SHERIFF'S FRIENDS JURORS.

In Spite of that Fact They Voted Unanimously to Indict the Official.

EX-KEEPER SCHOEN ARRESTED.

"It has always been the policy of Col. Fellows," said one of the assistants, "when an official or man of high standing was about to be indicted..."

THE MACHINE IS O. K.

It Did Beautiful Work in the Tammany Primaries Last Night.

Respectable Element Wasn't Opposed in Some of the Districts.

These May Grow Aggressive When the Tiger Shows His Claws.

The Tammany machine got in some beautiful work last night. In every one of the thirty-four Assembly Districts where primaries were held the leaders, who had either compelled the organization to recognize their claims by the might of right, or those who were favored by the right of might, were returned...

The seven or ten districts, as the case may be, are until then to be regarded as conservatively independent. Perhaps they may be opened up to aggressive work by the machine...

EVERY ONE HAS PITY.

Sympathizers with Maria Barberi All Over the Country.

"Would Not Have Been Convicted in Kentucky," Writes One.

Over 40,000 Signers of Petitions for Clemency Up to Date.

The number of signers to the petitions for executive clemency for Maria Barberi, under sentence of death for slaying her faithless lover, has reached over 40,000. The wave of sympathy in her behalf is extending over the country, and requests for blank petitions have been received from as far away as Kentucky.

In the mean time, the unfortunate girl has been made as comfortable as possible in Sing Sing Prison. Mrs. Sage, wife of the Warden, has furnished her with clothing, and she passes her time doing fancy work and attempting to study the English language. Her endeavors in the latter direction have developed that she is not the dull, ignorant girl she has been pictured, but a gentle and lovable young woman, with a retiring manner and frank disposition.

Lawyer Evans, her counsel, has received a petition in her behalf from Rev. Robert Collyer, of the Church of the Messiah, and other petitions containing the names of many well-known clergymen. W. C. Smith, of the Louisville, Ky., Board of Trade, in a request for blank petitions, writes that Maria would have been convicted in Kentucky.

A concert and exhibition of pictures was given last night at Mrs. De Leffew-Dodge's studio, 58 West 10th Street, for the benefit of the girl's parents. A number of well-known artists volunteered their services and a handsome sum was realized.

A movement was on foot for a monster public benefit for the unfortunate girl, but Mayor Strong yesterday declined to grant the necessary permit, fearing that it might be construed as an official act favoring a pardon for her.

It is expected by the girl's confidants that Maria will appear and testify if the Court of Appeals grants her a new trial. It is claimed that she only absents herself now from a fear of confinement in the House of Detention, but will be here when wanted.

"I have seen so much in the newspapers of late about the various funds that are being raised to fight Maria Barberi's case in the upper courts," said an Assistant District-Attorney yesterday. "I think it about time that the public understood that this money is not such expenses in the case of a defendant who has assigned counsel. I cannot understand what this money is for, unless it is to pay the expenses of their lawyers—say about $5 or $10."

"I have as much sympathy for that girl as any one, but I do not think it right that the public should be led to subscribe to a fund under false ideas of what it is to be used for," said another Assistant District-Attorney, who said that the lawyers have given the impression that it will cost a great deal of money to carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

STATEN ISLAND FENCE WAR.

County Authorities and a Railroad Company Clash.

There is a fence war on between the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company and the Richmond County authorities. At 1 o'clock this morning County Engineer Morrison, accompanied by a gang of laborers and a large force of police under command of Chief Blake, went to Jay street, St. George, where the Rapid Transit Company had erected the wire fence after the county authorities had removed it on the ground that it was an obstruction to the public highway.

The county engineer directed his men to again demolish the fence, which they did in short order. None of the railroad employees was present and there was no trouble. The County Engineer claims that the fence encroached about sixteen feet on the public highway and had no right to be there.

At 6 o'clock this morning a gang of Italian laborers in the employ of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company again began to erect the fence, and by 8 o'clock the fence was up again. It still remains standing on the highway and has no right to be there.

The county authorities say that the Rapid Transit Company has no right to erect the fence on the public highway, and that it has done so for the purpose of trying to prevent the Staten Island Electric Railway Company from building its tracks on Jay street.

Later Engineer Morrison went to Brooklyn this morning to apply for an injunction restraining the Rapid Transit Company from again erecting the fence. After securing the injunction the present fence will be removed.

Schooner Clara A. Phinzer Floated Off Without Damage. The schooner, Clara A. Phinzer, which arrived this morning from Charleston, went ashore on the point of Sandy Hook while entering port, but floated off in a short time without assistance and without any apparent damage.

Richard Pyne Falls from the Third Floor and Kills Himself. Richard Pyne, forty years old, who lives on the top floor of the three-story brick dwelling at 27 Monroe street, fell from a front window to the sidewalk about 1 o'clock this morning and received injuries from which he subsequently died at Gouverneur Hospital.

The policeman who reported the matter to the Madison street station said that he saw a skeleton fall out of the window while he was asleep.

Mr. Pyne's eighteen-year-old son reported that his father was in the business of manufacturing suits at 8 West Fourteenth street.

LIKE THE DR. DRUG ROBBERY.

Police Capture Two Daring Furnished Rm Highwaymen.

They Successfully Tackled Two Victims the Same Evening.

Although the police of the East Twenty-second street station have in custody the two men who caused such excitement Monday night by luring a physician and an actor to their room and robbing them, they have not yet got over their astonishment at the audacity of the affair.

When they heard a week ago that a physician had been decoyed to a vacant house in Brooklyn and robbed by two men, they laughed and said such a thing could not happen here. Yet such a robbery did take place and it was even of a more daring nature.

The first victim, who told his tale of outrage to Capt. Smith, Monday night, was Dr. Lawrence Coffin, of 423 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn. He said that he came over to New York during the day and while walking down Sixth avenue about 7 o'clock, he was stopped by a well-dressed young man, who called him a doctor and said he had been a former patient.

The doctor did not know him, but the young man was so affable that he fell into conversation. At Twenty-second street the young man said he would have to go home for a few minutes and asked the physician to accompany him.

The young man led the way into the house No. 17 East Twenty-second street and into a back room. The doctor followed and entered the room when another man jumped out of a closet, threw his arms around him, and asked for a few minutes and asked the physician to accompany him.

The physician had scarcely left the station-house when George Crater, an actor, of 68 West Twenty-first street, entered with a similar story of robbery. He said he was standing at Twenty-second street and Fourth avenue when a well-dressed young man approached him and called him by name, claiming to be a brother actor.

Crater told the same story of being led to the Twenty-second street house, where he was robbed in a similar manner of $100 in money, some notes and a contract which he had just signed.

Detectives found that at East Twenty-second street was a furnished-room house run by Mrs. George Prater, who said she had two men named Clark and Leonard who had been in the room until Wednesday night, when they were captured. In the Yorkville Court yesterday they were held in $2,000 bail. Both were fully identified.

They gave their names as Henry Leonard, twenty years old, of 22 West Thirty-sixth street, an actor, and William Clark, twenty-one years old, a bartender, of 57 Hudson street.
