

TREANO WON'T TALK.

Neither Admits Nor Denies that He Killed Molico. The Boys Who Threw the Baseball Held in $1,000 Bail.

MRS. KAUFMANN MAY DIE.

Was He Pushed Off Roof? Coney Closed? Yes. Good Joke, Say the Brewers.

Coroner Will Investigate the Death of Young McManus.

Found Dead at the Bottom of an Airshaft. Police Closed Front Doors, but Not Side Entrances.

Workmen Make Light of the Board of Trade's Threatened Lock-Out.

The Latter Insists that the Budweiser Boycott Must Be Lifted. In railroad life many incidents are accidents.

When a Train's Wrecked.

How Experienced Men Get to Work to Clear the Road. Smashed Cars Hauled Out and the Debris Shovelled Away.

A. Ward & Sons.

Leading Merchant Tailors, BOWERY, CORNER PRICE ST. SUITS (TO ORDER) $16. TROUSERS (TO ORDER) $4.

Forty Train Loads!

"The Monarchs of the Trade," LUDWIG BAUMANN & COMPLY. CONSISTING OF BEDROOM SUITS, DINING ROOM SUITS, SATINWOOD FINISHED HARDWOOD GOODS, DESIGNED FOR SUMMER HOMES.

But Five Witnesses Say They Saw the Stabbing.

Fatal Outcome of a Quarrel Over the Game of Morro.

Angelo Treano, the Italian laborer who is accused by five witnesses now in the hands of the police of having stabbed and killed Nardo Molico, an Italian organ-grinder, yesterday afternoon in the yard of 165 Hester street, was taken to Police headquarters this morning and questioned by Inspector McLaughlin. The famous third degree was applied, but he would not acknowledge his guilt. He simply refused to say anything about the fight.

After all the Central Office detectives had a good look at him, he was taken with the five witnesses to the Tombs Police Court for examination by Police Justice Taintor.

Treano, Molico and a number of other Italians played the Italian game of "Morro" all yesterday afternoon and part of the early evening. A great deal of beer was consumed and the men became much excited by the game and the varying chances of the morro.

Treano and Molico quarrelled over the game and Treano called Molico a liar. They came together, Molico with a small penknife in his hand and Treano displaying a large stiletto, so say the witnesses.

Treano caught Molico by the arm and stabbed him several times and ran away. Molico staggered into the hall and fell dead.

A passing Chinaman heard cries of murder and notified Policeman Walsh, of the Mulberry street station. Walsh, with Detective Sullivan, and Detectives Farley and special duty men Sloane and Hahn, followed Treano into 138 Mott street, where they found him lying in a closet on the fourth floor. He was covered with blood.

Molico's body was found under arrest of the detectives returned to 165 Hester street and there found five witnesses to the killing. The witnesses were Michael Conko, of 204 Hester street, had been there for a long time, and saw Treano become infuriated and attempted to stab Conko, who beat him about the head with his fists, and then Treano's head was swathed in bandages.

The witnesses who saw they saw Treano go to the fourth floor were: James Tamm, of 165 Hester street; Antonio Serrano, of 165 Hester street; Michael Conko, a tailor, of 204 Hester street; Willie Peters, of 165 Mott street; and Willie Williams, who was looking into the yard from a window and saw Treano stab Molico to death.

Molico's body was viewed last night by Coroner Fitzpatrick. He found the body in a state of decomposition, and one and one half deep in the right groin. The latter doubtless was the cause of death. An autopsy will be held to-day.

GEN. GREEN'S BIRTHDAY.

He is Ninety-three Years Old, and Hale and Healthy. Gen. George S. Green, who is the oldest living graduate of the West Point Military Academy, celebrated his ninety-third birthday yesterday at the home of his son, Gen. W. H. Greene, of the Seventy-first Regiment, 32 East Thirtieth street.

Gen. Greene seems as hale and hearty as the average man of sixty years. Early in the day the General made a call upon the President of the United States, and during the day a score or more of the cadets of the academy called upon the venerable soldier.

Gen. Greene was born at Ansonia, Conn., on May 9, 1801. He was graduated from West Point in 1823, of the same class being an instructor of mathematics. He became a civil engineer, and designed and built the Central Park reservoir and the Croton Aqueduct, and built a new reservoir near it. In 1862 he entered the army again as Colonel of the Second Maine Cavalry, and commanded the second division of the Tenth Army Corps and repulsed the enemy at Antietam. He was brevetted a Major-General in 1862, and retired a year later. He was Commissioner of the Croton Aqueduct Department, and is Commissioner, and in 1871 became Chief Engineer of Public Works in Washington.

Assessor Doherty's Ordeal. Assessor James E. Doherty, of Hoboken, has just experienced a very difficult operation. A large tumor was removed from his stomach by several physicians. Mr. Doherty was in possession of his senses, and was able to eat and drink during the operation. The doctors say that he will survive the operation.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Table with shipping news including destinations like ALBANY FOR TO-DAY, NEW YORK, and various ship names and departure times.

PORT OF NEW YORK.

Table with shipping news for the Port of New York, listing ship names, arrival/departure times, and agents.

ARRIVED.

Table with shipping news listing arrivals from various ports, including ship names and arrival dates.

GOING TO-MORROW.

Table with shipping news listing departures for the following day, including ship names and destinations.

HELD UP THE POLICEMAN.

Edwards Treated the Gang to His Billy Instead of a Pint of Beer.

Policeman Patrick Edwards appeared in the Lee Avenue Police Court, Williamsburg, to-day against three young "growler rusers," who were fined $3 each for intoxication. The policeman has only recently recovered from a severe spell of illness, and when he is in better health he looks like a sickly young theological student.

Yesterday afternoon Edwards was walking along Kent avenue, and at North Fifth street he was stopped by a man who asked him for the price of a pint. The policeman handed refused, and the man pulled back his coat, showed his police badge, and called into the street: "Here comes the growler ruser."

Three of the men got away, but Edwards captured Charles Brady, John Keane and Henry E. White, all of whom were greatly astonished when they saw what an energetic policeman the supposed theological student was.

BEATEN BY A BRUTAL NEGRO.

When Help Came Mrs. Holman Was Unconscious.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., May 7.—James Williamson, a burly negro of this place, was arrested yesterday and committed to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Yesterday morning, in the absence of John Holman, a fireman, who rents of Williamson, the latter it is alleged, gained admittance, and endeavored to put Holman's family out. He soon got control of Mrs. Holman, who is a delicate little woman, and beat her until she was unconscious. He then ran into the street, screaming "murder," and was arrested by a policeman. He was taken to the hospital, and his wounds are being treated.

KILLED HIMSELF WITH GAS.

When Stiner's Wife Got Up To-Day She Found Him Dead.

Louis Stiner, fifty-four years old, of 99 Wyckoff street, Brooklyn, committed suicide this morning by inhaling gas. His wife, Lizzie, laid him alive at 1 o'clock this morning. When she arose at 7 o'clock she found him lying on the floor with a rubber hose in his mouth. The other end was attached to a gas jet. No cause is assigned.

MOVING ON PLAINFIELD.

Fitzgerald's "Army" Leaves Elizabeth with Two Recruits.

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 7.—Gen. Fitzgerald and his industrial "army" resumed their march to Washington this morning. The "army" consisted of about 100 men, and was accompanied by a band of music. They were housed and fed by the Socialists during their journey. They had to do this, for Chief Tenney was determined to stand no nonsense from the communists.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh. Welsh was refused to let the man go, and he and his fellow officers fought a crowd. He landed right and left, knocking the Poles down as fast as they approached him. They carried all kinds of implements of war, such as chairs, sticks and bed slats. Welsh's uniform was torn into shreds. He succeeded in arresting four of the ruffians, who were sent this morning to the penitentiary for four months by Judge Donoghue.

WELSH IS A FIGHTER.

He Beated a Mob of Poles with Weapons and Arrested Four.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 7.—Patrolman Patrick Welsh had an exciting time early this morning. He was on duty while trying to arrest a disorderly Pole. When Welsh placed the man under arrest he gave a cry for assistance and a dozen of his countrymen ran out of a drug store and tore the prisoner away from Welsh