

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre and Merry Monarch to Meet.

Mild Sort of Renewal of the Toboggan Slide.

"EVENING WORLD" SELECTIONS.

First Race—Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Glennoyne.

Second Race—Sport, Kinglet, W. B.

Third Race—Agitator, Herkimer, Dolabra.

Fourth Race—Rightmore, Longshanks, Fusilier.

Fifth Race—Flirt, La Misere, Lintie.

Sixth Race—Romping Girl, The Cammerer, Lollie Eastin.

This is the only day in the Morris Park meeting where a stake is not offered. Nevertheless the card looks interesting, and the over-night events may furnish even better sport than if stakes were to be decided.

The best race of the day looks to be the second, a mile dash. If Sport goes he and Kinglet should make a rattling good race.

It is doubtful, however, if Sport will be started after his defeat yesterday. It would be poor policy to ask too much of this sour-tempered animal, and he should be withdrawn to interest in the race would fade.

Kinglet would have an easy time disposing of W. B. and Lintie. The opening dash has Werberg, Merry Monarch, Elliott, Shelly Tuttle, Henry of Navarre and other fast ones entered. Henry of Navarre ought to make a win at last.

A fall lot of two-year-olds starts in the third race, and in the fourth three-year-olds will meet.

Lizzie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

The track will be fast. Entries and selections follow:

First Race—Sweepstakes of $15 each, with $1,000 added; for all ages; weights 19 pounds above the scale; six furlongs.

121 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

122 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

123 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

124 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

125 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

126 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

127 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

128 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

129 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

130 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

131 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

132 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

133 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

134 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

135 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

136 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

137 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

138 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

139 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

140 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

141 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

142 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

143 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

144 Glennoyne, Henry of Navarre, Merry Monarch, Kinglet, Lintie, La Misere, Annie Blisshop, Stoneville, Flirt and Star, Kinglet, the two-year-old filly which ran a dead heat with the crowd's favorite, Romping Girl and Philomena in the last race.

CUT FOUR THROATS.

Kuffman Slaughtered His Wife, Baby Girl and Twin Boys.

After Washing and Dressing He Hanged Himself to a Nail.

Belief that He Was Driven Insane by Poverty and Want.

CAMDEN, N. J., June 15.—Crowds of curious people to-day visited the house in Cramer Hill, where Johann Kuffman hanged himself yesterday morning, after cutting the throats of his wife, mother of baby girl and twin boys, five years old. The bodies have been removed to an undertaking establishment.

The walls and furniture of the room in which Mrs. Kuffman's body was found are covered with blood, and it is evident that she made a brave fight for her life.

The house is a two-story frame structure. It is located on the outskirts of the town, and the Kuffmans had lived in it only three weeks, having moved from Trenton.

Kuffman was dependent over his inability to procure steady work. He was given employment occasionally at the Kensington Sugar Refinery, and the scanty pay he earned scarcely sufficed to feed his family.

It is believed that he was driven to insanity, and while in that condition he committed the terrible deed. He was about fifty years old and his wife but twenty-two.

The closed shutters of the house in the morning first excited the attention of the neighbors, that something was wrong, as the family was known to be in the house the preceding night, and as late as 12 o'clock a light was seen burning in the second-story front room.

John Hartman, who lives near by, first saw the light, and by his fears that all was not right, and the two then proceeded to the house. They found a front window, and after striking a light, stepped into the room.

A ghastly sight met their eyes. Hanging from the driven in frame of the doorway swung the body of Kuffman. As soon as the searchers recovered from the shock they cut the body down.

They then went into the next room. Lying on the floor they found the body of Mrs. Kuffman, with her head nearly severed from her trunk. Evidence of a struggle were in every side, and what took place in that room prior to her death can only be conjectured. It was found that the blood never known, but the blood stains are evidence of a terrible scene.

With aghast faces the men next went upstairs to where the three children were known to have slept. The first object that met their gaze was the body of the girl. Her head hung to her body by a shred. In the next room to the left were found the bodies of the twins. They also had their throats cut.

No papers were found in the house, and it is believed that the man was a native of Germany, and that he had come to this country in search of work. He was a member of the Wharton Company, and the New York company's counterclaim, as narrated in The World yesterday.

The Wharton Company made a contract in October, 1893, to lay the cable in Third Avenue, William Wharton, Jr., who goes to New York daily on business, organized what was called the "Hayseeders" party and ticket. When they met to nominate their candidates, few if any of the old residents were asked to meet in the primary. This action netted the others, who immediately named a second ticket, which was dubbed the "Hayseeders" by the daily travelers.

Dr. Henry C. Neer was nominated for Mayor on the "Hayseeders" ticket. Tuesday's contest between the "Hayseeders" and "Commuters" was of the hottest kind, and so close that neither side knew which one was successful until the last ballot was counted.

Dr. Neer was elected by one vote. The "Commuters" party, headed by Justice Smith, defeated Dr. Eugene Jehl, named against him.

All Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

THE PARLAND & O'FLAHERTY,

8TH AVE., BETWEEN 40TH AND 41ST ST. BARAINS FOR SATURDAY THAT CANNOT BE OBTAINED ELSEWHERE.

200 LADIES' DUCK BLAZET SUITS in all the newest designs and colorings. Blazer with full sleeves and umbrella back and fancy gored skirt; worth $1.25. $1.25

150 FINE ENGLISH DUCK SUITS in plain and fancy colors, open bound seams and tailor made good value for $2.98. $2.98

125 MEN'S FINEST SUITS in fancy figures, full gored, and Tuxedo jacket, sold elsewhere at $4.99. $4.99

FINE CHEVIOT CLOTH SUITS, Tuxedo Jacket, half lined with silk serge, full gored skirt, would be cheap at $5.00. $5.00

Hosiery. MEN'S BALDING SHIRTS AND DRAWERS, 12 worth only to each customer; worth 25c. 25c.

LADIES' FINE JERSEY VESTS, 10c. 10c.

LADIES' FINE POYNTIAN RIBBED VESTS, 10c. 10c.

100 MEN'S TROUSERS AND FOUR-IN-HANDS, summer goods, light weight, regular fit, worth $1.00. $1.00

100 MEN'S HEMSTITCHED CAMBRIC HANDKERCHIEFS, colored borders, worth 12c. 12c.

PINE BRUSH GINGHAM, 9c. 9c.

SWITCH GINGHAMS, select silk effects, 9c. 9c.

CHIFFONETTE LAUNES, 4c. 4c.

FINE LAUNES, 26 inches wide, 7c. 7c.

NAVY BLUE LAUNES, fast colors, 7c. 7c.

SATURDAY SILK BUSH, 8c. 8c.

HOUSEFURNISHING. OLD HERALD BUILDING, BROADWAY AND ANN ST. STEWART BUILDING, BROADWAY AND CHAMBERS ST. BOTH STORES OPEN UNTIL 9.30 SATURDAY NIGHT.

FOR THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL THIS BRASS AND IRON BEDSTEAD FOR $4.00

Usually sold for $5.00. Every housekeeper should examine our stock of Parlor, Dining Room, and Bed Room Furniture, also Carpets of all descriptions, Oilcloths, etc., before buying elsewhere. We have the best goods, which are always at the lowest prices.

MAQUADE GOT A SLICE OF IT. A CONTEST FOR DR. NEER.

The Third Avenue Cable Suit Brings His Title as Mayor of Park Ridge to Light the Story of How He Got a Contract.

Questioned by Justice Smith, of the Commuters' Party, of the Mayor's Title.

WHARTON GOT OUT OF THE WAY. ONE VOTE DECIDED THE ELECTION.

The story of the $25,000 suit brought against the Third Avenue Railroad Company, by the late William Wharton, Jr., of Philadelphia, and the New York company's counterclaim, as narrated in The World yesterday.

The Wharton Company made a contract in October, 1893, to lay the cable in Third Avenue, William Wharton, Jr., who goes to New York daily on business, organized what was called the "Hayseeders" party and ticket. When they met to nominate their candidates, few if any of the old residents were asked to meet in the primary. This action netted the others, who immediately named a second ticket, which was dubbed the "Hayseeders" by the daily travelers.

Dr. Henry C. Neer was nominated for Mayor on the "Hayseeders" ticket. Tuesday's contest between the "Hayseeders" and "Commuters" was of the hottest kind, and so close that neither side knew which one was successful until the last ballot was counted.

Dr. Neer was elected by one vote. The "Commuters" party, headed by Justice Smith, defeated Dr. Eugene Jehl, named against him.

All Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

Dr. Neer's friends were so jubilant over his success that they went to Rockland County, N. Y., for an old Revolutionary cannon, which they planted in front of Justice Smith's office.

Justice Smith had been to the county seat while his opponents were away after the defeat of the "Hayseeders" party. Justice Smith now claims the cannon, and declares that sufficient irregularities were made to set aside Dr. Neer's election. It is claimed by Smith's friends that one man, who intended to vote for Dr. Neer, was thrown in with the "Hayseeders" party.

Timothy Caneen, a "Hayseed" supporter was not allowed to vote, and Judge Van Valen has given it as his opinion that he was legally qualified to cast a ballot.

BIERMAN HEIDELBERG & CO.

WHOLESALE RETAILERS OF FINE CLOTHING AT POPULAR PRICES.

Our stock of Clothing for short and stout men, and very tall and slender men, is as stylish and same price as regular sizes.

SPECIAL SALE OF SCOTCH CHEVIOT, ENGLISH SERGE AND HOMESPUN SUITS, IN ALL SIZES, $12.00

These Suits are elegantly trimmed and tailored, and would cost you $18 to $20 in any other house.

BIERMAN HEIDELBERG & CO. OLD HERALD BUILDING, BROADWAY AND ANN ST. STEWART BUILDING, BROADWAY AND CHAMBERS ST. BOTH STORES OPEN UNTIL 9.30 SATURDAY NIGHT.

FOR THIS WEEK WE WILL SELL THIS BRASS AND IRON BEDSTEAD FOR $4.00

Usually sold for $5.00. Every housekeeper should examine our stock of Parlor, Dining Room, and Bed Room Furniture, also Carpets of all descriptions, Oilcloths, etc., before buying elsewhere. We have the best goods, which are always at the lowest prices.

MAQUADE GOT A SLICE OF IT. A CONTEST FOR DR. NEER.

The Third Avenue Cable Suit Brings His Title as Mayor of Park Ridge to Light the Story of How He Got a Contract.

Questioned by Justice Smith, of the Commuters' Party, of the Mayor's Title.

WHARTON GOT OUT OF THE WAY. ONE VOTE DECIDED THE ELECTION.

The story of the $25,000 suit brought against the Third Avenue Railroad Company, by the late William Wharton, Jr., of Philadelphia, and the New York company's counterclaim, as narrated in The World yesterday.

The Wharton Company made a contract in October, 1893, to lay the cable in Third Avenue, William Wharton, Jr., who goes to New York daily on business, organized what was called the "Hayseeders" party and ticket. When they met to nominate their candidates, few if any of the old residents were asked to meet in the primary. This action netted the others, who immediately named a second ticket, which was dubbed the "Hayseeders" by the daily travelers.

Dr. Henry C. Neer was nominated for Mayor on the "Hayseeders" ticket. Tuesday's contest between the "Hayseeders" and "Commuters" was of the hottest kind, and so close that neither side knew which one was successful until the last ballot was counted.

Dr. Neer was elected by one vote. The "Commuters" party, headed by Justice Smith, defeated Dr. Eugene Jeh