

FOOLING BACK HOME.

Large Number of Prominent Persons on the Paris.

Kilbreth, Fellows, Miss Rehan and Augustin Daly.

Sir Augustus Harris Tells About His Plans.

The American liner Paris arrived this morning early. She had on board the largest number of distinguished persons that any ship has brought in this port in a long time.

Among the New Yorkers were Collector of the Port James T. Kilbreth, District-Attorney John R. Fellows, Augustin Daly, Col. George B. McClellan, Marcus R. Mayer, T. F. Sanford, the Yale Corporation, Mrs. Reynolds of the yacht, Conover Fitzpatrick's daughter, Miss Ada Rehan, of Daly's company, Henry G. Marquand, Prof. Allan Marquand, Hamilton McLean, G. Romaine, W. Scott Thurber, J. W. Southack and Dr. Harvey Cushing, of Cleveland.

Some of the stowaways are American citizens.

The Paris was six days sixteen hours and twenty-six minutes in making the trip.

The stowaway Ada Rehan was the most noticeable figure on the pier while the passengers were waiting for their baggage.

Miss Rehan showed by her bronzed face that she had spent much of the summer counting down the days of a vicious-looking bulldog by a short chain, and laughed merrily when asked for the future.

"Really," she said, "you must ask Mr. Daly about that. I enjoyed the trip so much, and saw interesting things for the first time, too."

Augustin Daly was very impressive as he hustled around looking after Miss Rehan's baggage, but he absolutely declined to talk about his plans.

Mr. Daly had purchased several plays, most of which were adaptations from the French and German.

Sir Augustus Harris, in a soft hat and a brown down collar, sat on a trunk and said that the report that he and Mr. Abbey were in partnership in the big Broadway opera circuit was without foundation.

Mr. Abbey, he continued, "that Mr. Abbey has some such plan worked up, I know that he has options on all the big operatic properties."

Mr. Augustus says he will remain in New York only a few days, during which time he and his wife will live at the Waldorf.

The Rev. Arthur John R. Fellows, looking as fine as a fiddle, trotted down the gangplank smiling.

Mr. Fellows said he had enjoyed his five weeks' vacation immensely. He would not, he said, take part with Mr. Johnston in the plan to start a new line cases unless they got to the Grand Jury, when he would be ready to take it up.

President George B. McClellan, of the Board of Aldermen, was as happy as a pig in a sty.

"I had lots of fun," he said, "and had time to study something of municipal government on our way over. I must say that I cannot see that the way they run things there is any improvement on our own."

Mr. Sanford said he was sure the British attempt to start a new line of most of the Yale team, and that with American air to breathe the result would have been a disaster.

As to the ocean voyage having been detrimental to the athletes, Mr. Sanford said that he had no doubt that it had affected him, but he could not speak for the others.

Eleven numbers were given, and the receipts will go far towards swelling the women's Olympic fund.

Collector Kilbreth was taken off the Paris at Quarantine in the Government tug. He says that he had a very good time abroad. He saw the Yale-Oxford games and comes back much improved in health.

AGGIE SILVIA SENTENCED.

Sent to the Island for Ten Days for Loitering on the Street.

Aggie Silvia, generally called "Aggie," who attained notoriety at the time of the Baroness Blane divorce case, was a prisoner at Jefferson Market Court today, charged by Policeman Davidson with loitering on the twenty-second street. She has been arrested frequently.

The woman told Justice Voorhis she had been to the drugstore, and was being followed by a man who she said was Davidson. She was living at 116 West Twenty-seventh street, where a friend had been caring for her during the past several days.

She said Officer Davidson had arrested her, and she had been arrested by her. She walked briskly, at the time of the arrest, as she had seen Davidson and knew that he had a grudge against her.

The woman talked in a hoarse whisper, and held tight to the door for support. She was extremely nervous, and she was unable to give credit to her story.

She was taken to the police station, where she was held in a cell. She was released on $200 bail, and she was to appear in court, but she was not taken to the island for ten days.

NO CHOLERA SHIP HERE.

But a Report that There Was Caused Some Excitement.

Considerable excitement was created by a rumor in town this morning that a steamship was detained at Quarantine with several cases of cholera on board. The rumor traveled fast, and soon reached the Health Department.

Dr. Charles F. Roberts at once telephoned to Dr. Jenkins at Quarantine for particulars.

The reply was that the rumor was absolutely false. Dr. Jenkins was at a loss to know how the story originated.

A Woman Stabbed in the Neck.

Georgiana Curtis, forty-one years old, of 114 Mulberry street, was last night in the Police Court today for stabbing Susan Kane at 18 Mulberry street last night. It is charged that Georgiana drew a knife and stabbed Kane in the neck, but she denied the charge and asked to appear in court, but presented the doctor's certificate which stated the wounds were not serious.

ANNIE OAKLEY'S SPEECH.

The Sharpshooter Responds to the Toast of the Press.

Denies that She Is Going to Star Next Season.

There was an informal banquet given on the grounds of the Wild West Show the other evening and sharp shooting Annie Oakley was called upon to respond to the toast of the press.

ANNIE OAKLEY.

"I wish it were a bicycle or a banjo or how to shoot," she began, "but really, to tell the truth, I guess the press has made me famous, but you know some very peculiar things have been said. Think of the feelings of my husband when he read of my engagement to an English nobleman. Then the papers announced that I was going to marry a man carrying deadly weapons when I was justly visiting in New York. Do I look like a man? I was going to marry an Ayres? No? Well, the press boys said I was, when I was shooting in Ketchikan, Alaska. I guess, so long as you do it well, that's what they did for me in one hundred and twenty-eight newspapers, and I was amazed to know how many good traits I really had before they killed me."

Miss Oakley was asked about a rumor that she intended to star next season. She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

She said she was not sure, but she would like to see the papers, and she would like to see if she had any more of the same kind of things.

RAID ON COXETTES. A BOLD THIEF ON AN "L" TRAIN.

Militia Drive the Allied Industrials from Virginia.

Evicted 'Wealers Seek Refuge on a Potomac River Bridge.

Can't Retreat and Fear Arrest as Vagrants in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The assembly of Coxettes, Galvinites and so-called industrialists, who have been camping at Howley, were driven from the soil of Virginia shortly after daybreak this morning by the militia of that State. The raid was made without the least resistance from the "armies." The huts which had been erected from boughs of trees, straw, hay and other materials, were fired and every vestige that the flames could destroy was burned.

At 6 o'clock this morning the men were lined along the walks of the aqueduct bridge which join the outskirts of Washington with the State of Virginia, watching their only property go up in smoke and flames, and undid what move to make next. They had been forced upon the bridge, but there the authority of the militia ended and the Industrials knew it. They feared to enter the District of Columbia, as they believed arrest as vagrants awaited them and there they waited, Micawber-like, for something to turn up.

Many complaints have poured in upon Gov. O'Ferrall within the past week of the raid, for which there seemed to be no remedy but a complete routing of the Coxettes by the military. After mature deliberation and consultation Gov. O'Ferrall decided to act.

Yesterday afternoon orders were issued to Companies A, B and C, of the militia, to assemble at the station, and within two hours the men were on special cars for the Potomac river, where they were equipped for field service, with rations, blankets, rifles and twenty rounds of ammunition each.

At Alexandria, which point they reached at 12:30, they were ordered to assemble at the Alexandria Light Infantry, numbering sixty-four men. The march at 2:30 p. m. began for Howley, which they reached at 3 A. M. Pickets were posted, and the men were soon asleep on the river bank, about daybreak before the raid should be made.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

The Industrials were not aware of the raid until they were awakened by the firing of the militia. They were in a state of excitement. Several camp fires, in addition to those already burning, were kindled, and the men were ordered to get up and get ready to move.

GROSSER SNATCHED A DIAMOND PIN FROM THOMAS HALSTED'S TIE.

A Roundsmen in Citizens' Clothing Captured Him After a Fight.

One of the boldest robberies on record was perpetrated on a south-bound Third Avenue Elevated train in the presence of Roundsmen Steinbrink, of 80th Street, and a young man, who was in citizens' clothing, to keep an eye on him.

As the train slowed up at the Seventy-sixth street station, the young man bounded to his feet and, to the amazement of the other passengers, grabbed a diamond pin valued at $250, worn in the scarf of his drunken companion, and wrenching it loose, bounded off the train.

The roundsmen for a second at motionless with amazement at the boldness of the robbery, and then jumped off the train in pursuit of the thief, leaving the man who was robbed shouting:

"Police! Stop thief!"

Roundsmen Steinbrink came up with the thief in the waiting-room of the station, and when he made a show of resistance the roundsmen dropped him to the floor with a blow of his fist and handcuffed him.

When Grosser was knocked down he dropped the stolen pin, and it was recovered by Steinbrink. The pin had been secured to the scarf by a gold band, while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

Steinbrink took the victim and the thief to the East Sixty-seventh street police station, where they were locked up for the night.

The victim of the attempted robbery in Thomas J. Halsted, forty years old, a former member of the New York State Guard, and the thief described himself as Lawrence Grosser, twenty-one years old, of East Twenty-fourth street, in Yorkville. Court today Grosser was held for trial.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

She was Mrs. Leidy, who stood by the door and watched her husband while the roundsmen held the thief in half, leaving the bottom of the pin fastened in the scarf.

NEARLY MOBBED HER. FLED FROM A RUSSIAN PRISON.

Excited Women Threatened Aged Mrs. Mary Leddy.

Accused Her of Firing Her Store and Endangering Their Lives.

Nicholas Fredericksen, an American citizen, who was arrested in Russia and thrown into a prison, from which he escaped a short time ago, arrived on the American liner Paris this morning, and is now on Ellis Island.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects, and while on a visit in Russia was apprehended as a Russian spy.

Fredericksen says he is of Swedish parentage, but was born in this country. He speaks Russian like one of the Czar's subjects,