

The Evening World. THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1894. SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD (including postage): PER MONTH $1.00 PER YEAR $10.00 Vol. 84, No. 11,965

459197 FROM THE WORLD OF MARCH 4, 1894. The World's Average Circulation per day for First Two Months of 1894. 433,167.

AVERAGE CIRCULATION PER DAY FOR SECOND TWO MONTHS OF 1894. 459197. In all his vetting Gov. Flower still neglects to veto Brockwayism.

Platt cries for 'no fusion' in New York. New York prays for confusion to Platt. And to all his kind, regardless of party.

WOULD THE DOWE COAT HELP THEM? Another successful trial of Tallor Dowe's bullet proof coat has been made.

Remembering the late examples at Albany, it requires a good deal of citizenly nerve to face the contingency of a Legislature made up of 45 Senators and 225 Assemblymen.

It is hardly necessary to amend the Constitution according to the idea of Mr. Hollis, by providing for universal militia service by declaring that the militia of the State shall comprise all able-bodied male inhabitants between the ages of eighteen and forty-five.

Iron Bridge Plant Raises Wages. NEW BRITAIN, Conn., May 24.—The Berlin Iron Bridge Company has ordered an increase of 10 per cent. in wages of all its employees.

no recommendation of his own. Why does he, an Attorney-General, conceal from the Senate the fact that he, as an attorney and the Government's chief prosecuting officer, stands recorded as opposing that the law can't touch the Trusts?

Witness Granger was not forthcoming yesterday, and the Senatorial Committee was deprived of his services. This Granger is not an unknown man.

It would certainly seem that Commissioner McClave and his counsel must be anxious to see Granger again on the stand.

One of the Senators said yesterday that if Granger is not produced his entire testimony will be stricken from the record.

Gov. Flower's vetoes and approvals are as uncertain as the weather. He has just vetoed the bill designed to prevent Mr. Astor from pulling up a stable neck to the synagogue on Madison avenue and Sixty-fifth street.

Not much fear is felt that the Astor stable will be built, notwithstanding the veto. It is thought probable that Mr. Astor will now voluntarily abandon the idea.

Another successful trial of Tallor Dowe's bullet proof coat has been made in London. Balls fired from Lee-Milford German army rifles that pierced thirty-inch elm logs as if they were only so much London fog.

Mr. McClave denies too much. It is rather desirable that a New York Police Commissioner should at least know what a faro bank is. The Mulberry street Headquarters is not expected to be exactly a Sleepy Hollow establishment.

The Presbyterian General Assembly shows a gratifying awakening to the anomaly of a "North" and "South" distinction existing in a great Christian Church when sectional lines have been so thoroughly wiped out of the country's secular interests.

Gen. Hastings, the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, has been dubbed by his friends: "The hero of Johnstown." He earned this honor in the days of trouble following the flood of '89.

THE BABIES WILL WIN.

No Doubt about the Success of the Free Doctors Fund. Brooklyn Children Make the Largest Contribution.

Practical Treatment for the Tenement-House Patients.

The Subscriptions. Previously acknowledged $7,582.49. Annals Maltby and others, fair, 10.00. Fair, 28 Adams street, 2.56.

Between May and September over 10,000 visits will be made, thousands of sick children will be cured, and thousands saved for lives of happiness and usefulness.

During the past week we have prescribed more milk than medicine for the little patients in my district. The request of the mother is invariably for some drugs, whereas the case calls for milk.

She Got Her Little Hide Free, and Snailed the Conductor. A woman got on a Madison street cable car and after fidgeting into a comfortable seat, she snailed the conductor.

They Are Astonishingly Plentiful on the Madeleine Plains. Dr. George M. Kohler, who arrived yesterday from old Fort Bidwell, lately abandoned as an army post, according to reports from the Madeleine plains.

Still There Are Some Who Want Exorbitant Prices for Coal. The fact that "The World" still receives orders for coal at $4.50 per ton, though these orders are gratefully few in number, indicates that some consumers are still unable to secure fuel from their dealers at reasonable rates.

Should Be a Snowing-Under. Snow in Kentucky in May? That's more than we expect, although we know there would be a treat when Breckinridge ran—Chicago Post.

Let Them All March to Alaska. Times are said to be very prosperous in Alaska. Here, a but one of the industrial armies who at the present time seem to be marching in the wrong direction—Chicago Journal.

Corbett Without Honor Abroad. It appears, after all, that the English failed to show an adequate appreciation, in abilities and sense, of the American muscular drama.

Senator Lodge's Denial. Senator Lodge denies the story that he had abandoned belief in delaying the tariff bill and believed in an immediate vote.

A TALE OF A WINDMILL.

And How the Agent Sold It to the Meanest Man on Earth. A number of years ago I was selling a windmill in Southern Illinois.

It was blowing a gale when I inquired for the meanest man in the county, says the Chicago Record. "I don't know," he said, "but I'll find you one."

When the time was up I drove around with my map and started to take down the same old road. He watched me for a moment and then whispered excitedly: "Smith beat me! Not much. Here's $50 extra. Go away and keep your mouth shut."

THE STRAPPING YOUNG FELLOW KNEW THE FAIRER AT FIRST SIGHT. A strapping young man, with a cold look in his eyes, sat in the waiting-room of the Third street depot.

IT WAS VERY WOMANLY. A woman got on a Madison street cable car and after fidgeting into a comfortable seat, she snailed the conductor.

CORBETT WITHOUT HONOR ABROAD. It appears, after all, that the English failed to show an adequate appreciation, in abilities and sense, of the American muscular drama.

SENATOR LODGE'S DENIAL. Senator Lodge denies the story that he had abandoned belief in delaying the tariff bill and believed in an immediate vote.

LETTERS.

Childish Questions. It is evident that "J. A. K." is neither a student of history nor the possessor of a very sagacious observant faculty.

Servants After Marriage. To the Editor: The men (7) who claim it a wife's duty to build fires, carry coal, split wood, etc., are either brutes or lazy duffers.

A Frivolous Verbal Freak. "Verbium Satius" is without doubt a great scholar. In fact, his ideal author, Will Shakespeare, pales before him.

Typewriters Are Great Girls. In answer to "A. B." who wished to know if he would do well by marrying a typewriter, I will say that if he loves her and she him, the best thing he can do is to marry her.

Reply to an Over-Smart Critic. It is pretty exciting to expect a newspaper to turn in and educate a nation, when there are so many free institutions where knowledge can be gained.

Suede Gloves. Suede gloves are made of skins which have been subjected to a process by which the hair is removed.

Cradles Are No More. Cradles have gone out of date for baby who are being reared in the modern way.

Sunday in the Bible. "Septic" had better search the Scripture herself before accusing others. Matthew says: "The Sabbath was made to man."

Evolution in a Nutshell. To the Editor: If your correspondent "J. A. K." will read "Darwin on the Origin of Species," he will find the now generally accepted theory of the development of man.

Not Good Conversationalists. I am a young man and move in very good society. Here I meet a large number of young ladies, none of whom, however, I care to meet a second time.

Dressmakers and Domestic. To the Editor: I think "N. B." is engaged to a dressmaker. She should take his chances, but if he isn't I advise him to get married to a "domestic."

HOUSE AND HOME.

Two Thousand Tailor-Made Girls. All the tailors may turn dressmakers and what will the men do then, poor things?

Crocodile Moire. Isn't this elegant, though—black crocodile moire silk. The skirt is plain. The waist shows how the zouave jacket is used.

How White Walls Were Decorated. A dining-room with white walls is made very attractive for several entertainments by having the side walls covered with pale green crepe paper.

Strawberry Souffle. A souffle of strawberries is a dish not to be despised. A layer of the berries should be placed in the bottom of a dish and sprinkled with sugar.

What Women's Extravagance Does. It is always amusing to hear men complain of the extravagance of women, when, if it were not for this so-called extravagance, manufacturers, jewelers, merchants, importers, dressmakers, furriers and milliners would have to go out of business.

Washing Cotton Dresses. If cotton dresses are properly made there is no reason why they should not be washed many times. To make up satens and gingham with honest laques, heavily lined skirts and velvet-bordered edges is an absurdity.

Suede Gloves. Suede gloves are made of skins which have been subjected to a process by which the hair is removed.

Cradles Are No More. Cradles have gone out of date for baby who are being reared in the modern way.

Sunday in the Bible. "Septic" had better search the Scripture herself before accusing others. Matthew says: "The Sabbath was made to man."

Illustrations of various dresses and home decor items, including a woman in a long dress, a woman in a shorter dress, and various interior scenes.
