SCHOOLMA'AMS AND POLITICS

Long Island Teachers Reduced in Position and Compensation.

Their Loyalty to Ex-Mayor Gleason Cited as the Cause.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., July 12.—There is considerable comment in this city in school circles over the refusal of the Board of Education to reappoint Miss Kate H. McWilliams as principal of the Second Ward Primary School. Miss McWilliams was principal of a school in this city from 1882 to 1893. She is a sister of ex-Governor Commissioner James McWilliams, who held office under ex-Mayor Gleason.

Miss McWilliams was formerly principal of the Grammar School of the Second Ward, and it is alleged that, without reason, she was removed as principal of the Grammar School and placed in the primary school, and at the same time her salary was reduced from $1,200 to $700 per year.

Commissioner Kennedy says Miss McWilliams is incompetent. This is denied by Miss McWilliams's friends, who say she has a State school license to teach, and also a Principal's license from Long Island City. They say that the reason she was not reappointed was because her brother was a Gleason man.

Another cause where politics is alleged to have influenced the Board is that of Miss Monica Ryan. When Mayor Sanborn came into office she was receiving a salary of $1,200 per year, which was reduced to $600 on Wednesday night Miss Ryan's friends went before the Board and tried to get her salary raised to $1,000. They were unsuccessful.

It is alleged that the reason Miss Ryan's salary was cut was because she was a warm friend of ex-Mayor Gleason.

STOLE SEVEN PIGEONS.

Four Small Brooklyn Boys Held in the Lee Avenue Court.

Four small boys were arraigned before Justice Murphy in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day and held for examination on a charge of pigeon stealing.

The youngsters were George Schuman, of 61 Flushing avenue; Samuel and Edward Rowe, of 88 Gwinnett street, and Edward Arnold, of 87 Hartland street, and their ages range from eight to eleven.

At 4 o'clock this morning the boys stole seven pigeons from a coop in the rear of the property of William Dixon, a colored boy. Policeman Freer saw the youngsters and chased them into the house. The pigeons were found hiding away in a bureau drawer in the Rowe boys' room.

Although quite young, the boys have been in trouble many times before, and the Rowe boys, particularly, have caused the police a great deal of annoyance.

BOYCOTTERS FOUND GUILTY.

They Are Paroled Pending an Appeal to a Higher Court.

Their Lawyers Say the Jury Was Illegally Drawn.

Thomas Kilduff, Martin Tobin, Andrew O'Reilly and James McKenny, the four alleged boycotters, who were arrested May 17 on a charge of louning, were found guilty by a jury in the Adams Street Police Court this morning.

Justice Walsh suspended sentence until Thursday, in order to give their counsel time to prepare papers to be used in an appeal. Meanwhile the men are paroled in the custody of their lawyers.

The men are brewery employees. Some time ago trouble arose between the Buschewitz Brewing Company and its men and a boycott was declared. On the trial of the four men, several policemen swore that on May 17 a crowd of forty men were taken into the court of William Smith's saloon, 70 Main street. When ordered to move on, the men went away, but returned in the afternoon and were taken into custody. The police continued their attempts to disperse the crowd with little success.

The sidewalk was impassable, and pedestrians were compelled to walk in the middle of the street. Finally, Sgt. O'Reilly ordered that some of the crowd be arrested, and the four defendants were taken into custody.

When arraigned in court they demanded a trial by jury. A jury was summoned by the clerk. Counsel for the accused objected and challenged the jury on the ground that it was not drawn in accordance with the law of 1887, which provided that on and after Sept. 1 last juries in Courts of Special Sessions in Kings County should be drawn from lists prepared by the City Clerk. The objection was overruled, and the trial resulted as told above.

The point raised in these cases was brought forward by the counsel for the Commercial Bank directors accused of misdemeanor. The bank directors have not been tried yet, and the question involved has not been settled by a court of competent jurisdiction.

HE'S WANTED IN JERSEY.

Alleged Embezzler Pilkington Arrested in Brooklyn.

Frank Pilkington, alias Frank Ellworth, was arraigned in the Gates Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, on a technical charge of vagrancy. He was arrested last night by Detective Gray and Court Officer Tracy on the corner of Albany avenue and Herkimer street.

Detective Conroy, of Orange, N. J., was in court when Pilkington was brought to the bar, and explained that he was wanted in Orange for embezzlement.

It appears that in December last Pilkington was employed as cashier by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad at Orange, N. J. About the first of the month a discrepancy of $1,000 was found in the accounts, and an expert accountant was placed on the books. This Pilkington disappeared.

The boys claim that something over $2,500 had been stolen from the Railroad Company. About the same time various citizens appeared with worthless checks, while they claimed had been forged by Pilkington.

The New Jersey detectives traced the culprit to Albany and thence by a roundabout way to Brooklyn. The Brooklyn police notified and Pilkington was located by Gray and Tracy living with his sister on Albany avenue.

When arrested he gave the name of Ellworth, his name being Frank Ellworth Pilkington.

In court this morning he pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy and to that of being a fugitive from justice. He was remanded to the care of the Sheriff for thirty days in order that the proper papers for his extradition might be prepared.

Saloon-Keeper Garrabrant Arrested in Brooklyn.

"Awfully Sorry, but I Can't Go With You," He Told the Detective.

Detective Bagnorello, of District-Attorney Ridgeway's office in Brooklyn, this morning arrested Willy S. Garrabrant, a well-to-do saloon-keeper, of 165 Broadway, on a charge of exhibiting indecent pictures.

Garrabrant was taken before Judge Moore in the Court of Sessions and bail fixed at $100.

The Grand Jury yesterday found an indictment against Garrabrant, and Judge Moore issued the warrant for his arrest.

When Detective Bagnorello called at Garrabrant's saloon this morning he at first objected to being placed under arrest. He is an Englishman with long flowing whiskers, a portly figure and speaks with broad accent.

"Really," he said to the detective, "I cannot go with you now; awfully sorry, don't you know, but I can't do it."

At the middle of the saloon-keeper to go with him, and he then complied the pictures. They were brought to the District-Attorney's office.

The pictures had become well known in the Eastern District, and people came from various parts of the city to see them. The police heard of them, and placed the matter in charge of the District-Attorney rather than in the hands of a police justice.

When Garrabrant was arraigned before Judge Moore his wife, neatly dressed, and wearing many diamonds, asked if she could qualify as a witness. She said she had property worth $50,000.

Judge Moore refused to accept her bond, as it would be contrary to law, and a friend was set for $100 or less.

The offense is a misdemeanor and is punishable by one year and a fine of $500, or less.

Judge Hudspeth Scores Convicted Hudson County Justices.

Tells Them They Are Unfit to Hold Their Honorable Offices.

There were many officials and politicians in the Hudson County Court-room, Jersey City, to-day when Henry Martinez, William E. Wilson, Winnet S. Wood and Peter Beck, all Justices of the Peace, of Hudson County, were arraigned on indictments accusing them of extortion. The defendants had either been convicted or pleaded non vult to the indictments, which aggregated thirteen in number. All of the indictments grew out of the action of the Justices in unlawfully accepting fees for services rendered in criminal cases.

Justices Martinez and Wilson, when brought before Presiding Justice Hudspeth, were told by the Court that it was evident that they were unfit to hold the honorable offices which the people had entrusted to them, and that the Court, before passing sentence, would give them until next Thursday to resign from office. The defendants were given to understand that if they resigned they would get off with a light sentence.

In the cases of Justices Wood and Beck, the Court said that it was evident that the defendants did not intend to commit a wrong, and he let them off each with a fine of $50 and costs.

BURGLARS GET FOOLED.

Papers They Stole from Mr. Watson Are Worthless to Them.

Sometime between midnight and early this morning unknown thieves entered the apartments of William Watson, on the third floor of 1218 Myrtle avenue, and escaped with papers that are of no value to anyone but the owner.

Mr. Watson has the reputation of being a rich man, and the thieves evidently expected a big haul. The robbery was well planned. When they found the papers they probably believed they possessed a fortune in stocks and bonds.

The papers consisted of a deed of a plot in the Lutheran Cemetery and an insurance policy. An examination of the book of Mr. Watson's dog showed that the thieves had entered by means of false keys. The lock is of peculiar make, and the police believe a wax impression was taken of it several days ago.

The robbery was reported to the police of Jamaica and Brooklyn and also in this city. The stolen wheels were valued at $300.
