

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1894.

PRICE ONE CENT.

A Night in the Treasury Vaults, Meg Merrilies Is Locked In with the Guards in the United States Treasury at Washington. See The Sunday World To-morrow.

ERIAL.

GILROY VACCINATED.

All His Clerks and Members of His Family Inoculated.

There Were Four Cases of Small-Pox in Nagle's House.

He Seemed to Fear the Linct and Dodged the Physicians.

Mayor Gilroy went to his office in the City Hall with a touch-me-not sort of an expression on his face this morning. The Mayor had a most tender regard for his left arm, which he had vaccinated last night. Mayor Gilroy lost no time in having his arm scraped after he learned that John H. Nagle, his stock and bond clerk, had the small-pox. Dr. Cyrus Edson informed the Mayor by telephone of Nagle's removal to North Brother Island from his home, 158 East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and advised Mr. Gilroy to get vaccinated at once.

to-day that about 4,000 vaccinations had been made. Eleven doctors were complimented to-day for their rapid work at the Navy-Yard yesterday. Five hundred and fifty men employed there were lined up in Building No. 7, and the doctors finished the job in twenty-five minutes, an average of twenty-two vaccinations a minute.

The vaccinators are to-day inoculating the employees of the Barron Knitting Works, on Myrtle street, and in the Woodson Co-operative, North Eleventh street and Wylie avenue.

TRAMP HAD SMALL-POX.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 14.—When Major Higgins, a colored tramp arrested here Thursday, turned out to be a small-pox patient, the Central police station was placed under a twenty-four hours quarantine, and a dozen policemen and the police matron are prisoners within its walls. Superintendent of Police Powell has placed the headquarters of the Central police station in the City Hall. All persons who have been exposed will be vaccinated.

MUST STOP AT QUARANTINE.

Health Officer Jenkins issues an Order to Coastwise Vessels. Health Officer Jenkins issued to-day his annual notice of the commencement of the Quarantine season for coastwise vessels. The notice, which applies to all vessels, is as follows:

Decrease in Death Rate.

There were 23 deaths from all causes for the past week ending at noon to-day, according to the report filed in the Health Department. This is seventeen less than the number reported last week and 20 less than the average number for the corresponding period during the last year.

NEW YORK VS. BINGHAMTON.

Meekin and Farrell, the New $7,500 Battery, in the Points. POLO GROUNDS, April 14.—The Binghamton club of the Eastern League, were the New York opponents here this afternoon. The attendance was large for an exhibition game, about 2,000 persons being present.

EAST ST. LOUIS RESULTS.

Kentucky Lady and Livingston the First Two Winners. RACE TRACK, EAST ST. LOUIS, April 14.—The results of the racing at this track to-day were as follows:

RESULTS AT MEMPHIS.

RACE TRACK, MEMPHIS, April 14.—The races here to-day resulted as follows:

READY FOR THE ATHLETES.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 14.—The Track Athletic Association will hold its open handicap games on May 1. Circulars and entry blanks have been sent out to all the leading athletes in the East, and a large gathering is expected.

FIGHTING FOR THEIR PAY.

James Renne and seven of his fellow clerks to committees of the Board of Aldermen made another attempt to compel Auditor Arthur Weber to pay them their salaries for the month of March to-day. Mr. Weber claims that these men were appointed by the Board of Aldermen to the City Clerk's office without making the new men pass the Civil-Service examination.

BIG HOTEL BURNED.

Fire Destroys the Avon Beach Hostelry at Bath Beach.

Justice of the Peace Rhodes Injured by a Falling Piazza.

Belief that the Fire Was of Incendiary Origin.

BATH BEACH, April 14.—At 12:50 o'clock to-day the Avon Beach Hotel, at this place was found to be on fire. An alarm was promptly turned in which brought to the scene the fire department from Fort Hamilton, Bensonhurst and New Utrecht.

Although the fire departments responded promptly as possible, the fire had made such headway when discovered that it was evident that the firemen had a hard, if not a hopeless, fight in their efforts to save the hotel.

While the fire was at its height the piazza of the hotel fell, burying Justice of the Peace Rhodes beneath it. He was taken out unconscious and badly bruised, and taken to Schaller's Hotel.

He is not expected to live. Herman Schaller, fourteen years old, had his leg broken by a fall from a ladder within an hour after the first discovery of the fire, the whole interior of the building seemed to be ablaze. It is said that the loss will be $25,000.

It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin, but as yet there is no clue as to the nature of the persons who started it.

The fire started almost in the center of the building and spread rapidly in all directions. Owing to the fact that the guests were unalarmed, the fire was not discovered until it had reached the roof.

The hotel was owned by Judge Shields and was leased by Frank McBride.

Supervisor-elect Van Pelt was to have entertained a party of friends at dinner at the hotel to-night.

It has been rumored that perhaps the fire was started by some of his political opponents in order to prevent the election.

McBride only secured the lease of the hotel a few weeks ago. He renamed it the "Hotel Rhodes" in honor of the late Justice of the Peace.

HOUSE FILIBUSTER GOES ON.

Republicans Fight Against a Chance for the New Rule.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The fact that the Democrats yesterday decided to have formulated a rule providing for the counting of members present, but not voting, did not have the effect of inducing the Republicans to desist from the filibustering attitude they have assumed throughout the week.

As soon as the Chaplain had completed his prayer, Mr. Reed raised the point of order that the pending question was the approval of the Journal of yesterday, on which the yeas and nays were recorded.

The Speaker held, however, in accordance with the precedent, that the Journal must first be read to officially disclose to the House the parliamentary status.

The Republican majority, however, must first be read to officially disclose to the House the parliamentary status.

Further, but when the Journal of yesterday's proceedings had been read, Mr. Reed moved for the yeas and nays.

The Democratic majority, however, must first be read to officially disclose to the House the parliamentary status.

The House adjourned at 12:30 to-day.

THE PRESIDENT INVITED.

German Singers Want Him at the June Festival in New York.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A distinguished delegation from the United German Singing Societies of New York and neighboring cities, representing about 3,000 singers, called by appointment at the White House at 12:30 o'clock to-day and invited the President to attend the Singers' festival, to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, from June 22 to 26.

The delegation was composed of Richard H. Adams, President of the German Liederkreis and Chairman of the committee; and Dr. J. H. Senner, Vice-President of the United Singing Societies of New York.

The committee also includes Secretary, Felix Schwarzchild, Secretary of the United Singers, and John Windolph, President of the "Heim-Club."

SENATE AND TARIFF.

Morrill and Turpie to Speak—Quay Proposes a Hearing.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Senator Morrill announced that he would address the Senate on the tariff next Wednesday. Senator Turpie announced that he would speak on the tariff bill on the same day, after the Senator from Vermont had concluded.

Mr. Quay proposed a hearing on the tariff bill on April 21 of a delegation of workmen was taken up. Mr. Quay said the tariff is a matter of life and death to the people.

He had expostulated with them and pointed out, he said, that they might as well try to whip off a sack of pounds in full cry after a deer as to call off the majority of the Democrats from their seats and protect the industries. He asked that a committee of one hundred of the delegation be heard on the tariff bill.

At 1 o'clock the tariff bill was laid before the Senate. Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, was recognized. He read his speech in a high-pitched voice. The Democratic side of the Chamber was inattentive. Numerous Republican Senators were in their seats and paid close attention. The number in the galleries was small.

Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M. to-morrow is as follows: Fair to-day and on Sunday; stationary temperature; westerly winds.

THE GREAT MAYORALTY HANDICAP FOR '94.

TAMMANY STABLES

Can He Get Any First-Class Jockey to Take This Mount?

EXPLAINING TO THE SOLONS.

Committee from Albany at the Chamber of Commerce.

Arguments Submitted Regarding the Rapid Transit Bill.

The Joint Committee of the Legislature appointed to investigate the question of rapid transit in New York City, and if possible to come to some agreement as to what legislation should be adopted upon the subject, held a conference this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce with a number of the leading members of that body.

The members of the Legislative Committee present, were Senator Lexow, Chairman; Senator McMahon, Senator Bradley and Representative Butts. The Chamber of Commerce was represented by President Charles S. Smith, Cornelius N. Biles, George S. Coe, Alexander E. Orr, Henry R. Beckman, Richard T. Wilson and F. E. Sturgis, President of the Stock Exchange.

The meeting was held behind closed doors, and reporters were not admitted. According to Senator Lexow, the Committee was only searching for information on the subject of rapid transit in order that it might secure intelligent action on the matter in the Legislature. It went to the Chamber of Commerce first because that body had proposed the most important measure looking to rapid transit in New York City now before the Legislature.

In support of the position taken by the Chamber of Commerce and explained by ex-Mayor Hewitt in his reply to Mayor Gilroy's objections to the bill prepared by the Chamber, ex-Corporation Counsel Beckman had prepared a long opinion fully discussing the legal and constitutional questions involved in the bill.

According to President Smith, with whom a reporter of "The Evening World" had a talk before the conference began, this opinion of Mr. Beckman's completely answers the question which has been raised by Mayor Gilroy, which was the chief objection urged against it by Mayor Gilroy. Mr. Beckman's opinion is that the bill is constitutional and that no provision of law exists which would prevent the municipality from undertaking the work, subject to certain restrictions and safeguards for which the bill provides.

The meeting was held behind closed doors, and reporters were not admitted. According to Senator Lexow, the Committee was only searching for information on the subject of rapid transit in order that it might secure intelligent action on the matter in the Legislature.

In support of the position taken by the Chamber of Commerce and explained by ex-Mayor Hewitt in his reply to Mayor Gilroy's objections to the bill prepared by the Chamber, ex-Corporation Counsel Beckman had prepared a long opinion fully discussing the legal and constitutional questions involved in the bill.

According to President Smith, with whom a reporter of "The Evening World" had a talk before the conference began, this opinion of Mr. Beckman's completely answers the question which has been raised by Mayor Gilroy, which was the chief objection urged against it by Mayor Gilroy. Mr. Beckman's opinion is that the bill is constitutional and that no provision of law exists which would prevent the municipality from undertaking the work, subject to certain restrictions and safeguards for which the bill provides.

SHOTGUN BRIGADE ON HAND.

Called When Western Industries Tried to Steal a Train.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., April 14.—The Second Los Angeles regiment of unemployed marched to Colton, and there attempted to capture a train on the Southern Pacific.

At 7:30 this morning the Court-House bell sounded an alarm here, and a shotgun brigade of thirty men took the 8 o'clock train for Colton.

This body of men organized last night and will act under orders of the Sheriff to-day. The unemployed now number 100.

Tees Crushed by an Elevator. William H. Dudley, of 141 West Twenty-sixth street, employed in the building 21 Pine street, had his toes crushed this afternoon in the wheel in which the elevated cables run. Dudley stepped on the wheel and the elevator shaft got at his feet, crushing his toes. His foot slipped into the grate and one of the iron spikes crushed the bone. He was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital.

ROBBED IN COURT.

Edwards Stole a Watch from a Fellow-Prisoner.

While Robert Edwards was in the pen at Justice Tigue's Court, in Broome street, to-day, where he was arraigned on a charge of burglary, as told on the third page, he assaulted a fellow-prisoner, James Buck, of 101 Columbia street, who had robbed him of his watch, valued at $25.

Edwards was discharged on the charge of burglary, but was held for the larceny of Buck's watch.

Teas Crushed by an Elevator.

William H. Dudley, of 141 West Twenty-sixth street, employed in the building 21 Pine street, had his toes crushed this afternoon in the wheel in which the elevated cables run. Dudley stepped on the wheel and the elevator shaft got at his feet, crushing his toes. His foot slipped into the grate and one of the iron spikes crushed the bone. He was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital.

ROBBED IN COURT.

Edwards Stole a Watch from a Fellow-Prisoner.

While Robert Edwards was in the pen at Justice Tigue's Court, in Broome street, to-day, where he was arraigned on a charge of burglary, as told on the third page, he assaulted a fellow-prisoner, James Buck, of 101 Columbia street, who had robbed him of his watch, valued at $25.

EXTRA.

IN THE HANDS OF THE JURY.

Breckinridge Case Given to its Final Arbiters at 3.07 To-day.

Exciting Scenes in Court.

Attorney Stoll Resents an Imputation of Forgery from Wilson.

Much Outside Talk of a Duel.

Plaintiff's Counsel Asks if the Defendant May Not Have Lied.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Pollard-Breckinridge $50,000 breach of promise case was submitted to the jury at 3.07 this afternoon.

Exciting Day in Court.

Mr. Wilson's Closing Argument Causes Talk of a Duel.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Judge Jere Wilson was again the central figure in what is doubtless the final day of the Pollard-Breckinridge case. Although he promised to curtail his speech as much as he could consistently with the rights of his client, it was apparent from the detail with which he entered into the discussion that he would consume half of the day. Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.

Judge Wilson resumed his speech with great earnestness. All of the specific charges that he would consume half of the day, Madeline Pollard, the plaintiff was not in the court. The Breckinridges, father and son, were in their usual places, attended by none of the lawyers except Mr. Stoll, of Kentucky.