

GILROY, HE'S SHREWED.

Will Be Boss of Tammany, but It Will Be "On the Quiet."

That is What His "Am Not a Candidate" Announcement Means.

Can Claim Glory Without Being Held Responsible for Defeat.

(Special to The Evening World.) SARATOGA, July 30.—When the politicians found out that Senator Murphy and Gov. Sherman would not be here until this week, and that the conference of leaders had been postponed, they made tracks for home. District Attorney Alderman and ex-Senator P. H. McCarron, representing Hugh McLaughlin, of Brooklyn, will be back on Thursday. Mayor Gilroy, who starts for home this afternoon, will return on Friday, accompanied by Corporation Counsel William H. Clark.

There is a report that Gov. Flower will be here, too. A conference will take place, and some formal action as to the policy of the machine leaders be decided upon. Harmony in the city. As Mr. Platt put it in an interview yesterday, speaking of Mr. Gilroy and the State Democracy, the tiger is willing to lie down with the donkey.

It will be remembered that when Croker gave notice of his retirement from the leadership he added the information that his friends had been aware for several months of his intention to quit politics. By putting two and two together it is figured out that in February last, before Mr. Croker abdicated, Mayor Gilroy was in Albany and told a friend in confidence that he would not accept re-nomination. The friend told the secret in the strictest confidence to another friend, and so on, until the secret got into print. Mayor Gilroy did not deny the report then. He seemed to be annoyed that it got out prematurely, and made the diplomatic reply that he had no authority to speak for him.

It is now said that it was all understood that Croker would resign, and that Gilroy would be elected. He would not be elected at the same time, and so he decided after consultation with Croker to declare himself out of the Mayoralty race.

This was done for two reasons. It is tantamount to a command to sub-leaders that Gilroy is to be recognized as boss, and that they are to support him. The Mayor to make one of his virtuous speeches about the purity and democracy of Tammany Hall. By this means he had a lien on the Mayoralty nomination in Tammany Hall. He has a lien on well-to-do outsiders, but those who know the conditions, a Tammany candidate must comply with the conditions of the free field for all.

Mayor Gilroy is a shrewd and far-seeing politician. He has a keen eye for the future. He has a keen eye for the future. He has a keen eye for the future.

Mr. Platt's plea from the veranda of the Oriental Hotel at Manhattan Beach for armory did not cause particular comment here. The country Republicans are united with Platt, and they think his words were a good deal better than the New York Kings and Erie County Republicans, who are not united with him.

ROASTED ON A ROOF.

Nicholas Ennis's Clothes Set on Fire by an Electric Wire.

Horrified Crowd Looked Helplessly On from the Street.

Finally Rescued by Dr. Hugh Kidder, of the Ophthalmic Hospital.

Michael Ennis, a tin roofer, of 50 East Fifty-fifth street, narrowly escaped being shocked and burned to death by contact with a live electric light wire this morning.

Ennis was repairing the roof over the private entrance to the New York Ophthalmic Hospital, at Twenty-third street and Third avenue, when suddenly the cross of caution on his back saw his body stiffen out after a convulsive shudder. Smoke issued from his clothing at almost the same instant.

The wildest excitement was caused, and a crowd of at least one thousand quickly gathered on an almost empty street, shouting, protesting, but making no effort to rescue the man whose life was being rapidly sapped by the deadly current.

Dr. Hugh Kidder, who is connected with the hospital, threw up the window directly over the corner roof to ascertain the cause for all the excitement. He had scarcely got his head out before his eyes, following the curling lines of smoke ascending from below, saw the body of Ennis, whose shirt was fairly ablaze, and the flash on his clothing left arms was beginning to sizzle.

The doctor first made an attempt to assist him by cutting the wire which was hanging in the air, but this was of no avail. Then Dr. Kidder reached down and took the firm hold of Ennis's collar. Kelly also took hold, and together they dragged the nearly dead man through the window.

While this scene was being enacted some one had turned in a fire alarm, but it was not until three or four minutes later that the fire department arrived.

One of the spectators told an "Evening World" reporter that Ennis was first shocked to death in the street, and that Dr. Kidder and Kelly were the first to touch him. Ennis's flesh that they were nearly rendered unconscious.

Dr. Kidder told "Evening World" that he had seen Ennis in the street, and that he had seen Ennis in the street, and that he had seen Ennis in the street.

SUGAR STILL ON THE RISE.

Bears Continue Their Raid on the Grangers.

Trading in Stocks Remains Very Dull.

The week opened in Wall street with practically the same conditions that prevailed last week, the uncertainty as to tariff legislation holding all business in check.

The bulls continue to devote their attention chiefly to sugar, and the stock received excellent support, selling at 102 1/2-103 1/2 against 102 1/4 at the close on Saturday.

There is a good deal of speculation about the sugar market, and the parent strength fails to invite buying by outsiders, especially as Washington advices indicate that the Trust will fall to get all the protection it has been working for.

GIANTS SAVE A LIFE.

Drowning Man Rescued by Burke, Davis, Rosie and Farrell.

Cheered by a Crowd Who Didn't Know the Brave Fellows.

Were Taking a Dip in the Surf at Atlantic City.

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—If the Giants do win this afternoon's game over the prowl Philadelphia ought not to begrudge them the victory, for yesterday the Giants were the heroes of Atlantic City. Yes, they saved a drowning man's life at Atlantic City, and those who saw the daring efforts of George Davis, big Amos Rosie, Eddie Burke and Charley Farrell, who they matched John Conroy, of Camden, N. J., from a westerly grave, cheered and applauded our boys to the echo.

Conroy, who had been drinking, swam far beyond the limits, and the very dangerous undertow was swiftly bearing him beyond reach. There were hundreds of bathers in the breakers, and among them most of the New York baseball team. They had left Philadelphia early in the day to escape the piteous heat.

As it was observed that Conroy was unable to help himself, a mighty shout went up from the throng for the life-saving guard. A couple of the residents of Atlantic City, who were in the water, carrying a life preserver which was rapidly unwound from a reel of 100 yards of line. That line will be left another minute.

The guards were slow and Davis and Farrell shouted: "For God's sake, men, hurry! This line that we will be left another minute."

CUT OFF BY A GREAT STORM.

Mancheater, N. H., Lost to the Outside World for a Night.

Tornado at Lake Massabesic—Buildings and Trees Go Down.

Was Smashed in the Face by Bartender Hugh McGibney.

Mancheater, N. H., July 30.—From the outside world by telegraph and telephone, our little town was cut off by a great storm that has visited this section in years.

At Lake Massabesic, four miles from the city, the storm was accompanied by a cyclone which wrecked buildings, blew down large trees and destroyed much valuable property.

Shortly before 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when the thermometer registered 100 degrees in the shade, the first storm struck. In thirty minutes the mercury dropped 25 degrees. A heavy haze settled down over the city, the rain fell in torrents, and for forty-five minutes lightning played about the taller buildings in the city and did much damage.

Several churches and residences being struck and one house set on fire.

At the lake about a dozen Summer cottages were partially wrecked and half that number were blown down.

The end of a big dance hall was blown off and the entire section, about 70 by 20 feet wide, was carried away.

When the case was called by Justice Meade in the Yorkville Court, this morning, it was found that the injured man was not present. It is alleged that he had been seen last night on the street.

Dahneke is a Tammany Hall politician, and has quite a following in his district. Justice Meade adjourned the hearing.

ONE KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

A Sharp Shock Followed by the Fall of a Meteor.

(By Associated Press.) LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 30.—This city was shaken by an earthquake last night at 9:11 o'clock. The direction was from the northeast to southwest, though the movement was more of an upheaving than of a sliding character.

It is described as a sharp shock, but not doing much damage.

At Santa Monica, a large building was blown down, and a large meteor, similar to the one which attracted so much attention on the north side of the city, fell on a rapid way.
