

ETHIOPIA IS IN PORT.

Long Overdue Steamer Has Arrived and Stops at Quarantine.

The Anchor line steamer Ethiopia, which sailed from Glasgow for this port on Jan. 12, and for the safety of which grave fears were entertained, reached here this afternoon and came slowly up to Quarantine, opposite which she anchored before proceeding to her pier on the North River.

Great relief was felt in marine circles at the arrival of the liner, for the State of Nebraska, which was also overdue and which only reached here this morning, encountered one of the most severe storms known on the Atlantic in many years.

NEBRASKA SAFE HERE.

Long Delayed Ocean Liner Arrives in Port After Bitter Experience.

After a tempestuous voyage of twenty days on the storm-swept Atlantic, during which time she was battered by angry waves and buffeted by violent adverse winds, the Allan-Scott line steamer Ethiopia, which sailed from Glasgow for this port on Jan. 12, and for the safety of which grave fears were entertained, reached here this afternoon and came slowly up to Quarantine, opposite which she anchored before proceeding to her pier on the North River.

"The most voyage in the history of the line," said Chief Engineer Middleman, whose work saved the ship. "Just a series of accidents, while the ship was tossed about helplessly by tremendous westerly gales and cross seas."

"We sailed on the 11th from Greenock. We had scarcely got away on the tail of the bank when we fouled the anchor and cable of a man-of-war, and it took us three hours to get clear."

"We struck tremendous gales and seas as soon as we got into blue water. The ship staggered about almost beyond control. Often she was on her beam ends. Sheer seventy-five feet high dashed over us going clean over the funnels. See how they are incensed with salt to the very top."

"On the 11th the piston rod, which had been showing signs of weakness, broke and we were helpless."

"With four assistants I went at the engine. It was a terrible thing to do, for the ship was threatening about helplessly, and the men were often thrown down and injured or hurt by flying parts of the metal work."

"After many hours of heroic work they got the break repaired temporarily. We then staggered along at slow speed for six days, when the piston rod broke again."

"The same desperate fight was repeated, with the same half success. Four days ago the rod broke for the third time. Altogether we were two weeks at the mercy of the sea."

"The passengers behaved splendidly. Luckily there were only fifty on board, of whom three were in the first and four in the second cabin. Seven of these were women, and one of the first-class passengers was a woman. If possible they were even more courageous than the men."

BILLS OF FACTORIES.

Inspector Williams Makes Report, Quoting The Evening World—Overwork is a Spoiler.

John Williams, the factory inspector, has made his report, which is the fourteenth annual one of its sort. It fills 80 pages and contains a mass of statistics bearing on the various industries of the State of New York and gives in detail the work of the department during the year.

During the year the Department found 20,191 children between fourteen and sixteen years of age employed in factories, etc., throughout the State. Of these, 2,602 children were employed in places where the clothing trade was carried on and 182 were at work in bakeries and confectioneries.

The total number of certificates for children under sixteen years of age filed by the various inspectors of Health throughout the State is 16,249.

Bad scaffolding, the need of fire-escapes and sanitation occupy a large part of the report.

The sweatshop question is gone into, as well as the immigration problem.

LOVES IRISH JOAN OF ARC.

Real Estate Broker Sent Letters to Maud Gonne and Was Arrested.

Phillip Von Kuhl, a real-estate dealer, at 31 East One Hundred and Sixth Street, who, the police say, is an avowed admirer of the Irish patriot, was arrested in Yorkville Police Court today for attempting to make desperate love to Maud Gonne, the Jean of Arc of Ireland, now living at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Von Kuhl was arrested at Miss Gonne's house at 11 o'clock last night. He sent up a number of love letters to the young woman. He was thus engaged when arrested.

It was 10 o'clock when Von Kuhl appeared at the hotel. He sent up a number of love letters to the young woman. He was thus engaged when arrested.

Von Kuhl refused to stand up any longer. He had made several ineffectual attempts to go to her room. Then he wrote a number of love letters to the young woman. He was thus engaged when arrested.

Von Kuhl still writes love letters to Miss Gonne. He was thus engaged when arrested.

PROMISES BIBLE AND 10,000 PER CENT.

Christian Business Bureau Has a Scheme That Eclipses That of Schemer Miller.

It has long been supposed by good men and women that the man or woman who tried to serve God and Mammon at the same time stood about as good a chance of succeeding as if he tried to bestride the East River with a pair of human legs measuring thirty-four inches aspic.

That this ancient belief, backed up by Biblical testimony, is all stuff and nonsense, a concern bearing the stirring title of "Christian Business Bureau," has established itself in the sky-scraper reared at 136 Nassau street by the American Tract Society.

Its stationery, bearing a picture of the massive structure and the very attractive name, is decidedly tempting to the eye. It gives the enterprise of the "Christian Business Bureau" a solid and substantial look which will certainly go far in the minds of that class which the wise men tell us are born every minute.

ITS WONDERFUL "PAPER." The "paper" of the enterprise—speaking in the language of theatrical enterprise—is about the most astonishing ever put out by a concern which asks you for your money and promises you vast returns of profit. Surely, such a mixture of cant and specious promise was never before put together.

The Bureau has put out a leaflet. It bears the imprint "Tract Building, 136 Nassau street, N. Y." In justice to the American Tract Society it should be said that it does not really back the enterprise beyond renting offices to it and saying nothing. On the title page is a promise of something like this:

Best Investment Securities. True as the Bible. Clear directions are given as to how one in this life may gain 10,000 per cent. (with persecutions), on earthly investments, followed by far larger dividends (without persecutions).

One profit the Bureau promises, without reservation. Send it $5 or $100 or $500 for "investment" and you may be sure of the return of a fine Bible "with a flap," if you never get anything else for your money. You may also get 10,000 per cent. of temporal investments. And you may not. But here is the promise itself, of the Bible and the flap. Note how piously it reads:

TEN THOUSAND PER CENT. God willing, we will mail, post-paid to any plain address received by us with express or postal order for $1.25, payable to our order a NEW, GILT-EDGED, TEACHER'S BIBLE, with Helps, Flexible Binding and Map Edge. Together with a copy free of Best Investment Securities. giving clear directions, true as the Bible, how one may surely gain Ten Thousand per cent. on Temporal Investments in this life, without peril to his soul.

Address: CHRISTIAN BUSINESS BUREAU, 136 Nassau St., New York, N. Y.

Twelve pages of the Bible pamphlet are taken up with quotations from the Bible, all neatly worked in so as to invade the mind of the person who reads with confidence and greed. Then, in italics, the "Christian Business Bureau" says:

"Any one, every one, who implicitly obeys these directions, will most surely receive, in this present life, ten thousand per cent. on his sacrifice or investment of temporal good things, with persecutions, and in the world to come life eternal."

A SURE THING. "Mammon worshippers find or lose what they seek by putting money into the Standard Oil Trust, the Gas Trust, the Railroad Trust, all the trusts and trusts of the world, in iron, in rubber and in trust the Bible. Their millions we desire not."

In other words, dear, gentle customer, if you get nothing back but the Bible with the flap-edged cover, resign not, neither do take kick. He not a squealer, but accept the chastening of Providence with meekness and thanksgiving.

"This idea is further emphasized by the Christian Business Bureau, which goes to Timothy for endorsement, as follows:

It is true that we have access through our agents to business investments profitably handled by Christians, whereby Godly patrons have reaped large dividends, the details of which we shall not, of course, trumpet now, nor ever.

SEND YOUR MONEY. "We can wisely place sums of from $50 to $100,000 one hundred to ten thousand dollars, for a period of from three to five years in temporal securities of the very best character."

No doubt the foregoing declarations will bring custom to the shop, and nothing further would be required for the purpose of establishing the absolute integrity of the promoters of this new scheme for the combination of religion and Wall Street speculation. Nevertheless, the Christian Business Bureau proceeds to take its prospective patrons more fully into its confidence, and says, with charming candor:

"But we do not wish any person to invest money, time, labor, real estate, life or fellowship in connection with this bureau who is not prepared to follow Christ in that act to the loss of all things, and would be disappointed if he appears to all human view to lose all in an instant. Nevertheless, we believe with all our hearts that God will continue hereafter to make good all His promises as He heretofore has done, and that that Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come."—I Timothy IV, 8.

HEADS OF THE CONCERN. The Christian Business Bureau occupies room 722. The room is about six feet wide by ten feet long, with one window and a door. It is filled by two roll-top desks and a revolving bookcase containing the literature of the Bureau and the office works.

The bureau consists so far as could be learned, of Gavin Houston and the Rev. William F. Davis. Both are intensely religious. Mr. Houston was one time in charge of the Oxford Bible in this country, and the minister is "highly noted for his advocacy of the right to preach on Boston Common."
