

BROOKLYN.

EVERY ACT WAS DISHONEST.

McKane, Newton and Sutherland Swindled Even in Ios.

Now They Are Accused of Perjury, Swindling and Jugglery.

When John Y. McKane and ex-Justices of the Peace Richard V. H. Newton and "Kenny" Sutherland were released from prison, they may have to stand trial for swindling, perjury and unlawfully juggling accounts. Niper & Vaughan, of Brooklyn, made a discovery to-day that this Gravesend trio, while at the head of the Hygienic Ice Company, of Coney Island, defrauded many creditors with false reports. Notes were floated for thousands of dollars and many raised.

Niper & Vaughan represent Herbert S. Worthley, who was appointed by Justice Gaynor as receiver for the ice company. The corporation was formed by John Y. McKane, Newton and Sutherland. McKane was President. He persuaded Stryker Williamson to join the enterprise. Mr. Williamson had nothing to do with the funds. McKane advertised falsely that the stock had been paid in and the capital was $50,000. Not a penny of the stock was paid in, unless Mr. Williamson invested money in the enterprise on the strength of McKane's statements. The company, or rather Williamson to join McKane, Newton and Sutherland, raised money for operating expenses. McKane, it is said, used the funds of Gravesend to build the plant. He owes many thousands of dollars to firms in New York for machinery.

Everything purchased and every dollar expended by McKane, it has been discovered, was money obtained under false pretenses. McKane was ordered to sign, none of the creditors agreed to press their claims. The last report made out by the ex-Czar, on Jan. 1, 1894, showed that Newton, Sutherland and himself had about $100,000 in the assets of the company. McKane, Newton and Sutherland, it is alleged, committed perjury in every report they made.

Lawyers Niper & Vaughan will visit McKane in his cell, but hope to get very little information.

SHE SHOOTS AT YACHTSMEN.

That's How Miss Mary McKenzie Is Said to Enjoy Herself.

Denise H. Hann and Elwood Valentine, members of the Hempstead Harbor Yacht Club, called upon District Attorney Noble, of Long Island City, to-day, and asked to have Miss Mary McKenzie, of Glen Cove, indicted.

Their complaint dates back to July 9, 1892, when Miss McKenzie was accused of firing several shots at members on their way to their yachts at Carver's Point. Miss McKenzie was convicted of assault. She appealed, and Judge Claryton held that the police jurisdiction had no jurisdiction. She sued Justice Claryton for false arrest. The action is pending. Miss McKenzie is single, about forty years old and lives with her mother. She is noted as an expert shot with pistol and rifle.

McKane's Friend Newton's Luck. Ex-Justice R. V. Newton, one of John Y. McKane's followers, now living at the State's expense, revival news in prison on Thanksgiving Day that he was a father. Newton was severely punished a short time before his trial. His prison term expires Dec. 21.

HELD UP BY ROBBERS.

Brooklyn Highwaymen Go Boldly Through Andrew D. Smith.

Andrew D. Smith, of 682 Herkimer street, Brooklyn, a collector for his father-in-law, James S. Weedon, a well-to-do real estate owner, was held up in a dark alley shortly before midnight, hooded and robbed of $50. He thinks he was attacked by three men, but owing to the darkness he was unable to distinguish them well enough to enable him to identify them.

As he was going through an alley at 155 Dean street, to reach a tenant in a rear house, he was suddenly seized from behind and held fast, while an old coat was thrown over his head. The man who held him rendered him helpless by pressing his arms close to his body. He felt with it, and sent him reeling to the sidewalk.

Another highway robbery was reported at 2 o'clock this morning by John C. Haggerty, of 324 Baltic street. Mr. Haggerty was walking along Jay street, a few minutes before a man appeared and struck him a stinging blow in the face. As he fell against a railing his assailant grabbed his gold watch and chain, worth $100, and ran away. Detective Smith, who was on duty, arrested "Thieves" were quite active last night in all sections of the city, and as a result, the police are to-day searching for stolen property.

Liquor War in Long Island City Getting to Be Warm.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Dec. 4.—The three hundred and odd saloon-keepers of this city are agitated over the Sunday crusade inaugurated by Mayor H. S. Sanford.

Last night clergymen rallied to the Mayor's support, and with two-score of citizens held a meeting in Smithsonian's Hall. The Liquor Dealers' Association, unaware of the proposed meeting of the clergy, met and adopted a resolution to furnish members counsel if arrested, and to pay fines.

Saloon-keepers have ordered cards placed conspicuously in every saloon, stating that no liquor, wine, beer or ale will be sold here, and that any person imposing a penalty of $25 on any member.

The Common Cold

Is often due, not to exposure, but to an impure condition of the blood. In any event it may prove a serious barrier. It may end in a settled case of catarrh, that most torturing, distressing and catarrh frequently leads to bronchitis or consumption. The only safe way is to purify the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures Catarrh because it reaches the seat of the disease. Begin now to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and you will speedily gain the benefit of the entire system. Hood's Pills are the best for biliousness, acid digestion, prevent constipation.

BROKE INTO THE HOUSE.

Young Price Arrested Upon Complaint of His Father.

Richard Price, eighteen years old, of 108 Fourteenth street, Brooklyn, was held for the Grand Jury by Justice Tighe in the Butler Street Police Court this morning, for breaking into his father's house.

Charles Price, the father, said his son was a bad boy, and that he could do nothing with him. He had ordered the boy to keep away from the house, but last night his son gained an entrance by tearing off the blind and kicking in the door of a basement window. The elder Price then called in Policeman Kane, of the Fifth avenue station, who took the boy to the station house.

Young Price has but one arm. He told Justice Tighe that sometime ago he lost the other one while at work in a starch factory. A suit for damages was brought and the boy said his father collected the money and then turned him out.

MANGLED ON THE RAIL.

An Old Man Killed While on His Way to Work.

Robert West, sixty years old, a wealthy resident of Berlin Village, L. I., was struck by a Long Island Railroad train near Penny Bridge early this morning, and instantly killed. The body was horribly mangled.

West was proprietor of a pork-packing establishment at Twenty-second street and Third avenue, South Brooklyn. He was crossing the tracks on his way to work when killed. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

Pepper in Star Boarder's Eyes.

Miss Mary Casey, of 514 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn, runs a boarding-house. Charles Davis was star boarder. He showed up for Mrs. Casey not Davis on the street and dunned him. He declined to pay. Mrs. Casey threw pepper in Davis's eyes. Mrs. Casey was held today in Kewen Street Court.

$1,000 BUT NO HUSBAND.

Miss Gardt Wins Her Breach of Promise Suit Against Hahn.

Miss Elise Gardt, of 222 East Thirty-second street, was today awarded by a Sheriff's jury $1,000, in per action brought by Counselor August P. Wagner, in the Court of Common Pleas, against Greener Peter Hahn, of 247 Third avenue, for breach of promise.

Miss Gardt claims she became acquainted with Peter Hahn some years ago, being introduced in her aunt's house. The acquaintance ripened into love, and their marriage was fixed to take place in September, 1901. She says that Hahn absconded with her $1,000, and then she began the present suit for damages. The defendant had appeared in the judgment was granted by default.

NEW JERSEY.

MRS. HOUSE IS INSANE.

Had Eight Husbands and Was Divorced Three Times.

(Special to The Evening World.) TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 4.—A jury of twenty-four men and a commission of three men, appointed by order of the Court of Chancery, has adjudged Irene A. V. House insane and incapable of taking charge of her own affairs.

Mrs. House has had eight husbands during her life of fifty years. Her first husband was Charles Anderson, who is now an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Newark. From this marriage there was one child, William Anderson, who is now in California.

The present charges are brought by Paul K. Holman, her seventh husband, who contends that his wife and the man whom she now claims as her husband, Harry G. Carson, a telegraph operator, committed an assault upon him. Both are in the County Jail awaiting trial.

Since the jury's verdict is to the effect that she is insane it is probable that she may be sent to the asylum without further ado.

Mrs. House, as she is generally called, had an adventurous career. She is said to have killed Lawyer Orsen House, of Jersey City, in 1876, after having been married to him for a short time.

She then she married five times and has won three divorces out of five contests.

She has been an inveterate letter-writer, and among those to whom she wrote were Robert G. Ingersoll, Chauncey Depew, President Cleveland, Secretary Gresham and many others. In her letters she was full of wit, energy and her experiences many fold because of her idiosyncrasies.

TWO TRAINS WRECKED.

This Time It is on the Lehigh Valley Carlessness Route. (Special to The Evening World.) FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 4.—A wreck in which Francis N. Steckel, a brakeman, may lose his life occurred on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Ne-shanic about 4 o'clock this morning.

A coal train drawn by engine 412 stopped to take water at the tank. No flagman was sent back to give notice of danger. Soon a deafening crash was heard, and No. 380, drawing a heavily loaded coal train running at the rate of forty miles an hour, was seen running head-long into the rear end of the first train. Twenty cars and the locomotive were piled in a tangled mass. Coal was strewn along the track for about one eighth of a mile and traffic was delayed five hours.

Francis W. Steckel, a brakeman, who was sitting in the caboose of the first train, was thrown down a steep embankment. Medical assistance was summoned, and the injured man was soon taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem. He received internal injuries.
