

THEY DISGUSTED COMSTOCK.

Jury Acquitted a Man Who Had Confessed He Was Guilty.

Bold One Immoral Book and Had Twenty-nine More.

Anthony Comstock, of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, says to-day that of all peculiar jurymen Williamsburg Jurymen are the worst.

Mr. Comstock testified that George E. Oram, one of his agents, was with him when he purchased a very immoral book.

When Mr. Comstock's testimony had been completed, Senator J. H. McCarren, attorney for the defendant, asked the jury if they did not know that the defendant had an artificial leg.

The jury followed Comstock on the stand and corroborated his chief in every particular. Then Margulies was sworn and advised to take the stand in question to Comstock, and of having other similar books in his possession.

But I must say, gentlemen, that this is the most remarkable case I ever tried.

Leave the evidence, though, shouted Comstock, as one of the jurymen seemed to be overheard.

The jurymen in the case were Adam Miller, R. C. Clark, Thomas McNamara, Frederick Euchs, B. C. Winam and John Williamson.

They are all business men living on Broadway.

FIVE WOMEN IN A NEW FIELD.

Employed as Inspectors by the Brooklyn Health Board.

They Vaccinate People and Search for Contagious Diseases.

The Brooklyn Health Department is unique in having three women on its regular staff of inspectors of contagious diseases.

Within the past week this staff has been increased by the appointment of two special vaccinators.

Women as a rule shun contagious diseases, but these five women go about where they are prevalent with no little concern as any of the men on the staff.

The oldest woman inspector in point of service is Dr. Susan R. Pray, of 53 Bedford avenue.

Dr. Pray speaks as follows: "I do not remember a single inspection I have made where the fact that I was a woman was a consideration."

Dr. Pray says the character of the work in which she is engaged does not concern her in the least.

PRIEST WANTS A NEW TRIAL.

Father Dent's Case Against Bishop Ryan Comes Up Again.

Lawyer Settles Accuses Jurors in the Former Suit.

Rev. Father Francis Dent's case came up again in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning.

His most recent suit, which was a trial of the suit brought by the priest for $100,000 damages against Bishop Stephen Vincent Ryan, of the Buffalo diocese, for alleged slander.

Lawyer Settel also moved to set aside the verdict of the former trial, which was based on the grounds that the trial was not properly restricted in its remarks to the jury and that two persons acted unlawfully as jurors.

Subsequently, the defendants introduced the receipt to be a forgery, and it was ruled that Father Dent was indicted by the Grand Jury.

NEW JERSEY NEWS.

PASSENGERS HAVE TO WADE. STRUCK BOB FITZSIMMONS.

Hackensack River Overflows the Greenwood Lake Railroad.

The thousand or so of commuters who come to New York every morning between 6 and 10 o'clock over the New York and Greenwood Lake Railroad were this morning compelled to count the ties for a distance of nearly a mile over the Hackensack meadows, wading through a few inches of water occasionally.

It was all on account of a washout near the junction of the Greenwood Lake and the Erie railroads. Some time during the night the Hackensack River overflowed its banks and breaking through the dike which had been constructed to prevent just such an occurrence, washed away the roadbed from under the tracks in spots for a distance of several hundred feet.

Passengers were stalled, and their trains were stalled, and their passengers had to turn out and wade for it to the Erie Junction. Saultie trains were set going between the Junction and Jersey City, and passengers were landed in New York an hour or so late.

A construction train and a gang of men fixed up the roadbed so that the railroad was running entirely across the meadows about 10 o'clock.

On Tuesday there was a washout usually high tide in the Hackensack River. It was not, however, of such a serious nature as that of today.

NEWARK, N. J., April 14.—An employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad struck Bob Fitzsimmons a stinging blow in the face yesterday afternoon, and if Fitzsimmons's friends had not interfered, he would have been looking to take the employee's place. The brakeman did not know whom he was striking, and when he found out he nearly fainted.

Fitzsimmons, with a party of friends, including Police Capt. Glori, of this city, was coming from New York when he complained of feeling ill, and went out on the rear platform of the car to get some fresh air. He had been there a few minutes, when a hurly brakeman arrived and struck him on the head with a heavy iron bar.

Fitzsimmons's friends saw the assault and rushed between the men in time to prevent the further assault. The man who took Fitzsimmons into the hospital and the train soon pulled into Newark.

The brakeman says Fitzsimmons said he was not hurt, but that the doctor who treated him was not satisfied. He was arrested last night and is now in the hospital.

MEMBERS OF THE TRITON.

Remor Confirmed that the Atlanta's Crew Has Left the Club.

NEWARK, N. J., April 14.—At last night's meeting of the Passaic River Amateur Rowing Association Secretary Thurber read the names of the champion Atlanta eight as being members of the Triton Boat Club. This confirms the rumor that the crew has left the Atlanta.

It is understood that the reason for the Atlanta's departure is that the club refused to purchase the Atlanta's equipment while they are in training. They claim that other clubs which have purchased their equipment from the Atlanta have done so.

Nothing definite transpired up to the close of the meeting of the directors to declare an extra dividend or to the alleged withdrawal of the Atlanta's tariff legislation favorable to the Trust.

The changes in the bank statement to the credit of the Atlanta's deposit account were $2,250,000 in cash and $1,000,000 in the form of deposits.

BARGAINS IN BREAD.

Brooklyn Leads the World with a Brand New "Cut Rate" Pad.

The bargain-hunting craze, which has been prevalent during the hard times, has taken a new turn in Brooklyn, which within the past few days has introduced the course of women hunting for goods "at less than cost" from the big dry-goods stores to an enterprising bakery on Fulton street, between the City Hall and Flatbush avenue.

The bakery on Fulton street, between the City Hall and Flatbush avenue, has attracted to the idea by a large sign in front of the door reading:

BARGAINS TO-DAY IN CAKE AND BREAD.

Another sign in the show-window reads:

SPECIAL SALE! THESE LOAVES AT 5 CENTS. REDUCED FROM 10 CENTS.

Other signs made the following announcement:

ALL KINDS OF CAKE AT HALF PRICE TO-DAY.

Strewn about the windows were also a series of high colored signs announcing that the bakery was having a sale.

One Day's Exports Six Times Greater Than a Week's Imports.

The steamship La Gasconne to-day took out $3,200,000 in gold and the Umbria $500,000 in gold. This disposes of the supposition that some of the gold taken out of the country was in the form of silver.
