

WAS MURDERED?

Prisco was one of the men who had charge of that gang. He always claimed to be on terms of intimacy with the chief of the Tammany Hall. The letters from Prisco's mother and other relatives show that his boasts were not vain.

As President of the Italian Club Prisco was known to every Italian in this city. He gave out that he could put men to work in the Park departments as well as at street-cleaning. He had a scale of prices which would not be estimated, in over one hundred cases.

Some of the positions he was able to deliver, others could not. It was when his countrymen went to him clamoring for the return of their money that the man died. He has been a fugitive ever since.

He did not go before there had been opened up a case against him. It was also said to be connected with the Mafia Society, and the secret organization was also said to be active in pursuit of revenge.

"The Evening World" started to expose the Padrone system, over the core of Italians came forward to testify against the Mafia. Prisco was as far as to take out warrants for his arrest. At the time he was traced to great lengths in the Mafia. Prisco was as far as to take out warrants for his arrest. At the time he was traced to great lengths in the Mafia.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Prisco was arrested on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

HAMPSON'S FINGER-STALL?

Mrs. Ahrens, the Victim, Had It Clasped in Her Hand.

Police Point Out the Scar on Defendant's Finger.

The web of circumstantial evidence is being closely drawn around David Hampton, the colored man accused of the murder of Mrs. Annette Ahrens, on the night of Dec. 29 or morning of Dec. 30, 1892.

The principle witness against him today was Joseph Pipisko, also colored, who said that he was acquainted with Hampton for four years, and went with him to Newark the morning of Dec. 30, 1892. Hampton at that time had lots of money, but was not excited. He described in detail a game of cards and the manner in which the cards were dealt. He also described in detail the manner in which the cards were dealt.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

Policeman Charles W. Thompson, of the West Forty-seventh street station, described the condition of the bed room on the morning following the murder. "Mrs. Ahrens," he said, "lay partly on her left side and partly on her right side, and blood all around her. Her arms were rigid in a bent position, and her hands were clenched. In her right hand we found a 'finger stall,' partly covered with blood.

"A LIE," SAID MEYER.

He Leaps Excitedly to His Feet During McIntyre's Address.

Crimson with Anger He Shrieks a Denial of Coming Testimony.

After three weeks spent in securing a jury, the second trial of Dr. Henry Meyer, begun Tuesday at the Court of General Sessions, Dr. Meyer is charged with the murder of Gustave Baum, alias Ludwig Brandt, whom it is alleged he poisoned for the purpose of securing life insurance money.

The prisoner was brought to court by Deputy Sheriff Dalrymple, at 10.30. He at once entered into earnest conversation with his wife's sister, who handed him a picture of his infant, which was born to his wife in the House of Detention some months ago.

Mrs. Meyer, who has been detained at the House of Detention as a witness since before Meyer's first trial, entered the court-room soon after her husband. She sat within the inclosure occupied by the officials of the court, and looked out of the windows into the park. She studiously avoided casting her glances towards the prisoner, and the fact aroused fresh interest in the rumor that she intended to turn State's evidence and become informer against her husband.

Assistant District-Attorney McIntyre, who will conduct the case for the people, said his opening address would continue at least three hours. He said he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

McIntyre understood that they will testify that Meyer tried to induce them to cooperate with him in his alleged murder. He said that he had two new witnesses, Joseph Kroeger and James Atkins, whom he expected the strongest of incriminating testimony.

O'CONNOR CASE TRIED

Notwithstanding the Lawyer's Protest the Case is Closed.

Two of the Most Important Witnesses Failed to Appear.

"I Don't Expect Justice Here," Said Mr. O'Neill Finally.

When the trial of Capt. O'Connor, of the Church street station, was resumed this afternoon before the Police Commissioner, Deputy Sheriff Burns, who has been spending the last two or three days looking for the missing witnesses, Palmer and Murphy, reported that he had still been unsuccessful in his search.

Lawyer O'Neill, therefore, asked for an adjournment of the case. Commissioner Martin, however, after consulting with his colleagues, decided that the trial must proceed, and told Mr. O'Neill to go on with his cross-examination of Capt. O'Connor.

This the lawyer refused to do, and said that if he was compelled to go on then he might as well throw up the entire case. He had no further questions, he said, to ask Capt. O'Connor, who had taken the witness stand, and there were no other witnesses.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Blandy, however, wanted to ask some questions, and the Commissioners said they would hear them.

Understand, Captain, that the charges against you are that you permitted certain alleged pool-rooms to be kept in your precinct, inquired Mr. Blandy.

"Yes, sir," replied the Captain. "And that was your case on April 3 I claimed that they were assaulted by a policeman in a pool-room at Merchants' Hotel."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

"No, sir," replied the Captain. "I had you ever before this precinct, but Judge Pryor ordered the pool-rooms to be closed."

SEIZED 5,000 GIGARS.

Special Customs Inspector Hussey Confiscates Fine Havanas.

He Watched a House on South Street All Last Night.

Goods Were Probably Smuggled Ashore from the Saratoga.

Five thousand cigars of the finest Havana brand were captured early this afternoon by Special Customs Inspector William Hussey, assisted by Inspector McCourt.

This was the largest single seizure of cigars that has been made for many months. Inspector Hussey, acting on information, has watched the building at 69 South street since Sunday last, expecting that the cigars would be taken from the ship to this place.

The building is used as a lodging-house, the ground floor being occupied by a saloon. Hussey sat cramped up in an alley across the street from the building all last night and until noon to-day without sleep or anything to eat. His patience was finally rewarded by seeing a suspicious looking package carried into the place about noon.

The package was opened and a search of the premises was made. Upstairs, in a private parlor, the officers found the five thousand cigars. From the certain marks the think the cigars were smuggled ashore from the steamship Saratoga.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

The cigars are worth about $1,200. The customs officers are now searching for the parties who smuggled the cigars ashore.

HORSES ONLY GLOP

An Off Day with the Trainers at Gravesend.

Lampighter Went a Strong Mile in the Early Morning.

Col. Ruppert's Crack Two-Year-Olds Go at a Racing Clip.

GRAVESEND, L. I., April 26.—The weather was beautiful here this morning. It was an ideal day for working thoroughbreds, but it happened to be an off day and very little was done.

Jimmy McCormick was out very early with Lampighter, the son of Spens, and though he was lively as a kitten, and though the boy had orders to cover a mile at a two minute slip, the horse could not be restrained and the mile was timed in 1:52.3. Lampighter is in superb condition, and if he has any of his old temper left he does not show it.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

Two-year-olds by Sir Dixon, The Illinois and Roseington, were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54. The others in the string were sent a half mile in 54.

SHARP RISE IN MANHATTAN.

Favorable News from Washington Sends Sugar Up.

The Market Firm, but the Volume of Business is Small.

The effect on Wall street of the legislation on the Rapid Transit bill at Albany yesterday was evident soon after the Stock Exchange opened this morning, when Manhattan displayed upward tendencies. The price jumped in the early trading 2.3 to 12.3.

The bulls on Sugar brought their favorite to the front this morning, and on large transactions the stock advanced 1.3 to 9.7. The Wormsers were the heaviest buyers, but there was also a brisk demand from the shorts on Sugar. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

The rise in Sugar started prices up in all directions, but the volume of business was small. American Tobacco advanced 1.1 to 5.1. Chicago Gas 1.2, to 6.4. The market on the other hand was quiet. The price of the Sugar Trust will obtain concessions from the Senate Finance Committee.

HACKETT, CARHART & CO.

The whole family are pleased with the clothes for growing youth, shown in such great variety by

The looks strike the lad's fancy; the shape and cut please the mother, the father is gratified at the moderate price, $8 to $20.

If two seasons wear is wanted, the wear is there, and an allowance for growth is there also, only it does not show. Not a point has been overlooked or undervalued.

CLOTHES, FURNISHINGS, HATS, SHOES. 3 Stores (Broadway corner Canal Street, 2 Stores (Broadway below Chambers Street).

agents to-day no change in prices was made. The estimated output for May was placed at 2,800,000 tons, or more than 50 per cent of the total capacity. The output for May last year, 2,700,000 tons.

Coffee was the star speculative deal to-day. The market for contracts was more active than it has been for months, and sales up to 1 o'clock were about 35,000 bags, within the range of 15.50 to 15.45 for January, 15.20 for August, 14.75 for September, 14.50 for October, 14.25 for November, 13.80 for December, 13.50 for January, 13.20 for February, 12.80 for March, 12.50 for April, 12.20 for May, 11.80 for June, 11.50 for July, 11.20 for August, 10.80 for September, 10.50 for October, 10.20 for November, 9.80 for December, 9.50 for January, 9.20 for February, 8.80 for March, 8.50 for April,