

Trustees for franchise before the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge.

Mr. Heintz was "Convinced." The first section of Mr. Heintz's bill of particulars is the heretofore inexplicable change of front made by the late Louis J. Heintz, Commissioner of Street Improvements, of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards, in 1891.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

pany time to prepare and file its application. On Sept. 22, 1892, there was another meeting of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge.

The precise reason for this radical change of front is not clear. It is believed that the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who were in favor of the trolley system, were defeated by the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who were opposed to it.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

Mr. Heintz is one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the village of Williamsbridge, who was connected, arranged themselves against the proposed trolley system in the Annexed District and fought it vigorously.

HILL IS IN DISGRACE. Machine Politicians Condemn Him for Being Caught Bluffing.

The surrender of Senator Hill and Murphy in the matter of the confirmation of the Anti-Snappers nominees for Internal Revenue Collector W. A. Beach, of Syracuse, and Edward Grosse, of this city, and Louis D. Volk for Appraiser of Merchandise in Buffalo, is taken as evidence that the machine is weakening.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Mr. Hill is no longer the political giant the displaced ones thought he was. Just so long as he successfully defied the Administration, at Washington, and ran things to suit himself in this State, he was a great man.

Miles Must Answer Charges of Forgery and Perjury. Accused by a Nephew Who Claims His Mother Was Robbed.

Millionaire William Miles, who is eighty-three years old, and who has been President of St. David's Society, director in the Hamilton Insurance Company and the Nassau Bank, President of the old Slapenay Savings Bank, and trustee of the Cypress Hills Cemetery, is to be indicted, it is reported, on charges of forgery and perjury.

Some charges are made by William S. Hurley, nephew of Mr. Miles, who claims that the latter robbed his own sister, Hurley's mother, of the immensely valuable property left by her deceased husband, Samuel Hurley, who had been a partner of Miles in the tannery and real estate business.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

Mr. Miles and his brother Jacob, who had also been a partner, produced a will whereby the property was to be divided among the children. Under this will the widow was allowed $15,000, which the executor refused to pay.

HEALTH'S NEWEST WEAPON. "Anti-Toxine" to Be Distributed Among Physicians of This City.

If the Health Department can secure the necessary appropriation from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment it will soon begin to distribute among the physicians of this city what is claimed to be a marvelous cure for diphtheria if used in time.

It is also said to be an absolutely sure preventive in the cases of those who have been exposed to this dreadful scourge of childhood.

This remedy is known as the "Anti-Toxine," and was discovered recently in the Institution for Infectious Diseases at Berlin, of which the celebrated Prof. Koch is the head.

This panacea for diphtheria is utilized in the blood in much the same manner as vaccine virus is used in cases of small-pox, but the mode of administering the treatment is considerably different.

Commissioner Cyrus Edson is the chief promulgator on the part of the Health Department to combat contagion, and he is very enthusiastic over the prospect that "anti-toxine" will afford the public.

The anti-toxine treatment rests on the fact that the disease is caused by a germ which enters the system through the throat and where a person contracts an infectious disease and recovers from it, that that person acquires a certain amount of immunity from the disease for a time.

It is diphtheria, an attack of the disease which is recovered from gives immunity from the disease for a time. This is because the body has acquired a certain amount of immunity from the disease, which is known as the "anti-toxine."

It is diphtheria, an attack of the disease which is recovered from gives immunity from the disease for a time. This is because the body has acquired a certain amount of immunity from the disease, which is known as the "anti-toxine."

It is diphtheria, an attack of the disease which is recovered from gives immunity from the disease for a time. This is because the body has acquired a certain amount of immunity from the disease, which is known as the "anti-toxine."

It is diphtheria, an attack of the disease which is recovered from gives immunity from the disease for a time. This is because the body has acquired a certain amount of immunity from the disease, which is known as the "anti-toxine."

ALL COULD HAVE ESCAPED. A GASH IN HIS HEAD. Barry, A FUGITIVE.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 25.—Preparations are being made to bury the thirty-seven miners killed in the Franklin mine yesterday. The town of Franklin is in mourning, and the disaster has horrified the community.

There were sixty-two men in the mine when a fire broke out. Twenty-five men made their escape in safety, but the remainder, who tried to help their companions, perished in the flames.

The fire started at 1:15 o'clock. Smoke was seen by some of the drivers on the sixth north level and notice was given to the men inside, who were working the different levels.

It is evident that all the men had time to come out for their lives, but the further they went the more they were in danger. Several of those who were nearest the shaft were rescued, but the rest perished.

Several men were badly bruised, and one of them, who was named Skelly, was killed. He was found in the mine, and his body was recovered.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

Was He Attacked by the Growler Gang? Found Unconscious in the Street by a Policeman.

Should Michael Rafferty, twenty-four years of age, for the past six years a tender in the saloon of Patrick Skelly, in the saloon on the corner of Clarkson and Washington streets, and other places, die from a fracture of the base of the skull for which he is now being treated at St. Vincent's Hospital, the police will act on the theory that he was the victim of a murderous assault.

Policeman Richard Stevin, of the Charles street police station, according to his report, found Rafferty lying unconscious and covered with blood in front of 137 Leroy street, at 2:30 o'clock this morning. He called an ambulance from St. Vincent's Hospital and removed Rafferty to that institution. The hospital doctors recorded Rafferty's injuries as a violent blow. He was also greatly exhausted from a loss of blood.

It is evident that all the men had time to come out for their lives, but the further they went the more they were in danger. Several of those who were nearest the shaft were rescued, but the rest perished.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

It is believed that the fire was caused by a gas explosion. The gas was ignited by a lamp, and the explosion was of such a nature that it was impossible to extinguish it.

His Father and the Others Involved in the Quarrel Held.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

A general alarm was sent out to all policemen this morning to look out for Edward Barry, who is wanted for the murder of John Nolan at Thirty-third and First avenue, last night.

WOOD'S FILLS are prompt and efficient.

WOOD'S FILLS are prompt and efficient.