

McClellan, of the Board of Aldermen, and ex-Chamberlain T. C. Crain. The atmosphere was charged with excitement, and the movements of the chiefs were watched with the utmost anxiety.

Mr. Straus was in conference with ex-Mayor Grant for a time, and then, just before 9 o'clock, a notary was called in to witness Mr. Straus's signature to his formal declaration of the nomination.

After signing this document, Mr. Straus left the hotel, apparently still more nervous and angry than when he had entered. He was accompanied by his secretary, Mr. Kincaid, who had returned very early in the morning from his unsuccessful visit to Senator Hill in Rochester.

Mr. Straus walked up Fourth avenue to Seventeenth street, where he stopped for a few moments and held an animated conversation with his secretary. Then both resumed their walk to Lexington avenue, where another stop was made.

Both returned from Lexington avenue to Fourth avenue, crossing to the north end of Union Square and going to Broadway, where they again stopped. Mr. Straus still talking fast to his companion.

Then they walked to Eighteenth street, where they stopped and held a somewhat conversation. Mr. Kincaid taking notes on a pad of paper. Then the twin separated, Mr. Straus returning to headquarters in the Union Square Hotel, evidently to prepare some sort of a document to be issued by Mr. Straus to the public.

Mr. Straus was seen at his home at 130 o'clock. He looked pale and worried. "I am out of it now," he said, "and have no more to say. I do not think it is fair for you to ask me to talk. I refuse to say where my letter of declination is or how it will be given out. Use your own discretion as to where you may get it."

Following Grant Around Town. When the Executive Committee adjourned ex-Mayor Grant darted through the crowd and disappeared. It was said that he had gone to Wall street to attend to some business connected with his bank receivership.

As soon as his absence was discovered a number of members of the Executive Committee started down town to hunt him up and talk nomination to him some where.

The argument that is being used with Mr. Grant is that he is responsible for the present situation of affairs, as he had insisted upon the nomination of Nathan Straus. As he made the emergency, he should fill it, the leaders say, and they declare that it will be his duty to do so will be regarded as evidence of rank cowardice.

Police Commissioner Martin said: "Everything points to the selection of Hugh S. Grant as Straus's successor on the ticket. He is the unanimous choice of the Committee, and every instrument with the name of Straus's successor, Grant is largely responsible for the present condition of affairs, since he was Straus's strongest supporter, and he ought to help us out of our difficulty. If he will accept the nomination, he will have no trouble in being elected."

Parry Salting. Too! Mayor Glynn did not attend the meeting of the Committee of Eight at Tammany Hall this morning. He got down to his office early, and attended meetings of the Sinking Fund Commissioners, the Board of Street openings and the Board of Estimates. He explained that the meetings of these Boards kept him from the meeting.

This was taken as an indication that he was sulking. It is said that the feeling between Glynn and Parry factions is now running so high that whichever side succeeds in naming Straus's successor the other side will feel in duty bound to knife that candidate.

The trouble growing out of the ambition to be leader entertained by so many of the sub-bosses, is now said to be so serious as to make almost certain the defeat of the State ticket.

County Clerks. Reports seen late this afternoon, said he had no idea who would succeed Mr. Straus, nor did he think the name would be known for some time.

man in Tammany, he, and not Grant, should be put in the field against Strong. This was not said sarcastically, either. At Col. Straus's headquarters Gen. McCook was jubilant over the fact that Mr. Straus had declined. "He is too smart a man to be caught in that kind of a trap," he said. "He knows when it is time to look out for himself from the impending storm."

Thomas C. Platt, when informed of Straus's withdrawal from the Tammany ticket and asked what effect it would have on the campaign, said: "Young man, I'm too busy with my private affairs to talk politics. I have no opinion to express upon the matter. I have absolutely nothing to say."

Grace Does Not Waver. W. H. Grace was about to partake of luncheon at Delmonico's when an "Evening World" reporter asked him for an expression of opinion concerning the withdrawal of Nathan Straus from the Tammany ticket because Senator Hill permitted his name to be printed on the ticket of the State Democracy.

Mr. Straus's refusal to run is due to the attack of Mayor Glynn's Committee of Eight on Tammany's campaign, made an effort to get Senator Hill to refuse his consent to this proposition. These gentlemen visited Democratic State headquarters in the Park Hotel, and invoked the assistance of Major Hinkley, chairman of the State Committee.

meeting Senator Hill is to be given a reception at the Manhattan Club. At the twenty-fifth District State Democracy meeting, at 236 East Sixth street, last evening, ex-Mayor William R. Grace said that the occasion was the first in his life when he stood upon a platform advocating the election of David B. Hill. He declared he had always fought Hill with his pen, his tongue, and his vote, but he considered it necessary for the Democratic faction to stand together to defeat the common enemy in its scheme to disfranchise the cities of New York and New Jersey.

Mr. Grace warmly advocated the election of York and said the triumph of the LXX would mean the end of the riding New York of the rotten and black-maling rule of Tammany Hall. The Evening World was first to call attention to a peculiar story going the rounds to the effect that Senator Hill, if elected, may resign the Governorship to his running-mate, Daniel N. Lockwood, and keep his seat in the Senate. The rumor has been revived, but Senator Hill refuses to discuss it.

JOHN SIMPSON KICKS. Will Argue on His Nomination Before Police Commissioners. John Simpson, accompanied by his brother, John J. Collins, called at Police Headquarters this morning and announced that they proposed to appear before the Police Commissioners this afternoon and demand a hearing on the nomination of the "Copperhead" nomination in the Ninth District. The regular Convention of the Republic, held Oct. 2 in the Lincoln League, Forsyth street, nominated Simpson for Congress. It is contended that the nomination was "stagnated" by Simpson's supporters upon the Convention, and the nomination made without roll-call or the usual formalities. Secretary Ellis, who is an anti-Simpson man, protested, and called a Convention on Tuesday night, which nominated Tim Campbell.

HONEST REGISTRATION. The Special Crusade of the New York City Club. A special meeting of the City Club, of New York, will be held at the club house on Monday evening, Oct. 22, for the purpose of ratifying the nomination of the Committee of Seventy, and to take action in the matter of constitutional amendments, particularly affecting the City Club. The Club is circulating in number two circulars relating to fraudulent registration. Copies of the circulars will be distributed in newspapers, rewards, and other means. The Club is advertising in newspapers, rewards, and other means. The Club is advertising in newspapers, rewards, and other means.

WANT DONEGAN'S PLACE. Candidates Hunting for the Nomination for Assembly. A meeting of the State Democracy men of the Fourteenth Assembly District will be held at 136 East Broadway to-night for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the position of Assemblyman. The candidates are: William R. Grace, who was named last Tuesday and afterwards withdrew the endorsement of the Republicans, but yesterday he withdrew his name; and Charles S. Johnson, who is expected to-night between William J. Sullivan, a printer, and William J. Cahill, of the United States Immigration Bureau.

POLITICAL GOSSIP. The candidates selected by the Committee of LXX for the city and county offices were last night formally notified that they had been chosen by the Republican Central Convention.

ITS EFFECT ON WAGERS. Straus's Withdrawal Will Create Confusion Among Betting Men. F. J. Adams, of the Stock Exchange, who has been the result of the coming election, succeeded this morning in placing $10,000 of his money on Morton for Governor at odds of 2 to 1.

HILL WAS FIRM. Would Not Grant the Request Made by Nathan Straus. (Special to the Evening World.) ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Senator Hill left here for Buffalo at 9:35 this morning. He had not heard then of Mr. Straus's withdrawal, but would not be surprised if he had, as it became known to him this morning. He resented in his answer to Mr. Straus's letter a "stagnation" of the ticket, and with his privilege as a candidate.

HILL AND GRACE. David B. to Speak Here Oct. 24.—Grace spoke for Him Last Night. Senator David B. Hill has announced that he will speak at a meeting to be held by the Business Men's Democratic Association, in Music Hall, in this city, on the 24th inst. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

A PLUCKY WOMAN. And What She Was Able to Accomplish. She and Her Daughter Have a Remarkable Experience. She Was a Hard-Working Person and This Will Interest All Workers. All kinds of diseases and weaknesses leave their marks on the system. It is very easy for the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys to become deranged, and when they do, the person soon feels tired, languid, weak, low-spirited and gloomy. The nerves become weak, and insanity or paralysis may follow. The blood gets bad, there is coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, the complexion grows sallow and life looks dark. All persons complaining of any of these troubles will read with wonder the following letter from Mrs. James Roske, a well-known lady living at 145 Washington Street, Peekskill, N. Y. "About fifteen years ago I was taken very sick. After several months I got over that, but have never been well since. I have suffered terribly with pain in the chest, back, kidneys and head. There was a disagreeable feeling in the eyes, and I would be very sick in the morning. My mind was always gloomy and I felt very low-spirited. I had terrible neuralgia and would have to be rubbed every night. I could not get any sleep. Some of these troubles were so severe my friends thought I would not recover from them. I tried doctors and medicines but got no benefit. Finally I heard of the use of Dr. Cassell's Nervina blood and nerve remedy, so my husband had been most miraculously cured by it. After using it a short time there was most wonderful improvement."

Justice Barrett declared that it appeared to him as if an attempt had been made to wind up the affairs of the bank without the process of law.
