

The World
Published by the Press Publishing Company, 22 to 24 PARK ROW, New York.
THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1894.
SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD
PER MONTH $1.00
PER YEAR $10.00
Vol. 34, No. 11,902

OVER 433,000 PER DAY.

New York, March 3, 1894.
After a thorough examination of the circulation books, press-room reports, mail-room reports, paper companies' bills for amount of paper furnished, orders from news companies and new dealers, we find that the circulation of 'The World' (morning and evening editions) for the months of January and February, 1894, averaged 433,167 copies per day, and so 'cerntly.'

J. Edward Simmons, Chairman.
Thomas L. James, Secretary.
A. B. Hepburn, A. W. Bloomingdale, Henry Clews, Charles W. Dayton.

Col. Breckinridge's defense leaves him without any.

Breckway's days in office should be numbered—and few.

Ferguson's own doing are compassing his own undoing.

The March lion has been kept pretty well to his cage thus far.

That bland bill veto is pretty nearly due. The prompter the better.

New York's Police Commission has outlived its discretion. It had no usefulness to continue.

It is a Spring without a cholera alarm, but it is, nevertheless, a Spring during which to keep good guard at Quarantine.

When is a Superintendent not a Superintendent? When he is subject to the arbitrary overruling of New York's Police Commissioners.

If the United States Senate will awake to its duty, coming April showers may yet include one of blessings from wise tariff legislation.

Supt. Hyman feels confident that the Fuller tragedy is no longer a mystery. He is not a man to jump hastily to a conclusion of such vital consequence.

Good and earnest speakers are making an effective campaign against Ferguson at New Utrecht. But the man's own conduct, as revealed, speaks louder yet in his condemnation.

Now that a coroner's jury has found "But" Shea responsible for the death of Robert Ross, at Troy, the investigation should go right on to show who is responsible for Shea.

Wesleyan students are to study "practical politics." There is a lack of professors in this science. They do not all teach by the book. Many of them couldn't. But that is not always in itself a disadvantage.

Only the hand that freed the Chicago Anarchists from prison can now save Mayor Harrison's assassin from the gallows. Aligned being still Governor Chicago will breathe much easier after Freidreger is safely hanged to-morrow.

Obedience to Platt dictation at Albany means the sacrifice of Republican opportunity. For that selfish reason, if no higher motive, the majority in the two houses at the State Capitol should feel impelled to strike off the dog boss.

Eight detectives are at work on the mystery of Susie Martin's murder. It may take the whole detective force of the city, but the fiends responsible for that tragedy must be run down. It will not do to have such crime go unpunished in New York.

Too many generals spoil an army. New York wants but one commander for her standing force of peace defenders. If the Legislature at Albany does its duty by the metropolis it will kill the Bi-Partisan Police Commission bill and substitute a measure giving the Superintendent the full powers appertaining to his title and office.

It is declared in public print, in Denver, that Gov. Waite is planning an attack upon the City Hall in case the Supreme Court decides against him in the charge of conspiracy against the peace of the City and State can be proven the Governor should at once be made the subject of summary proceedings. And a charge of such a nature cannot be ignored. It must, in the interests of the affected community, be either refuted or sustained by evidence.

If Gov. Waite is plotting as alleged, the culmination of his scheme will bring bloodshed and civil war. No man is to be a Governor would, while in his right mind, conspire to such an end. The time to dispose of the printed charge in Denver and to thwart the Governor, if the charge is true is the present time. It is not the thing to wait until the war begins.

NEW JERSEY MIDDLE ENDED.
The Supreme Court of New Jersey has rendered a decision favorable to the regularity and legal status of the Republican Senate, and sustaining the validity of Mr. Rogers's title of President of the Senate. The opinion is written by Chief Justice Beasley, and is concurred in by all the Justices save Justice Ames, who will prepare and file a dissenting opinion at a later day.

The main points of the decision are two. First, it sustains the jurisdiction of the Court and its power to grant the writ of quo warranto under existing circumstances, while disclaiming the slightest legal faculty to interfere with or to interfere with the legislative body when the latter does not violate the provisions of the Constitution. The second point is that it sweeps away the claim that the Senate of New Jersey is a continuous body.

The common sense view of the case is in favor of the people's representatives, and this is in harmony with the decision of the Supreme Court. At the last election a certain number of Senators were elected. The people chose a majority of Republican candidates large enough when joined over with the hold-over portion of the body to make the Senate Republican. The Democrats happened to have a majority of the hold-over Senators, and they sought by some technical claims to seize political control of the new Senate and to organize it in the interest of their own party.

On whatever ground this policy was based, it was nothing more nor less than an attempt to reverse the verdict of the ballot-box. The people said the new Senate should be Republican. The Democrats said it should be Democratic. In sustaining the Republicans the Supreme Court has sustained the people. Hence, the decision will meet the approval of all but partisans.

A DANGEROUS DEFENSE.
The plaintiff's case was closed yesterday in the Pollard-Breckinridge trial for breach of promise, and the counsel for Col. Breckinridge, in an opening address, outlined to the jury the defense on which their verdict would be asked.

The boldness of the assertions made by the counsel occasioned some astonishment in the court. The jury were told that Col. Breckinridge claimed and would "corroborate by his solemn oath" not only that he had never made any promise of marriage to Miss Pollard, but that every advance in their political relations with each other had been made by her to him; that he had never been told of her having become a mother through him until after the commencement of the present suit, and that she had herself proposed to go to the Queen house with him, explaining that she knew the place.

Unless these allegations are susceptible of unquestionable proof, it will be most unfortunate for the defendant that they have been made. No act with which he is charged would, if clearly established, be a hundredth part as reprehensible and dishonorable as the admission of such a plea unless strictly true.

The thought will doubtless occur to many, how could a man of honor have introduced Miss Pollard to his friends of both sexes as a young woman of character and worth if her acts had been such as he now alleges?

TROUBLE MAY BE EXPECTED.
The Assembly passed the Bi-Partisan Election Inspectors bill yesterday, providing for boards of election inspectors composed of two Republicans and two Democrats, inspectors in all districts of the State—that is, of an equal division of the election inspectors on political lines.

A significant amendment was made to the bill by Mr. Platt's lieutenant in the Assembly before its passage. The amendment provided that political organizations which were recognized as "regular" by the last State Convention of the party concerned was stricken from the bill.

The meaning of this amendment is plain. The factor believes that it will be beaten in the reorganization business by the Bliss faction and will not obtain recognition by the next Republican Convention. But Mr. Platt is confident in his power to "work the wires" in the subsequent selection of inspectors and the restrictive provision in the law on that account.

This means that the Platt-Miholland faction is in for mischief and will continue the fight after being beaten by the regular organization in the next State Convention. The battle in the G. O. P. must still go on.

FEASTING IN CALIFORNIA.
Mayor Gilroy and Chief Croker have passed the time of day. They were not only met, but have dined together, and the event is regarded as sufficiently public importance to be made the subject of a telegraphic report to the New York press.

The menu is not given, but it was no doubt a good one. There was probably much to eat, but the did not eat. The hopes of the election inspectors who so confidently expected the "pull" to protect them from the consequences of their indictments. There may have been striped bass as a reminder of the political fishes caught in the net of justice and landed in Sing Sing. The game was no doubt high, and the inspectors, of course, the favorite wine was "mum."

It is reported that after the banquet both the Mayor and the boss started for New York, but while the Mayor is expected home it is not thought Mr. Croker will return at present.

It is significant that the Tammany ticket elected the home of Col. G. Green, the patent medicine millionaire. This has led to the supposition that they may have been seeking some remedy for the ills with which the organization is just now threatened and which have excited the anxious fears of the leaders.

CROOKS CAUGHT WITH BURGARS' KIT.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
BOSTON, March 2.—James Malise, Jr., aged sixty-five years, and James Malise, Jr., aged sixty years old, two notorious crooks and ex-convicts, were arrested on suspicion of having stolen a valuable set of crooks' tools, four crucibles used for melting silverware, a lot of plated ware, a set of false hair and a large piece of metal silver. The tools had been stolen from the shop of G. Green, the patent medicine millionaire. This has led to the supposition that they may have been seeking some remedy for the ills with which the organization is just now threatened and which have excited the anxious fears of the leaders.

THE LATEST SURVIVING.
Some New Jersey trunks harbored a playmate of the state while they danced around him in hilarious glee. No more specific instance of the wheels of evolution spinning a cog has lately been recorded.—San Francisco Examiner.

SLANDER OF SIMPSON REFUTED.
The Post is not inclined to believe the story that Jerry Simpson has engaged a man to call him "M. C. Spenser" in private in order that he may appear in court with the Fifty-fourth Congress is organized.—Washington Post.

BUSY NIGHT FOR DOCTORS.

Four Ambulance Cases Taken to Bellevue Hospital.

One Patient Complains of the Effect of a Glass of Beer.

The physicians of Bellevue Hospital were kept busy during the early hours of this morning. In addition to the large number of ordinary cases, where the patients waited in, there were four ambulance cases that called for particular attention.

A midnight unknown man was found by a policeman on the pavement at Jane and Washington streets. He is about forty years old, five feet eight inches in height, sandy mustache, wearing a blue jumper and jeans trousers. When removed to St. Vincent's Hospital a scalp wound which it was thought he had received in falling was treated. Then he was transferred to Bellevue Hospital. Dr. Waters there examined the man and found that his skull was fractured.

Policeman White found another unaccompanied man at 146 West 47th street and Fourth avenue. At a certain time he was arrested. He fought with the policeman for some time, but the latter held him fast. He was taken to the police station and his name was Fred Koehner, Jr., aged twenty-two years. He will be held for a few days, and taken a glass of beer, which had a peculiar effect on him. He is now in the hospital, and his name is believed to be a trouble with his heart.

German E. Galt, twenty-eight years old, a German barber, of 107 West Twenty-fourth street, was found insane wandering about the streets of the city this morning. He approached Policeman Gillan and said: "Why?" "Why?" asked Gillan. "Why?" asked Gillan. "Why?" asked Gillan. "Why?" asked Gillan.

FOUND A SMALL-POX PATIENT.
A Greek Sick on the Street with the Dreaded Disease.

George Boyls, a Greek, seventeen years old, who says he lives on Lock street, Newark, N. J., was taken to the Oak street station this morning by James Florist, suffering from small-pox. The Health Department was notified and Bogie was sent to North Brother Island. Florist, who is also a Greek, said he had been in the city for some time, and he and his two sisters, Mary, two years old, and Catherine, three years old, to North Brother Island. All the inmates of the house were vaccinated and the place fumigated. A close watch will be kept on the house and any new cases brought to the Health Department will quarantine the place.

ETHereal MILDNESS NOW.
But Look Out for the Usual Cold Snag Sunday or Monday.

Balmy Spring zephyrs and warm temperature will continue for a day or two, according to the prognostications of Local Forecast Official Dunn. The weather is mild throughout the Atlantic States. The temperature in New York was 56 at 8 o'clock, with a humidity of 88, and a light, southerly wind. The mercury was on the ascendant, and there were as many men without overcoats as with them. Boston, 54 degrees, and Buffalo 60. New Orleans had 76 and Key West 73 degrees.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

BERT POPPER SENTENCED.

Two Years and Eight Months for Marrying Mrs. Hallock.

He Deserted Her in Chicago and She Killed Herself.

Berthold Popper, the ex-husband of the Academy, who was convicted in January last of unlawfully marrying Mrs. Leticia A. Hallock, the wife of Charles H. Hallock, of Northfield, L. I., on Sept. 6, 1887, was sent to the State prison for two years and eight months by Judge Fitzgerald, in Part III. of the General Sessions today.

Mrs. Hallock became infatuated with Popper and eloped with him to Chicago. They registered at the Gault House, as Mr. Hastings and wife. The day after their arrival there he deserted her and took with him what little money and jewelry she had. Her position and being ashamed to return, Mrs. Hallock committed suicide. This was the first news her husband had of her death. The matter was reported to Inspector McLaughlin and he detected two detectives who traced Popper to San Francisco, where he was arrested. He fought with the policeman for some time, but the latter held him fast. He was taken to the police station and his name was Fred Koehner, Jr., aged twenty-two years. He will be held for a few days, and taken a glass of beer, which had a peculiar effect on him. He is now in the hospital, and his name is believed to be a trouble with his heart.

ON THE WRONG TACK.

Dierich Was Looking for the Road to Heaven in Tompkins Square.

In Essex Market Court today Justice Hogan committed John H. Dierich, forty-five years old, to Bellevue Hospital for examination as to his sanity. He was found wandering about Tompkins Square at 6 o'clock this morning.

PAID OFF THE HPF.

Gen. Earle Prepares to Leave the Potlatch New Netherlands.

They Went Hand in Hand.

Students After Dr. Jesse.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

FLOWERS IN PROFUSION.

Early Spring Responsible for Well-Stocked Markets.

Gorgeous Lilies and Roses for Which Stiff Prices are Obtained.

Excepting the nurseries and kindergartens, the loveliest places in New York this week are the flower shops. The harvest of "blooms" is record-breaking. The lilies are overproducing in their beauty and sweetness, hyacinths are gorgeous, roses are voluptuous, pansies have wide open, smiling faces, and mignonette—"moo! Moo!" what mignonette!" as the French buyers say—tall and strong as celery, and every piece a bouquet by itself.

There are whole fields of English violets, with lilies of the valley between. The asteria is as white and fluffy as the plums that burst from the trees. The violets are in full bloom, and the pansies are in full bloom. The flowers are in full bloom, and the pansies are in full bloom. The flowers are in full bloom, and the pansies are in full bloom.

ON THE WRONG TACK.

Dierich Was Looking for the Road to Heaven in Tompkins Square.

PAID OFF THE HPF.

Gen. Earle Prepares to Leave the Potlatch New Netherlands.

They Went Hand in Hand.

Students After Dr. Jesse.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

LETTERS.

Nature's Best Gift.

Of Light Scotch Tweed.

German House-wives, and perhaps others, make an excellent dressing for cake without eggs. To a half pound of powdered sugar add the grated rind of an orange, a tablespoonful of boiling water and a little orange juice—enough to moisten it thoroughly. This should be used at once, and when "set" will be found soft and very nice.

Excellent Ice-cream.

An Exercise for the Shoulders.

Texas Baked Potatoes.

Look Out for "Plated" Fruit.

Using Powder.

An Inasmuch for Five Years.

Will Sue for Millions.

Toledo Man Wants Pay for a Telephone Invention.

They Went Hand in Hand.

Students After Dr. Jesse.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

Feasting in California.

Will Fight Tammany.

French, Italian and Spanish American Organizing.

HOUSE AND HOME

so was Jeannie Welsh Carlyle, while the crabbed essayist and historian had no stomach. Wagner had an infinite capacity for stewed fruits and baked meats, coffee and honey-cake, white beer and black beer.

Women who are fond of indulging in strong perfumes should remember that they are decidedly injurious to the sense of smell. By their frequent use the secretory glands of the nose and throat are overtaxed and weakened. One day the person notices that the hearing is less acute than usual, and the sense of smell seems defective. This is, of course, put down to a cold, and but little thought of it. After a time the entire head becomes affected, and there are signs likely to end in chronic, if not fatal, illness. Smelling, all strong and pungent odors, particularly those which act upon the secretory processes, should be avoided as far as possible.

Directly under and in front of the arms often come ugly hollows, very distressing to women who desire a pretty figure. What can be done with this affliction? The muscles must be strengthened and then these hollows will gradually disappear. Every morning and night go through this exercise. Advance one foot and stand with the weight on it. Inhale slowly and retaining the breath, rapidly swing the arms forward, up and backward in large circles, as nearly perfect and parallel to the ten rotations, then discontinue and exhale. Repeat this exercise several times with one foot advanced, alternately. Take good care not to bend the torso or to crane the neck. Keep the chest high and the head well poised.

Maish and season with pepper and salt some good Irish potatoes. Mince a large onion, cut the onion through the potatoes and bake in a brick oven.

Green greasers have a bad habit of picking over fruits and vegetables. It is a common practice to put the old goods in fresh lined boxes and spread a layer of fresh crisp berries or greens on top. This is called "plated" goods. Just now strawberries, beans, peas, tomatoes, beet, sprouts and greens are undergoing very heavy "plating." So are the oranges. Boxes that are sold Saturday at about $1.50 are as shamefully "plated" that between Friday and Friday of the 12th are left to the buyers. The most audacious trade in "plated" fruit is carried on by the peddlers, who load their wagons with spoiled oranges and cover the top with "choice Indian Rivers."

Bluetts made with an acid and an alkali, such as baking powder, soda and cream of tartar, or soda and sour milk, should be baked in a very hot oven. The hotter it can be the better. An oven that will color a piece of white paper dark brown in one minute will be none too hot for this kind of bluetts.

Mrs. White's Practical Charity. Mrs. Joseph M. White supplied the funds and the Children's Aid Society is about to start a farm school at Kenosha, Westchester County, where the fitness of the big, wild boys of the city streets for country life will be tested, prior to finding them homes in farming districts. Holes will be left in the fence for the convenient escape of those boys who tire of the work, that being considered by the Society both cheaper and fairer all round than to waste money sending them to farm-houses, West and South, where they do not want to go and will not stay after they get there. Through the generosity of a sympathetic woman, the noblest work in the charitable world has begun.

This is an effective costume, carried out in a small brown and white shop.

Millions of tomatoes come through the Savannah Steamer Company's docks every week. Cases hold about thirty-two quarts. Green vegetables sell at $3 rose red at $1.50 and beefsteak tomatoes at $4. The green goods are put into a close room, are treated by a gas stove; cracks are stopped with plaster and in a couple of days the commission merchants sell them for $1 or more. He can't be fooled, although the dealers are more gullible. All green vegetables will rot but never ripen; it has been pulled before its growth has been completed. There must be a hinge of red to make them available.

This is the beginning of the lobster season, and dealers in table furniture are setting forth cracks, picks and scoops. Lobster cracks are worth from $2 to $6 each, according to the quality of the plate. The best are $12 each, and scoops are about the same price.

The wits, geniuses and beauties of all ages have generally respected the rites of the table. Kossuth, Gautier, Luther, Michael Angelo, Titian, Christopher Columbus, Landor, Handel, Lamour, Browning and as many more, as you please of the world's first blood were men of keen, natural appetite, and discrimination in good eating and drinking. The best women—beauties, writers and savants—knew the value of good food and wine, and they were creatures of wit, generosity and intellect. Napoleon was absolutely plighted at table. He ate from the platters and service-dishes with his fingers, got a surfeit from one course and then withdrew. As the world knows he died of a cancered stomach. Josephine was as dainty as a bird, and her's plaid check, with a long coat and handkerchiefs with very full sleeves and rounded fronts and pointed revers.

Sofa pillows are as high in favor and as numerous as they well can be. Too many seems an impossible term, and many are piled temptingly everywhere about. The newest sofa does not trill, quite ten inches wide, and are covered with the softest silk. If, as some critics complain, the luxury of the cozy corner is a temptation to withdraw one's self and a distinct detriment to family life, then it would require a stoic to stand the silent invitation they offer, and it would require the most orthodox Quaker of the old school to resist the fascination of their lovely colors and artistic designs.

Josephine was as dainty as a bird, and

her's plaid check, with a long coat and handkerchiefs with very full sleeves and rounded fronts and pointed revers.

Sofa pillows are as high in favor and as numerous as they well can be. Too many seems an impossible term, and many are piled temptingly everywhere about. The newest sofa does not trill, quite ten inches wide, and are covered with the softest silk. If, as some critics complain, the luxury of the cozy corner is a temptation to withdraw one's self and a distinct detriment to family life, then it would require a stoic to stand the silent invitation they offer, and it would require the most orthodox Quaker of the old school to resist the fascination of their lovely colors and artistic designs.

her's plaid check, with a long coat and handkerchiefs with very full sleeves and rounded fronts and pointed revers.

Sofa pillows are as high in favor and as numerous as they well can be. Too many seems an impossible term, and many are piled temptingly everywhere about. The newest sofa does not trill, quite ten inches wide, and are covered with the softest silk. If, as some critics complain, the luxury of the cozy corner is a temptation to withdraw one's self and a distinct detriment to family life, then it would require a stoic to stand the silent invitation they offer, and it would require the most orthodox Quaker of the old school to resist the fascination of their lovely colors and artistic designs.

her's plaid check, with a long coat and handkerchiefs with very full sleeves and rounded fronts and pointed revers.

Sofa pillows are as high in favor and as numerous as they well can be. Too many seems an impossible term, and many are piled temptingly everywhere about. The newest sofa does not trill, quite ten inches wide, and are covered with the softest silk. If, as some critics complain, the luxury of the cozy corner is a temptation to withdraw one's self and a distinct detriment to family life, then it would require a stoic to stand the silent invitation they offer, and it would require the most orthodox Quaker of the old school to resist the fascination of their lovely colors and artistic designs.

her's plaid check, with a long coat and handkerchiefs with very full sleeves and rounded fronts and pointed revers.

Sofa pillows are as high in favor and as numerous as they well can be. Too many seems an impossible term, and many are piled temptingly everywhere about. The newest sofa does not trill, quite ten inches wide, and are covered with the softest silk. If, as some critics complain, the luxury of the cozy corner is a temptation to withdraw one's self and a distinct detriment to family life, then it would require a stoic to stand the silent invitation they offer, and it would require the most orthodox Quaker of the old school to resist the fascination of their lovely colors and artistic designs.