Comptroller Fitch Firm in His Determination Not to Pay the Disputed Claims. In the course of the investigation into affairs of the Park Department undertaken by "The Evening World" to ascertain how the one-million-dollar appropriation authorized by the Legislature for the benefit of the unemployed laborers in this city has been expended many facts have already been given to show that a large portion, at least, of the money did not go where it was intended. Instead of giving employment to those in need of work, large sums were expended for costly supplies, purchased from favored companies or individuals, and, in some cases, at least, those who obtained employment were obliged to pay a big bonus to political bosses and beeters, who, in some way, had secured labor tickets distributed by the Commissioners when the work was first begun.

Mayor Gilroy to-day appointed Joseph M. Deuel, formerly United States Commissioner, as Police Justice, to succeed Solon B. Smith, whose term expired last January, and who has been holding over since then. The appointment is for the remainder of the ten-year term, and the salary is $8,000 a year.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS. Formerly the Subway Commissioners were appointed, or continued, merely from year to year, but under chapter 207, of the laws of 1894, they will hold office for three years. The salary is $5,000 a year.

As another queer circumstance is the remarkable favor shown to the Sicilian Asphalt Company by the Park Department. The fact is that the company refused to pay the bills of this company, amounting to about $50,000 for the two or three months during which it had full swing in the Department, even after the Evening World exposed in April that a number of Italian laborers had obtained work in the Department by paying large fees to a well-known padrone for the privilege. The suspicion was generally aroused that this practice had been carried on extensively in the distribution of tickets.

He also appointed Amos J. Cummings, Henry S. Kearney and Jacob Hess Subway Commissioners. Mr. Hess is the only Commissioner reappointed. The retiring Commissioners are Theodore Moss and Walton Storm.

The Commissioners recently appointed by Mayor Gilroy to prepare a plan for the final disposition of the city's garbage, presented its report to the Mayor to-day. The report is signed by Franklin Edson, Thomas L. James, Lieut. Daniel Delehanty, U. S. N.; President Charles G. Wilson, of the Health Board, and Street-Cleaning Commissioner W. S. Andrews.

Mr. Jarow claims that he was the mediator by which Cupid's shafts were properly directed, and as the happy result Miss Hannah Kramer, daughter of the late Spruce street leather merchant, is now Mrs. Herzog.

Unless the 3,000 union shirtmakers accept a reduction of 10 per cent. in their scale of prices by next Saturday, the one hundred members of the Contractors' Association declare that they will not take any orders from wholesalers, as they will be unable to compete with the manufacturers of shirts in other cities and towns and pay the union prices.

John Garvey, who now calls himself Garvey, the unspeakable tramp who invaded Mrs. William Astor's house on Friday night, was held in Jefferson Market Police Court this morning in $1,000 for examination to-morrow. His audacity is now called attempt at burglary.

Further than this "The Evening World" has developed the fact that, although the Sicilian Company had lost its contract for furnishing material to the Department, it was making a great profit by making the appropriation by supplying its own men, tools and implements to do the work. This, it is claimed, was done in order to obtain work in the Park Department.

As an illustration of the favor shown to the Sicilian Asphalt Company by the Park Department officials, was lavished in his use of the costly material. Although the contract called for only one inch of asphalt on the floor of the arbor at the Casino, the contractor laid down three inches, which, he says, any expert could prove by simple inspection. The million-dollar fund was evidently too rich a graft for the contractors to neglect, and the contractor was making a grab for it. That this work had not been paid for since Comptroller Fitch's suspension is no fault of the Park Department.

While the first cost of the necessary plant to carry out these recommendations will be considerable, your Commission is convinced that the public good demands it, that the scheme here outlined, fully carried out and properly supervised, will result in a permanent long complained of and place this city in the front rank of the cities of the world in the sanitary and economical disposition of its refuse.

There were reports of meetings of the presidents of the morning's set on subscriptions, but a tour of all the principal banks and trust companies showed that the president of every institution, but one, was at his desk, and he told me that he had not attended. All said they knew of no meeting, and did not expect to attend any to-day.

Coal to Be Cheaper Soon. There is every prospect of a hard fight over the proposed reduction in coal which the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association is trying to bring about. The new rates will, if nothing intervenes, be in effect within a few days, and will enable consumers to buy coal 15 cents a ton cheaper than the present rates.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Two men were buried in the ruins of Mangel & Schmitt's big bakery, on Fifteenth avenue, which collapsed at 8 o'clock this morning, and three others were badly hurt by falling timbers. The firm occupied a two-story brick building, 40 by 40 feet. The top floor was used as a storeroom, and 200 barrels of flour and 1,200 bushels of rye were stored there. The weight of the flour and rye was estimated to be thirty tons.

THE INJURED. ARTHUR KINSELLA, twenty-five years old, of 110 Chapel street. JAMES LAWRENCE, thirty-eight years old, of 207 South Fourth street, Harrison. JAMES H. DUNCAN. About seventy employees were at work on the first floor and half a dozen masons and laborers were in the cellar in the rear making repairs. Without warning the floor above gave way, and the four and rye went crashing through the first floor into the cellar, where the men were at work. They fled precipitately when they heard the crash, and all but two succeeded in getting out.

INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS, ISAAC W. FOWLER. The building was built properly and in accordance with the building ordinance. This excavation was in the center of the basement, and it is thought that the centre columns supporting the ground floor were undermined, thus throwing the immense weight on the two floors.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Upon complaint of the Committee of Seventy, Gov. Flower to-day notified John R. Fellows to show cause why he should not be removed from the office of District Attorney of New York County for neglect of duty. The complaint was made by Preble Tucker, Fulton McMath, Charles Taber, R. W. G. Welling and Clarence Goadby, of New York. The Committee was closeted with Gov. Flower in the Executive Chamber for a long time. The doors were closed, and it was thought that the question of a Deputy Attorney-General to assist the office of the New York District Attorney was being discussed.

WILLARD TRAVERS JEROME. "Our Committee will meet shortly," he said, "and send the letter we received from Col. Fellows, along with a suitable communication, to Gov. Flower. From what he told us I conclude that he will instruct the Attorney-General to conduct the prosecutions specified, and the natural course then will be for the Governor to name a deputy, as he did when Mr. Shepard and Gen. Tracy were designated to conduct the Gravesend cases."

Governor Has No Power to Allow Resuscitation of Executed Convicts. (By Associated Press.) ALBANY, Nov. 21.—In reply to a communication from the Governor in regard to attempting resuscitation upon the body of an electrocuted convict, the Attorney-General says: "In my judgment neither the Governor nor the prison superintendent has such authority to grant such an experiment. It becomes the duty of the authorities in charge to bury it, and to deliver the same to any individual for the purpose of experiment."
