WE HAVE THE LARGEST STOCK OF DIAMONDS IN THE WORLD.
We are the original diamond cutters in this country. We cut the prices of diamonds and this is the only diamond cutting the purchasers appreciate. During the panic we bought diamonds for spot cash at our own price, and combined with our very low rent and moderate expense, that is why we can and are selling at such phenomenally low prices. PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS TO SEE LOVELY SIGHTS, FOR THE PRICE OF CAR FARE YOU CAN BEHOLD THE GRANDEST DISPLAY OF DIAMOND AND WATCHES YOU EVER SAW. IF YOU DO NOT CARE TO PURCHASE, IT WILL REPAI THE TROUBLE OF A VISIT TO HAVE A LOOK AT THE GLORIOUS SIGHT AND FEAST YOUR EYES UPON DIAMONDS TO THE VALUE OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS. And those who have visited our SARATOGA BRANCH STORE can bear witness to this fact. For the past twenty-five years we have sold diamonds and watches in the aggregate amount of one hundred millions of dollars. That is sufficient proof that we are selling nothing but the best grades at the lowest prices, otherwise we could not have done such a gigantic business. The name of our firm has been a household word throughout the United States for the last quarter of a century.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

McKANE'S PAL A FREE MAN.
Richard V. B. Newton Released from the Kings County Penitentiary.
HURRIED OFF TO GRAVESEND.
Impatient to Greet His Sick Wife and the Baby He Had Never Seen.

Richard V. B. Newton, once John V. McKane's right-hand man, who was sentenced to the Kings County Penitentiary for nine months for ballot-box stuffing and other crimes against the election laws in Gravesend, walked out of the prison at 5 o'clock this morning as a free man.

As Newton passed through the gate to the carriage which was waiting to take him to Coney Island, he looked like a well-to-do business man or a lawyer, which he is.

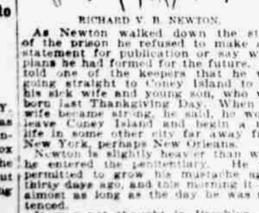

He shook hands with the keepers and jumped into the carriage, where a friend had been waiting for him.

Newton might have left the penitentiary at 5 o'clock this morning, but he waited to see Warden Patrick Hayes, who had paid his fine of $750, which was a part of his sentence. Five hundred dollars of the fine was imposed by Justice Brown in the Supreme Court for aiding McKane to hide the registry lists, and the remainder was Justice Brown's sentence for contempt of court when McKane and Newton declared "intentionally don't go."

A train came at 5 o'clock this morning with the other inmates confined in the long-term prison and fled out to take his last breakfast in the penitentiary. After breakfast, by special permission of Warden Hayes, McKane and Newton were allowed to see his two friends, Kenneth F. Sutherland and Scott Jamieson, who still have long sentences to serve for aiding Newton and McKane in their crimes.

He bade Sutherland and Jamieson good-bye, and then donned his citizen's clothing. Several days ago he had ordered a complete new suit, but as it was not ready in time he wore the same suit which he had when he entered the prison, but he wore new patent-leather shoes, a new derby hat and a new necktie.

At 8 o'clock the guard at the front door of the prison notified Newton that his carriage was waiting. The convict was then conducted to Warden Hayes's office, where he paid his fine and talked for a few minutes. He thanked the Warden for the privileges which had been allowed him during his stay.

As Newton walked down the steps of the prison he refused to make any statement for publication or say what charge he had incurred for the future. He told one of the keepers that he was perturbed to know his marriage had failed, and that he was sorry to see his sick wife and young son, who was born last Thanksgiving Day. When his wife became stricken, he said, he would leave Coney Island and begin a new life in some other city far away from New York, perhaps New Orleans.

Newton is slightly heavier than when he entered the penitentiary. He was perturbed to know his marriage had failed, and that he was sorry to see his sick wife and young son, who was born last Thanksgiving Day. When his wife became stricken, he said, he would leave Coney Island and begin a new life in some other city far away from New York, perhaps New Orleans.

It was not thought in Brooklyn this morning that Newton would be welcomed by McKane's friends at Coney Island to-day, as they regard him in the light of an informer. For this reason there is not likely to be any demonstration when he arrives home outside of his own family and a few friends.

Took Him for a Preacher.
A solemn-looking man called on ex-Assemblyman J. J. Black, of 72 Bowditch avenue, Brooklyn, Tuesday evening, and mistaking Black for the Rev. Mr. Blake of a neighboring church, said he had a message from a friend made over the visitors' table. The ex-Assemblyman nearly dropped dead with surprise.

Thirty Years of Church Work.
Rev. John W. Chadwick will complete thirty years of active service as pastor of the Second Unitarian Church, Brooklyn, on Friday next. On Sunday he will preach an anniversary sermon, and his parishioners will celebrate the event with a reception to him.

German-American Election.
The complete returns, made up this morning from the primary of the German-American Union in the Seventeenth Assembly District, show that Frederick Schuler, of Brooklyn, an Assembly District President instead of August Gutz, as announced last night.

AN EXPLOSION IN BROOKLYN.

A Train Laid from Escaping Gas to Carboys of Naphtha.

Firemen Had a Narrow Escape, but Were Unhurt.

Firebugs made a fiendish attempt to blow up a building at 240 Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, at an early hour this morning. Several gallons of naphtha were poured into the cellar, attached a fuse to the service pipe and trailed it along the floor for several feet into a carboy of naphtha. There were two more carboys of naphtha a short distance away. Then, when they were ready to leave they set fire to the stream of escaping gas. Another fire was started in the hallway on the first floor.

While the firemen were at work extinguishing the flames one of the naphtha tanks exploded, but they fortunately escaped injury.

The building is a three-story brick structure, and is surrounded by other buildings and is only two doors distant from a large wholesale grocery store.

The explosion occurred at about 12:30 o'clock this morning. Policeaman Walsh saw smoke issuing from the cellar grate. He found the premises locked, and called the firemen.

The building is owned by Mr. Watson, who lives on Putnam avenue, near Grand avenue. The damage will not exceed $100, and it is a stock suffered $100 damage by water.

"DON'T PAY PAWNBROKERS."

Justice Hogan Recovers Stolen Spoons Without Remuneration.

Frank Collier, a salesman employed by the Gorham Manufacturing Company, of 98 Broadway, was held in $300 bail at Jefferson Market Police Court to-day on a charge of petty larceny. The complainant was Benjamin Le Cato, manager for the Gorham Company. He said the firm had missed $20 worth of silver spoons, and the theft was traced to Collier, who had pawned them. Collier had been employed by the firm for a good many years.

Le Cato was a witness before the Lexow Committee, and testified that his firm had paid money to pawnbrokers to recover stolen property. He told Justice Hogan to-day that he had been severely criticised for his testimony admitting payments to pawnbrokers to recover stolen property.

Justice Hogan intimated that the criticism was just, and advised Le Cato not to play in future. He sent an officer with Cato to recover the spoons, and told him not to pay the pawnbroker for them.

Two Treasurers Short in Accounts.

ELLSWORTH, Kas., Dec. 21.—The expert examination of the books of ex-County Treasurer James J. Dick has not yet been completed. The shortage in the books of the Treasurer of Bureau County, was made known yesterday. The announcement came from Henderson himself. He turned over some property to trustees appointed by his bondsmen. The net deficit is about $2,000, which it thought will be covered by more personal property yet to be turned over.

Who Hid Greenberg's Goods?

Thomas Greenberg, a shoe merchant, of 14 Jacob street, who assigned for the benefit of his creditors last May, was held yesterday by Justice Burke in $1,000 bail for examination on the charge of having illegally secured or disposed of a large amount of goods, which was known to be in his store before he assigned, and which could not afterwards be found by his creditors.

Butcher and the Rat Gang.

Frederick Lucht, a butcher, of 141 Perry street, while driving one of his wagons along North avenue, near Twenty-seventh street, last night was attacked by two men, who climbed over the seat beside him, and tried to pick his pockets. Lucht managed to frighten the thieves away before they could do any harm. They are supposed to be members of the "Rat" gang.

MISS MURRAY'S BALL.

"Pop" Jones Did His Botchie Act and Ended the Festivities.

When Miss Murray notified all her 4,000 friends in "Negro Terrace" that last night she was to give a grand entertainment in her room on the third floor, back at 231 West Sixty-second street, she could not have had an idea that she was issuing invitations for a bloody tray.

But these were a great many who would not be asked. Among them were Henry Jones, who is called "Pop." Nobody knows exactly how he got in.

It was a great entertainment. There were singing and dancing; there were a bank and bones. Gerie Downes did a wing dance, and Joe Hinks gave his funny stump speech.

During the evening Miss Murray worried a great deal because the chief guest did not come. This was Willis Haskins, who lives on the same floor with Miss Murray. It was after 2 o'clock this morning when Haskins put in an appearance. Almost the first thing he said was, "What's he doing here?" he asked Miss Murray.

"I guess Miss Smith let him in," Miss Smith is the housekeeper.

Haskins had a pocket full of money, seventy-five cents from the pocket of his vest. He went to the door and said, "My six bits."

"What was trouble, Jones asked someone to hold him but that he would not hit anybody. But everybody was busy trying to hold Haskins in an effort to prevent him from hitting Jones with an axe. Tall George" finally held Haskins next door. It was while he was doing so that "Pop" Jones crept slowly up behind and struck Haskins over the head with a bottle. It was a heavy bottle and it smashed in a hundred pieces. The blood gushed from Haskins' head. Haskins picked up a chair and promptly knocked "Pop" down. He lay on the floor seemingly unconscious, with the other standing over him ready to give him another crack at the first move. Then Haskins said:

"I've killed him, take him out." Three men caught hold of the prostrate man and drag him out, when he jumped up and made a dash for the door. The party was broken up.

When Haskins had lost so much blood he was unable to grow dizzy. "Tall George" took him to Roosevelt Hospital. Then the police heard of it. Patrolman "Pop" Jones went to every body denied that there had been any unusual trouble in the house, except Haskins, and he was in bed.

He didn't want to make a complaint, he said. All he wanted, he told the police, was for someone to catch "Pop" Jones and just bring him and Haskins up in a room. "The boys" said Haskins, "I'll go in that room and you can have the ambulance at the door."

LIKE THE OSTRICH.

An Eagle Which Eats All Day and Makes Its Owner Poor.

Francis L. Walker, who lives at Merrick, L. I., has an eagle on his hands and doesn't know what to do with it. The bird eats two pounds of meat daily, and like the omniscient ostrich, is slowly but surely making its owner poor. If the eagle doesn't stop eating Walker says he will either cut down the rations or twist its neck, so he can have it stuffed with hay instead of bones, and set it up on a mantel in the front parlor.

The bird was captured two weeks ago. It was about to carry a chicken away for a light lunch, when Walker got his gun and put a load of birdshot in its wing. The eagle measures 7 feet 3 inches from tip to tip.

ALL WEARY OF LIFE.

William Schmelzer, a cigar-maker, of 21 First street, attempted to kill himself last night with a pistol. He is in Bellevue Hospital and probably will die.

Schmelzer lodged with Wilhelm Kunz, and while he had a trade he seldom worked. He was presumed to be an Anarchist.

About 9 o'clock P. M. Kunz and Schmelzer were conversing. Kunz left the room for the back yard. A few minutes later he heard the report of a pistol. He found Schmelzer lying in the middle of the floor with a revolver in his hand. He was bleeding all over his face.

As Kunz appeared Schmelzer pointed the pistol at him and fired, but the bullet went wide of his mark.

Policeaman James, of the Fifth street station, summoned an ambulance and the injured man was removed to the hospital.

Paul Thymount, thirty-five years old, a variety actor, was found dead in his room at 121 East Twelfth street last night. Thymount owned the room. Wednesday night and paid for it in advance. Early last evening the odor of gas was traced to Thymount's room. When the door was broken open the new lodger was found to be dead. Thymount was also a female impersonator. It is believed he committed suicide.

HUCKLEBERRY ROADIN COURT.

Edward B. Hess's Suit Falls to Reach the Jury.

The suit of Edward B. Hess against the Thomson-Houston Electric Company for $50,000 was resumed to-day before Justice Williams and a jury.

Mr. Hess alleges that in 1890 the Company agreed to pay him a commission of 5 per cent. for electric appliances purchased by the surface roads above the Harlem River. He declares he induced the "Huckleberry" Railroad to adopt the Thomson-Houston system, and to purchase about $1,000,000 worth.

The Company, on the contrary, claims the contracts with the "Huckleberry" road were not made through the efforts or influence of Hess.

At the conclusion of the plaintiff's testimony, on motion of the defendant's counsel Justice Williams dismissed the suit.
