

DEALINGS IN SUGAR.

Local Pool Formed to Squeeze Washington Shorts. Sugar practically constituted the market this morning. The stock moved up steadily from 7 1/8 to 7 7/8, and the dealings were larger than those in the rest of the list put together.

St. Paul Declines on the Company's Statement.

St. Paul declined on the company's statement. The gross earnings of this road for the four months ending January were $70,474, a decrease of $18,061, or for the month, $2,152, a decrease of $31,305.

The bears on sugar tried to check the advance in the stock, so had in fact, that they rendered a circulation of reports about the death of prominent members of the stock market.

At first the death of ex-Gov. Ames was reported as a mere rumor, but it was exploded by the news of his death.

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

At first the death of ex-Gov. Ames was reported as a mere rumor, but it was exploded by the news of his death.

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

The following are the comparative figures: Jan. 27, Feb. 3. Changes: Loans $1,282,800 $1,285,500 Inc. 2,700

The receipts of currency from the interior during the week while large, were not up to previous weeks.

THE BONDS ARE ALLOTTED. PUMPED FOR THEIR LIVES.

Secretary Carlisle Gives Out an Official Statement. The steamer Sprung a Leak and Fires Were Put Out.

Proposals Scaled Down to Fit the $50,000,000 Mark. Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

THE BONDS ARE ALLOTTED. PUMPED FOR THEIR LIVES.

Secretary Carlisle Gives Out an Official Statement. The steamer Sprung a Leak and Fires Were Put Out.

Proposals Scaled Down to Fit the $50,000,000 Mark. Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

The Secretary of the Treasury has considered the proposals submitted for the new 5 per cent. loan and has accepted all bids naming a higher price than $117 1/2.

The proposals submitted at the upset price have been scaled down 5 1/2 per cent., and the amount of bonds allotted under this reduction, together with the subscriptions accepted in full, is $50,000,000.

Subscribers will be notified and the bonds will be delivered as payments are made.

Assistant Treasurer Conrad N. Jordan, at the Sub-Treasury, this morning, said he did not expect to receive the list of allotments of the new $50,000,000 issue of United States bonds until Monday.

KITTY'S NAMESAKE.

A Romance of Olden Time with a Modern Ending. "Close the shutters, Kitty. What a wild night it is to be sure!"

"The rain is coming down in floods," said a young girl, peering out into the pitiless darkness.

A burrhead ground stiff and ugly under the most favorable circumstances, looking like some vast desert waste in the howling wind and driving rain, was just visible.

"Why, Aunt Bell," she continued, pausing with one hand on the shutter, "there is a name scratched on this pane of glass; I never noticed it till this minute."

"What is the name?" asked the old lady, indifferently, half asleep in her cozy armchair by the fire.

"K-I-N-O-C-H—Kinloch, Scots Greys, 1845," read the girl, "and then 'Kitty' written very badly just below."

"Kinloch? Kitty?" said Aunt Bell, starting up with sudden interest. "Why, that must be the same man!"

Then she sank back again, murmuring: "Ah, Kitty, there was love in those days, and romance, too!"

"There was love now?" said her niece, coming to her aunt's side and kneeling down on the hearthrug.

The ruddy flames and glow from the fire lit up the girl's chestnut hair, fair complexion and bright hazel eyes.

Aunt Bell looked longly down at the plump little face held up to her, and said: "You are a good girl, and I believe in the right kind, but would you like to hear the story of that namesake of yours, Kitty?"

"Very much," said the girl.

"Well, fifty years ago, as you can easily reckon, I was a girl of sixteen, and my mother and I were living in a cottage with my aunt, who then had one of the finest houses in this County of Kildare."

Several regiments were stationed at the camp and at the neighboring village, so you may imagine the girls of the party, and I looked forward to having a party and a good time.

At this time Cape Lookout bore north-northeast, thirty-six miles distant. There was a tremendously heavy sea on at the time, and the boats were about equal as to whether we should ever reach port.

The crew hailed for their lives with such a shout that I never heard of it until the vessel was safely in port.

"The ruddy flames and glow from the fire lit up the girl's chestnut hair, fair complexion and bright hazel eyes."

Aunt Bell looked longly down at the plump little face held up to her, and said: "You are a good girl, and I believe in the right kind, but would you like to hear the story of that namesake of yours, Kitty?"

"Very much," said the girl.

"Well, fifty years ago, as you can easily reckon, I was a girl of sixteen, and my mother and I were living in a cottage with my aunt, who then had one of the finest houses in this County of Kildare."

Several regiments were stationed at the camp and at the neighboring village, so you may imagine the girls of the party, and I looked forward to having a party and a good time.

At this time Cape Lookout bore north-northeast, thirty-six miles distant. There was a tremendously heavy sea on at the time, and the boats were about equal as to whether we should ever reach port.

The crew hailed for their lives with such a shout that I never heard of it until the vessel was safely in port.

"The ruddy flames and glow from the fire lit up the girl's chestnut hair, fair complexion and bright hazel eyes."

Aunt Bell looked longly down at the plump little face held up to her, and said: "You are a good girl, and I believe in the right kind, but would you like to hear the story of that namesake of yours, Kitty?"

"Very much," said the girl.

From the Moment of Birth use CUTICURA SOAP.

It is not only the purest, sweetest and most refreshing of nursery soaps, but it contains delicate emollient properties, which purify and beautify the skin, and prevent skin blemishes caused by imperfect cleansing at birth and use of impure soap.

Mothers. To know that a single application of the CUTICURA RESERVES will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy and economical cure of itching, disfiguring humors, and not to use them without a moment's delay is to fail in your duty. Curing made in childhood are permanent.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; Soap, 25c.; Reservoir, 25c. Forthrightly, Boston, Mass. "All about Baby's Skin, Scalp, and Hair," mailed free to any address.

BUNCOED AND ROBBED.

Sailor Rogan Falls Among Land-sharks and Loses His Money. Edward Rogan, a sailor, who was laid 19th after returning from a nine months' cruise, tried to get a $20 bill changed in a saloon at 42 Clarence street yesterday, and when the bartender refused to take it, he was told to go to the devil.

The man, who said he would go out and find somebody who would do so. He never returned.

While Rogan was waiting for him, Daniel Lyons, a homeless longshoreman, who had been waiting for him, had taken his money and fled.

The man was arrested Lyons, and in the Jefferson Market Police Court today he was held for trial in $1,000.

CAPT. ZALINSKI RETIRED.

Dynamite-Gun Man May Now, If He Chooses, Go to Brazil. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Orders were issued yesterday by the War Department placing Capt. Edmund Zalinski on the retired list, on account of disability incident to the service.

The promotion to fill the vacancy will be that of First Lieutenant Luigi, who has been twenty years in the service.

The case of Capt. Zalinski has attracted the widest interest in army circles, owing to the fact that he was a member of the crew of the Brazilian cruiser, which was wrecked off Cape Horn.

The couple were married in 1885, and five years later Barnard began suit for divorce, naming as co-respondents several men well known in Paris.

The proceedings this afternoon were held in the office of Alexander Rosenbach, at 224 Broadway.

Barnard said he was manager for Leo Barnard & Co., of Paris, drug importers, and that his salary was $3,000 a year.

His only other income was what he could borrow of his brother.

He had been in Paris for some time, and that there were judgments against him for $10,000.

He denied that he recently furnished a flat for anybody in West Sixteenth street, or that he was interested in any flat recently built by the police.

Barnard said he was now paying his wife $2,000 a year.

"Where do you get the money?" asked Laver, Julius Lehmann, who appeared for Barnard.

"I now owe my brother $7,000. If I want $50,000 I take it," replied Barnard. "I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

THE TALE OF A PAINTING.

(From Puck.) "Close the shutters, Kitty. What a wild night it is to be sure!"

"The rain is coming down in floods," said a young girl, peering out into the pitiless darkness.

A burrhead ground stiff and ugly under the most favorable circumstances, looking like some vast desert waste in the howling wind and driving rain, was just visible.

"Why, Aunt Bell," she continued, pausing with one hand on the shutter, "there is a name scratched on this pane of glass; I never noticed it till this minute."

"What is the name?" asked the old lady, indifferently, half asleep in her cozy armchair by the fire.

"K-I-N-O-C-H—Kinloch, Scots Greys, 1845," read the girl, "and then 'Kitty' written very badly just below."

"Kinloch? Kitty?" said Aunt Bell, starting up with sudden interest. "Why, that must be the same man!"

Then she sank back again, murmuring: "Ah, Kitty, there was love in those days, and romance, too!"

"There was love now?" said her niece, coming to her aunt's side and kneeling down on the hearthrug.

The ruddy flames and glow from the fire lit up the girl's chestnut hair, fair complexion and bright hazel eyes.

Aunt Bell looked longly down at the plump little face held up to her, and said: "You are a good girl, and I believe in the right kind, but would you like to hear the story of that namesake of yours, Kitty?"

"Very much," said the girl.

"Well, fifty years ago, as you can easily reckon, I was a girl of sixteen, and my mother and I were living in a cottage with my aunt, who then had one of the finest houses in this County of Kildare."

Several regiments were stationed at the camp and at the neighboring village, so you may imagine the girls of the party, and I looked forward to having a party and a good time.

At this time Cape Lookout bore north-northeast, thirty-six miles distant. There was a tremendously heavy sea on at the time, and the boats were about equal as to whether we should ever reach port.

The crew hailed for their lives with such a shout that I never heard of it until the vessel was safely in port.

"The ruddy flames and glow from the fire lit up the girl's chestnut hair, fair complexion and bright hazel eyes."

Aunt Bell looked longly down at the plump little face held up to her, and said: "You are a good girl, and I believe in the right kind, but would you like to hear the story of that namesake of yours, Kitty?"

"Very much," said the girl.

"Well, fifty years ago, as you can easily reckon, I was a girl of sixteen, and my mother and I were living in a cottage with my aunt, who then had one of the finest houses in this County of Kildare."

Several regiments were stationed at the camp and at the neighboring village, so you may imagine the girls of the party, and I looked forward to having a party and a good time.

WON'T PAY HIS WIFE'S BILLS.

So Barnard Is Examined in Supplementary Proceedings. He Has Sued for Divorce, but Is Paying Alimony.

Joseph Barnard, of 228 Pearl street, who is suing his wife, Leah, for an absolute divorce, was examined in supplementary proceedings this afternoon on judgments secured against him by Ehrlich Bros., of Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue, for dry goods.

The couple were married in 1885, and five years later Barnard began suit for divorce, naming as co-respondents several men well known in Paris.

The proceedings this afternoon were held in the office of Alexander Rosenbach, at 224 Broadway.

Barnard said he was manager for Leo Barnard & Co., of Paris, drug importers, and that his salary was $3,000 a year.

His only other income was what he could borrow of his brother.

He had been in Paris for some time, and that there were judgments against him for $10,000.

He denied that he recently furnished a flat for anybody in West Sixteenth street, or that he was interested in any flat recently built by the police.

Barnard said he was now paying his wife $2,000 a year.

"Where do you get the money?" asked Laver, Julius Lehmann, who appeared for Barnard.

"I now owe my brother $7,000. If I want $50,000 I take it," replied Barnard. "I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

Because I consider it an outrage, I notified the court in my affidavit about the amount of this judgment."

THE PECHON NOMINATION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Senate Judiciary Committee will unquestionably decide the greater time of its meeting Monday to the consideration of the nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination of Mr. Pechon by Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, but does not expect to do so until next week.

The nomination