

BROOKLYN NEWS.

CLERK BOOTH'S JOKE.

De Wolfe Submitted a List of Men to Be Discharged.

But Booth Retained the "Victims" and "Fired" the Others.

"Assessments Don't Go" in the Park Department Now.

While the wave of reform, which is sweeping the Brooklyn politicians and secure office-holders of the various departments, is a serious matter to those who are forced to swell the great army of the unemployed, it nevertheless is attended with many ludicrous incidents.

The most recent of these happened only a few days ago in the Park Department and at the expense of about eighty laborers, whose heads were dropped into the Commissioner's official basket.

Just previous to election day, when all the office-holders were being assessed to help defray the Democratic machine campaign expenses, there was considerable grumbling among the laborers in the Park Department.

Twenty of the laboring gang, believing they would be discharged anyway, refused to pay the assessment, but finally the majority went to the captain's office and "ginned" the assessment.

Mr. Booth decided several days ago to reduce the force of laborers, and requested Mr. De Wolfe to submit a list of men to be discharged.

Mr. De Wolfe submitted a list of men to be discharged, and presented it to Mr. Booth.

"These twenty men I would suggest be dismissed," said he, pointing to the list of men who had refused to pay the assessment.

"Why not keep the hundred?" asked Mr. Booth.

"Because," said Mr. De Wolfe, "these twenty are not necessary just now, but the least evidence of a smile, without the discharge of the eighty men and retain these twenty."

The joke on Mr. De Wolfe was made more ludicrous when he learned that the foreman, anticipating the prompt action on De Wolfe's report, had taken the liberty to dismiss the eighty men that they were discharged.

The foreman was one of the earnest supporters of the reform, and he had been out with the eighty others, while their twenty companions, who had been humiliated, were still at work.

It is said that Mr. De Wolfe made up his list from information obtained from the foreman, and that he had been blackballed for refusing to agree to the campaign assessment.

LENA ADDICKS MISSING.

Her Mother Thinks She Has Fallen Into the Hands of a Gang.

The police of the Fifth Precinct, Williamsburg, say today that they have secured no information as to the whereabouts of fifteen-year-old Lena Addicks, who disappeared from Monday.

On that day she left to go to work at the Greenpoint Day Works, but failed to return there, and her mother, who had run away from home, but this mother cannot believe.

It is a mother believes that Lena has fallen into the hands of one of the gangs which infest both sides of Bushwick creek, in Williamsburg and Greenpoint. She has been searching around for the girl herself, but did not report the case to the police until today.

THEY WERE ACCOMMODATED.

Two Negroes Sent to the Penitentiary at Their Own Request.

Joseph Bachelo and Joseph Colwell, two negroes, who say they live in the West Indies, were sent to the penitentiary for three months each on their own application by Justice Goetting in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, today.

According to the story told by the two negroes, they came here from St. Thomas last summer, and had been in the accommodations there no bad that both of them contracted rheumatism, and that they have not been able to work their passage home.

IN LUDLOW STREET JAIL NOW.

Holman and Geertz Held in $2,000 Bail for Examination.

Frank Holman, of 152 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, and August Geertz, of 21 Clinton street, Brooklyn, are locked up in Ludlow Street Jail, in default of $2,000 bail, charged with stealing tobacco.

MCKANE JUROR BOYCOTTED.

Merchant Bulger Loses the Trade of the Czar's Sympathizers.

Dealer Hurler Also Has Trouble in Disposing of His Pickles.

There was little to be learned today in Brooklyn concerning the plans of John Y. McKane's lawyers to keep him out of Sing Sing prison.

Lawyer George W. Roderick, the only one of McKane's counsel who will not talk to reporters, is also the one who professes to know something which will disqualify any of the McKane jurors.

Mr. Roderick, however, refuses to state what the ground is on which he hopes to have the verdict set aside. There are a number of rumors flying about concerning the reasons for the suspected juror's disqualification. They range from the alleged insanity of the man to his having been convicted of a felony at some time in his life.

The juror's identity, however, still remains a secret at 82 Myrtle avenue, and the report that the McKane jurymen are having a very unpleasant time of it with their neighbors by reason of their sympathy expressed for McKane by many Brooklynites, was in two instances mentioned in an "Evening World" reporter today.

Juryman James Bulger, who deals in tea and coffee at 82 Myrtle avenue, admitted this morning that a number of his customers had upbraided him for having voted for McKane's conviction.

Mr. Bulger's assistant said that his employer had been hauled over the coals on several occasions, and that some of his customers had gone so far as to withdraw their trade, which is principally among boarding-house keepers in Brooklyn.

Theodore A. Hurler, 288 Flushing avenue, Feb. 1, also had some trouble getting rid of his stock of pickles, in which commodity he deals. It is rumored that he was towards him that suspicion was directed, that he had been at one time an inmate of a sanitarium. This, however, is denied by Hurler, his wife, and inquiry by his neighbors did not seem to bear out the rumor.

To-morrow the motion for a certificate of disqualification will be filed in Justice Cullen. There is not likely to be any certificate, and it is not likely that he will give an official decision, but will take overnight to consider it.

Justice Cullen will probably grant a certificate of disqualification to the juror, and it is not likely that he will give an official decision, but will take overnight to consider it.

The report narrows the location of the Justice in question to the Seventh Judicial District, which covers two blocks in the Seventh Judicial District, whose terms expire on Dec. 31, 1904. They are Justice George F. Yeoman, of Rochester, and Justice William Morgan, of Bath.

Lawyer Roderick succeeded in keeping out of the way of McKane's conviction by his and his associates preserve a discreet silence concerning everything connected with the McKane case.

POLICEMAN BRITTON MIXED.

Said the Fight Happened Half a Mile Away from the Palm.

William Morgan, a negro, who resides at 148 Gwynnett street, was charged in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, today with assault, but Justice Goetting discharged him on account of the absence of any complaint.

Morgan is the only man of all work in the Palm, a saloon at 155 Division avenue, and last night in a dispute with John J. Meany, Morgan struck him over the head with a tray, cutting Meany severely.

Policeman Britton, who arrested Morgan in the way of newspaper men today, declaring the assault took place in a saloon in South Sixth street, half a mile away from the Palm.

Census of Brooklyn's Unemployed.

The police of Brooklyn report this morning that the census thus far taken of the unemployed in that city show 20,000 persons to be out of work. The figure is not expected to reach at least 40,000.

These are the men exposed by "The Evening World" two weeks ago, when $1,000 worth of stolen tobacco was found in the cellar of their peculiar establishment at 367 East 12th street.

Friel says he has sufficient evidence to convict both men. They will be examined tomorrow at 2 P. M.

WANTED TO KILL HIS FAMILY.

Inmate Salseman Corson Confined in Flatbush Asylum.

George W. Corson, of 930 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, was reported to be a trifle more rational at the Flatbush Inmate Asylum, Brooklyn, this morning.

Corson is a salesman for a New York jewelry house. While in prison a few days ago he became violently insane. He was first taken to an asylum there, but when he returned to his home, he threatened to kill his family.

Yesterday Corson told Dr. Charles H. Hall that he intended to kill his wife and family, and he was taken to an examination, and Corson was removed to Flatbush.

Wants $2,000 for a Blackened Eye.

David H. Dickson has, through Lawyer George S. Campbell, of 114 Nassau street, brought suit in the City Court, Brooklyn, against his former landlord, John T. Donaghy, of 547 Lorimer street, for $2,000 damages, Donaghy and Dickson had a misunderstanding, and Donaghy blackened Dickson's eye.

MONEY FOR A BOSS.

That Is Simply What the Shore Inspectorship Provides.

Ferguson Charges $13,860 a Year for a Steam Launch.

Uncle Sam Pays $8,000 for a Craft Six Times as Large.

Sad to relate, New Utrecht's eminent Pooh-Bah, the "Honorable" Cornelius Ferguson, is soon to lose one of his sixteen or seventeen soft snaps. What makes it particularly distressing is the fact that the snap he is going to lose is the softest snap of all.

The State Legislature will undoubtedly remove him as State Shore Inspector, and abolish the office as being a useless and extravagant waste of the people's money.

The bill introduced by Representative Wray, of Brooklyn, is now before the Committee on Commerce and Navigation at Albany. Ferguson sent some of his friends to the State capital to lobby against the repeal of the measure, which gives $7,000 a year to himself and friends, but the signs are that all their efforts will prove unavailing.

The United States Government, through the Department of the Interior, and the New York Harbor, practically does the work of the State Shore Inspector. Ferguson sent some of his friends to the State capital to lobby against the repeal of the measure, which gives $7,000 a year to himself and friends, but the signs are that all their efforts will prove unavailing.

The new boat is owned by Capt. Jacob M. Healy, Pilots John Konyak, Thomas Marks, Frederick Ryerson, Martin Ryerson and Jacob P. Lockman. Her length is 87 feet and her breadth of beam 22 feet. The depth of hold is 9 feet 3 inches.

It really covers the work done by the State Shore Inspector in the carrying out of the provisions of the New York State laws.

"As the Supervising Inspector of New York Harbor, I keep a boat at the Narrows day and night, and all permits issued by this office for vessels having garbage and refuse on board must be delivered to one of our inspectors on board the boat at the Narrows. We keep a boat at the Narrows, and have inspectors on board these vessels on and shore. We even send inspectors to Staten Island and along shore in order that the provisions of the Federal law shall be obeyed.

"If the city would separate its light garbage from the ashes, heavy refuse and dirt, I would have no jurisdiction over the garbage taken to sea, but as the State of things now exists our department does all the work necessary to enforce the provisions of the Federal law shall be obeyed.

"When the bill came up in the Assembly, and Assemblyman Alsworth moved to amend the bill, I was present, and had introduced the measure at the instance of Boss Ferguson, strenuously opposed it.

Assemblyman Wray, in replying to Finigan, had this to say about boss Hurler: "If this $25,000 appropriation is passed, unfortunately the Supervisor of New Utrecht will be discharged, and the work of the State Shore Inspector will be entrusted with the expenditure of this money to a structure which the people of the city do not want out of politics, it is a waste of public money."

"The people who oppose the bosses should be protected. There were but few people in Gravesend who opposed the bill. The public thought, nevertheless, they should be protected. There may be but few in New Utrecht who now oppose Boss Ferguson, but they should be protected as well."

"The contest now waging over the abolishment of the office of State Shore Inspector will doubtless be a second legislative defeat for the Finigan-Ferguson combination."

NEW JERSEY.

TWO LICENSES FOR A SALOON.

The Original Proprietor Found Two Purchasers and Fled. Capt. Farrier, of the First Precinct, Jersey City, this morning discovered that Marcus Finger and Henry Rohlf, both saloon-keepers at 101 and 104 Morris street respectively, had each a license for the same place. They had obtained the license from Alexander Stupnicki, who had the original license, and Finger went before the clerk of the original license had been lost.

"In the mean time had lost his license, and, upon going to the clerk for a transfer slip, it was discovered that the saloons were both operated under one license. Both saloons have been closed up, awaiting an investigation. Stupnicki has fled to Sweden."

BOY BURGLARS HELD.

One So Small That the Justice Stood Up to See Him. George Boone, John McKenna, Daniel Manning and Leon Emory, whose ages range from fourteen to sixteen years, and who were arrested yesterday by Capt. Farrier for committing numerous burglaries in Newark avenue, were arrested yesterday by Justice O'Donnell in Jersey City this morning and held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

"When the bill came up in the Assembly, and Assemblyman Alsworth moved to amend the bill, I was present, and had introduced the measure at the instance of Boss Ferguson, strenuously opposed it."

Assemblyman Wray, in replying to Finigan, had this to say about boss Hurler: "If this $25,000 appropriation is passed, unfortunately the Supervisor of New Utrecht will be discharged, and the work of the State Shore Inspector will be entrusted with the expenditure of this money to a structure which the people of the city do not want out of politics, it is a waste of public money."

CRANK CRANE SET FREE.

He Threatened President Cleveland as Well as Justice Leffert. NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 22.—Charles Crane, the crank of Roosevelt, who was arrested yesterday for threatening the life of Justice Leffert, of 207 McWarner street, was discharged in court by Justice Leffert this morning.

When Crane was arrested and took the oath of office in March last, Crane announced that he would write threatening letters. Crane also wrote letters to Justice Leffert, of this city, and other prominent men.

EFFIGIES TAKEN DOWN.

Louis Speyerer Takes Warning and Leaves Corona. COLLEGE POINT, L. I., Feb. 22.—The effigies of Louis Speyerer, nephew of the late Justice O'Donnell in Jersey City, which were erected in Newark, which were erected in Newark, were taken down last night.

Speyerer had obeyed the warning and left town. The authorities will do nothing regarding the case.

NEWARK SUFFERS FROM PARKHURST.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 22.—Ever since Rev. Dr. Parkhurst began his crusade in New York many proprietors of cafes in that city have located in Newark. They employ girl waiters and do a substantial business. Last night Herman Meyer, a saloon-keeper at 101 and 104 Morris street, was taken to a cafe at Springfield avenue. The apartment house was closed, and the Newark Commissioners, in the mean time, investigation will be made of the place.

RESOLUTIONS FOR SCHIEREN.

Presented with a Batch Before He Left for Tennessee. Mayor Schieren left Brooklyn last night for Bristol, Tenn., where he is building a new factory. He was visited shortly before he left by C. C. Leigh, F. C. Smith, Asa F. Smith and Samuel H. Woodhaver, Jr., who presented him with a series of resolutions.

The resolutions were adopted at a recent meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, and were presented to Mayor Schieren asking him to see that the Board of Education enforces the law requiring all public school pupils to be instructed in physiology and hygiene, with special reference to the effect of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.
