

DID DEATH AVENGE INSULT?

The Murderer of "J. S." Thought to Have Been an Italian.

No Clue but Tattoo Marks to the Victim's Identity.

The Central Office detectives detailed to find the murderer of the unknown man, who was found dead in front of 183 Elizabeth street, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning, up to a late hour this morning had found no clue to the murderer.

Policeman McKever, of the Mulberry street station, discovered the body of the man, still warm, lying in the gutter near a truck. In the left breast, near the heart, was a wound, which the detectives believe was made by the stiletto of an Italian.

The body, evidently that of an American laborer, whose autopsy will be performed some time to-day.

The only clue to the murderer was a tattoo mark on the left forearm and upon the chest, "J. S. B." and "J. S. C." accompanied by a cross, respectively.

In the pockets of the dead man were found 40 cents in money and a Chinese laundry ticket. The presence of the money precludes the motive of murder.

The only development in the case to-day was that the dead man was thought to have been a resident of Mott street. He is said to have frequented a saloon on the corner of Mott and Prince and Elizabeth streets, but at that place they claim never to have seen a person answering the description.

The detectives say that a peddler was seen by an Italian on the corner of Spring and Elizabeth streets yesterday, who knew the dead man, but when he was asked to tell what he knew of the man, he ran away.

This same Italian says that it is believed that the murderer is in either 183 or 185 Elizabeth street, where the houses are being watched to-day.

TRAIN WRECKING ATTEMPTED

Ties Piled Up on a High Trestle in Missouri.

(By Associated Press.)

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 17.—An attempt was made to wreck a Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train just north of Sedalia last Friday night. The ties were piled up in the trestle along the Arkansas River, and wedged in so that the ends projected about two feet above the rails.

The trestle is thirty feet high. The engineer saw the obstruction in time to stop the train, but the pony trucks were torn from under the engine. The attempted wreck was no doubt for the purpose of robbery.

OUTING OF THE AHEARNS.

Followers of the Eighth's Senator to Go to College Point.

Members of the popular John F. Ahearn Association are on tip-toe of excitement and expectation over their annual outing and dinner, which takes place tomorrow at 12 o'clock at the Hotel, College Point, L. I.

The annual outing of the followers of the State Senator from the Eighth District is proverbial for its pleasures and the Association is famous for its hospitality. The hundreds of guests who will accompany them will leave pier 40 East River at 10 o'clock sharp, on the Iron Steamship Sirius. Tickets include breakfast as well as dinner.

SAYS HE STABBED IN SELF-DEFENSE.

George Mohr, a brass-finisher, twenty-six years old, of 914 First avenue, was held in default of $1,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury by Justice Simms in the Essex Market Police Court to-day. Mohr was drunk on Saturday night and stabbed George Weiser and George Weiser's wife on the corner of 183 and Elizabeth streets. Mohr admitted that he drew a knife and stabbed the man, but he said he believed his life was in danger.

LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

The immense Hat Establishment of Young Bros. in Broadway.

That there is a general revival of business is demonstrated by the immense crowds seen daily in Young Bros' establishment, corner of Broadway and Houston street. The store is the largest in the world devoted exclusively to hats.

Young Bros. have three branch stores, No. 139 Broadway, near Day street, No. 126 Broadway, near Duane street, and No. 131 Broadway, near Thirty-sixth street.

The main store has a frontage of 75 feet and a depth of 125 feet. This entire space is filled up with a devotedly selected stock of hats. They manufacture their own goods, and as a consequence they give to the public the benefit of the wholesaler's profit. They have agencies in every city in the United States.

The Young Bros. are excellent examples of what energy and enterprise will do. They have lived alone together for years, and when she was ill he had nursed her as tenderly as if he were her daughter. He was now mourning her loss very deeply.

Young Stanton arrived at the water cure by a very late train; consequently she did not make her appearance in public until the next day at breakfast. She was placed at the table at which Mr. Weeks was seated, but on the opposite side and further down. Next to him sat young Hardie, who, although a dyspeptic, looked down on the water cure with the house. He was a merry, rollicking young fellow, with a good-humored face and a sparkling black eye—indeed, two of them.

When the little widow took her place, he nudged his companion and whispered: "Hello, Weeks, here is a new comer! Very taking face—very. Seems yet to be an elderly lady. Must be a widow."

Weeks, in an agony lest the lady should overheat, glanced across the table, but could only see a blurred, indefinite, pallid spot, crowned by a white diaphanous he took to be a widow's cap, as indeed it was.

So he said, "I suppose she is."

Mrs. Stanton spent her days as quietly as if she were in her own house. Here the formula was, "Water, water, water, but not hot, cold, externally, internally. The regular and simple life, simple diet and bracing mountain air soon proved of great benefit to her. She was glad that friendship was still possible to her. Besides, she considered Mr. Weeks a mere boy, and felt a motherly interest in him. His manner became more genial as they conversed. He was sensitive to voices, and he honored all elderly ladies for his little brother's sake. He told himself that Mrs. Stanton reminded him of her mother, and he had a tenderly loving, and at times a magnetic touch, and he was a good talker.

Under the influence of her pleasant surroundings, Mrs. Stanton became resigned and cheerful. One day as she was coming from her hammock, she saw Mr. Weeks stretched at full length on a bench under the trees. His handkerchief was bound over his eyes, and as he passed him softly she thought she heard a groan.

LODGE TREASURER ACCUSED.

Emil Jelinek Charged with Having Embezzled $400.

He Says that the Money Was Stolen from Him.

Court Detective Val arraigned Emil Jelinek, Bohemian cigar-maker, thirty-two years old, 140 First avenue, before Justice McMahon, in Yorkville Court, to-day on a warrant charging him with having embezzled about $400 belonging to the John Hus Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was Treasurer for several months.

The warrant was issued on Saturday on the complaint of Joseph Hosten, of 500 East Twelfth street, President of the lodge, which meets at 433 East Seventy-fifth street. About four weeks ago Jelinek received $300 from the lodge to send to Mrs. Bysanek, a widow, living in Nebraska, whose husband was a member of the lodge. She wrote the lodge that she did not get the money, and an investigation was made.

Jelinek admitted that he had sent the money, saying that it had been stolen from him. He said that he had intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

When arrested, Jelinek was charged with taking $400 from the lodge, and he says that he had intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

He said that he had on his way to the court-house Street Bank, where he intended to get a draft of $300 to send to Mrs. Bysanek, but he discovered that the money was gone. He does not explain why he did not report the matter to the lodge, but he says that he considered him a fool, and believing that he could raise the money through friends before any discovery would be made. The prisoner has five children, and his wife is in a delicate condition.

CAPTURED BY HIS BONDSMAN.

Waldorf Ran Down Fugitive Frank B. Teel in Canada.

Jumped His Bail When Arrested for Violating Postal Laws.

When Frank B. Teel, arrested in Hurleyville, N. Y., last August, for sending newspaper literature through the United States mails, was held in $2,000 bonds for the Federal Grand Jury, two of his townsmen, George A. Waldorf and John A. Prince, qualified as his bondsmen in $2,500 each.

Early in September Teel fled the country, leaving his bondsmen in the lurch. Teel's flight meant practically ruin for Waldorf, whose home, which he gave as security, was in danger of being confiscated. He and his fellow-bondsmen issued a large number of cards on Sept. 6, offering $500 reward for Teel's arrest, and had hardly had time to get over the fugitive, Thursday he succeeded in running Teel down in Clifton, N. J., and handing him over to the Canadian police. This morning Anthony Comstock, who arrested Teel, received a telegram from Waldorf, offering him of Teel's arrest, and also stating that Teel would flight extradition.

Since Frank B. Teel's arrest in August, his father, Ambrose B. Teel, sixty-five years old of Hurleyville, N. Y., and George Watts, sixty-four years old, of Thompsonville, N. Y., have also been arrested on charges of sending improper books through the mails. They are now in Ludlow Street Jail, under $5,000 bonds each, awaiting trial by the Grand Jury.

An application will be made to-day on behalf of Watts, before United States Commissioner Alexander, to have his bail reduced to $2,500.

IN THE WORLD OF LABOR.

The Germania Workers' Association will elect officers Saturday, Sept. 21.

The general officers of the Knights of Labor will arrive in this city next Wednesday evening. James H. Williams is the newly-appointed agent of the New York branch of the Coast Union of America.

Infants' cloak makers will hold a mass-meeting next Friday evening at Pacific Hall, 209 East Broadway.

Michael Braun and Otto Walter were elected yesterday as members of the Agitation Committee of the Germania Workers' Union.

The Amalgamated Architectural and Bricklayers' Union held their first joint meeting at 414 Fifth street last Wednesday evening, Sept. 12.

Local Assembly 1,563, N. of L. mixed trades, held their meeting last night at the Germania Workers' Association, 209 East Broadway.

The annual picnic of the Williams Lodge No. 299, International Association of Machinists, will be held at the Germania Workers' Association, 209 East Broadway, on Saturday, Sept. 25.

The Central Labor Union yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the Supreme Court to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn, not to make permanent the injunction against the Collier of Brooklyn, and to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn, and to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn.

The officers elected yesterday by the Millwrights and Millers' Union are: Paul Wacker, President; M. Jacob, Vice-President; H. Mack, Financial Secretary; M. Eschenberg, Treasurer; M. Sauer, Secretary. The Union has made application for admission to the New York District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Nominations for officers of the Brooklyn Labor Council have been made as follows: For Treasurer, L. Ernst, H. Koenen, G. Bauer; For Secretary, H. Sauer, G. Frank, J. Schwab; For Financial Secretary, P. Eritz, C. Strick; For Auditor, A. Arlet, for Auditors, J. Straden, J. Straden, J. Straden.

The general Advisory Board of the Local Updaters' Union has appointed a Committee of Twelve to organize every shop of that trade in this city and vicinity.

The annual picnic of the Williams Lodge No. 299, International Association of Machinists, will be held at the Germania Workers' Association, 209 East Broadway, on Saturday, Sept. 25.

The Central Labor Union yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the Supreme Court to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn, not to make permanent the injunction against the Collier of Brooklyn, and to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn.

The officers elected yesterday by the Millwrights and Millers' Union are: Paul Wacker, President; M. Jacob, Vice-President; H. Mack, Financial Secretary; M. Eschenberg, Treasurer; M. Sauer, Secretary. The Union has made application for admission to the New York District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Nominations for officers of the Brooklyn Labor Council have been made as follows: For Treasurer, L. Ernst, H. Koenen, G. Bauer; For Secretary, H. Sauer, G. Frank, J. Schwab; For Financial Secretary, P. Eritz, C. Strick; For Auditor, A. Arlet, for Auditors, J. Straden, J. Straden, J. Straden.

The general Advisory Board of the Local Updaters' Union has appointed a Committee of Twelve to organize every shop of that trade in this city and vicinity.

The annual picnic of the Williams Lodge No. 299, International Association of Machinists, will be held at the Germania Workers' Association, 209 East Broadway, on Saturday, Sept. 25.

The Central Labor Union yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the Supreme Court to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn, not to make permanent the injunction against the Collier of Brooklyn, and to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn.

The officers elected yesterday by the Millwrights and Millers' Union are: Paul Wacker, President; M. Jacob, Vice-President; H. Mack, Financial Secretary; M. Eschenberg, Treasurer; M. Sauer, Secretary. The Union has made application for admission to the New York District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Nominations for officers of the Brooklyn Labor Council have been made as follows: For Treasurer, L. Ernst, H. Koenen, G. Bauer; For Secretary, H. Sauer, G. Frank, J. Schwab; For Financial Secretary, P. Eritz, C. Strick; For Auditor, A. Arlet, for Auditors, J. Straden, J. Straden, J. Straden.

The general Advisory Board of the Local Updaters' Union has appointed a Committee of Twelve to organize every shop of that trade in this city and vicinity.

The annual picnic of the Williams Lodge No. 299, International Association of Machinists, will be held at the Germania Workers' Association, 209 East Broadway, on Saturday, Sept. 25.

The Central Labor Union yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the Supreme Court to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn, not to make permanent the injunction against the Collier of Brooklyn, and to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the Collier of Brooklyn.

The officers elected yesterday by the Millwrights and Millers' Union are: Paul Wacker, President; M. Jacob, Vice-President; H. Mack, Financial Secretary; M. Eschenberg, Treasurer; M. Sauer, Secretary. The Union has made application for admission to the New York District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

NO ONE CAN DENY.

After a visit to our warehouses that our Stock of Furniture, Carpets, &c.

is the largest and choicest of any house in America, and that the prices are extremely low.

Jordan, Moriarty & Co., 155, 157 & 159 East 23d St., West of 3d Ave., N. Y.

Special This Week. $17.25 Worth at Least $35.00.

SOL HEYMAN & CO., 993 and 995 3d Ave., Between 30th and 60th Sts.

Amusements. KOSTER & BIAL'S, ADM. 50c. 2D SERIES LIVING PICTURES.

STANDARD THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. The new of the 'Anything' Nothing.

BIJOU THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. LAST WEEK OF P. NIE RICE IN 'THE GREAT HUNGARIAN'.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE HILL.

THEATRE, Mat. Sat. 2. THE DEVIL'S DEPUTY. MINER'S ROSE H