FATHER DUCEY AT THE HEARING.

The Priest Attends the Lexow Session in Defiance of Archbishop Corrigan.

BIG SENSATIONS EXPECTED.

The Air Has Been Filled with Rumors Since the Last Adjournment.

BYRNES AND MARTIN SPOKE OF.

Report that They Will Be Called in the "Going Up Higher" Process.

Renewed interest was attached to the reopening of the Lexow Committee's session to-day, by the fact that Father Ducey was among the auditors.

Last month the priest received a letter from Archbishop Corrigan commanding him not to attend any further hearings. His presence to-day is, therefore, a defiance of the Archbishop's command.

The announcement that the Lexow Committee would convene to-day and resume its investigation of police corruption was sufficient to bring together an audience in the upper corridors of the Court-House this morning.

The public has been led to believe that during the intermission of nearly a month Mr. Goff and his assistants had been industriously engaged in ferreting out new witnesses, and that they would have evidence to present to the Committee when it resumed its labors quite as startling as any which has yet been brought out by the inquiry.

The counsel for the Committee, however, have steadily refused to divulge any of their plans or talk of the result of their efforts to bring out new evidence of rottenness in the Police Department, and while rumors that the chief inquirer would certainly "go up higher" after the election was over, have been plentiful, no one has been able to obtain the slightest information as to where he will begin, or what direction the inquiry will take.

Byrnes and Martin Mentioned. It has been said that Supt. Byrnes would be one of the first witnesses called, and that President "Jimmy" Martin, of the Police Board, another shining mark for Mr. Goff, who has never had a "go" at the big chief, although Brother Byrnes has been called out successfully during the early sessions of the Committee.

When Commissioner Sheehan was permitted to retire, Mr. Goff intimated that he would probably require his attendance again, and that the same witnesses are also within the scope of the Committee's probing powers, another extensive and rich field for investigation may be opened up.

It was well understood, too, that when the Committee took its recess a month ago a lot of odds and ends remained to be cleared up, which Mr. Goff said would have to be over until the post-election session. Many witnesses who had been summoned and who had attended the session could not be called for lack of time.

Mrs. Thurrow and Others. Besides this, it is said that the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Augustus Thurrow will receive attention, and that Mrs. Bell's attempt at suicide will be inquired into, and Mrs. Sallade, who has been waging a bitter and desperate fight against the Tenderloin, wants to tell the Committee what she knows about the history of police officials.

The Tenderloin precinct has escaped lightly this far, and it has always been supposed that the history of corrupt official practices which has been conducted in that wicked quarter of the town.

Although the convening of the Committee was 10 o'clock, P. M. of the Superior Court was almost deserted at that time.

Senator O'Connor First. The first member to arrive was Senator O'Connor, who came in about 10:30, and was shortly followed by Chairman Lexow, who had been in the city and looked as if he was prepared for an indefinite session.

We shall certainly hit as many days as we can get together during the month and so far as I know, the investigation will continue in the lines which have already been taken up," said he.

"I do not know exactly what plans Mr. Goff has for our meeting, but I believe more testimony will be received on the question of police protection to disorderly houses."

A number of hastily dressed women came in in mass lines and had been escorted to seats in the witness's corner by Sergeant-at-Arms Schram, which gave ground to the suspicion that a large number of policemen in uniform were also on hand, but no prominent officials of the Department had appeared.

Chairman Lexow further stated that the committee would undoubtedly inquire into the methods and practices of the police officers of the city before long, but no special programs had been arranged for the opening of the inquiry.

"We shall take up the matter whenever a point of interest is suggested, and we will have in the past and detail in the Police Court end of the investigation into the main inquiry to save time."

Father Ducey Arrives. When Father Ducey arrived he went to his usual place. "I've served your chair for you, sir," he remarked to the witness, and the priest turned around to his customary seat in front of the bench.

JOHN BURNS HAS ARRIVED.

England's Labor Leader Receives a Warm Welcome in America.

HIS STYLE AND APPEARANCE.

Comes Here to Talk on the Best Features of Trades Unionism.

HIS IDEAS AND OPINIONS.

He Would Have Workmen Get Together Aside from Politics to Discuss Issues.

I will stand as the enemy of the jobber, the sinner, the sweeter and the petty trader, and as the advocate of healthy homes, shorter hours and living rates of wages. JOHN BURNS, his sentiments.

Honest John Burns, famed to the depths and lauded to the skies—estimates equally extravagant by the extremists of Great Britain and Ireland, arrived in New York yesterday. The old Etruria crawled up the North River through a fog that made the visible waterway narrower than a Broadway pavement. She was many hours late, but Mr. Burns had been "in the hands of his friends" from Quarantine up, and was not lonely.

A crowd greeted the drizzle of the pier and a brass band kept dry in the shed. Mr. Burns, member of Parliament and member of the London County Council, walked down the gangway, followed by David Hoimes and John Williams Benn, M. P., Samuel Gompers, and a host of other labor leaders. Mr. Burns is a man of a commanding presence, with a head that thinks and hands that work. He is a man of a commanding presence, with a head that thinks and hands that work.

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 2.—According to the semi-official press, Japan has decided to insist upon heavy conditions of peace, which will be increased as the war is prolonged. If the war was concluded at the present time, Japan would accept an indemnity of 400,000,000 yen and the cession of the territory now occupied by her forces.

Top much weight should not be attached to the Chinese overtures for peace, for it is believed that Japan will be required to give her enemy further proof of the power of Japan in order that the Chinese people may learn that their government sued for peace.

If Taku and Shan-Hai-Kwan cannot be attacked this winter, owing to the severity of the climate, the war will be carried on in other populous parts of China. No armistice will be granted, unless China formally sues for peace and surrenders Peking to the Japanese or gives other pledges in proportion to the demands of Japan.

JAPAN'S CONDITIONS. IS STEAMER KENMORE LOST?

China Must Pay for Prolonging the War. May Have Been the Vessel Struck by the Albertaine.

Winter Won't Cause a Cessation of Hostilities. Wreckage of a Passenger Steamer of That Name Found.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—A despatch from Yarmouth announces that a large passenger steamer has been sunk in collision. The steamer Albertaine, from Shields bound to the port, arrived at Yarmouth to-day with her bows completely stove in and leaking badly.

Her commander reported that she was in collision yesterday with a large passenger steamer. The Albertaine struck the passenger steamer amidships and the latter disappeared in the fog, which enveloped that part of the coast all day yesterday.

The Albertaine, in spite of her damaged bow, remained about the spot where the collision occurred and searched for the vessel she had collided with. No trace of the steamer could be found, however, and it is supposed she has foundered.

A life-buoy and four steamer's hatches marked Kenmore were washed ashore near Yarmouth to-day. The steamer Kenmore left Shields on Nov. 13 for Carthagen. Several other collisions and wrecks of small steamers are reported to have occurred during the fog yesterday.

GEORGIA FARMER MURDERED.

His Daughter Drives Off the Negro Who Killed Him.

NEWMAN, Ga., Dec. 2.—Joe Bean, a negro, went to the house of A. B. Leigh, a farmer, twelve miles from here, last Saturday night and told him one of his crop-pers was very sick and wanted medicine. Half an hour later Bean came back for Mrs. or Mrs. Leigh. The woman suspected something was wrong, and her suspicions were corroborated by Bean displaying a revolver. Quick as a flash she fired at the negro, who fled. Her father's shotgun and ordered the negro out.

A man fired at but missed her. Millie fled, but the gun failed. The negro ran out of the house and fired at her again. She was wounded in the back and the father was found, his head crushed and his body mangled in nine places. The negro is being pursued.
