

alarm box, and he had sent out an alarm.

He hurried back to the burning building, thinking that possibly he might be able to do some work of rescue before the firemen's arrival, and ran rushed down the hallway of the house and sped down the street in the opposite direction.

He was accompanied by a man who carried a big black bag. Muller called loudly to him to stop, but he paid no attention to the cries, and soon disappeared in the darkness.

The flames had started in the tailor shop of Fabriceus Levine, and when Muller turned his eyes again towards the burning building, he saw a man climbing down the first floor.

Long before the first engine reached the building the place was wrapped in flames from the roof to the floor. Tongues of fire reached out from every window and great clouds of black smoke filled the street.

Chief Ahearn took charge of the fire and at once sent in a third engine. Right in the center of the Hebrew tenement district, on the corner of Third and Second streets, on the west side, and in the rear a dozen others, separated only by a narrow alleyway.

With the arrival of the first hook and ladder company, a ladder was set up against the building, and a man reached to the third floor. It was supposed then that everybody was out of the building.

Suddenly, just as the ladder had been set, a youth of about eighteen years appeared on the second floor, and as he stood on the hot iron of the escape and yelled for help, a fireman, who was looking for flames that came from the window.

The fireman and the great sea of people who had congregated looked on in horror. The boy was being roasted alive.

The firemen sprang forward to raise the ladder, at the same time shouting to the lad to get down. He had his hands raised in the air, and his eyes were fixed on the crowd.

There, even if he had understood the firemen's words.

Fireman Timothy Collins, of engine 11, jumped on the ladder and started to go up it. He was closely followed by Fireman John Kelly, of engine 12.

Collins had taken only seven steps when the boy on the fifth floor climbed over the railing and jumped into the street.

He turned in the air before he fell, and as he fell he waved his hands. Down both went to the pavement, knocking Kelly and Kelly from the ladder.

The boy was killed instantly, his skull being crushed. Collins was badly injured, and the other firemen were unharmed.

It was first thought that both were dead. They were carried across the street and laid side by side on the pavement. Both the boys were dead.

Then he was carefully picked up by a number of his companions and taken to the hospital. He was internally injured, and several of his ribs were broken.

The fight with the flames was terrific. On all sides the men worked, from roofs and balconies, and the fire was kept under control.

There in the first room the firemen found the bodies of two persons. They were lying side by side, and their feet of front window, entirely nude and blackened by the flames.

All the bodies were taken to the Union Market Police Station. There they were placed in the rear of the station desk room, just before the prisoners' pens, where the fireman was watching them.

Then Joseph Schackman, the owner of the shop, was called. He shrugged his shoulders, and said that he had no idea that the bodies were there.

At last Morris Weinburg went to the station. There was a great deal of talk, and the two youths were his sons.

Then Joseph Schackman, the owner of the shop, was called. He shrugged his shoulders, and said that he had no idea that the bodies were there.

At last Morris Weinburg went to the station. There was a great deal of talk, and the two youths were his sons.

The origin of the fire, which was discovered by a tenant in the hallway of the second floor, is thought to be suspicious, and will be investigated by the Fire Marshal.

The damage to the property of the tenants, many of whom had no insurance, is estimated at $200,000. The building, which was pretty well gutted from the second floor up, is owned by M. H. H. and the damage is put at $12,000.

The flames broke out from the tenement about 1:30 o'clock, and then, after a few minutes at least, Janitor Thomas McMahon was among the first to make the discovery.

McMahon shouted "Fire!" and as did other tenants, but it was impossible to get out by the hall, and a fire escape made for the fire-escapes through the window.

The firemen and his family of six occupied the second floor, rear. Young Sam Sherman made a dash for the fire escape, and the family living across the hall rushed into the apartment as though propelled by a wind.

Mr. Harris Gibson, who, with his husband, occupied the second floor, was among the first to make the discovery.

Some of the tenants estimated the loss as follows: Ground floor, A. Felemans, saloon-keeper, $50; water, second floor, Thomas McMahon, $250; third floor, Isaac Goldberg, $25; Herman Leavitt, $20; fourth floor, George Beck, $20; Jacob Sherman, $20; fifth floor, John McCulloch, $20; Nathan Stern, $20.

Another fire, somewhat mysterious in its origin, completely destroyed Samuel Barron's Standard Buffet and Saloon, at 32 Broadway, about midnight. The blaze was first seen by the policeman on post, who turned in an alarm from 32 Broadway.

Mr. Barron estimates the loss on fixtures at $12,000. The bar and lunch-room was one of the handsomest downtown. It was finished in mahogany, and is a model of the kind.

The fire started between the bar and the lunch-counter, at a point where the electric wires crossed. Mr. Barron resides at Nutley, N. J., and knew nothing of the cause of the fire.

Barron was burned out in May, 1891, at the same place, and lost several thousand dollars. He has since been caused by electric wires.

Mr. Barron does not believe the place could have been so completely destroyed. He is a Jew, and he is aware of the Fire Marshal will make an investigation.

Fire Threatens a Village. LONDON, Aug. 28.—A despatch from Vienna says that a fire broke out in the castle of the Prince of Metternich at Plass, near the town of Piessen, in Bohemia. The flames spread to the village, which was almost destroyed.

Forest Fires in the Far West. NEW WHATCOMB, Wash., Aug. 28.—The forest fires in this section are on fire, and a strong north-east wind is blowing towards the city. Several suburban residences have been destroyed.

Reported Forest Fires. LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—It is reported here that there are forest fires raging in the Adirondacks, north of Dolgeville.

BOY MARKSMAN HELD. Peine's Air-Gun Practice Might Have Killed Maggie Hyams. Charles Peine, fifteen years old, of 206 East Seventy-fifth street, was committed to the custody of the Jerry Society, in the Yorkville Police Court this morning.

Peine's Air-Gun Practice Might Have Killed Maggie Hyams. Charles Peine, fifteen years old, of 206 East Seventy-fifth street, was committed to the custody of the Jerry Society, in the Yorkville Police Court this morning.

Round About Town. Abraham Ruby, twenty-four years old, of 45 Allen street, was held in $1,000 bail in the Tombs Police Court this morning.

Whether this permission was given them by Watchman Levine, could not be learned, as none of those who escaped could be found to-day.

The bodies of the Levines were taken to the afternoon from Union Market Police station to an undertaker's shop at 26 Fifth street, where they will be prepared for burial.

At Governor's Hospital to-day it was said that Fireman Collins would recover. The building is being repaired by the city.

The house at 223, owned by Jacob Korn, was damaged $500 worth by the flames which worked through the party wall on the second and third floor.

Twenty Families Homeless. Firemen and Tenants Injured in a Goerck Street Blaze. While the firemen were battling with the Rivington street blaze another fire started in the five-story tenement at 31 Goerck street, at 4 1/2 o'clock this morning.

While the firemen were battling with the Rivington street blaze another fire started in the five-story tenement at 31 Goerck street, at 4 1/2 o'clock this morning.

A VANDERBILT SENSATION.

(Continued from First Page.) possession of the three houses at Newport, Islip and in New York.

A gentleman, who is a position to be confident of the facts states that Mr. Vanderbilt opposed no objection to a separation, but offered much less favorable terms than those asked by Mrs. Vanderbilt.

NEWPORT GOSSIP ABOUT IT. Infelicities of the W. K. Vanderbilts Have Kept Tongues Busy.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 28.—The talk of the domestic infelicities of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt at Newport extends over a period of two years or more, and as far back as that time the probability of a separation was the gossip of the place.

Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt turned up at Newport on his yacht, Alva, and in the afternoon he was seen in the city. He was in Vineyard Sound. A few months after this Mr. Vanderbilt, who is an enthusiastic yachtsman, went to England, where he remained while his present yacht, Valiant, was being built.

Last Summer at Newport the chatter was increased by the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt returned on his new yacht gossip was silenced by the announcement of plans for a long yachting trip with Mrs. Vanderbilt and other well-known persons in the party.

Curious stories have reached here of quarrels aboard the yacht, and the abandonment of the cruise at an early stage and the entire breaking up of the party.

It was a matter of general surprise yesterday, friends of the Vanderbilt family that happened to be in town that the domestic infelicities of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and his wife should have reached the point where a judicial separation became a fact.

Mr. Vanderbilt, it is said, had been brewing Mr. Dewey first and then, at his highest in Chicago, and he wanted to hurry away to Europe. When the matter was settled, he was sailed, and until word was received yesterday to the contrary, it was believed that he had left for Europe.

It was a matter of general surprise yesterday, friends of the Vanderbilt family that happened to be in town that the domestic infelicities of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and his wife should have reached the point where a judicial separation became a fact.

Mr. Vanderbilt, it is said, had been brewing Mr. Dewey first and then, at his highest in Chicago, and he wanted to hurry away to Europe. When the matter was settled, he was sailed, and until word was received yesterday to the contrary, it was believed that he had left for Europe.

HEALY IS APPOINTED. Internal Revenue Collector for the First District, N. Y. (By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The President has appointed the following officers, who were nominated to the Senate, but whose appointment was made: Milton Welsh, Surveyor of Customs at Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Healy, the new Brooklyn collector, is forty-four years old, and was born in the city of New York. He is a member of the Polytechnic Institute. He is a prominent business man, and is now one of the directors of the National Bank of the City.

Postmasters Whose Terms Expire. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A list of seventeen Presidential Postmasters whose terms expire next month. The principal office in the list is Washington, D. C., of which Capt. Harry Eberow, of the United States Army, is postmaster.

TRACED BY THE BOOTY. Wilson Arrested in a Pavanhop Wearing Stolen Shoes. William Wilson, nineteen years old, of 123 Park avenue, Brooklyn, was arrested this morning by Detective Noonan of the Ralph avenue station.

During the early part of the month John H. Hayes, of 22 Bainbridge street, while looking for a pair of shoes, discovered some of the missing jewelry.

Wilson appeared this morning and was taken into custody. Hayes identified the shoes as having been stolen from his home.

SNATCHED HER PURSE. Ruby Held in $1,000 to Answer to a Charge of Highway Robbery. Abraham Ruby, twenty-four years old, of 45 Allen street, was held in $1,000 bail in the Tombs Police Court this morning.

Flower Talks to Farmers. The Governor Enthusiastically Received at the Cairo Fair. Cairo, Greene County, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Gov. Flower arrived here this morning to open the county fair.

At the fair grounds there was an excitement of the highest order. The Governor was enthusiastically received by the farmers.

Flower Talks to Farmers. The Governor Enthusiastically Received at the Cairo Fair. Cairo, Greene County, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Gov. Flower arrived here this morning to open the county fair.

EXODUS FROM WASHINGTON. BULLS HELPING THE BEARS. SECTION 5 A TERRIBLE ERROR. It Ruffles the Feelings of the Custom-House Officials. No One Seems to Know What to Do Under It.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Cleveland left Washington via the Pennsylvania Railroad at 7:30 o'clock this morning for New York on his way to get out of the city.

The stock market this morning settled into a regular hum-drum affair, and traders generally regarded the situation with a good deal of disgust.

The bearish sentiment does not extend beyond the room and any concerted attempt to advance prices would probably lead to a rapid covering of short contracts.

The Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company has declared the regular dividend of 2 1/2 per cent on the preferred stock, payable Oct. 1.

The Assay Office has received $250,000 of foreign gold, which will be melted into $1,000,000 of gold coins.

Foreign exchange quiet and steady at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for bankers' 90-day sterling bill, and 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for 60-day.

The Mercantile Safe Deposit Company reports silver on hand, including certificates outstanding, 174,000, which is 20,000 ounces over the amount which was reported last month.

Money is easy at 1 per cent, on call, with the supply offering largely in excess of the demand.

Foreign exchange quiet and steady at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for bankers' 90-day sterling bill, and 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for 60-day.

The Mercantile Safe Deposit Company reports silver on hand, including certificates outstanding, 174,000, which is 20,000 ounces over the amount which was reported last month.

Money is easy at 1 per cent, on call, with the supply offering largely in excess of the demand.

Foreign exchange quiet and steady at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for bankers' 90-day sterling bill, and 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for 60-day.

The Mercantile Safe Deposit Company reports silver on hand, including certificates outstanding, 174,000, which is 20,000 ounces over the amount which was reported last month.

Money is easy at 1 per cent, on call, with the supply offering largely in excess of the demand.

Foreign exchange quiet and steady at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for bankers' 90-day sterling bill, and 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for 60-day.

The Mercantile Safe Deposit Company reports silver on hand, including certificates outstanding, 174,000, which is 20,000 ounces over the amount which was reported last month.

Money is easy at 1 per cent, on call, with the supply offering largely in excess of the demand.

Foreign exchange quiet and steady at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for bankers' 90-day sterling bill, and 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for 60-day.

The Mercantile Safe Deposit Company reports silver on hand, including certificates outstanding, 174,000, which is 20,000 ounces over the amount which was reported last month.

Money is easy at 1 per cent, on call, with the supply offering largely in excess of the demand.

Foreign exchange quiet and steady at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for bankers' 90-day sterling bill, and 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 for 60-day.

The Mercantile Safe Deposit Company reports silver on hand, including certificates outstanding, 174,000, which is 20,000 ounces over the amount which was reported last month.

SECTION 5 A TERRIBLE ERROR. It Ruffles the Feelings of the Custom-House Officials. No One Seems to Know What to Do Under It.

Uncle Sam's servitors at the Custom-House pretend to be much amused at the stories that have gone forth concerning the turmoil and confusion incident to the enactment of the new Tariff law.

"How you are going around giving people the impression that everything in and about the building is in sixes and sevens," said Collector Killbreth.

The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

SECTION 5 A TERRIBLE ERROR. It Ruffles the Feelings of the Custom-House Officials. No One Seems to Know What to Do Under It.

Uncle Sam's servitors at the Custom-House pretend to be much amused at the stories that have gone forth concerning the turmoil and confusion incident to the enactment of the new Tariff law.

"How you are going around giving people the impression that everything in and about the building is in sixes and sevens," said Collector Killbreth.

The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

"The Third Division is where all withdrawing are made. There the reporter found the grumpy Collector King up to his ears in work and surrounded by a clamorous mob of brokers, who were waiting for a chance to take a breasting spell, the reporter ventured.

Mr. King's office faces Wall street and on an level with that of the law firm of Evans, Choate & Beaman, across the street. Mr. King looks across the street, took a long breath and said:

BYCK BROTHERS, CLOTHIERS. A few words tell the story now.

Winter Suits at these prices: $15.75, $13.25, $11.50. Overcoats and Ulsters at half what they are worth.

It is last season's stock, but what of that if it is good, suits you, fits you, and if you save money? We make sure that you do that—we must show everybody a reason for buying at once, for it is a

FOUR DAYS' SALE, and this is the (second) day. Articles exchanged or money refunded willingly. Well-treated buyers are probable future customers.

Fulton Building, S. W., Cor. Fulton & Nassau Sts., AND 160, 162, 164 East 125th St., near 3d Ave.

SALE AT BOTH STORES.

CLARKE IN JAIL AGAIN. Stolen Money for a Hack. Surrendered by His Father as Bail Bondsman. Then Whalen Started Out to Have a Good Time. Said to Be for the Purpose of Forcing an Early Trial. Says He Spent Part and Lost the Rest of $102.75.

Herman Clarke, of the defunct brokerage firm of Hunter Clarke & Jacobs, Exchange place, who was indicted by the Grand Jury in April last on a charge of embezzlement, was surrendered by his father, his bondsman, this morning.

Clarke was informed of his father's action by an official in the District-Attorney's office, and gave himself up immediately. He was taken to the Tombs by Detective-Ser. Phil Reilly and locked up.

In explaining the matter, Clarke said that he had tried to force his case to trial, but could not do so, as the judges were trying only jail cases, and leaving the bail case to a future date.

"I am perfectly innocent," he said, "and can easily prove it. As it now stands, many of my former friends are in doubt as to my guilt or innocence.

It is rumored that the real cause of the bail case was the fact that the Grand Jury shortly be asked to return additional indictments against him. He was arrested in connection with the surrender by his father was pre-arranged, that if tried on the indictments now against him nothing further will be done.

It is rather doubtful, however, if the return of the indictments will be against the young man. When the official told him this morning and informed him of the bail case, he said: "Father is pretty hard—this is pretty hard."

Clarke was arrested on March 7 in Chicago, where he was living at the Imperial Hotel. The complainant was John K. Ryan, who was a member of the Grand Jury, and who had been indicted by the Grand Jury for the purpose of forcing an early trial.

He had traded heavily in Sugar, and had been a member of the Grand Jury. He had been a member of the Grand Jury, and had been a member of the Grand Jury.

HE PLEADED SELF-DEFENSE. Gallasaen's Novel Excuse for Clubbing a Woman. During a quarrel in front of 61 Sheriff street last night, Abraham Gallasaen, forty-two years old, of 64 Sheriff street, struck Mrs. Annie Gerber, of the first floor of the building, on the head with a club, opening her scalp.

The fight was started by the children of the respective parties. Gallasaen was arrested, and in the Evening Court, he pleaded self-defense.

LOOKING FOR HIS DAUGHTER. Father Meant to Make the Man She Eloped with Support Him. "I expect," began a queer-looking, little old man, as he entered the Police Headquarters, according to the Detroit Free Press—"I expect my darter Mary is in this town."

"Do you mean she ran away from home?" asked the Sergeant at the desk. "Yes, ran right away from Isabella county. Probably married by this time."

"Do you think she married some one here?" "I'm purty sure of it. She was in love with a feller here."

"If she is married you couldn't take her back with you?" "I don't want to."

"What, there needn't be much talk about it. I want to find her if I can. You p'int out the house and I'll run on the door. When she opens it I'll tell you. I'm a feller, I've come down to live with you."

"But what is your object?" persisted the Sergeant. "I want to make my son-in-law support me, of course! I'll live with her, and I'll take care of her.