

BREAD TRUST YIELDS.

The "Evening World" Battle for Cheaper Prices Bearing Fruit. Wholesale Bakers' Association Gives Evidence of a Disintegration.

Full Weight Loaves Must Be Furnished at a Minimum Price.

Cheap flour and "The Evening World's" indisputable arguments in favor of a reduction in the price of the eighteen-ounce loaf have proved too much for the Bread Trust.

The meeting of the Association Tuesday afternoon demonstrated to every member of the Trust that the feeling in favor of a cut was general, and that the two or three bakers who held out to keep up the price had few and weak arguments to support their position.

The disclosure that two of the most prominent members of the combine had agreed to furnish full-weight loaves at a price far below that asked by "The Evening World," taken in conjunction with the array of evidence published by this paper, practically destroyed the basis of the question of cheaper bread.

It was learned today that for the past week several hundred grocers who have been drawing their entire supply of bread from the Trust concern have been cutting down their orders to such an extent that a few weeks more of subsistence on the part of bakers would mean bankruptcy to most of them.

The people absolutely refuse to buy Trust bread at five cents a loaf, while bakers bid in the combine are furnishing it for good an article and as much of it for four cents a loaf.

Housewives have taken the advice of "The Evening World" and are baking their own bread. With flour as cheap as people have learned to buy a heavy saving on the weekly household expenses may be made in this way.

However, as the price of the eighteen-ounce loaf is reduced these housewives will practically acknowledge the favor by "The Evening World" and apply from the bakers. A baker who has been profiting by the obstinacy of the Trust for the last two weeks said today that he contemplated putting the price down to a fraction below the three-cent basis if the price of the raw material showed no inclination to rise above the 25-cent figure, at which the very best patent flour is now quoted.

Ex-John Commissioner Blair Sued. John J. Blair, 407 West 4th St., Commissioner under the Tweed regime, surrendered himself in the Sheriff's office yesterday, upon learning that Judge Buchanan had issued an order for his arrest in a suit brought by Blair against Blair. A had been against him to recover $10,000 damages for fraud. Blair was released in $1,000 bail.

Pool-Rooms Still Open. Pool-rooms are still running in various parts of town. The results of the races are received in quiet rooms, occupied by an operator and messenger. The bets are made near by, but some of the ordinary sportsmen are seen, and some have an innocent appearance if a raid is made.

JAIL FOR AID. PARKS.

Sentenced to Serve Five Months in Monmouth County. Must Also Pay a Fine of Five Hundred Dollars.

Convicted of Keeping a Gambling-House at Asbury Park.

FRESHFORD, N. J., November 21.—Alderman Parks, of New York, was sentenced to five months in the Monmouth County jail and to pay a fine of $500 and costs this morning.

The sentence was imposed in the County Court in Freshford, N. J., by Judge Conover this morning.

He was convicted of keeping a gambling-house at Asbury Park last summer, after being forced to close his gaming resort in New York City through the inevitable.

OUR NEW VOLCANO.

Mount Tacoma Spouts Smoke and Opens a Crater.

Earthquake Shocks Accompany the Phenomenon.

Top of the Mountain Disappears and a New Peak Forms.

(By Associated Press.) TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 22.—Several slight shocks of earthquake were felt here early last evening. Windows were rattled throughout the city. The first shock was most severe, being accompanied by rumbling noises, and simultaneously a sheet of flame was observed in the eastern heavens. Several persons saw smoke issuing from Mount Tacoma yesterday morning.

Prof. F. C. Plummer, a local scientist, who has made a special study of earthquake phenomena in the Northwest, states that old Hixton, the oldest Indian in Puallup reservation, said, through an interpreter, before the Tacoma Academy of Science, on Feb. 6, 1893, that he had many times seen fire and smoke coming out of Mount Tacoma. Gen. John C. Fremont reported on Nov. 13, 1842, that Mount Tacoma was in eruption.

According to Prof. Holden, of the Link Observatory, a violent eruption of the mountain occurred Nov. 12, 1872. In May, 1890, rumblings of noise were heard issuing from the crater. On June 17, 1894, jets of steam were observed shooting upward from the mountain.

"It is interesting," said Prof. Plummer, "that several of the planets, including the earth, are at present in line, a fact which bears out the theory of Prof. Alexis Perry and others, that such conditions are favorable to earthquakes and volcanic phenomena. There have been 80 or far twenty-two large earthquakes throughout the world during October and November of the present year."

Mount Rainier (the official spelling, or Mount Tacoma from the Indians name meaning "Snowy Mountain"), is 14,441 feet high and overlooks the rest of the Cascade Range. It rises abruptly from the low forest lands, of which fifty-five miles are at present in line, a fact which bears out the theory of Prof. Alexis Perry and others, that such conditions are favorable to earthquakes and volcanic phenomena. There have been 80 or far twenty-two large earthquakes throughout the world during October and November of the present year."

The first attempt to climb the mountain was made by Dr. William Frazer (1833). He reached Tolmie Peak by way of Crater Lake, on the Northwest slope. Lieut. A. Y. Knott reached the South Peak in 1857. F. H. Van Trump and Hiram Stevens reached the Dome of Crater Lake in August, 1870, and the first ascent of the mountain was made by the late Capt. J. W. Meade in 1882. The first ascent of the mountain was made by the late Capt. J. W. Meade in 1882. The first ascent of the mountain was made by the late Capt. J. W. Meade in 1882.

One woman, Miss Fay Fuller, reached the summit in 1882. The mountain was named for Rear-Admiral Rainier, one of the British Lords of the Admiralty, it having been discovered by Vancouver in 1792. Gen. Fremont said it smoking in 1842 and referred to it as "Hixton." It had been named after Lieut. Regnier, of Marchand's expedition.

FIRST WEEK'S TREATMENT FREE.

AND NOT ONE PENNY TO PAY FOR A WEEK'S SUPPLY OF MEDICINES, EITHER.

Doctors McCoy and Snow Extend This Offer to the Public for the Next Two Weeks—Everybody, Rich and Poor Alike, is Welcome to Take Advantage of It, Without Incurring Any Obligation to Continue Treatment After the Free Week.

It may seem improbable, but it is true just the same, that during the next two weeks following the publication of this article all new patients applying in person for treatment at the offices of Doctors McCoy and Snow, 515 Madison Avenue and 853 Broadway, will receive advice, medicine and office treatment absolutely free for a period of one week—and a week at the end of a long-continued course of treatment, but a week beginning with their first visit. Not one penny required for consultation, advice or even the medicine prescribed, which will be equal in quality to that compounded by the best druggists.

WHAT IS THIS DONE FOR? A merchant doesn't hesitate to submit a sample of his goods to a customer, neither should a doctor of ability fail to offer a sample of his work if he is a skillful physician. Realizing this, Doctors McCoy and Snow offer their services free to all who apply during this limited period, in order to give the public an opportunity to decide for itself, without cost, whether their claims to skill are correct.

IT IS THE FIRST WEEK FREE. This offer is genuine and does not cover any deception of a catch-penny nature. It is not the least week free, nor the middle week free, but the First Week's Treatment, with medicine furnished free. If you are cured in one week, well and good, you have nothing to pay. You are welcome to come just the same. If after the free week is up you want to stop treatment you are equally welcome to come. If you desire to continue the treatment for the free week has expired you can do so.

DOCTORS M'COY AND SNOW, Office corner of 43d Street and Madison Avenue, opposite the Grand Central Station, and corner of 14th Street and Broadway, Domestic Sewing Machine Building, New York. Bomb in a Police Station. (By Associated Press.) SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 22.—It has just been learned that a bomb has been lying in the office of the chief of police for several weeks. It appeared to be a giant fire-cracker and was brought there by a German, who found it near the Oliver Childs Plough Works. It excited as much comment that Capt. Cassidy opened it and found that it contained powder and a stick of dynamite four inches long. Had it exploded it would have destroyed the station and endangered a number of lives.

A Successful Season Assured. The second season of the West Side Euchre Club opened under most favorable auspices at the residence of the President, Mrs. E. Helmsinger, 111 West Eighty-fifth Street, last evening. A good-sized party was in attendance despite the inclement weather and a most enjoyable evening was passed. The meeting will be held fortnightly until the end of the season.

Added from the meeting, Mrs. M. E. Newton as Vice-President and a few new members there are no changes in the club as it existed last year.

DIAMONDS. There never was a more advantageous time to buy diamonds than now. The advance in duty will make prices much higher. At our present prices an investment in diamonds will prove highly profitable. Take a look at them, whether you intend buying or not. We guarantee every article we sell. Diamonds, Watches, Rings and Fancy Jewelry.
