

HONORS TO KOSSUTH.

Funeral Services Over the Dead Patriot Held at Turin.

The City Decked in Mourning—An Impressive Pageant.

Body Going to Hungary by Special Train, with Guard of Honor.

(By Associated Press.)

TURIN, March 28.—The funeral services over the remains of Louis Kossuth were held this morning in the Evangelical Church, beginning at 9 o'clock.

The city was crowded with sightseers, and the streets presented a most remarkable appearance, owing to the immense number of Hungarians in full national costume.

Prominent among the floral offerings was a magnificent wreath of immortelles sent by Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York "World."

Standing picturesquely around the catafalque was a guard of honor of Hungarian students, in Hungarian costume.

The pastor of the church, Father Peyrol, delivered the funeral address in Italian. The choir then sang a choral hymn, written by Luther, and an anthem composed by Palestrina.

After the simple ceremonies the coffin was placed upon a funeral car, drawn by four horses, and the funeral procession moved slowly towards the railroad station.

The cortege was headed by a detachment of mounted municipal guards, followed by the Municipal Band, playing funeral marches; the Mayor of Turin and Gen. Turr Markus, the Deputy Mayor of Budapest, and Deputy Rohony, representing the Hungarian Diet.

Behind the coffin were the sons and other relatives of the great Hungarian, and next came deputations from Hungarian societies, from the Garibaldian associations. These were followed by the representatives of innumerable Masonic lodges, and behind them was the main body of the Hungarians and other people who took part in the procession.

In all, there were twenty banners, draped with crepe, carried by the delegations which took part in the funeral parade.

When the coffin had been placed in the mortuary at the station the Mayor of Turin delivered a most impressive oration, and then formally handed over the remains to Gen. Turr Markus, who received them with a graceful speech on behalf of the municipality of Budapest.

The train bearing the Hungarian delegations will leave Turin for Budapest at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the special train carrying the remains of Kossuth back to his native land will leave at 9 P. M. Both trains are expected to reach Budapest early tomorrow morning.

WOULD MAGEE KILL HIMSELF?

A Friend Says the Accused Lawyer Is Utterly Discouraged.

It Is Said the Police Now Have Strong Evidence Against Him.

(By Associated Press.)

It is hinted by those who have been engaged in gathering evidence in the Nassau Chambers mystery that the case is complete, and that the evidence points to Joseph T. Magee as the slayer of Martha J. Fuller.

Assistant District Attorney Hartman would neither affirm nor deny the truth of this proposition, but said that the evidence had all been gathered, and he would have a strong case to present to the coroner on Monday.

Meaning Magee, racked by malaria, frets in his Tombs cell and protests his innocence to all his calling friends.

One of Magee's close friends said, after a call upon the bloodless young lawyer: "Magee frets because he is not permitted to talk. He wants to tell his story. He complains that the public are not clear up the whole mystery and show his innocence if permitted."

The man is he said he had paid her $500 for the first month, but that for two months past he had been refused, even to the extent of copying the same room with an actress at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia.

At the time the divorce suit was tried it appeared from the evidence, that Mrs. King had been caught by her husband occupying the same room with an actress at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia.

Kingston pleaded to-day that he was out of a position and unable to pay his debts. He said he had paid her $500 for the first month, but that for two months past he had been refused, even to the extent of copying the same room with an actress at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia.

The woman was arrested last Saturday night at 45 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, when she called to get certain letters addressed to "Rev. George O'Brien, N. Y."

The police had been notified several days before that a man giving the name of "The Girl" and claiming to be a salesman, had been advertising bicycles for sale at a greatly reduced price, seemingly with intent to defraud people who answered the advertisements.

The prisoner refused to give any account of herself or the "Rev. Dr. O'Brien." At the time of her arrest she was carrying a bicycle and a trunk.

KINGSTON UP FOR CONTEMPT

The Manager Has Failed to Pay His Divorced Wife Alimony.

He Says He Has Been Idle for Two Months and Can't Pay.

(By Associated Press.)

Application was made to Judge McAdam, of the Superior Court, to-day by Lawyer Abe Hummel, counsel for Mrs. M. A. Kingston, to have Samuel P. Kingston punished for contempt of court for having failed to pay his wife the alimony ordered when she secured a decree of divorce.

Mrs. Kingston secured a divorce from her husband about three months ago. Kingston is a theatrical manager, and was formerly business manager of Howe Coghlan's company and of the "Fencing Club."

At the time the divorce suit was tried it appeared from the evidence, that Mrs. Kingston had been caught by her husband occupying the same room with an actress at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia.

HOWARD WILL MARRY.

Young Gould Admits that He Is Engaged to Miss Tyler.

States that There Is No Opposition in His Family.

(By Associated Press.)

Howard Gould this morning authorized the announcement to be made that he was engaged to wed Miss Odette Tyler, the actress, and that the Gould family gave their consent. Five minutes later George Gould announced that he knew of no engagement, and had heard nothing about it. Both gentlemen then declined to see reporters.

Howard Gould reached his office, in the Western Union Building, at 10 o'clock, and had to run the gauntlet of reporters who were waiting for him in the hallway. As he stepped from the elevator he buttoned his overcoat and made direct for his office, where he locked the door.

A few moments later he sent a clerk out to announce that Mr. Gould fully authorized the statement of his engagement, and that there was no opposition whatever to it. He positively refused to see reporters or permit any messages to be sent in to him.

George Gould had evidently been informed of the presence of the reporters and reached his office by a rear entrance. He also refused to be seen. At 11 o'clock he stepped out of his office to take the elevator to the floor above. Several reporters surrounded him.

"I know of no engagement," he said. "I have never heard a word about it." "Will the family oppose the marriage?" he was asked.

"I know of no engagement," he repeated. "I have never heard a word about it." "Will the family oppose the marriage?" he was asked.
