

TARIFF BILL PUSHED.

Forced Out of Committee and Into Conference To-Day.

Wilson Says It Must Be Brought to the House Standard.

Republicans Bent in the Attempt to Delay the Measure.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 7.—Actual tariff hearings began in the House to-day, all of the preliminary procedure having been completed and the bill reported back from the Ways and Means Committee with a non-concurrence in the Senate amendments. The day's proceedings ended with the sending of the bill to conference.

Speaker Crisp named as conferees on the part of the House Representatives Wilson, of West Virginia; McMillin, of Tennessee; and George H. Montgomery, of Kentucky; Democrats; and Reed, of Maine; Burrows, of Michigan; and Payne, of New York, Republicans.

The Ways and Means Committee convened at 10:30 o'clock with a deadlock on hand as a result of Republican obstructive tactics of yesterday.

Sharp sparring began, as soon as the Committee met. Representative Hopkins (Rep.) moved to concur in the Senate amendment on bone char. This was voted down by a strict party vote.

Mr. Gear (Rep.) followed with a motion and a lively speech on the egg question. He said millions of eggs were now in cold storage and would prove a loss if the Senate amendment was not concurred in. But the motion went down by a party vote.

Republican members then submitted motions of concurrence with the Senate on the following items: Representative Dattoli, rails, iron ore, iron and other metal items. All voted down.

Representative Burrows, raising the duty on iron ore from the Senate rate of 40 cents per ton to the McKinley rate of 75 cents per ton. Voted down.

Representative Hopkins, cotton schedule, hose and knives, condensed milk and other agricultural products. Voted down.

Representative Payne, coal, collars and shoes, retaliation proviso to agricultural schedule and the McKinley administrative section. Voted down.

These amendments had come in quick succession, and had been regularly defeated without a single Democratic break on any vote that Mr. Reed finally called a halt.

"It is quite evident," said he, "that the purpose is to sit here doggedly and vote down everything, so that it is hardly worth while offering amendments."

Mr. McMillin (Dem.) at once took the cue. "Then," said he, "I move a non-concurrence in the Senate amendments in gross, and for an acceptance of the Senate's request for a conference."

Without a word, the motion was carried by a great vote, and the Ways and Means Committee struggle was over.

The scene of hostilities was transferred to the House as soon as it met. The prayer and reading of the Journal was no sooner completed than Mr. Wilson secured the Speaker's recognition and reported back the bill with non-concurrence in gross.

"Referred to the Committee of the Whole," said Speaker Crisp. Immediately Representative Catchings, of the Rules Committee, was on his feet with a stringent special rule to take the report from the committee, and then for a final vote without further delay.

The rule brought Mr. Reed to his feet. He criticized the haste and the rule and a hit with Mr. Catchings, who announced that "action" was going to be had.

After Burrows and Hanson, of Illinois, had protested against the haste, the special rule was then adopted, and the 10 hours' tariff debate began.

It gave opportunity for the first tirade from Chairman Wilson since his memorable close of the former debate his severe illness. He looked vigorous and his voice was strong.

RICK WAS PENNILESS AND HAD JUST LOST A LEG.

Nothing to Live For, He Turned On the Gas and Died.

Richard Rick, a German, thirty-five years old, committed suicide in the furnished room of 24 First street some time during the last twenty-four hours by inhaling illuminating gas.

Rick was a member of Carpenters' Union No. 35. About two months ago he was discharged from Bellevue Hospital, where he had been a patient for a long time, and where he had one of his legs amputated. This misfortune, together with his poverty, broke his heart, and his mind seemed to give way.

He had no relatives as far as is known and he depended upon his small weekly allowance from the Carpenters' Union for his maintenance. He had evidently been in this country but a short time, being unable to speak but a few words of English.

His family, who were unable to engage the room in which he was found dead to-day, said that he had rented the room to him, says Rick was penniless.

HE'S A HIGH-CASTE BRAHMIN.

Parashotam Rao Telang Visits the Pultizer Building.

Purushotam Rao Telang, a high-caste Brahmin, who is in this city on his way from Chicago to Atlantic City, visited the Pultizer Building at noon to-day.

He reviewed everything with the shrewd wisdom of one who intends to make a book of all he sees. Afterwards he said: "The sight from the dome is something to look on with some wonder. It is wonderful in the activity displayed beneath it."

Mr. Telang was dressed in the picturesque garb of his caste—maroon-colored, rather tight-fitting trousers, a representative of the caste of the same texture and yellow turban, embroidered with gold.

Although a Brahmin, Mr. Telang says he has grown to be quite a Yankee, and dispenses with every formality except his garb, in order to bring himself as nearly as possible in touch with the American people. He regards as the most wonderful on the face of the earth.

"Of course," he said, "when I return to India I shall have to atone for this broad view of things that I am taking. My falling-off by kindling fires, repeating the Vedas, and burning rice and butter into the water, will cost me a considerable pecuniary outlay to recover my lost caste. Formerly, I could have done so with the assistance of the Western civilization has liberalized every thing."

Mr. Telang finds America greatly wanting. "You have sent so many missionaries to us," he said, "and I see no little religious feeling displayed here, that I am forced to the belief that you have exported so much religion, that a little is left at home."

Mr. Telang is very clever in making his remarks on the board. During the interview this afternoon, he drew with a pen and pencil a beautiful picture of a man falling off by kindling fires, repeating the Vedas, and burning rice and butter into the water. He says that he is the oldest musical instrument in the West and that he is a Brahmin.

After his return to this city in the Fall, Mr. Telang will lecture on Indian manners, customs and religions. His native place is Karwar, where his ancestors, he says, settled after being driven out of Goa by the Portuguese 300 years ago.

"HAPPY JACK" KILLED.

Crushed to Death While Riding on a Load of Lumber.

John Carroll, thirty-three years old, of 29 West street, was crushed to death in the lumber yard at 379 West street at 3 o'clock this morning.

He was driving into the yard with a load of lumber and was caught between the beams and a beam of lumber. He was crushed to death before the team could be stopped. He died almost instantly.

The body was removed to the Charles street police station, where it was identified by his wife. He was known as "Happy Jack."

THREE KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Young Women Struck While Crossing a Track in Kansas.

(By Associated Press.) OLATHE, Kan., July 7.—Bessie and Lena Breyfogel, daughters of ex-Senator T. W. Breyfogel, and a Miss Carroll, who reside near Lawrence, were killed by a train last evening while driving in a buggy across the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis track. All three were instantly killed.

$3,000 Fire at West New Brighton.

(Special to The Evening World.) WEST NEW BRIGHTON, N. Y., July 7.—A large two-story frame building on the Manor road, owned and occupied by J. W. Wardall as a hardware store, was totally destroyed by fire at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at $3,000.

Tramps in the Train Wreckage.

(By Associated Press.) MEDALLA, Mo., July 7.—A costly wreck occurred near Sedalia, on the Missouri Pacific Railway, at 12:30 o'clock this morning. A train of 100 cars, including a westbound freight train, was wrecked. No fatalities were reported. The wreck was caused by the removal of a rail strap by unknown persons.

LITIGATION AGAINST ROBERT RAY HAMILTON'S ESTATE ENDED.

Quitclaim Filed in the Register's Office Signed by Her.

There was filed in the Register's office yesterday afternoon a quitclaim by which Eva Ray Hamilton, with many aliases, relinquishes any claim she may have had against the estate of the late Robert Ray Hamilton.

For signing the document, Eva Ray Hamilton received $500 from the estate of Hamilton, which was paid to her by Edmund J. Bayles and Gilbert M. Spier, executors of the will.

The quitclaim is signed "Lydia E. Gaul," which is the last name by which the woman of many aliases has been known, and acknowledges the receipt of the $500.

Then Writes for Money to Get the Young Men Out of Trouble.

Several of the shrewdest men of Inspector McLaughlin's staff are trying to find Philip Charles Mengold, alias Philip Charles Anderson, who is credited with being one of the most original of men with schemes to separate the credulous from their money that have recently made their appearance in this city.

Early in June Anderson inserted advertisements in the German papers for clerks to take positions in a branch of a German mercantile house that he was to establish in this city.

Those who had relatives of wealth and influence were requested to fill out a printed form, giving the details. Then they would be told to hold themselves in readiness to fill the position if accepted.

Anderson would thereupon write to the relatives or friends, stating that the young man had gotten himself into a scrape and would ask that money be sent to him by cable to get him out of the trouble.

These letters were all signed Philip Charles Mengold, and were printed in German, reading: "Doctor of Jurisprudence, Philip Charles Mengold, solicitor, civil and criminal suits and collections and all legal matters attended to."

After the death of Robert Ray Hamilton, Eva Ray Hamilton began a few days ago to receive from her father, in Stettin, Germany, a letter, which she had just received from New York. Not believing the contents, she had forwarded the missive to his son.

COXEYTES BOUND HERE.

Carl Browne and Seventy 'Wealers Tramping to This City.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 7.—Carl Browne, marshal of the Coxeys Commonwealth, started on foot, with seventy picked men, for New York City last night.

They are expected to arrive about Aug. 5, and will pay particular attention to Wall street and capitalists, with a view to the manner of doing business the marshal is not pleased with.

Kelly's Army Stranded.

(By Associated Press.) YANKEETOWN, N. Y., July 7.—Kelly and his army of about 100 men, who were left by a snow-bank, Kelly refused to give up the battle and the two battalions went to the rescue of Kelly's army, which is now straggling on the coast.

FINE, IF IT DOESN'T RAIN.

Mr. Dunn Fears that a Thunder-Storm is Scheduled. Beneath the broad, expansive fields with which Phoenix, the sun god, floods the earth to-day, there lurks an ominous static electricity which, if it should be released, would tear things wide open in the heavens.

TRIED TO CHOKER HER.

That's What Mary Kelly Charges Against Charles Potts. NEWARK, N. J., July 7.—About 2 o'clock this morning Policeman Hurley had his attention attracted to a man and woman at the corner of Washington and James streets. Another policeman came from the woman, and she told the policeman that her companion had tried to choke her.

FEMALE SUMMONS-SERVER.

Annie Buedemann Badly Cut in the Face by Berger. Annie Buedemann, thirty-two years old, of 122 Fifth street, while trying to serve a summons this morning on Alexander Berger, was struck in the face by Berger, who was badly cut.

Stabbed Through a Street Fight.

Joseph Gregan, twenty-four years old, of 114 Fourth street, Brooklyn, was stabbed through the chest by a man named Gregan, who was badly cut. The man who stabbed Gregan was named Gregan, and was badly cut.

HAS A NEW SWINDLE.

Mengold Advertises for Clerks in a Mythical Warehouse.

Pumps the Applicants Regarding Their Relatives in Germany.

When His Demands Were Unheeded He Had Him Arrested.

William J. Broadwell, a note broker, of 7 New street, is locked up in Ludlow Street Jail in default of $25,000 bail, upon a charge of converting to his own use $45,273.51 entrusted to him by Ebenezer A. Kinser, of Cincinnati.

Broadwell was arrested in his office by Deputy Sheriff Wain on 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon upon an order signed by Judge Gilderleeve, of the Superior Court.

In his affidavit Mr. Kinser alleges that Jan. 1 he engaged Broadwell to sell some notes and papers for him. The total value of the papers amounted to $73,835.30. According to Mr. Kinser the contract stipulated that the property was not to be discounted at over 6 per cent. Broadwell was to receive the regular broker's commission of 1-2 per cent.

Broadwell disposing of these, it is further alleged that there were twenty-two Burnside and Cumberland River Railroad bonds, par value $500 each. All the property, it is said, has been disposed of but $14,600 worth, of which the plaintiff alleges he has received but $33,357.75. The discounting stipulated discount and the due date of the bonds, there is still due $46,273.51.

This amount Kinser alleges that his broker has never accounted for, although he has been asked to do so. Kinser then came to New York, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York. Kinser then came to New York, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York.

Mr. Kinser then asked for an affidavit from the New York City broker that his cashier was out of town and he could not get into the safe. He was given a statement, however, on the following day.

This promise was not kept, but Broadwell fled to Chicago, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York. Kinser then came to New York, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York.

Mr. Kinser then asked for an affidavit from the New York City broker that his cashier was out of town and he could not get into the safe. He was given a statement, however, on the following day.

Mr. Kinser then asked for an affidavit from the New York City broker that his cashier was out of town and he could not get into the safe. He was given a statement, however, on the following day.

CAUGHT IN ST. LOUIS.

Webster Absconded from Acker, Merrill & Condit's Employ. A despatch from St. Louis to-day telling of the arrest of Charles W. Webster, of this city, on a charge of embezzlement, clears up the mystery of two months ago.

Webster is thirty-five years old, and married, was employed for over two years as a bookkeeper by Acker, Merrill & Condit in their establishment at College place and Chambers street. He was discharged by Acker, Merrill & Condit on the 15th of last month, and never came back.

GOT THOUSANDS BY FERGUSY.

This Charge Made Against an Agent Arrested in Chicago. (By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, July 7.—E. J. Taylor, who represents the William T. Wainwright Chemical Company, was arrested on the 21st of last month on a charge of forgery.

During the last four months, it is claimed, Taylor has passed bogus paper to the amount of several thousand dollars in nearly every town he has visited.

FRIGHTENED THE BURGLAR.

He Was Half Through the Window When Fricd Awoke. Eugene Finnegan, a driver, twenty years old, of 27 Lewis street, was held for $1,000 bail for trial on a charge of attempted burglary by Justice Simms in the Essex Market Police Court to-day.

BAD STORM AT HOT SPRINGS.

Cloudburst and Drifts of Half Six Feet Deep. (By Associated Press.) OMAHA, Neb., July 7.—A special from Hot Springs says that a cloudburst occurred in the canyon just above the town, followed by a tremendous hail-storm. The hail was half an inch deep, and the wind was a gale.

Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 1 P. M. to-morrow is as follows: Fair to-day and to-morrow, except possibly a thunder shower this evening; slightly cooler; northwesterly wind.

KINSEY SAYS THE BROKER KEPT BACK $45,000 BELONGING TO HIM.

When His Demands Were Unheeded He Had Him Arrested.

Lawyer Michell Says Kinser Made a Deal and Then "Squealed."

William J. Broadwell, a note broker, of 7 New street, is locked up in Ludlow Street Jail in default of $25,000 bail, upon a charge of converting to his own use $45,273.51 entrusted to him by Ebenezer A. Kinser, of Cincinnati.

Broadwell was arrested in his office by Deputy Sheriff Wain on 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon upon an order signed by Judge Gilderleeve, of the Superior Court.

In his affidavit Mr. Kinser alleges that Jan. 1 he engaged Broadwell to sell some notes and papers for him. The total value of the papers amounted to $73,835.30. According to Mr. Kinser the contract stipulated that the property was not to be discounted at over 6 per cent. Broadwell was to receive the regular broker's commission of 1-2 per cent.

Broadwell disposing of these, it is further alleged that there were twenty-two Burnside and Cumberland River Railroad bonds, par value $500 each. All the property, it is said, has been disposed of but $14,600 worth, of which the plaintiff alleges he has received but $33,357.75. The discounting stipulated discount and the due date of the bonds, there is still due $46,273.51.

This amount Kinser alleges that his broker has never accounted for, although he has been asked to do so. Kinser then came to New York, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York.

Mr. Kinser then asked for an affidavit from the New York City broker that his cashier was out of town and he could not get into the safe. He was given a statement, however, on the following day.

This promise was not kept, but Broadwell fled to Chicago, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York. Kinser then came to New York, and on July 27, while in Cincinnati, Mr. Kinser was informed that Broadwell had fled to New York.

Mr. Kinser then asked for an affidavit from the New York City broker that his cashier was out of town and he could not get into the safe. He was given a statement, however, on the following day.

Mr. Kinser then asked for an affidavit from the New York City broker that his cashier was out of town and he could not get into the safe. He was given a statement, however, on the following day.

AGED, DYING, DESTITUTE.

Pitiable Plight of Mrs. Stratton, 65, and Her Daughter, 65. Mrs. Agnes Stratton, ninety-nine years old, is lying on her death-bed, and her daughter, Lisale Stratton, whose silver locks prove her sixty-five years, broken in health, but with fortitude seldom met, is trying to make the last days of her old mother as comfortable as possible.

Their home at 122 East Fifty-first street has been visited lately by five misfortune after another. The late Mrs. Stratton was comparatively comfortable. Her daughter, Lisale, was also comfortable. Her daughter, Lisale, was also comfortable. Her daughter, Lisale, was also comfortable.

But consumption had its dread grasp on Agnes, and she died on the 15th of last month. Five weeks ago the little girl, Lisale, was taken ill. She was taken ill on the 15th of last month. Five weeks ago the little girl, Lisale, was taken ill.

Lisale's falling sick makes it impossible for her to continue the dressmaking business, which she has been carrying on since her daughter's death. The old lady has been hovering between life and death for several months. She is now in a very weak state of health.

Her daughter, Lisale, is now in a very weak state of health. She is now in a very weak state of health. She is now in a very weak state of health. She is now in a very weak state of health.

HER FUNERAL STOPPED.

Death Certificate Signed by an Un-registered Physician. Dr. Nankie, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, yesterday received a certificate of the death of Annette Windstad, aged 71, at 83 Marlborough street, July 4. The cause of death was said to be inflammation of the bowels, and the certificate was signed "Dr. Nankie, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics."

She Was Incoercible.

Miss Grebe, ninety years old, of 102 East 102nd street, was arrested before Justice Simms on a charge of being incoercible. She was arrested before Justice Simms on a charge of being incoercible. She was arrested before Justice Simms on a charge of being incoercible.

Man Found Dead in Bed.

INQUIRY, July 7.—LARRY HALLIWEELL was found dead in bed this morning in the Lake House at this place. The cause of his death is not known yet. An investigation will be made of the case.

THAT IS ON THE CARDS IF A MARBLE-CUTTER WORKER ISN'T PAID.

Benisch Can't Collect His Bill for a Monument.

An Auction sale amid tombs, with the Sheriff's aid, is being held for the sale of a monument and his auctioneer, talking out a funeral, "Going, going, gone!" is the tableau that may be expected some day next week, with Cypress Hill Cemetery to furnish the stage, scenery and accessories.

John Benisch, whose traffic is in sculptured memorials to the departed, and whose manufactory is located at Crescent and Jamaica avenues, just outside the entrance to the cemetery, will figure in the role of "cruel old man," for it is at his instance that the leading character of the Sheriff's "Bills" to be called upon to procure a fitting embodiment of their grief. Various designs are shown, and one was selected which seemed best to symbolize the weight of woe which would be upon the bereaved purchaser.

The fact that it needed considerable outlay in granite to equalize this same design, and the fact that it was of an expensive and admired, and there the interest of the mourner seemed to be. Not so Benisch, with whom sorrow does not figure on the ledger.

It seems that a year or so ago the mourning relatives of a "late lamented" called upon Marble-Cutter Benisch to procure a fitting embodiment of their grief. Various designs are shown, and one was selected which seemed best to symbolize the weight of woe which would be upon the bereaved purchaser.

The fact that it needed considerable outlay in granite to equalize this same design, and the fact that it was of an expensive and admired, and there the interest of the mourner seemed to be. Not so Benisch, with whom sorrow does not figure on the ledger.

It seems that a year or so ago the mourning relatives of a "late lamented" called upon Marble-Cutter Benisch to procure a fitting embodiment of their grief. Various designs are shown, and one was selected which seemed best to symbolize the weight of woe which would be upon the bereaved purchaser.

AGED, DYING, DESTITUTE.

Pitiable Plight of Mrs. Stratton, 65, and Her Daughter, 65. Mrs. Agnes Stratton, ninety-nine years old, is lying on her death-bed, and her daughter, Lisale Stratton, whose silver locks prove her sixty-five years, broken in health, but with fortitude seldom met, is trying to make the last days of her old mother as comfortable as possible.

Their home at 122 East Fifty-first street has been visited lately by five misfortune after another. The late Mrs. Stratton was comparatively comfortable. Her daughter, Lisale, was also comfortable. Her daughter, Lisale, was also comfortable.

But consumption had its dread grasp on Agnes, and she died on the 15th of last month. Five weeks ago the little girl, Lisale, was taken ill. She was taken ill on the 15th of last month. Five weeks ago the little girl, Lisale, was taken ill.

Lisale's falling sick makes it impossible for her to continue the dressmaking business, which she has been carrying on since her daughter's death. The old lady has been hovering between life and death for several months. She is now in a very weak state of health.

HAS MARSH CONFESSED?

The Alleged Bigamous Twin Committed for Trial. NEWARK, N. J., July 7.—Edward Marsh, the alleged bigamous twin, was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy. He was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy. He was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy.

Marsh was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy. He was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy. He was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy. He was committed for trial on a charge of bigamy.

HER FUNERAL STOPPED.

Death Certificate Signed by an Un-registered Physician. Dr. Nankie, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, yesterday received a certificate of the death of Annette Windstad, aged 71, at 83 Marlborough street, July 4. The cause of death was said to be inflammation of the bowels, and the certificate was signed "Dr. Nankie, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics."

She Was Incoercible. Miss Grebe, ninety years old, of 102 East 102nd street, was arrested before Justice Simms on a charge of being incoercible. She was arrested before Justice Simms on a charge of being incoercible. She was arrested before Justice Simms on a charge of being incoercible.

Man Found Dead in Bed.

INQUIRY, July 7.—LARRY HALLIWEELL was found dead in bed this morning in the Lake House at this place. The cause of his death is not known yet. An investigation will be made of the case.

BOUNDED FOR THE POLAR SEA.

Dr. F. A. Cook's Arctic Expedition Sails To-Day.

Many Scientists and Sportsmen Join the Expedition.

The scientific and pleasure excursion to the Labrador coast and lower Arctic regions, organized by Dr. Frederick A. Cook, a well-known Arctic explorer and explorer of the North, will leave for the far north from pier 6 on the North River on the Red Cross steamer Miranda this afternoon, at 5 o'clock.

The Miranda is an iron screw steamer of 1,150 tons and is commanded by Capt. Farrell. She is a very strong boat, and, although the excursion does not contemplate entering the ice pack, she is considered able to withstand all ordinary squeezes from the ice. Dr. Cook has chartered the Miranda from the Red Cross Company for two and a half months and is the responsible manager of the excursion.

The cost of the trip is $500 for each person, which includes all expenses. The excursionists are limited to sixty in number, and this morning over fifty passengers have already placed their baggage in their cabins.

Some of the leading scientists in the country are going on the Miranda. Among them are: William H. Brewer, Professor of Agriculture, Yale; C. Fred Wright, Professor of Harmony of Science, Oberlin; Prof. B. C. Jillson, Superintendent of the Smithsonian Institution; W. Dove, Anderson; L. S. Dyche, Professor of Zoology, Kansas State University; and Prof. A. S. Rehn, of Pennsylvania; Prof. A. A. Freeman, Anderson; and Prof. Elias P. Lyon, of Chicago.

These gentlemen will attend to all scientific details and most of the exploration. The three Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew. The Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

The Miranda takes back to the North River the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

Although their exhibitions were well patronized in Chicago, and much money taken in the unfortunate stragglers say that the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

The Miranda takes back to the North River the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

Although their exhibitions were well patronized in Chicago, and much money taken in the unfortunate stragglers say that the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

The Miranda takes back to the North River the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

Although their exhibitions were well patronized in Chicago, and much money taken in the unfortunate stragglers say that the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.

The Miranda takes back to the North River the Eskimo hunters and sportsmen who will shoot polar bears, walrus and other big game of the north, are: John W. G. Miller, of the Yale boat crew, and William H. Brewer, Jr., of the Yale boat crew.