LAST EDITION GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

State Entirely Out of Debt and a Surplus in the Treasury.

A PLEA FOR THE FORESTS.

And Another for the Use of the Trolley System on the Canals.

ELMIRA REFORMATORY EVILS.

Present Transfer System Should Either Be Abolished or Modified.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—In his annual message to the legislature to-day, Gov. Flower declares the State out of debt and with such a surplus as to make it possible for the present Legislature to render a direct tax unnecessary another year, except for schools, the insane and, possibly, the canals.

The Governor renews his former recommendations for forest preservation, puts in a good word for "Greater New York," and advocates the trolley as a means of enlarging canal facilities; recommends the blanket ballot and non-partisan election boards, also an extension of the Corrupt Practices act so as to require committees, like candidates, to make sworn statements of campaign receipts and expenditures. He would also make proof of ownership on the part of candidates involving forfeiture of office, if the State care of the insane is defended in the message; the importance of assisting still further the agricultural development of the State is presented; it is urged that all new appropriations for State public works be enacted as early in its legitimate field the State may do what it can for the relief of the unemployed.

In treating the subject of State prisons the Governor dwells upon Elmira Reformatory evils and says the system of arbitrary transfers from the Reformatory to the prisons should be altogether abolished or so modified as to prohibit abuse. He would also have the power to remove the Reformatory Superintendent vested in the Governor.

The subjects of losses by fire, fish propagation, banking laws and home rule in cities are also treated in the message, together with other timely topics.

THE GOVERNOR'S WORDS.

How He Shows to the Legislators The Condition of the State.

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—In his annual message, presented to the State Legislature to-day, Gov. Flower says:

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

To the Legislature:

For the first time in more than seventy years the Executive is able to announce to the Legislature that the State is out of debt, and that the last vestige of debt paid during the year has been paid in full.

During the past year the State has received a surplus of more than seven millions of dollars, and the current fiscal year will close with a surplus of more than eight millions of dollars. The surplus is the result of a policy of economy and efficiency, and of a policy of reducing the tax rate for the State to a level which will not only give the State a surplus, but will also give the people a relief from the burden of taxation.

The present Legislature can, therefore, look forward to a surplus of more than eight millions of dollars, and the current fiscal year will close with a surplus of more than nine millions of dollars. The surplus is the result of a policy of economy and efficiency, and of a policy of reducing the tax rate for the State to a level which will not only give the State a surplus, but will also give the people a relief from the burden of taxation.

ROBBED AN EXPRESS WAGON.

Precedent Young Thieves Steal a $200,000 Bale of Cloth.

Dennis Mannie, of 319 Spring street, and Patrick McLean and his brother, John, of 479 Washington street, all under twenty-one, were remanded in Jefferson Market Court this morning charged with stealing a bale of clothing, valued at $200,000, from a wagon of the Westcott Express Company at Canal and Washington streets.

The robbery occurred at 11 o'clock last night. How it was done was and is a mystery. When the driver of the wagon discovered his loss he notified the police of the Prince street station, and Detectives Burke and Dunn went to work on the case.

Policeman Fleming, of the same station, while on post, saw two men carry several bags of merchandise out of the McLean highway, at 479 Washington street, at 7:30 o'clock this morning. He thought they acted suspiciously and followed them. One of them dropped a bag of clothing and the two ran away.

Policeman Fleming brought the bag of goods to the station, and the two youths had been identified as the McLean brothers, and they were arrested. They confessed, implicating Mannie, and the three were locked up. The detectives are looking for another party to the robbery.

BRIDGES VERY NECESSARY.

Another Argument for Two Sidewalks Along Harlem Speedway.

Park Commissioner Paul Dana had a talk with Mayor Gilroy this morning on the subject of the Harlem speedway.

Mayor Gilroy told Mr. Dana that the chief engineer of the Croton Aqueduct had informed him that he must have bridges or some other means to cross the driveway in order to haul coal for the Croton water pumping station at High Bridge.

One of the chief objections to the two sidewalks made by the other Commissioners was that the cost of the bridges to connect the two sidewalks would be too great.

The chief engineer's statement leaves no ground for argument against two sidewalks; there is no good argument against two sidewalks, bridges or no bridges," said Mr. Dana.

The Park Board meets to-morrow to further consider the speedway.

HE REFUSED THEIR DEMAND.

Then Three Men Beat Charles Seitel and Broke His Arm.

George Malloy, of 124 First avenue; William Brannigan, of 1875 Second avenue, and Thomas Cuddy, of Seventy-third street and Third avenue, were held in Harlem Police Court this morning to await the result of injuries inflicted on Charles Seitel, of 1975 Second avenue.

Seitel is in the Harlem Hospital with a broken arm and several severe bruises about the body.

Last night as he was about to enter his home he said that Malloy, Brannigan and Cuddy approached him and demanded money for beer.

Seitel refused, and told the men to go and knock him down and kicking him, and then ran down Second avenue.

Seitel notified Policeman O'Hara, of the East Eighty-eighth street station, who captured the three men.

CLUBBED TWO WOMEN.

Serious Charge Against Officer O'Hara of Long Island City.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Jan. 2.—Policeman Patrick O'Hara made charges of felonious assault to-day before Judge Ingram against James Hughes, a Blisville saloon-keeper.

Hughes was held, but it transpired that O'Hara had clubbed him, as well as his aged mother and sister Maggie, both of whom are now suffering from the effects of the officer's treatment they received from the police.

Hughes says he will bring the matter before the Grand Jury. He claims that O'Hara began the assault by striking him without cause, while O'Hara says that he had to club the women in self-defense.

WILL PRACTICE LAW AGAIN.

Ex-District-Attorney Nicoll Has Retired from Politics.

Ex-District-Attorney Nicoll, in an interview to-day regarding his future plans, said:

"I have retired from politics and intend now to devote myself exclusively to the practice of my profession. My fight for the present will be at 12 West street, with my old associates, with whom I was formerly in partnership, under the name of Cowan, Nickerson & Nicoll & Brown."

"Since I became District-Attorney I have only had a nominal connection with the firm, but I may renew my connection with it."

THREE BOLD HIGHWAYMEN.

Charles Gitter Held Up While Entering His Own Home.

James Matton, of 124 First avenue; William Brannigan, of 1875 Second avenue, and Thomas Cuddy, of Seventy-third street and Second avenue, were held in Harlem Court to-day on a charge of highway robbery.

Charles Gitter, of 1875 Second avenue, Local Forecaster Dunn said this morning that the cold wave which had been hovering about this section of the State since last Saturday will be completely dissipated to-morrow. ### STATE LEGISLATURE.

Annual Session Opens with Flowers and the Message.

A $20,000,000 Canal Improvement Bill Introduced.

Assembly Passes a $200,000 Appropriation for the Capitol.

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—Flowers in profusion decorated the desks of the members of the Senate and Assembly this morning, when the State Legislature began its annual session. In the Senate beautiful tributes were upon the desks of Senators Collins, Owens, Childs, Sullivan, O'Donnell and Cantor, and a pretty basket of roses adorned the Lieutenant-Governor's desk.

The members of the Assembly were liberally supplied with flowers, and the Speaker's desk bore several tokens from both majority and minority members. The spectators in both houses included many of the fair sex, and the lobbies of both Houses were filled.

The members arrived early, and there was a great hustle and bustle looking for seats in the Senate and temporary seats in the Assembly.

Secretary of State Palmer came into the Assembly and swore in such members as had not previously taken the oath in his office. He then performed the same duty to the Senators, the members taking the oath in groups.

In both branches the Republican nominees of last night's caucuses were elected, as follows:

Senate Officers—President pro tem, Charles T. Saxton; Clerk, John S. Kenyon; Stenographer, A. L. Waldo; Door-keeper, Edward Dowling.

Assembly Officers—Speaker, George F. Malby; Clerk, George W. Dunn; Door-keeper, Joseph Bauer; Sergeant-at-Arms, J. H. Manville; Stenographer, H. E. Gleason.

After organization the first business was the reception of the Governor's Message. (The message is printed in other columns.)

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—The canal people of the northern territory of the State got Senator Bradley to introduce a bill this morning providing for expending in the next few years about $20,000,000 on the canals.

It authorized the Superintendent of Public Works, before the opening of canal navigation in the years 1894 and 1895, to cause the Erie, Oswego, Champlain, Cayuga and Seneca and Black River canals, and the Onondaga River improvement to be enlarged by deepening, widening, straightening, lengthening certain locks and removing pier and abutment obstructions, as well as to clear out the choked-up feeders of the Erie and other canals.

The work is to be done by excavating or raising of the banks so as to provide for a uniform depth of not less than nine feet of water throughout its entire length of 352 miles, from Albany to Buffalo, and to widen its channel to a uniform width of not less than 100 feet on the bottom of the same, except through populous cities, where a width of not less than 60 feet shall be provided.

AUSTIN SUIT BEGUN.

Relatives Want the $25,000 Insurance on His Life.

The suit promises to be one of the most remarkable and interesting ever tried in the courts of this city.

Austin is alleged to have been drowned at Manhattan Beach on July 4, 1891.

The Insurance Company set up the claim that Austin is not dead, but is hiding in the Adirondack Mountains while his relatives try to secure the money for which his life was insured by the defendant corporation.

A number of mountain guides will testify.

A jury was secured with much less difficulty than was anticipated, and in less than an hour after the case began it was completed.

Lawyer O'Gorman made a statement of the plaintiff's side of the case.

"The only question you will be called on to decide," he said, "is whether John C. Austin was divorced on July 4, 1891."

Continuing, Mr. O'Gorman went at length into Austin's antecedents and dwelt on his standing in the business and social world.

He described in detail all of Austin's movements on July 2 and his preparations to take his children to Manhattan Beach for a holiday outing.

He then told of Austin's going to the hotel house depositing his valuables in the safe and afterwards drowning. He said every effort possible was made to recover the body.

"Painful as was the knowledge of Austin's death to his relatives," said the lawyer, "far more painful to them was to be accused by this insurance company of entering into a conspiracy to defraud."

Then holding up the insurance policy for $25,000 on which the suit is brought the lawyer said:

"These policies, which Austin economized in his office, he then performed the same duty to the Senators, the members taking the oath in groups."

In both branches the Republican nominees of last night's caucuses were elected, as follows:

Senate Officers—President pro tem, Charles T. Saxton; Clerk, John S. Kenyon; Stenographer, A. L. Waldo; Door-keeper, Edward Dowling.

THE BOY AND THE SLATE.

The Same Boy and the Same Slate.

MELLO TREATED HIM WELL.

Capt. Richards, of the Basuto, Says Peixoto Is Disliked.

He Tells of a Battle Between Troops in Their Barracks.

On ashore at dusk one evening and executed the next morning.

The boy, alone, in the coffee wharf while at Rio, and several stray bullets struck the Prince. He was sitting on deck smoking one evening and a bullet whizzed within six inches of his head. The ship's carpenter, Dolmer, had a very close call of the same kind. The drama seemed to be doing the hardest fighting with his ship, the Republic.

"The suburb of Villegaignon was pretty badly smashed up, and in the hands of the rebels. We could see the flames burning in Niechero, and I understood that Peixoto's soldiers were burning the place, as Mello had extensive stores there."

"We left Bahia on Nov. 11, but there was nothing out of the way here. The interest in Pernambuco in the arrival of the Niechero was intense, and speculation was lively as to the extent of her powers in the way of doing damage."

SALVADOR FRENCH TAKEN.

One of the Most Dangerous of Spain's Anarchist Leaders.

MADRID, Jan. 2.—One of the most important arrests in connection with the Anarchist conspiracies was accomplished yesterday at Saragossa, where the notorious, violent and dangerous Anarchist leader known as Salvador French was taken into custody.

This man, strongly suspected of being concerned in the Liceo Theatre dynamite bomb outrages, vanished from Barcelona immediately after that crime was committed.

Since then he has very cleverly eluded the efforts of the authorities to capture him.

It is known that French planned and almost succeeded in executing an attempt to blow up a portion of the prison at Barcelona where the majority of the Anarchists of that city were confined.

French had been kept very quiet by order of Peixoto, but Capt. Richards says it is vouchered for by the Basuto.

In the province of Rio Grande do Sul it was stated that the Government soldiers had been killed in several brutal crimes, killing and plundering the people at will.

ENGLISH GUNNERS QUIT.

They Refused an Offer to Fight for President Peixoto.

Capt. Anderson, of the steamer Portuguese Prince, arrived this morning from Pernambuco, having left that port Dec. 19.

He reported that city in a state of siege, martial law having been declared. The gunboat Aurora, purchased from Sir William Armstrong for Peixoto, and costing $75,000, had arrived Nov. 28. Her English crew had been paid off. The gunners had been offered £2 sterling per day to remain in the service, but declined and returned to England.

The gunship Parayashiba was anchored in the harbor, the steamer Government men sent from Rio had arrived and were to be put on board the Aurora and the gunship to make them a passenger. There had been no disturbance of any account in the city.

One of the soldiers who was riding in one of the horse cars had shot the conductor with a large pistol. The soldier refused to take the case to a magistrate who had paid his fare, and during the quarrel that ensued the conductor was killed. Very little notice was taken of the affray. The arrival of the Niechero and America was expected and caused much excitement among the people.

Capt. Anderson also told of a narrow escape that he and his carpenter had had in taking their evening promenade on the deck of their ship at Rio.

"We left Pernambuco on Dec. 8," he said, "and the country people there were afraid to come into town as they knew they ran the risk of being mustered into the Government ranks by force. Of course, business was correspondingly dull, and it was impossible to tell from day to day what was going to happen. I heard that thirteen sailors from the guard boat Parayashiba had been shot for talking too much against Peixoto. They were tak-

DEAD NEAR HIS ENGINE.

Chapman's Suicide Made 500 People Lose Half a Day.

Found Hanging by the Neck in Hall's Cigarette Factory.

Thomas Chapman, who lived at 530 Third avenue, was found hanging by the neck dead in the engine-room of the Hall cigarette factory, 29 East Thirty-seventh street, at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

He had committed suicide some time during the night, and his body was only discovered when the employees of the factory reported for work this morning.

Chapman had been in the employ of the cigarette company for several years. He is forty-seven years old.

It had been the custom of Chapman, who was the engineer in charge of the factory, to work very early mornings to start the fires.

This morning, when the other employees arrived, it was discovered that there was no steam on, and one of the shipping clerks went into the engine room to find the cause. Almost the first thing he saw was Chapman's body hanging by the neck from a beam.

The engine was notified and the body was later removed to an undertaking establishment.

It is known that Chapman had been married, but had separated from his family, the members of which live in Brooklyn. Chapman boarded with a Mrs. McGrath, at 160 Third avenue.

She says he went out New Year's calling on his mother, and returned very much depressed and contented. She can advance no motive for his deed.

WAITING FOR HER FIRST WORDS.

Miss Barrowell Still Unconscious and Police Without a Clue.

Miss May Barrowell, the victim of an assault in a vacant lot at 8th and Van Wagon avenues, Jersey City, is still unconscious at Jersey City Hospital. Her friends are waiting anxiously for her to reveal the names of her assailants, for the police say they have no clue, and they are inclined to criticize the Superintendent for not continuing his investigation.

The friends of Miss Barrowell are extremely impatient because the Jersey City police officials have made statements that are believed to be reflections on the young woman's choice of acquaintances, if not her character. It is charged that the police are thus endeavoring to shield themselves from responsibility for allowing the notorious Stuyvesant-Highway gang to outrage Northwinding the theory of Supt. Smith that the assault was committed by members of the Stuyvesant-Highway gang, and they are inclined to criticize the Superintendent for not continuing his investigation.

WANT ONLY ONE HEAD.

Parkhurst Lawyer Moss Wants Police Commissionership Abolished.

Lawyer Frank Moss, of Dr. Parkhurst's Society, said to an "Evening World" reporter to-day that he would favor any bill which might be introduced into the Legislature to abolish the present Board of Police Commissioners.

"Personally," he said, "I favor making one man the head of the Department, and that head Supt. Byrnes. If he had full power there would be no excuse for the kind of things that are going on in the affray. The arrival of the Niechero and America was expected and caused much excitement among the people."

LAST EDITION M'KANE PRESIDENT.

Big Row at the Kings County Supervisors' Meeting To-day.

Mayor Schieren Gets Rattled and Votes with the Enemy.

Gravesend's Boss and His Henchmen Run Things Their Own Way.

There was a very lively meeting of the Kings County Board of Supervisors in Brooklyn this morning, at which John Y. McKane, boss of Gravesend, won eleven indictments and a sentence of thirty days' confinement in jail, accompanying a fine of $250, hanging over his head, was re-elected President pro tem. for 1894.

Mayor Charles A. Schieren took his seat with the Republicans, who had come prepared to make a hard fight to keep McKane out by contesting the seats of three members. Mr. Schieren did not take any part in the row, but it confused him so that several times he voted with the "enemy."

Mr. Fitchie, the newly elected Supervisor at Large, called the Board in order for organization at 10:30 o'clock.

The chambers of the Board were packed to the doors with supporters of McKane and others who sought to aid the Republicans in their fight. The crowd hissed and cheered at every opportunity.

When Mr. Fitchie rapped for order, Clerk Farrell began to call the roll. Supervisor at-Large called the Board in order for organization at 10:30 o'clock.

MADRID, Jan. 2.—One of the most important arrests in connection with the Anarchist conspiracies was accomplished yesterday at Saragossa, where the notorious, violent and dangerous Anarchist leader known as Salvador French was taken into custody.

This man, strongly suspected of being concerned in the Liceo Theatre dynamite bomb outrages, vanished from Barcelona immediately after that crime was committed.

Since then he has very cleverly eluded the efforts of the authorities to capture him.

It is known that French planned and almost succeeded in executing an attempt to blow up a portion of the prison at Barcelona where the majority of the Anarchists of that city were confined.

French had been kept very quiet by order of Peixoto, but Capt. Richards says it is vouchered for by the Basuto.

In the province of Rio Grande do Sul it was stated that the Government soldiers had been killed in several brutal crimes, killing and plundering the people at will.

ENGLISH GUNNERS QUIT.

They Refused an Offer to Fight for President Peixoto.

Capt. Anderson, of the steamer Portuguese Prince, arrived this morning from Pernambuco, having left that port Dec. 19.

He reported that city in a state of siege, martial law having been declared. The gunboat Aurora, purchased from Sir William Armstrong for Peixoto, and costing $75,000, had arrived Nov. 28. Her English crew had been paid off. The gunners had been offered £2 sterling per day to remain in the service, but declined and returned to England.

The gunship Parayashiba was anchored in the harbor, the steamer Government men sent from Rio had arrived and were to be put on board the Aurora and the gunship to make them a passenger. There had been no disturbance of any account in the city.

One of the soldiers who was riding in one of the horse cars had shot the conductor with a large pistol. The soldier refused to take the case to a magistrate who had paid his fare, and during the quarrel that ensued the conductor was killed. Very little notice was taken of the affray. The arrival of the Niechero and America was expected and caused much excitement among the people.

Capt. Anderson also told of a narrow escape that he and his carpenter had had in taking their evening promenade on the deck of their ship at Rio.

"We left Pernambuco on Dec. 8," he said, "and the country people there were afraid to come into town as they knew they ran the risk of being mustered into the Government ranks by force. Of course, business was correspondingly dull, and it was impossible to tell from day to day what was going to happen. I heard that thirteen sailors from the guard boat Parayashiba had been shot for talking too much against Peixoto. They were tak-

DEAD NEAR HIS ENGINE.

Chapman's Suicide Made 500 People Lose Half a Day.

Found Hanging by the Neck in Hall's Cigarette Factory.

Thomas Chapman, who lived at 530 Third avenue, was found hanging by the neck dead in the engine-room of the Hall cigarette factory, 29 East Thirty-seventh street, at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

He had committed suicide some time during the night, and his body was only discovered when the employees of the factory reported for work this morning.

Chapman had been in the employ of the cigarette company for several years. He is forty-seven years old.

It had been the custom of Chapman, who was the engineer in charge of the factory, to work very early mornings to start the fires.

This morning, when the other employees arrived, it was discovered that there was no steam on, and one of the shipping clerks went into the engine room to find the cause. Almost the first thing he saw was Chapman's body hanging by the neck from a beam.

The engine was notified and the body was later removed to an undertaking establishment.

It is known that Chapman had been married, but had separated from his family, the members of which live in Brooklyn. Chapman boarded with a Mrs. McGrath, at 160 Third avenue.

She says he went out New Year's calling on his mother, and returned very much depressed and contented. She can advance no motive for his deed.

WAITING FOR HER FIRST WORDS.

Miss Barrowell Still Unconscious and Police Without a Clue.

Miss May Barrowell, the victim of an assault in a vacant lot at 8th and Van Wagon avenues, Jersey City, is still unconscious at Jersey City Hospital. Her friends are waiting anxiously for her to reveal the names of her assailants, for the police say they have no clue, and they are inclined to criticize the Superintendent for not continuing his investigation.

The friends of Miss Barrowell are extremely impatient because the Jersey City police officials have made statements that are believed to be reflections on the young woman's choice of acquaintances, if not her character. It is charged that the police are thus endeavoring to shield themselves from responsibility for allowing the notorious Stuyvesant-Highway gang to outrage Northwinding the theory of Supt. Smith that the assault was committed by members of the Stuyvesant-Highway gang, and they are inclined to criticize the Superintendent for not continuing his investigation.

WANT ONLY ONE HEAD.

Parkhurst Lawyer Moss Wants Police Commissionership Abolished.

Lawyer Frank Moss, of Dr. Parkhurst's Society, said to an "Evening World" reporter to-day that he would favor any bill which might be introduced into the Legislature to abolish the present Board of Police Commissioners.

"Personally," he said, "I favor making one man the head of the Department, and that head Supt. Byrnes. If he had full power there would be no excuse for the kind of things that are going on in the affray. The arrival of the Niechero and America was expected and caused much excitement among the people."

Capt. Anderson also told of a narrow escape that he and his carpenter had had in taking their evening promenade on the deck of their ship at Rio.
