

SET HERSELF AFIRE.

Insane Mrs. Bubach's Freak May Prove Fatal.

Found in a Bedroom, Her Clothing All Ablaze.

Horribly Burned and Inhaled Flames and Smoke.

Mrs. Alena Bubach, thirty-two years old, of 229 Second avenue, was probably fatally burned at her home at 5 o'clock this afternoon by setting fire to her clothing.

Early this morning Mrs. Bubach showed signs of insanity. Her husband, Jacob, sent for a physician, who, thinking her case was not dangerous, prescribed for her and left.

The husband kept a watch on his wife. This afternoon, however, while his attention was occupied by his three children, his wife slipped into her bedroom and taking several newspapers, lit them and set fire to her clothing.

The screams summoned Mr. Bubach to the room, where he found his wife wrapped in flames. He made his attempt to smother the flames, but she was so insensible that she would not be moved.

Neighbors called to the aid of the husband, and the fire was finally extinguished. The woman was taken to the Harlem Hospital, where it was found that she had inhaled smoke and flames. She will probably die.

Was He a "Ripper?" Hattie Smith's Story of Her Stabbing Doubtful by the Police.

A policeman found Hattie Smith, a colored woman, who resides at 25 Minetta lane, lying in the hallway there at 2 o'clock this morning, calling loudly for help.

Ambulance surgeon Francis Murray, of St. Vincent's Hospital, found that the woman was bleeding from several stab wounds on the thighs and arms. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital, where her wounds were pronounced not serious.

The woman says she has no idea who her assailant was. According to her story, she was attracted to the hallway by noise there, and upon going out to investigate was attacked by a man who tried to murder her after the style of "Jack the Ripper."

The police discredit her story, and think she is trying to make some one who stabbed her during a quarrel.

Annapolis Woman Burned to Death. ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 6.—The residence of Mrs. Julia Wright, on Green street, was destroyed by fire this morning, and Mrs. Wright was burned to death. The fire started in the kitchen, and with a rapidity that was nothing but a few hours old.

BRODIE'S MAN CAUGHT.

In Trying to Save a Friend He Was Himself Arrested.

Steve Brodie's bartender, Stephen Manning, made a mistake when he came down to the Tombs this morning.

Cartier, who is an all-round Bowery boy, was arrested in the back room of Brodie's saloon on complaint of William Craig, of New London, Conn., who said that he had been robbed of $50 in the place.

In court this morning Craig failed to make out much of a case and left it very doubtful that he had $50.

"He didn't have a dollar," volunteered Manning. "He pawned his shoes early in the evening, and I gave him a half dozen drinks during the night."

"Four o'clock this morning," replied the policeman. "Then make out a complaint against this witness for violating the excise," commanded the Justice.

Manning looked very blue. He asked for an examination and was held in $100 until Nov. 10.

CRAZY OVER RELIGION.

Bernard Metzkes Believes He Has a Message from Heaven.

Policeman Eggleston, of the Liberty avenue station, Brooklyn, this morning took to the Gates Avenue Court Bernard Metzkes, twenty-two years old, suffering from insanity.

Yesterday afternoon Eggleston was notified that a nude man was terrorizing the people of the last farm-house this side of the Kings County line, near the Old Mill in New Lots. He found the man burrowing in a haystack and crying to God to protect him from imaginary enemies.

In a lucid interval he gave his name and explained that he had been a waiter in the Metropolitan restaurant in New York, and at that time had lived at 112 Fourth street. A short time ago he was afflicted with religious mania, believing that he had a message from the Lord to wander through the earth until some great deed was accomplished, which he believed would be about next St. Patrick's day.

In the prisoner's pen of the Gates Avenue Court this morning he became so violent that it required two officers to hold him. Justice Quigley held him for examination as to his sanity.

ST. HALE IS THE MAN.

Identity of the Brooklyn Man Anthony Comstock Is After.

Sunday School Worker and Alleged Corrupter of Young Boys.

Disappeared from His Flat When a Warrant Was Given to Police.

It was learned this morning that the Brooklyn police were searching for a young man who passed under the name of George St. Hale, and who, until recently, occupied a top flat at 1240 Atlantic avenue. The police were sent after him at the instance of Anthony Comstock, who alleges that the young bachelor has tried to corrupt the morals of certain youngsters living in the neighborhood.

Mr. Comstock addressed a meeting of the Congregational Clerical Union at the Bible House yesterday on "The Relation of the Holy Spirit to Purity of Thought." Becoming interested in the subject, he said that many children were lured from the narrow path by the circulation of unclean literature and pictures.

"A certain superintendent of a Sunday mission a Brooklyn is being sought for by police officers," said Mr. Hale, who has been discovered that this man, who has led to all appearances, a clean and blameless life, has been guilty of heinous crimes. He has taken young lads to his rooms and showed them filthy books and pictures, and at the present moment he has officers with a warrant waiting to arrest him at a favorable opportunity.

The case was brought to the attention of the Children's Society, a prominent business man, who called upon him about three weeks ago. Mr. Wilkin was told that St. Hale had invited children to his rooms and showed them indecent pictures. Mr. Wilkin referred the case to Mr. Comstock, who procured a warrant from Justice Walsh for St. Hale's arrest. The warrant was given to Detective-Sergeant John F. Burns, who posted himself in front of St. Hale's house and waited. His presence in the vicinity aroused considerable gossip, and in a couple of days everybody in the vicinity knew that the police were after one of their number. St. Hale disappeared.

Way Detective Burns entered St. Hale's apartments, and after searching bureau drawers, closets and trunks, discovered an old copy of the Decameron of Boccaccio and a sealed letter. It was the latter which attracted the attention of the police.

Mr. Thomas Matet, 285 West Fifty-second street, New York City: "Munyon's Vitallizer is a great tonic. I tried it when recovering from a long spell of illness and found that it imparted new strength and vigor at once."

A. T. Jacobs, Bayonne, N. J.: "Professor Munyon's Vitallizer is a most remarkable invigorator. It has done wonders in building up my health."

Young Griffio Discharged. His Woman Accuser Didn't Appear Against Him in Court.

"Young Griffio," the prize fighter, was in Jefferson Market Police Court before Justice Voorhis this morning looking very much as if he had been in a ten-round contest last night.

He was the prisoner of Park Police-Master Doherty, who arrested him at Madison avenue and Twenty-sixth street last night, on the complaint of a woman who said she was Miss Lizzie Granger. She accused him of insulting and assaulting her on the street.

When Griffio reached the West Thirtieth street station, he wanted to make a charge of robbery against the woman, but it was not entertained. He said he went with the woman to a hotel to get a drink, and that she robbed him of $14.

In court this morning the woman did not put in an appearance and the prize fighter was discharged.
