EXTRA. MUTINY IN KELLY'S ARMY. A Colonel Dismissed and a Company of Fifty Men Disbanded.

ONE "SOLDIER" DRAWS A KNIFE. The General Says He Will Leave Chicago with 6,000 Followers.

GEN. COXEY'S CORPS MOVES ON. They Give Cheers for Hagerstown's Mayor and Groans for Douglas.

NEOLA, Ia., April 23.—Kelly's Industrial Army awoke to-day to find itself in a state of mutiny. The young General promptly rose to the occasion, and before the march eastward was begun a colonel had been stripped of his rank and a company of fifty dismissed from the service.

Matters immediately assumed a threatening aspect. Loud denunciations of Kelly were heard, some of the men openly accusing their commander of appropriating funds donated to the army to his own use.

Officers and men promptly responded that they would not follow him. Kelly was ordered to give up their baggage and leave. When the little scene was over Col. Speed, who is extremely popular among the men, was deeply affected as he told the men of his deep sympathy for them.

When the last farewell was said, Speed turned away, with his handkerchief to his eyes, and walked down the bluff alone to the main body of the army.

After the excitement attending the incident had subsided, Kelly marshalled his troops and they were ordered to march about eight miles away, was begun. The St. Paul began running trains into Council Bluffs to-day, but no attempt was made to force the march.

Reports as to the number of men in the army have been conflicting, as the march so many soldiers have been marched with the men that a correct day show was impossible.

MR. SELIGMAN DEAD. Pneumonia and Bright's Disease the Cause of Death.

The Great Banker Passes Away at Coronado Beach, Cal.

His Wife and Daughter Were with Him in the West.

(By Associated Press.) HOTEL DEL CORONADO, Cal., April 23.—Jesse Seligman, of J. & W. Seligman & Co., bankers, New York and London, died at the Hotel del Coronado at 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Seligman had been more than fifty years in America. Following his three elder brothers, he left his Bavarian home and came to New York in 1841. He joined his brothers in Lancaster, Pa., where he learned to speak English.

The brothers went to Mobile, but as that city was too large for their small capital they finally moved to Selma, Ala. They were peddlers, and carried their own pack.

Mr. Seligman came to New York in 1857, and in 1862 the present banking-house was established. He was a staunch Union man during the war. His house was the first to place United States Government bonds abroad.

Mr. Seligman had been a Republican since the formation of the party, and was always active in its affairs. He never held office, but was often urged to allow the use of his name as the Republican candidate for Mayor of New York.

Mr. Seligman was also a director in the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor; the Metropolitan Club; the Western New York and Pennsylvania. He was the representative of the De Lesseps Canal Company.

Mr. Seligman was a very wealthy man. He was worth many millions of dollars. The exact amount no one knows, not even his own son. An estimate given by one of the firm places the amount of his wealth at $10,000,000.

FOUR MEN LYNCHED. Negroes Paying the Penalty for Killing a Louisiana Man.

A Mob Gathers at Tallulah and Batters in the Jail.

(By Associated Press.) VICKSBURG, Miss., April 23.—Four negroes have already paid the penalty for the brutal assassination of Manager Boyce, of the Baunne plantation, in Madison Parish, on Saturday, and it is not unlikely that several more will have summary justice dealt out to them.

One of the negroes inculcated was shot on Saturday. During last night at Tallulah, a mob gathered in front of the jail, held a conference and decided upon the guilt of three men incarcerated there. Then the mob went deliberately to work and with a battering ram burst in the side of the jail.

Sam Slaughter, Tom Claxton and Dave Hawkins were led out and swung up to the balustrade of the Court-House until dead. Their bodies were hanging there this morning.

The five negroes who escaped are still in the swamp north of the railroad, between Milliken's Bend road and the river. The hunt is being vigorously pressed, but the dogs yesterday could not follow the trail owing to the cold.

HE IS ON TRIAL FOR MURDER. David Hampden Charged with Killing Mrs. Ahrens.

The trial of David Hampden, alias William Hampton, alias William Johnson, colored, indicted for murder in the first degree, was begun before Judge Martine, in Part III. General Sessions, at noon to-day.

The crime with which Hampden is charged was a most atrocious and deliberate one. Some time during the night of Dec. 29 or the early morning hours of Dec. 30, 1891, Mrs. Annetta Ahrens, seventy-eight years of age, was murdered, her throat being cut from ear to ear.

When the body was found this threat against her life was the worst murder he has along stoutly maintained his innocence.

REFUSES TO INTERFERE. Harderer Bergman Will Be Hanged on Thursday.

Counselor T. J. O'Brien this morning appeared before Chancellor McGill in the Chancery Court, Jersey City, and asked for a writ of error in the case of August Bergman, who is to be hanged on Thursday next at Morristown, N. J., for killing his brother Joseph.

Chancellor McGill refused to grant the writ because he is of the opinion that Bergman is guilty of the crime charged in his charge unless his case is appealed to the United States Court.

EXTRA. MR. O'NEILL TESTIFIES. Says Detective Sheridan Admitted His Assault Upon Lynch.

Also Corroborates Mayston's Story in Important Points.

Police Commissioners Refuse to Reserve Their Decision.

The trial of Ward Detective George H. Sheridan, of the Church street station, who is charged with maliciously assaulting Joseph J. Lynch and others in the Merchants' Hotel on April 3, and in permitting a pool-room to be run there in violation of the law, was continued before the Police Commissioners this morning.

Lawyer Howe and ex-Surrogate Hollins announced that they had closed their case for the defendant, and before offering any evidence in rebuttal Lawyer O'Neill made a motion that the Commissioners should give no final decision in the matter so long as the case of Sheridan was pending before the Grand Jury, on the ground that a determination of the matter by the Board now might be prejudicial to the interests of justice, not only in the investigation by the Grand Jury, but in the trial of Sheridan, should be indicted. The motion also called for an adjournment of the case until after the Grand Jury had taken action.

This was opposed by Mr. Hollins, and the Commissioners, the full Board being present, decided to deny the motion. Mr. O'Neill said that he expected to have several witnesses to testify before the Grand Jury, and that he expected the testimony of Sheridan's friends, but the only one in hand this morning was Daniel Mayston, the peddler, who was the only one of the four Jersey City men alleged to have been assaulted in the Merchants' Hotel, who testified for the prosecution.

The others still refused to attend the trial, and there is no doubt that they were intimidated by threats to keep away. Commissioner MacLean said he would be in the case of Sheridan, and that if Mr. O'Neill could give any assurance that the missing witnesses would be produced, he would reserve his decision, and that it was useless to expect to get the New York case out of the hands of the New York case.

Mr. O'Neill, however, requested the statements made by the witness, Murphy and others, and contradicted them in many particulars. He also made frequent objections by the defendant's counsel. He told again the story of the first notebook in which he had made a memorandum of the betting on that afternoon. Mr. O'Neill also stated that he had made a memorandum of the names of the horses upon which he had placed bets.
