BOSS CROKER HAS RESIGNED.

Tammany Chieftain Formally Surrenders the Leadership.

BIG CROWD AT THE WIGWAM.

Ex-Judge McQuade Succeeded Him as Chairman of the Finance Committee.

THE BOSS GOES INTO THE RANKS.

He Will Not Even Qualify for the Board of Schemes.

There was the biggest kind of a gathering at Tammany Hall this afternoon in anticipation of Richard Croker throwing down the sceptre of absolute power which he has wielded ever since the death of John Kelly eight years ago.

Long before the meeting was called to order at 11, before the Boss himself put in an appearance, it was known to all that the "Evening World" forecast had been correct.

Every one of the original thirty members of the Committee was on hand early. Some of the associate leaders were also there, but not a great many.

Among the leaders and lesser lights of the wigwam put in an early appearance. They were: Chairman, Alderman Noonan, ex-Speaker of the Assembly, Justice Steiner, Peter F. Meyer, Charles H. Johnson, Commissioner of the Tammany General Committee, Justice Justice Steiner, Peter F. Meyer, Charles H. Johnson, Commissioner of the Tammany General Committee, Justice Justice Steiner, Peter F. Meyer, Charles H. Johnson, Commissioner of the Tammany General Committee.

After nodding to some of the leaders he entered the inner office and took a chair. The room, except that he had resigned.

It was 4:30 o'clock when Civil Justice Steiner announced that everything was ready for the meeting to begin.

Police Commissioner Martin seized a copy of the minutes and read them and then called the meeting to order and the proceedings were under way.

At 6:30 Mr. Croker, who had been in the inner room, he had just finished his speech resigning his position.

He declared to say what had taken place in the room, except that he had resigned.

It is said that in order to leave no doubt as to his intention to retire from all active work, he had written to the Board of Schemes.

WASHINGTON NEW YORK - 2 6

Giants Keep Up Their Good Work, Hitting the Ball and Making Runs.

RUSIE WILD, BUT EFFECTIVE.

Three on Base for Washington in the Fourth and Only One Out, Yet Not a Man Scored.

MERCER EASY FOR NEW YORK.

Mons. Murphy a Bright Star in the Work of Trousing the Red and Black Senators.

(Special to The Evening World.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, May 10.—When the Senators trooped into the field this afternoon the few spectators who were present at the time exclaimed: "Well, look at the Salvation Army band!"

They were quite excusable, too, for of all the quaint uniforms the palm must be awarded to the Washingtons. It is a cross between a bathing suit and a Salvation Army make-up. They wear a startling combination of red and black—black blouses and knickerbockers and red sleeves and stockings. The blouses are belted with scarlet webbing, and atop of each Washingtonian cap is a black and red striped cap that would do excellent service for a tonsorial pal.

With this rouge-et-noir combination against the Giants it wasn't any odds on betting that New York would scamper very far away from the Senators. For any sort of a hoodoo always has its effect on the Giants.

"The play's the thing," quoth Hamlet, and to-day proves that in baseball the players are a good deal of a figure from a box-office standpoint. The Washingtons are struggling along in a hot race for last place with Chicago, and that circumstance operates to the detriment of the strong box in the Treasurer's office.

It will not require a van to cart away the visitors' share of the gate receipts unless Saturday's game shall prove a better reason for the box office than the game. The weather was cool, too cool, in fact to promise a real sharp game, and it rained a little before the game started to warm the boys up to their work.

That tireless nuisance, the "well, look at the Salvation Army band" crowd, grounds to-day, laboring under an extra cargo of exasperation. The police kept the crowd from getting too close to the players, but they were in a bad way when the "cooler" was assigned as below:
