liver ailments, sick headache, jaundice, indigestion. 25c. Try a box.

B. Aliman & Co.

offer To-morrow

Sterling Silver Mounted Combination Pocket-Books at the following special prices:

Real Alligator, $1.15

Alligator Facing, $1.90

Vienna Call, Self lined, $1.90

Genuine Seal, Calf lined.

VIEWED BY HIS "STRANGERS."

Thousands Pay Their Last Respects to Dr. Deems.

Burial in the Family Plot at New Dorp, S. I.

Col. William Seward wears a particularly brilliant smile to-day, all on account of an event that will be celebrated at 8:30 this evening at All Souls' Protestant Episcopal Church.

At that hour the popular Colonel of the Ninth Regiment will receive two new daughters from the hand of Rev. Dr. George F. Clover, who will unite in marriage the Misses Mary Anne Roach and Sarah Elizabeth Roach to William Seward, Jr., and Edward Townsend Seward, sons of Col. Seward.

The double wedding will be attended by a host of relatives and friends. The two brides are tall and graceful girls, of the Auburn-brown type, and both beautiful and successful. They are the daughters of the late William Roach, and granddaughters of Mrs. John Roach, who died two years ago.

The brides will be given away by their elder brother, John Roach, who will, with the two bridesmaids, attend the bride, George Schermerhorn Seward, and the bridesmaids, Misses Louise Marie Miller, Lillie Hets, of Newburgh, and Rita Miller, will wear white, with red and blue ribbons in the hair.

The bridal procession will be led up the aisle of the church by Walter H. Miller, U. S. Veterans, Adjutant of the Ninth Regiment, and followed, alone, and after her the four bridesmaids in couples.

The brides will follow, walking to the altar, and then to the altar, where they will be given away to William Seward, Jr., first, and then to Edward Townsend Seward. John Roach will surrender his other sister, Miss Mary Anne, to Edward Townsend Seward.

After the ceremony there will be a wedding supper at the home of the bride's father, where the church service there was a Masonic ceremony conducted by Rev. Dr. George F. Clover, of which Dr. Deems was senior chaplain.

From the church the body was removed to the family plot at New Dorp, S. I., adjoining the burial place of Commodore Vanderbilt, where it will be buried.

The honorary pallbearers included John Inman, W. P. St. John, Robert L. Deems, George W. Clarke and Theodore H. Price.

Ireland Against Bohemia

Josephine, a young girl, a school-keeper at 24 East Seventh street, and her husband, Frank Deeks, aged thirty-three, natives of Bohemia, were committed to the County Jail, New York, on Monday last, on a charge of having committed a crime against the young girl, Josephine, who is alleged to be confined in the Protestant Hospital suffering from a suppurative fracture of the skull. Crown Prosecutor Deeks is charged by showing Ireland against Bohemia.

SHIPPING NEWS.

ALBANY PORT TO-DAY.

Ship Name, Destination, Agent, Time.

High Water To-day, 4:12

Low Water To-day, 11:44

ALBANY PORT TO-DAY.

Ship Name, Destination, Agent, Time.

High Water To-day, 4:12

Low Water To-day, 11:44

A DREAM OF FAIR WOMEN.

Performance of the Professional Woman's League This Afternoon.

"A dream of fair women" will be realized by the admirable performance of "As You Like It," given this afternoon by the members of the Professional Woman's League at Palmer's Theatre.

Through the energetic efforts of the President, Mrs. A. M. Palmer, and her coadjutors, this worthy society has done an inestimable amount of good to needy women of the profession. A handsome sum will be realized by the matinee to-day.

The restoration of much of the old fashionable music, the interpolation of numerous choruses and dances, will make the representation specially interesting.

The hundred and twenty volunteers who have put in the production, which will conclude the first break in the family circle.

GLoucester Entries.

RACE TRACK, GLOUCESTER, Nov. 21.—The entries and probable starters for Wednesday's races are as follows:

First Race—Four and a half furlongs, selling.

Second Race—Six furlongs, for three-year-olds.

Third Race—Five furlongs, selling.

Fourth Race—One mile, selling.

Fifth Race—Six furlongs, for two-year-olds, selling.

Sixth Race—Six and a half furlongs, selling.

Seventh Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Eighth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Ninth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Tenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Eleventh Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Twelfth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Thirteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Fourteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Fifteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Sixteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Seventeenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Eighteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Nineteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Twentieth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

WARRANT FOR A CONGRESSMAN.

Nebraska Statesman Said to Have Failed to Pay His Board.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 21.—A. J. Worcester of the Hotel Lindell, yesterday swore out a complaint against Congressman W. A. McKelheim, of the Fifth Nebraska District, charging him with procuring board and lodging from Jan. 1 to Feb. 26, 1893, without paying for the same.

Local News in Brief.

Anna White, forty years old, and homeless, was found in front of the Grand Central Station at 2 o'clock this morning, and taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Fire in the hallway of August Steininger's furniture warehouse, 221 First street, did not do any damage shortly after midnight this morning.

Richard Ingalls, forty-nine years old, an Assessor, was killed by falling into a sewer at the corner of Third and Third streets last night. The body was found in the sewer.

Fanny Nass, sixty years old, a Bohemian, committed suicide by hanging herself in the street at 411 East Seventh street last night.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Ten Chinamen Discharged.

The Chinamen were discharged from custody and two ordered sent back to Havana by Judge Pitman this morning. All were apprehended by Inspector Scharr, who was told in the future to procure other than heavy evidence.

Stern Brothers

are showing in their

Trimmed Millinery Dept

Toques, Bandeaux and Bonnets, in original effects, also

"Amazone" Hats for Street Wear

"Charlotte Corday" and "Medici" Bonnets

For Evening Wear.

West Twenty-third St.

The Business Men of Cotham

Know a good thing when they see it. Last week's offering of $22.50 and $20 Men's Suits for $15 caught the public's fancy and its trade. We do even better this week. $28 and $25 Sack Suits, extra long, double or single-breasted (our regular stock), will be sold

AT $20.00

250 Suits in all sizes to select from. Notice our window display.

Gans & Co.,

279, 281 and 283 BROADWAY, 2d, 3d and 4th Floors.

Suit Fiction guaranteed or money returned.

SISTERS TO WED BROTHERS.

John Roach's Granddaughters Will Marry Messrs. Seward.

Fashionable Weddings To-Night In All Souls' Church.

Col. William Seward wears a particularly brilliant smile to-day, all on account of an event that will be celebrated at 8:30 this evening at All Souls' Protestant Episcopal Church.

At that hour the popular Colonel of the Ninth Regiment will receive two new daughters from the hand of Rev. Dr. George F. Clover, who will unite in marriage the Misses Mary Anne Roach and Sarah Elizabeth Roach to William Seward, Jr., and Edward Townsend Seward, sons of Col. Seward.

The double wedding will be attended by a host of relatives and friends. The two brides are tall and graceful girls, of the Auburn-brown type, and both beautiful and successful. They are the daughters of the late William Roach, and granddaughters of Mrs. John Roach, who died two years ago.

The brides will be given away by their elder brother, John Roach, who will, with the two bridesmaids, attend the bride, George Schermerhorn Seward, and the bridesmaids, Misses Louise Marie Miller, Lillie Hets, of Newburgh, and Rita Miller, will wear white, with red and blue ribbons in the hair.

The bridal procession will be led up the aisle of the church by Walter H. Miller, U. S. Veterans, Adjutant of the Ninth Regiment, and followed, alone, and after her the four bridesmaids in couples.

The brides will follow, walking to the altar, and then to the altar, where they will be given away to William Seward, Jr., first, and then to Edward Townsend Seward. John Roach will surrender his other sister, Miss Mary Anne, to Edward Townsend Seward.

After the ceremony there will be a wedding supper at the home of the bride's father, where the church service there was a Masonic ceremony conducted by Rev. Dr. George F. Clover, of which Dr. Deems was senior chaplain.

From the church the body was removed to the family plot at New Dorp, S. I., adjoining the burial place of Commodore Vanderbilt, where it will be buried.

The honorary pallbearers included John Inman, W. P. St. John, Robert L. Deems, George W. Clarke and Theodore H. Price.

FOR A TWO-YEAR-OLD ASSAULT.

Boat-BUILDER Monahan Arrested on a Bench Warrant.

Edward Monahan, a boat-builder at Twenty-first street, was arrested on a bench warrant by Detectives Von Gerichon and Trainor this morning. An indictment was returned against him for assaulting and assaulting in the second degree. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Recorder Smyth, in Part I. of the General Sessions, and was committed to the Tombs to await trial.

The complaint was filed by the wife of Monahan, who lives at 13 East Twenty-third street, alleging that on May 21, 1893, Monahan assaulted him, and that he has since that time been unable to get on his feet.

GLoucester Entries.

RACE TRACK, GLOUCESTER, Nov. 21.—The entries and probable starters for Wednesday's races are as follows:

First Race—Four and a half furlongs, selling.

Second Race—Six furlongs, for three-year-olds.

Third Race—Five furlongs, selling.

Fourth Race—One mile, selling.

Fifth Race—Six furlongs, for two-year-olds, selling.

Sixth Race—Six and a half furlongs, selling.

Seventh Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Eighth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Ninth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Tenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Eleventh Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Twelfth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Thirteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Fourteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Fifteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Sixteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Seventeenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Eighteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Nineteenth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

Twentieth Race—Six furlongs, selling.

WARRANT FOR A CONGRESSMAN.

Nebraska Statesman Said to Have Failed to Pay His Board.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 21.—A. J. Worcester of the Hotel Lindell, yesterday swore out a complaint against Congressman W. A. McKelheim, of the Fifth Nebraska District, charging him with procuring board and lodging from Jan. 1 to Feb. 26, 1893, without paying for the same.

Local News in Brief.

Anna White, forty years old, and homeless, was found in front of the Grand Central Station at 2 o'clock this morning, and taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Fire in the hallway of August Steininger's furniture warehouse, 221 First street, did not do any damage shortly after midnight this morning.

Richard Ingalls, forty-nine years old, an Assessor, was killed by falling into a sewer at the corner of Third and Third streets last night. The body was found in the sewer.

Fanny Nass, sixty years old, a Bohemian, committed suicide by hanging herself in the street at 411 East Seventh street last night.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Ten Chinamen Discharged.

The Chinamen were discharged from custody and two ordered sent back to Havana by Judge Pitman this morning. All were apprehended by Inspector Scharr, who was told in the future to procure other than heavy evidence.

Bloomingdale's

315 Ave. 39 & 40th Sts.

GREATEST BOOK SALE ON RECORD.

From the bankrupt stock of Grange & Co., 1,000 complete works of Shakespeare, hand-somely bound in silk, cloth and gold, printed on fine paper; published at $2; our sale price, $39

Chambers's Encyclopedia, 12 vols., published at $20..... 3.98

Chambers's English Literature, 4 vols., published at $6..... 2.98

Encyclopedia of Wonders and Curiosities, 2 vols., pub. at $3..... .98

Dante's Works, 3 vols., gilt top, pub. at $4..... 1.98

Dickens's Works, pub. at $15..... 3.98

Alexander Dumas's Works, 8 vols., pub. at $8..... 1.69

Eliot's Works, 6 vols., pub. at $5..... 1.61

Gibbon's History of Rome, 5 vols., pub. at $5..... 1.98

Heroes and Patriots, 3 vols., pub. at $3..... 1.69

Cooper's Leather Stocking Tales, 5 vols., pub. at $5..... .98

Macaulay's History of England, 5 vols., pub. at $5..... .98

Pittsford's Lives, 3 vols., pub. at $3..... 1.39

Prescott's Peru, 2 vols., pub. at $3..... 1.19

Rambau's History of Russia, 2 vols., pub. at $3.50..... 1.69

Rollin's Ancient History, 4 vols., pub. at $4..... 1.98

Thackeray's Works, 10 vols., pub. at $10..... 2.88

Sir Walter Scott's Waverley Novels, 12 vols., pub. at $12..... 2.89

GRAND HOLIDAY DISPLAY.

Toys, Dolls, Games and thousands of other articles suitable for Holiday Gifts.

Bloomingdale Bros.,

3d Ave., 59th & 60th Sts.

MRS. HENDERSON'S BONNETS

Bought for $471, but Hasn't Paid for Them.

Mrs. Russell Henderson, who is said to be well known in the society circles of upper Fifth avenue, and who is certainly more or less well known to the tradesmen who cater to that trade, disappointed a large crowd of court loungers and others in City Court Chambers, to-day by her failure to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

Her attorney, James Flynn appeared for her, and from his remarks to Judge Fitzsimons it would appear that his client, instead of spending most of her time in avoiding process servers, would be glad to see them at any time they are fortunate enough to find her.

Mrs. Henderson lives at the St. Marc Hotel, Third street and Fifth avenue. Her present legal troubles result from her purchasing an outfit of $471 in bonnets during December, 1893.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear in person to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court.

This summons was also unanswered, and the Sheriff was given an attachment against her body.

Yesterday Attorney Flynn secured a stay of proceedings pending his argument today why his client should not be punished.

In his answer to-day Lawyer Flynn argued that his client, yesterday's client was invalid because she was served, and sued in the name of Harriet Henderson, while her given name is Juliet. He then in a general way depicted the service of the other papers claimed, and submitted affidavits in support of his claims.

Attorney Lehman argued that the papers had been served, and offered the affidavits of his clerks in support. He said that Henderson had been guilty of the most outrageous and outrageous attempts to avoid service, and at times he had employed the services of a private detective to keep Mrs. Henderson's movements.

The judge ordered her to pay $471, as she failed to pay it the claim was placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection.

A check for $471 was issued by her attorney in supplementary proceedings, and she was ordered to appear