

SALOONS CLOSED UP EARLY.

Motionable Result of Byrnes' Talk to the Captains.

Central Office Men Said to Be Looking for Violators of the Law.

One of the injunctions contained in the orders given out by Supt. Byrnes to the police captains of the several precincts, all of whom were summoned before him yesterday, was made manifest at 1 o'clock this morning, when all the saloons in the Tenderloin Precinct closed their doors.

The order had been transmitted to the saloon-keepers by policemen on their beats, and it was obeyed, ostensibly, in every instance excepting by places which had been licensed to keep open all night. If there are any such in the precinct...

Capt. Schmittberger delivered a long lecture to the 6 o'clock and midnight platoons, and it is said that among other things which he enjoined them to look out for was gambling houses or other suspicious places.

In the Twenty-first and in fact all other precincts, the same edict as regards the closing of saloons was sent forth, but it was the more noticeable in the Ninth and Twentieth, because heretofore the saloons have done business all hours of the day and night with but the smallest semblance of secrecy.

The excise laws must be rigidly enforced hereafter, according to the Superintendent's orders, else the captain of the precinct in which any violation is discovered will be summarily called to account by the Superintendent, who has full power to act under a recent resolution of the Police Commissioners.

It is also said that Central Office detectives were scattered all over the city last night taking notes and making observations. This could not be except by Supt. Byrnes's direction. The object undoubtedly must have been to make observations for the benefit of the Superintendent as to how faithfully his orders were executed by the captains.

Supt. Byrnes refused to discuss the matter to-day or even affirm or deny whether the saloon and gambling-house order was to be of general application or what further instructions, if any, he gave the captains yesterday.

As a result of the police vigilance, only two excise arrests were made in the Tenderloin District last night. They were Edward Nall, of 431 Sixth avenue, and Joseph Sheim, bartender of Michael Minden, of 500 Sixth avenue. There was no evidence produced in court to show that they were doing business after hours, and Justice McMahon discharged them.

REFUSED TO MARRY HER.

Lipka is Now in Jail on Miss Verstandig's Suit for $2,000.

Joseph Lipka is in Ludlow Street Jail as the result of having trifled with the affections of Annie Verstandig, of 38 Rivington street, who has brought suit to recover $2,000 damages for breach of promise and betrayal. He was arrested last night.

Miss Verstandig alleges that she met Lipka in October, 1892, and that he at once became very attentive to her, and in the following month proposed marriage and she accepted him.

The date of the wedding was set for June 2, and on that day the guests assembled at her home and she had a splendid reception for the festivities which were to follow the ceremony.

Lipka did not put in an appearance, and the guests departed, leaving the prospectively bride in tears.

She says she met Lipka the next day and he told her his cousin had persuaded him not to marry her.

INSANE FROM SMALL-POX.

The People at Fordham Hospital Given a Scare.

New Cases of the Disease Discovered in the Fourth Ward.

An irrational man, about twenty-four years old, who, it is believed, lives somewhere in Westchester County, was removed from Fordham Hospital to North Brother Island this morning, suffering from small-pox.

He walked into the office of the hospital yesterday afternoon, and said he wanted the "cure" removed from his face, motioning with his finger at eruptions too thick to be counted. It was discovered that he had small-pox, and when it was so announced, there was a stampede of clerks, outdoor patients and attendants.

The patient talked incoherently, being unable to tell anything about himself. He was evidently insane, probably from the effects of the disease. Where he came from is a mystery, but it was surmised that he might be one of the discharged patients from the Charity Hospital on Ward's Island, who had become infected there, and who had developed the disease after leaving that institution.

The health inspectors had hoped that they had succeeded in stamping out the infection in the Fourth Ward, but their hopes met with disappointment yesterday afternoon, when two cases were found. The victims were Annie and Lillian Burke, of 25 Oak street, aged twenty-seven and three months, respectively.

They were removed to North Brother Island this morning also. The woman had been in the hospital, where she lived with her husband, and this morning, but no cases were discovered.

INSANE AFTER VACCINATION.

Garrity Attributes His Wife's Trouble to the Virus.

Committed for Examination in the Morrisania Court.

Mrs. Catherine Garrity, wife of William J. Garrity, a carpenter, living at 95 Forest avenue, was committed to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections in the Morrisania Court this morning for examination as to her sanity.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Garrity was vaccinated by a Health Board physician. When the virus began to take effect, Mrs. Garrity suffered considerable pain, which increased in intensity as day went by. Her arm was so inflamed and swollen that she had no use of it for several days.

Last Monday the inflammation was leaving her arm and Mrs. Garrity was apparently getting better. It was noticed by her husband, however, that as the pain decreased his wife began to act strangely. She was harmless in her aberration, but, as the couple have no children, Mr. Garrity secured a nurse to take care of his wife.

Yesterday during the absence of her husband, Mrs. Garrity became very violent. She threw up her arms and shouted in an incoherent way, as if in fear of being harmed. She attempted at one time to throw herself out of the window.

Mr. Garrity said that his wife had never before betrayed any symptoms of insanity, but that, on the contrary, she had possessed a strong mind. He thinks his wife's present condition is due to the virus of vaccination.

It could not be learned this morning what Board of Health physician performed the vaccination. Mr. Garrity drove with his wife to the court-house in a cab. She remained in the cab while her husband went to the office. Mr. Burke committed her on the affidavits of her husband and the nurse.
