

STINER GOT ANGRY.

He Thinks He and the Other Justices are Sadly Abused.

Calls Dr. Parkhurst a Crank and Defends His Colleagues.

Incidentally He Helps Goldfolie in Clearing His Calendar.

The exposure made by "The Evening World" of the loose methods in vogue in the civil courts of this city has had a salutary effect...

In the Eighth District Civil Court, which has jurisdiction over the Sixth and Twentieth Wards, the court is at 200 West Twenty-second street.

The Justice is Joseph H. Stiner, who has something of a reputation as a police court lawyer.

Some idea of Justice Stiner's caliber can be gleaned from a speech he made from the bench yesterday when Dr. Parkhurst's Society, through a tenant, made complaint against the landlord of an alleged disorderly house in West Fortieth street.

"I want it distinctly understood," said the Justice, "that I want it recorded, not only in the minutes of this court, but in the columns of the newspapers, that I do not consider this Parkhurst Society Society for the propagation of cranks."

On the contrary, I look upon it as a society for the propagation of cranks. Although he holds court only twice each week—on Tuesdays and Fridays—Justice Stiner says that he remains there until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

He says Tuesdays and Fridays are his "trial" days, and Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays his "return" days.

There are goodly numbers of cases pending in Justice Stiner's court. Mr. Stiner had the distinction of hearing the Ninth and the Fifth.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

Justice Stiner is smarting under the charges made by "The Evening World" and sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the matter.

He went to the Clinton Street Court, Mr. Goldfolie held court downstairs, while the Stiner matter was being argued.

PICKED UP AT SEA.

Crew of the Schooner J. E. Kelsey Rescued by the Westhall.

Almost Frozen When the Steamer Hove in Sight.

Big Atlantic Liners Come in Conted with Ice.

QUARANTINE, S. I., Feb. 6.—The steamship Westhall, in ballast from Shields Jan. 16, which arrived at this station at 5:30 this morning, reported picking up the shipwrecked crew of the schooner James E. Kelsey, consisting of the captain, mate, cook and two sailors, near Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Feb. 4.

Capt. Crosby, of the Westhall, said that he sailed for Hampton Roads, Va., in ballast for orders. He met with snow, squalls and a succession of gales until, at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Feb. 4, he sighted the Kelsey drifting hopelessly before the wind. She was towed, 102 tons burden, and was lumber laden.

The sails of the little craft had been blown away, her decks strained and started, and her hold full of water. The after-cabin-house had been torn away by the high seas and was adrift, leaving no shelter for the shipwrecked crew, who were in terrible distress from lack of food and exposure.

Capt. Crosby sent a lifeboat to the Kelsey, and succeeded in getting them safely aboard just as darkness fell on the night of Feb. 4. One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, at 7 o'clock this morning.

Heiner lived with his wife in four rooms at the above address. He had been employed at the New York Central Railroad, and was discharged on Dec. 1, 1893, after twenty months' service.

The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the latest news from Sierra Leone, says: "We cannot have these things happening weekly. No time should be lost in settling the affair with France."

At 7 o'clock this morning, while his wife was still asleep, he went into an adjoining room.

He fastened a rope to a machine he had invented to solve the perpetual motion problem. Then he stood on a chair and fastened the other end of the rope around his neck, after which he kicked the chair out from under him.

When Mrs. Heiner got up a half hour later, she discovered her husband in a room she had never seen before.

She screamed and Henry Heiner, another fellow in the house, rushed in. He cut the body down and summoned Dr. Maguire, of 734 East One Hundred and Forty-fifth street.

The doctor could do nothing, as Heiner had been dead for some time.

The perpetual motion machine was constructed as a double derrick, with arms perfectly balanced. He had some iron rods and a pulley, and the arms could be made to swing up and down continuously, and thus generate force.

The machine was never quite completed, but it is believed that its failure had something to do with making him dependent.

The doctor was called in to examine the body, and he was forced by his weight to the ceiling.

Every incoming vessel reports tempestuous weather almost beyond precedent. The wind has been blowing from the west by easterly gales, high seas and hurricanes all through the month of December and January.

It will be a marvel, old seamen say, if some of the lighter craft do not fall to ever reach their port, for the hurricane has been blowing from the west by easterly gales, high seas and hurricanes all through the month of December and January.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

OUR SWELL SUIT. MADE OF THE FINEST CLAY DIAGONALS THAT WILL NOT CRACK. SCOTCH CHEVIOTS WORSTEDS. FRENCH CASSIMERES. TWEEDS AND OTHER FASHIONABLE GOODS.

MAKING NO MISTAKE: ONE DOOR WEST OF NASSAU. USED AS A SCAFFOLD. MUST SETTLE WITH FRANCE.

Heiner Hangs Himself to His Perpetual Motion Machine.

England Cannot Stand Repeated Troubles in Sierra Leone.

Russian Steamer Lost; All Hands Saved—General Cable News.

Despondent Through Lack of Work and Failure of His Scheme.

Once a Machinist Employed by the New York Central Road.

Charles Heiner, a machinist, fifty-two years old, committed suicide by hanging himself in a room at his home, 634 East One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, at 7 o'clock this morning.

Heiner lived with his wife in four rooms at the above address. He had been employed at the New York Central Railroad, and was discharged on Dec. 1, 1893, after twenty months' service.

The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the latest news from Sierra Leone, says: "We cannot have these things happening weekly. No time should be lost in settling the affair with France."

At 7 o'clock this morning, while his wife was still asleep, he went into an adjoining room.

He fastened a rope to a machine he had invented to solve the perpetual motion problem. Then he stood on a chair and fastened the other end of the rope around his neck, after which he kicked the chair out from under him.

When Mrs. Heiner got up a half hour later, she discovered her husband in a room she had never seen before.

She screamed and Henry Heiner, another fellow in the house, rushed in. He cut the body down and summoned Dr. Maguire, of 734 East One Hundred and Forty-fifth street.

The doctor could do nothing, as Heiner had been dead for some time.

The perpetual motion machine was constructed as a double derrick, with arms perfectly balanced. He had some iron rods and a pulley, and the arms could be made to swing up and down continuously, and thus generate force.

The machine was never quite completed, but it is believed that its failure had something to do with making him dependent.

The doctor was called in to examine the body, and he was forced by his weight to the ceiling.

Every incoming vessel reports tempestuous weather almost beyond precedent. The wind has been blowing from the west by easterly gales, high seas and hurricanes all through the month of December and January.

It will be a marvel, old seamen say, if some of the lighter craft do not fall to ever reach their port, for the hurricane has been blowing from the west by easterly gales, high seas and hurricanes all through the month of December and January.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

Capt. Kiley declared that she "bowed" and "broke" in the surf, and escaped with little or no damage.

The schooner Montana, with a cargo of lumber, was wrecked on the coast of Cape Hatteras, on the evening of Jan. 21, and passed up to her pier last night.

33 Street Le Bonfleur Bros New Goods on Sale This Week. Fine Printed Sateens 14c yd. Navy blues and black grounds, reduced from 25c. Scotch Zephyr Ginghams 19c yd. Actual value 30 cts. Printed India Dimities 25c yd. Imported goods, chicest patterns in tinted and white grounds.

West 23d Street. MRS. DEVINE ASKS ALIMONY.

Her Banker Husband Married Her While on a Spree.

She Makes Counter Charges in His Suit for Divorce.

Sarah L. Devine, through her counsel, today, applied to Judge Freedman, of the Superior Court, for $50 a week alimony and $1,000 counsel fees in the suit her husband, Thomas Devine, has brought against her for an absolute divorce.

Mrs. Devine denies the charges her husband has made against her, and alleges that he has been guilty of improper conduct with several women. She says he abandoned her in December, 1892, and left her without means of support.

Mrs. Devine says her husband is President of the Bank of New York in Washington, and is worth $200,000 aside from his income from the bank.

In his complaint in the suit for divorce Devine alleges that while on a spree in his hotel he married his wife in an alleged disorderly house.

He says that he has no recollection of the marriage, and that he did not know he was married until told of it by friends.

Inspector Friedman granted Devine's attorney until Feb. 12 to file answering affidavits.

DUNLAP VERY PENITENT.

He Didn't Know How He Got Into Miss Albert's Room.

Thomas Dunlap, the young man who was found sleeping in Miss Myra Albert's room at 34 West Sixty-first street last night, and who was arrested as a suspicious character, yesterday, in the street, after being locked up all night in the West Sixty-eighth street police-station, was arraigned at the Yorkville Court by Police Commissioner Dunlap today.

Dunlap told Justice Voorhis in his plea today that he had the slightest idea of how he got into the room. It seems that Miss Albert went away on a visit to some friends, and when she returned she found her room occupied by Dunlap, an entire stranger, sleeping peacefully in her armchair.

Dunlap said he had no recollection of how he got into the room, but he said he had been drinking heavily, and he said he had been drinking heavily, and he said he had been drinking heavily.

"I'll never do it again if I can help it," he remarked as he hastened out of court.

MURRAY'S ACCUSER ABSENT.

Policeman Charged with Insulting a Woman Goes Back to Duty.

Policeman Murray, of the Mercer street station, who was accused of insulting a woman on the street Saturday night, was before Inspector McAvoy at Police Headquarters this morning. He was accompanied by two policemen and two citizens, who were expected to give evidence in his behalf.

The complainant in the case and her brother, who is said to be a jockey, did not appear, and Inspector McAvoy ordered Policeman Murray back to duty.

Murray said to a reporter that the woman had walked over his post several times on the night in question, and that on the last occasion he had told her that she was drunk, and that he would place her under arrest.

DRIVEN FROM HOME BY TALK.

Young Husbands Give This Excuse for Abandonment.

Two young husbands were arraigned before Justice Koch, in the Essex Market Police Court, today in answer to charges of abandonment preferred by their wives. They were Isaac Weinstein, aged twenty, of 71 Suffolk street, and Patrick McElroy, aged twenty-one, of 25 East Tenth street.

Weinstein was married four months before Inspector McAvoy at Police Headquarters this morning. He was accompanied by two policemen and two citizens, who were expected to give evidence in his behalf.

The complainant in the case and her brother, who is said to be a jockey, did not appear, and Inspector McAvoy ordered Policeman Murray back to duty.

Murray said to a reporter that the woman had walked over his post several times on the night in question, and that on the last occasion he had told her that she was drunk, and that he would place her under arrest.

LEVY ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

Autoter Says He Was Struck with an Iron Weight.

Wolf Levy was arrested today by Deputy Sheriff Waigering, and in default of $1,000 bail lodged in the Ludlow Street Jail. The order for his arrest was signed by Judge Pryor, of the Court of Common Pleas, in an action brought against him by Moses Autoter for $500 damages for assault and battery.

Autoter is a baker, and he said he was assaulted without cause by Levy, who struck him on the head with a two-pound iron weight.

For Begging on Fifth Avenue.

Charles Baker and Wm. Winter, who were arrested yesterday while begging money from Father O'Farrell on Fifth avenue, in front of the Vanderbilt mansion, were discharged in Yorkville Court today.

Beecham's pills are for biliousness, bilious headache, dyspepsia, heartburn, torpid liver, dizziness, sick headache, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, loss of appetite, sallow skin, when caused by constipation; and constipation is the most frequent cause of all of them.

Book free; pills 25c. At drug stores, or write B. F. Allen & Co., 365 Canal St., New York.

A FACT! What Is Said of THE WORLD ALMANAC For 1894. FURNITURE, CARPETS, &c. IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED. THE PRICES DEFY COMPETITION AND OUR TERMS OF CREDIT THE EASIEST. JORDAN and MORIARTY, 207, 207 1/2, 209, 211 & 213 PARK ROW, Near Chatham Square, N. Y. FREE TO ALL. 6 Solid Oak Cane-Seat Dining-Room Chairs given away FREE THIS WEEK WITH EVERY PURCHASE OF $10.00. NO MONEY DOWN! YOU CAN MAKE YOUR OWN TERMS OF PAYMENT.

BROOKLYN STANDARD-UNION—"Invaluable to those who wish to keep abreast of the times."

DAILY ITEM, ALLENTOWN, PA.—"Having the whole globe as its field and covering it thoroughly and impartially."

UTICA PRESS—"The statistics on all important subjects for the past year are very valuable and accurate."

SIGNAL, JOLIET, ILL.—"The New York World Almanac for 1894 is a beauty, excelling all its predecessors. To our mind it is as good as half a dozen encyclopedias combined."

DAILY REVIEW, WASHINGTON, DEL.—"I have read the most superb publication of the kind ever attempted in this country. It is, in fact, unparalleled and unequalled. There are nearly five hundred pages of matter of universal interest and absorbing interest. How such a volume can be published and sold for 25 cents is a marvel to us, but such is nevertheless the fact."

DAILY MERCURY, NEW BEDFORD, MASS.—"Improved form and with many new features. It is a convenient and accurate source of reference on many matters, especially those pertaining to politics."

MORNING BULLETIN, NORWICH, CONN.—"One of the most complete handbooks. There are statistics in six million figures and letters and it is a good book for a farmer to have at hand for daily reference."

FIRMAN'S STANDARD, BOSTON, MASS.—"There are very few books of reference that are so often in requisition or of so great practical use as 'The World Almanac.' It is a well known and a standard work in the home, counting-room and the workshop. Just what every one needs to give and verify dates and facts of the past events, answer questions and settle the innumerable little controversies of every-day life."

EVENING JOURNAL, WILMINGTON, DEL.—"There is a marked improvement in the present issue of the 'World Almanac' and many pages have been added. This book has become an indispensable oracle and guide to many who need a ready reference, and this Almanac is bound to be greeted with general approval. All the well known important departments of the Almanac have been enlarged. The aim has been to keep the annual fully abreast of the times by the inclusion of the latest news and statistics of the world as they were at the time of going to press."

THE HERALD, ROCHESTER, N. Y.—"The larger pages than ever before, and some seventy more of them. It contains all the old features and many new ones, making it a veritable encyclopedia of information."

THE AMERICAN, WATERBURY, CONN.—"The New York World's Almanac for 1894 is anything but a book of the past. It is a book that is not to be found in it. It must be a rare piece of information. That is as little as can be said of so large a book, and yet it tells the whole story."

GAZETTE, ELMIRA, N. Y.—"The New York World's Almanac for 1894 is better than ever. No higher praise than can be written. It is a volume packed with complete, comprehensive and up-to-date news. No citizen of the United States who has use for a handy book of reference, should be without it."

DAILY AMERICAN, TRENTON, N. J.—"Fully sustains the high reputation of this valuable publication. In all that goes to make up a complete and reliable book of reference, this volume recommends itself as far in advance of every other publication of the kind of which we have any knowledge. Its astonishing cheapness, its well arranged and readable pages, its comprehensive and complete information, its up-to-date statistics, its numerous illustrations, its wide circulation which it is so generally appreciated, all these things make it a book that is not to be found in it. It must be a rare piece of information. That is as little as can be said of so large a book, and yet it tells the whole story."

STAR-INDEPENDENT, HARRISBURG, PA.—"One of