

MORE RIOTING IN SANTANDER.

Sight of a Funeral Procession Enrages the Populace.

Authorities Blamed for Dynamite Explosion in the Bay.

(By Associated Press.)
SANTANDER, March 23.—The authorities decided that the funeral of the victims should be held yesterday, and the bodies were hurriedly prepared for burial. Some of the victims were so horribly mangled that it was impossible to identify them.

Notwithstanding the presence of the military from the adjacent towns, the excited populace manifested an ugly disposition, and there was no relaxation of the measures taken to guard against an outbreak.

Large crowds gathered along the streets through which the bodies of the victims were conveyed on the way to the cemetery, and many and bitter were the threats made against the authorities for what the crowd declared was their criminal carelessness. It was evident that it would take but a spark to light into flames the repressed fury of the populace. The spark was furnished by the appearance of the hearse conveying the dead.

As though they acted upon some pre-arranged signal the crowd began to riot, and for a time it looked as though the city would be given over to mob violence. The authorities, however, were prepared for an outbreak, and soon a strong force of soldiery was at the scene. Orders were given to clear the streets, and the cavalry rode down on the howling, cursing and fighting mob. There was little resistance, the rioters fled almost to a man when they saw the gleaming sabres of the cavalrymen. Disturbances at other points along the route of the funeral cortege were quickly quelled, and the bodies were interred without further trouble.

No further attempt will be made to raise whatever may remain of the dynamite in the bulk of the Cabo Machichaco. The authorities believe that no dynamite remains in the steamer, but with a view to satisfying the public demand that no more lives be endangered, either in attempting to save dynamite or what remains of the steamer, it has been ordered that the bulk be destroyed by means of petards.

MORE NEWS OF ICEBERGS.

The Steamer Stuttgart Reports Passing a Big Flier.

More news of icebergs at sea was brought to port this morning by the steamer Stuttgart, which arrived at the bar from Bremen at 3.30. She carried five cabin and 162 steerage passengers for New York, and twelve cabin and 564 steerage passengers for Baltimore.

Her captain reported that on March 19, in latitude 42.48, longitude 49.46 the ship passed an iceberg 200 feet long and 50 feet high. The Apollo was not sighted on the voyage.

REGULAR LONDON FOG.

Gotham Had a Sample of the Genuine Thames Article.

Gotham put on the gloomy symbols of the penitential season in dead earnest this morning and, so far as outward appearances could go, observed Good Friday in a most appropriate fashion.

The dense fog almost turned day into night. You couldn't cut it with fourteen axes. The only persons who were happy were the anatomists. It reminded them so much of London, you know.

This fog started to roll up from the lower bay before daybreak, and by the time New Yorkers began to move around it had settled over the town like a dense blanket. At a certain point it was dark as if ordinarily it were night, and all electric lights had to be kept going in doors, or people would not have been able to see their way about.

There were no accidents reported on the river or harbor, but all the ferry-boats were delayed and there was much grumbling among the passengers.

The fog kept growing thicker, and thicker all the morning, until about 10, when a sudden change occurred and a strong wind sprang up from the West. At first it seemed to blow up the coast banks more closely and make it darker and more gloomy than before. But this only lasted a few minutes, when the stiff breeze began to sweep the mist away.

Earlier Sunday will be cold and clear. Mr. Deann warns the fair sex not to cast off their winter clothing, for the probabilities are the weather will be like this.

SHERIFF AND MEN ACCUSED.

Said to Have Murdered a Man Near an Illinois Dam.

(By Associated Press.)
MURPHYSBOROUGH, Ill., March 23.—Kennedy Grace, a hunter, saw an object last evening floating in the deep waters that are held back by the Good-man dam in Union County. It proved to be the body of Thomas Robertson, who has been missing since the evening of Feb. 28, and who was supposed to have been killed by a posse organized by the Sheriff of Union County to surprise and capture a party of conspirators who were known to intend the dam that night.

Three men, suspected with having caused Robertson's death, are under arrest. The Coroner's inquest is still in progress. Charles Whitacre accused many prominent men besides Sheriff Rich and his deputies. He swears that the Sheriff and almost his entire posse were drunk on the evening of the actual cutting of the dam, and made no effort to capture Robertson, but fired on him with intent to kill.

We manufacture clothing on a larger scale than any other firm in the world. An experience sometimes very costly of upward of 30 years has resulted in our mastering the problem of how to make good, stylish, dependable clothes at small cost. One of the necessary conditions is an extraordinarily large outlet or channel to insure for the manufacturer a purchasing power large enough to command the raw material at the lowest possible prices. Our extensive wholesale business in the East, West, North and South gives us the outlet and the purchasing power.

Here in New York we will deal with the consumer direct, giving him advantages before which competition pales as the gas-jet before the powerful electric arc light.

HANDSOME BOOK SOUVENIR.
Just issued by the Gigantic Clothing Firm of Vogel Brothers. The handsome book souvenir just issued by Vogel Bros., of 5th Avenue and 42d Street, the gigantic clothing firm, is a marvel of beauty, and is attracting no little attention. The book, an excellent coloring, portrays the Spring and summer styles which the firm is selling at ridiculously low prices.

The covering of white cardboard, and tied at the back with orange ribbon, is prettily decorated, and contains four cupids, dressed in the styles of the coming season. In one corner is a cut of one of the firm's handsome stores. The back covering contains a calendar, in the form of a book, and surrounded by flowers.

The different pages contain groups showing the different styles in clothing, fashionable goods, hats and shoes, and on the opposite pages are indexes, showing the prices of each. The last two pages contain simple directions for self-measurement, and give directions for out-of-town purchasers to order by. Altogether it is a useful as well as ornamental thing.

HE VISITED THE WRONG MAN.
Went for Revenge, Got a Battered Head and a Month in Jail.

Charles Earnst, a porter, twenty-one years old, of 27 East One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Street, came to the Harlem Police Court this morning with a complaint of assault against Louis Frank, a grocer, at 22 East Ninety-eighth Street, but before his case was disposed of he was sent to the island for a month and Frank was allowed to go home.

Yesterday Frank appeared in the Harlem Police Court as a witness against Earnst's brother, John, who had abused a small boy. In the afternoon Charles went to Frank's store for revenge and came away with a battered head.

Witnesses to the difficulty said that Earnst went into Frank's store and threatened the latter with a large cheese knife and choked Frank's wife.

THROWN FROM A TRAIN.
Victim of Robbers Loses an Arm and Narrowly Escapes Death.

(By Associated Press.)
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 23.—Perry Brown, one of the most prominent citizens of this place, took the Santa Fe train last evening for some point in Texas, having with him considerable money. Just outside the city Mr. Brown started from the smoking car to the sleeper, and on the platform was assaulted by four men, who went through his pockets and then threw him head foremost between the cars and jumped off themselves.

As if by a miracle the skirt of his overcoat caught on the step, changing the course of his fall, but his right arm below the elbow was cut off. When Mr. Brown recovered he walked back to town.

What is little about Little?

Only his prices—nothing more. Not his stock—that is very large. Not his way of doing business—that is the very best for cash or on credit. So very little about Little, and even that little is not so little when you consider how little virtue there is in other credit systems. Little's credit system is, "Pay Little little by little," and his motto is, "A little cash is enough at Little's."
