

STATEN ISLAND FERRY SOLD.

Howard Carroll Outbids the Representatives of the S. I. R. T. 5-1-2 PER CENT. THE PRICE.

The New Owner Declares He Did Not Buy for John H. Starin. WILL USE HIS OWN BOATS. Must Pay $175,000 for Improvements Before Taking Possession.

The Staten Island ferry franchise was purchased to-day by Howard Carroll, who is a son-in-law of John H. Starin. The sale took place at 11 o'clock in the office of Comptroller Fitch.

Representatives of the Staten Island Rapid-Transit Company, including Supr. Frank Gannon, Director J. Frank Emmons and Lawyer A. B. Boardman, were on hand.

They evidently expected to get the franchise for the knock-down price, $140,000, as they had done for many years past, and were entirely unprepared for the bidding by Mr. Carroll.

Mr. Emmons started in with his offer of 5 per cent. as soon as Comptroller Fitch, after the clerk had read the terms of the sale of the franchise, called for bids.

"I'll give 5-1-2," said Mr. Carroll quietly. This was followed by a bid of 5-3-8 from the Staten Island people.

CONVENTION IS OVER.

Constitutional Delegates Adjourn Without a Day. Their Work Now in the Hands of the Secretary of State.

Somebody Has Taken President Choate's Gavel for a Joke. After adopting resolutions relating to printing, the Convention, upon motion of Mr. Vedder, took a recess until 12 o'clock.

At 12:15 President Choate formally delivered the gavel to the Secretary of State. At 12:25 the Convention adjourned without a day.

During the Convention interval, Mr. J. H. Peck, of Troy, was called to preside, and when all had taken their seats Mr. Vedder arose and presented to President Choate a magnificent silver loving cup, with buffalo horn handles and embossed sides, representing the progress of civilization.

Mr. Cornwell, of Yates, on behalf of the laymen of the Convention, briefly informed the Convention that he is accompanied by said laymen with evidence of esteem. But I feel now like crying, because I do not know of any other way to express my gratitude.

Mr. Choate thanked Delegates Vedder, Alvord and Vedder, and the latter gave him his own copy of the Constitution. He then said: "I have discovered that only two were necessary. I will give you the other two."

"TELL THAT TO THE JURY." Schram Said He Did Not Know It Was a Confederate Bill. Pincus Schram, twenty-two years old, of 394 Suffolk street, was held for trial by Judge Knickerbocker in the Essex Market Police Court, to-day.

BAIL FOR STRIKERS' PICKETS.

Required to Give $300 Bonds to Keep the Peace. Negotiations with Employers Suspended for a Time.

The striking shirtmakers crowded in and about the Essex Market Police Court this forenoon to hear what disposition Justice Koch was to make of the bail of the arrested yesterday by the police of the delinquent street station for picketing Elias Rosen's shop at 300 Monroe street.

The picketers were charged with causing an unlawful assemblage about the shop during a strike. The picketers were charged with causing an unlawful assemblage about the shop during a strike.

It was proven that Goodman was not near the other and signed a confession whatever. He was discharged, but the Court held all the others in $300 bail each to keep the peace.

WAS SHE DRUGGED?

Mrs. Brown Says Three Men Robbed Her in a Saloon. While Drinking in Linden's 'Ladies' Room' She Became Dazed.

Mrs. Brown, a good-looking brunette, who says she is a typewriter and lives with her husband, Frank, an engineer at 150 Columbus avenue, was a complainant in Yorkville Police Court this morning against three men, who, she says, drugged and robbed her Saturday night at a saloon.

The prisoners were: James Campbell, of 805 Columbus avenue; David H. Link, of 87 Lawrence street, and William Crimm, of 90 Amsterdam avenue.

Mrs. Brown says that she was in the habit of going to Linden's saloon, at the southeast corner of the Boulevard and Sixty-seventh street, to make purchases for her husband. One of the prisoners, Crimm, is the bartender in the saloon.

SEARCHED FOR AS HARRISON.

Government Didn't Suspect Howgate's Alias Was Williams. He Wants Time to Settle Up His Business Here.

The request made yesterday by Henry W. Howgate, alias Williams, the defaulting ex-Chief of the Weather Bureau, that he be not taken to Washington, D. C., until Tuesday next, will probably be granted.

Howgate was arraigned in any court in Washington, as they are all under Federal jurisdiction, but his case will probably come up in the Criminal Court.

Howgate served under the alias of Williams, as a juror in the Court of General Sessions recently, but that will not invalidate any verdict found by that jury, according to the District Attorney O'Hara, who says that as the jurors were not required to swear to their names and identity, Howgate did not commit perjury.

CYCLONE WENT BY.

Though It Is Now Howling Almost at the City's Gates. Disasters at Sea Reported by Incoming Vessels.

Residents of this city and vicinity have escaped the cyclone which has been predicted by Local Weather Forecaster Dunn for the last three days.

It is howling and tearing at the gates of the city at the rate of fifty miles an hour, but thanks to a high pressure atmosphere which has come down from Nova Scotia and thrown itself between us and the storm, New York will not suffer.

"People here will never believe that it is a right," said Mr. Dunn somewhat testily this morning. "Surely the backyards are torn from their moorings and thrown bodily across the roofs."

The chief Chinese meteorologist told me once that he had predicted a typhoon and warned vessels. People in the cities waited in trembling fear for the typhoon to hurt them into kingdom come, but it did not materialize, and then they clamored for the meteorologist to give them a forecast to go into hiding for some time.

"So it is with my prediction. I warned the ships. The boys on the coast guard cutters is still central some distance at sea off the coast near the Gulf Stream, and is slowly but surely working its way northward. It has not lost much of its fury, and will probably keep on howling for another week or ten days."

All along the New England and Middle Atlantic coasts the gale is blowing at a terrific rate, wherever the cyclone's outer fringe touches the land.

"ALMOST A MIRACLE."

A Well-Known Railroad Man's Experience, Life Saved in a Way Which is Wonderful, and Ought to Be Told Everywhere Far and Wide.

There is no better known railroad man than Mr. Charles Annable, who resides at 291 Jordan ave., Brunswick, Me. He has occupied trusted positions for thirty years on the Maine Central Railroad.

"I have been troubled," began Mr. Annable, "so bad with neuritis that I could not turn my head in bed. It seemed as though my head was paralyzed. I was so troubled with heart disease and palpitation that a good many nights I thought I might pass away during the night."

"I suffered severely, and expected every day to be my last. My head seemed sometimes as though it would be paralyzed, and the least exertion would upset me and render me terribly nervous. I took Dr. Green's Nervous Blood and Nerve Remedy, and it completely cured me—made me well and strong again."

"It seems as though my cure was almost a miracle for I am now cured. My neighbors, well knowing my condition, are astonished at my recovery, and I cannot half highly enough express my gratitude for this wonderful medicine."
